A stranger in the city yesterday lapped up too much of the amber joy and became noisy, abusive in his language and generally unruly. Yesterday forenoon Chief of Police Conley picked up a wandering boy about 9 years of age who gave his name as Bracken and stated that he was from Omaha. His parents had parted and the boy was left with a home-saving institute and a place was found for him on a farm near this city. Thinking he was abused, the boy ran away and was brought to town by a neighbor who knew nothing of him beyond the boy's own story. Not wishing to keep the boy in jail Officer Conley arranged for his liberty, providing companions in the persons of his brother's sons who are here visiting and are about the same age as the little stranger. Officer Conley treated the little fellow kindly and sent him back to the Omaha institution this noon.

Miss Maude Tannehill of this city has secured additional honors by winning the W. P. Fritz gold medal, open to the members of the class in elocution of the Fremont Normal college, in the contest held Tuesday evening at Fremont. Her selection was "Me and Jimmy," which was the story as told by the small boy of how he and a comrade had spied upon his sister and a bean in the parlor. Speaking of Miss Tannehill's recitation the Tribune says: "The selection which she gave was a difficult one to render but Miss Tannehill proved her knowledge of correct dramatic principles both in speaking and in acting."

LIGHTING BONDS ENJOINED

City Officers are Forbidden to Issue Them.

ORDER ISSUED BY JUDGE BATES

Hearing is Set for the October Term of Court—Opponents of the Issue Believe They Have a Good Case. Sheriff Losey Served Papers Today.

A new phase has developed to the question of issuing bonds for the purpose of constructing an electric lighting plant in connection with the waterworks pumping station. THE NEWS' Madison correspondent writes that R. A. Stewart, through his attorney, M. D. Tyler, has secured a temporary injunction from County Judge Bates restraining the Norfolk city officials from issuing the bonds recently voted.

Sheriff Losey was in the city today serving the papers in the case and the immediate issuance of the bonds is now not possible. The hearing on the suit is set for the October term of court.

Those who are opposing the bond issue believe that they have a good case, based on the illegality of the recent election and on the law which limits the amount of bonds which may be issued to two and one-half per cent of the assessed valuation of the property of the city.

The law passed last winter raising this limit to five per cent, it is said, did not repeal the old statute and one law or the other would therefore be invalidated. The suit brings up a fine point of law and it will probably require a considerable time to settle the question raised.

It is likewise asserted by some that there were illegal votes cast on the proposition and the election may be set aside on several points. Certain it is that the installing of new lighting plant is postponed by this action for some time.

In the meantime it is not known what the mayor and council will do, but it is hinted that they may seek to inconvenience the lighting company, it being claimed that they have it in their power to cause them considerable annoyance inasmuch as it is not the company, but a heavy taxpayer who is instituting the injunction proceedings this method of procedure would be questionable and it is probable that the supposition of trouble in store for the company is mere guess work.

Dispassionate friends of the city administration as well as those of the electric light company are sincere in their wishes that no bad feeling will develop and that if there is a legal fight to be made it will be conducted without rancor. The outcome of the case will be watched with interest by many citizens whose feelings are not strong one way or the other.

Utah an Ideal Climate.

The first white man to set foot on Utah soil, Father Silvestre Velez de Escalante, who reached the great Salt Lake on the 23rd day of September, 1776, wrote in his diary: "Here the climate is so delicious, the air so balmy, that it is a pleasure to breathe by day and by night." The climate of Utah is one of the richest endowments of nature. On the shores of the great Salt Lake especially—and for fifty miles therefrom in every direction—the climate of climates is found. To enable persons to participate in these scenic and climatic attractions and to reach the famous health, bathing and pleasure resorts of Utah, the Union Pacific has made a rate to Ogden and Salt Lake City of one fare for round trip, plus $2.00, from Missouri river, to be in effect June 18 to 30 inclusive, July 10 to August 30 inclusive.
