Republican County Convention.

The republican electors of Madison county, Nebraska, are requested to send delegates from the several voting precincts to meet in convention at Battle Creek, Nebraska, Sept. 21, 1901, at 11 o'clock a. m. for the purpose of placing in nomination one candidate for each of the following offices: County treasurer, county clerk, county judge, county superintendent, county sheriff, county surveyor, county coroner, county commissioner of the Second district. Also for the transaction of such other business as may be in order. The several precincts are entitled to representation as follows: The appointment being based on the vote cast for William McKinley for president at the election of November 6th, 1900, being one delegate at large for each voting precinct, and one delegate for each twenty votes or major fraction thereof: Battle Creek, 6; Warnerville, 4; Union, 7; Fairview, 3; Schoolcraft, 3; Outside, 4; Shell Creek, 12; Deer Creek, 4; Kalamazoo, 4; Jefferson, 11; Green Garden, 3; Grove, 4; Madison, outside, 4; Highland, 10; Total, 122. It is recommended that precinct primaries be held on Saturday, Sept. 14; that no proxies be allowed and that delegates present cast the full vote of the delegation. J. L. KENSEL, Secretary; DAVID WHITLA, Chairman.

The person who can write or speak the name of the president's assailant, Czolgosz, without an effort should assuredly be looked upon with suspicion.

There will not be much money in husking corn at three cents a bushel this fall and if the farmers desire to do the right thing by the men who gather their prospective wealth they will raise the price this season and make it an object for the husker to find every ear of the grain or anything that looks like an ear. They will probably also be justified in searching them for concealed kernels after each day's work, as they do in the diamond fields.

As the Picket has previously remarked, it is simply wonderful what Nebraska soil and climate can do for corn even under the most unfavorable conditions. Think of it. There has been less than an inch of rain over most of Stanton county since July began, and in some parts less than half that amount. The temperature during nearly four weeks was awful. Corn wilting, the leaves rolled and tassels and silks were fired. And through all of this corn has passed, not unharmed to be sure, but in surprisingly good condition. It is simply astonishing. If there is another section of the country anywhere that could show up as well under like conditions, it has not yet been discovered, or if discovered it has not been reported.—Stanton Picket.

From the outrage to President McKinley at Buffalo has risen a hero, James Benjamin Parker, the colored man who grabbed the assassin and prevented him from shooting again. It is peculiar that the race which has the right, if any has, to complain of oppression in the American republic should raise a man who would be the first to take a step against the murderer who would rob that republic of its chief. The people of Parker were for years the slaves of those whose government was founded on freedom and yet that race has never produced a man to violently attack the government. On the contrary such attacks have come from men who were never oppressed by it, who obtained their vicious principles in foreign lands and who came here that they might use the freedom of this country in arranging and putting in practice their diabolical plots. The lesson to be learned is that Parker's people are infinitely more desirable as citizens than people of the Czolgosz stripe.

A Day of Suspense.

The nation is again plunged in gloom over the reports from the president's bedside and so suddenly was the change brought about that the people were little prepared for the shock. Yesterday all were confident of his early and complete recovery. The utmost confidence in his ability to survive the assassin's foul blow was expressed by the physicians and found a glad reception in the hearts of the American public. Their joy found constant expression and the gloom that surrounded them during the first few days after the assault was rapidly and effectually dispelled, so that when the report that he was sinking and that his death might be expected at any moment was received it came with an unexpectedness that instantly depressed their buoyant spirits in a depth of sadness for which they were ill prepared. The news spread with wonderful swiftness and profound sorrow was depicted on the faces that a moment before were cheerful.

Later reports that the patient was rallying slightly again awakened hope and further news of his condition is eagerly awaited with mingled hope and apprehension.

Twenty-five Thousand Slain.

Mexico City, Sept. 13.—Americans arriving from South America state that the Colombian situation is far worse than reported by the papers. They say that probably 25,000 men have been killed since the beginning of the rebellion. One man claims to have seen 1,000 dead bodies piled in heaps and consumed by burning.

The liner Oceanic was struck by a huge wave on her way to New York and one steerage passenger was injured.

Colonel Robert L. Meade, 40 years in the service, who led the charge at Tien Tsin, is under charges of drunkenness and perjury.

The Western Union Telegraph company's quarterly report showed an increase of $144,244 in net revenues and $1,005,329 in total surplus.

The Republic Iron and Steel company's annual report showed shrinkage of $4,600,000 in gross earnings and net profits of only $305,099.

The net earnings of the American Smelting and Refining company, including the Guggenheim plants, for the year ending on April 31, were $6,555,103.

Hunting the Kangaroo.

When brought to bay, the kangaroo jumps like a flash for the hunter's chest and tries to crush it in with his fore feet. To prevent this each man wears across his breast a two or three inch thick matting. Armed with a spear, with a club attachment at the other end, they ride upon swift horses into a herd.

With the agility and equipose of circus riders they stand erect upon their horses and use their spears and clubs. The kangaroo is able to jump clear over a horse. As the game is bagged it is skinned, and the skin is stretched on the ground and pegged down to prevent shrinkage. The flesh furnishes meat for the camp.

Each man places his private mark upon his booty, and when they have 100 apiece they return back to civilization. There are 20 varieties of kangaroos, among them the blue, red wallaby, black, gray and fosterer, the latter furnishing the best leather, as it lives mainly in wooded sections.

FOUR KILLED IN WRECK.

Engineer Loses Control of Air Brakes on Steep Grade.

St. Paul, Sept. 13.—Advices received here are to the effect that a disastrous freight wreck occurred on the Great Northern railroad near the Cassidine tunnel, in Washington, in which four men were killed and one injured. The engineer of a westbound freight train, while making the Washington decline in the tunnel, lost control of the air brakes and the train attained such high rate of speed that when a slight curve was reached the cars jumped the track and piled up. The engineer and fireman were unable to escape from the engine and were killed. The dead: Frank Dahlgren, engineer; John Campbell, fireman; section man, name unknown; unknown tramp.

FIVE KILLED IN EXPLOSIONS.

Three Occur at Oakland, N. J., With Disastrous Results.

New York, Sept. 13.—Three explosions occurred in the works of the American Schultze Powder company, Oakland, N. J., yesterday. Five men were killed. They were: William Titus, engineer; Arthur Curry, driver; John Dupont, Richard Van Blarcan, mason; Harrison Weyble, driver. Barthelomew Burns and Andrew Lassenger were fatally injured and five others were less seriously injured.

The first explosion was that of the boiler. Following almost immediately were two explosions, one in the magazine, the other in the mixing house. The latter is supposed to have been caused by a spark.

No Change in Strike Status.

Pittsburg, Sept. 13.—The air was again full of rumors yesterday that the strike had been settled. The absence of President Shaffer from Amalgamated headquarters all day up to 4 p. m. lent color to the report. When President Shaffer finally appeared at headquarters he dispelled hopes by saying there was no change in the situation. Immediately after arriving at the office, Mr. Shaffer called the national officers to his room for a conference, which lasted 40 minutes. It was impossible to learn what the conference was about, as none of the participants would talk.

Jessie Morrison Released on Bond.

Lansing, Kan., Sept. 13.—Jessie Morrison, who was sent to the penitentiary for five years for killing Mrs. Clara Wiley Castle, her rival at Eldorado, by cutting her throat with a razor, was released yesterday. She appeared well and happy, and alone boarded a car for Excelsior Springs, Mo., where she will join her brother before going home to her parents.

Miss Morrison was released on bond pending an appeal of her case to the supreme court.

Woman's Revenge.

Omaha, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Mollie Mabray of Kansas City dashed two ounces of carbolic acid into the face of Miss Maud Hanson at her room, 1529 Capitol avenue, yesterday because she believed the young woman had alienated the affections of her husband, a traveling man. Miss Hanson is in a serious condition. She was severely burned about the cheeks, nose, chin and mouth, but apparently the eyes escaped the poisonous fluid.
