

CANTON HAS MARTYR DEAD

Home Town of Wm. McKinley Mourns Departed Statesman.

NEIGHBORS PASS BY THE BIER.

Friends Who Have Known Him So Long View the Body and Casket in Then Closed Forever—Final Sad Scene is Near.

Canton, Sept. 19.—Tenderly and reverently those who had known William McKinley best yesterday received his martyred body into their arms. They had forgotten the illustrious career of the statesman in the loss of a great personal friend who had grown dearer to them with the passing of the years. They hardly noticed the president of the United States or his cabinet or the generals and admirals in their resplendent uniforms. The flag-draped casket which contained the body of their friend and fellow townsman held all their thoughts. He had left them two weeks ago in the full tide of the strength of a glorious manhood, and they had brought him back dead. Anguish was in the hearts of every man, woman and child. The entire population of the little city and thousands from all over Ohio, the full strength of the National guard of the state, 5,000 men in all, the governor, lieutenant governor and a justice of the supreme court, representing the three branches of the state government, were at the station to receive the remains.

The whole town was in deep black. The only house in all this sorrow-stricken city without a touch of mourning drapery was the old familiar McKinley cottage on North Market street, to which so many distinguished men of the country have made pilgrimages in the times that are gone. There was not even a bow of crepe on the door when the stricken widow was carried by Almer McKinley and Dr. Rixey into it to the darkened home. Only the hitching post at the curb in front of the residence had been swathed in black by the citizens in order that it might conform to the general scheme of mourning decorations that had been adopted.

People File by Loved Chief.

Sad as was the procession which bore the body to the court house, where it lay in state during the afternoon, it could not compare with the infinite sadness of that endless double line of broken hearted people who streamed steadily through the dimly lighted corridors from the time the coffin was opened until it was taken home to the sorrowing widow at nightfall. They stepped softly lest their footfalls wake their friend from his last long sleep. Tears came unbidden to wet the bier. Perhaps it was the great change that had come upon the countenance which moved them more than the sight of the familiar features. The signs of discoloration which appeared upon the brow and cheeks Tuesday at the state ceremonial in the rotunda of the capitol at Washington had deepened. The lips had become livid. All but two of the lights of the chandelier above the head were extinguished in order that the change might appear less noticeable, but every one who viewed the remains remarked the darkened features, and the ghastly lips. When the body was taken away thousands were still in line, and the committee in charge of the arrangements was appealed to allow a further opportunity today to view the remains before they were taken to the church. But this had to be denied to them, and the casket may never be opened again.

All through the afternoon the crowd passed the catafalque, approximately at the rate of 100 every minute, making in the five hours the body lay in state, a total of 50,000 people.

Funeral Arrangements.

The funeral service will take place today at 1:30 p. m., at the First Methodist Episcopal church, of which the dead president was a communicant and a trustee.

They will be brief, by the expressed wish of the family. Rev. O. B. Milligan, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in which President and Mrs. McKinley were married 30 years ago, will make the opening prayer. Dr. C. E. Manchester, pastor of the late president's church, will deliver the only address. A quartette will sing "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," and another quartette will render "Lead, Kindly Light."

An imposing procession consisting of many of the G. A. R. posts of the state, the National guard, details of regulars from all branches of the service, fraternal, social and civic organizations and representatives of commercial bodies from all over the country, the governors of several states with their staffs, the house and senate of the United States, the cabinet and president of the United States, will follow the remains to Westlawn cemetery, where they will be placed in a receiving vault, awaiting the time when they will be laid in the grave beside the two children who were buried years ago.

Railroad facilities seem inadequate to bring the people who are coming today.

Floral Designs Are Elaborate.

The number and beauty of the floral tributes which are arriving surpass belief. Flowers are literally coming by the ton. The hot houses of the country seem to have been emptied to supply them. The facilities of the little city of Canton are entirely inadequate to care for the thousands who are here, much less the other thousands who are on the way. Although the local committee is doing everything in its power to furnish food and shelter, many of the officials from Washington were compelled to sleep in the cars in which they came. The population of Canton is about 31,000, but it is expected over 100,000 people will be here today.

President Roosevelt and his naval aide, Captain H. Cowles, are at the residence of Mrs. George Harter on Market street. A company of Ohio militia guards the house. During the afternoon the president walked over to the McKinley residence to inquire after Mrs. McKinley. He was informed that she had stood the trip from Washington bravely, but in the opinion of the physician it would not be advisable for her to attempt to attend the services at the church today. She will therefore remain at her home with Dr. Rixey.

The other cabinet officers and the generals and admirals completing the guard of honor, are also at private residences. President Roosevelt and the official party will start back on the return journey to Washington at 7 o'clock tonight.

DENOUNCE ANARCHY.

Mass Meeting of Veterans at Lincoln Adopts Resolutions.

Lincoln, Sept. 19.—At a mass meeting last night, attended by 800 veterans, soldiers of the civil and Spanish wars, resolutions were adopted in denunciation of anarchy; calling on lawmakers to make it treason and condemning "those persons who, by appeals to the prejudices and baser passions of the people, and by teaching discontent and class hatred by falsely representing our government as an empire and our president as an emperor, foster disloyalty and give encouragement to anarchists." The resolutions further condemn those who express sympathy for the Haymarket anarchists and declare the belief that certain metropolitan newspapers are in a measure responsible for the existence of anarchy in this country.

Emma Goldman Allowed Bail.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Magistrate Priddyville yesterday decided to allow Emma Goldman, the anarchist, her freedom until the case comes up for hearing under bonds of $20,000. Her attorneys said they had secured $15,000 and immediately left the court room to seek the additional money necessary. Meanwhile, Miss Goldman was led back to the women's annex at the Harrison street station. She was visibly disappointed at the amount of the bond required.

Atlanta, Sept. 19.—General Leonard Wood, who left Tampa yesterday for the north on his way to the president's funeral, was delayed several hours in south Georgia by a washout. He left Savannah for Washington, abandoning the Canton trip.

SIX KILLED IN A WRECK

Passenger and Freight Collide Near Brockton, Mass.

STEAM SCALDS THE VICTIMS.

Brakeman Sets a Switch Wrong on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad—Twenty-five Persons Suffer Injuries.

Brockton, Mass., Sept. 19.—A switch not properly set brought a heavy freight and passenger train together yesterday with the result of six deaths on the passenger train and injuries to 25 others on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad at Avon. The express left Boston at 1:08 p. m. and was running 40 miles an hour at the time of the accident. Of the six persons who were killed, four have been identified, and these are: Everett Joyce, Brockton; Gustavus Hay, Jr., lawyer of Boston; Miss M. W. Tonkin, Oil City, Pa.; William J. Coughlin, Lowell. The two unidentified bodies are those of women.

Of the injured those most seriously hurt were taken to the Brockton hospital on a special train. One of the freight crew had set the switch of a "cross over" in such a manner that when the freight engine struck it it was turned onto the main track. The engine of the express and the baggage car succeeded in getting by before the freight engine reached the train, but the second car of the train, the smoker, was struck squarely in the middle and turned over, being thrown down a steep embankment, landing on its side in some soft mud. The third car of the train, a passenger coach, was dragged over by the force of the impact and likewise landed on its side in the ditch.

The collision came with such suddenness that the passengers in the three cars were thrown from their seats. As the cars were instantly thrown upon their sides, many passengers fell upon each other and those underneath were forced through the windows into the mud beneath. The broken seats and heavy pieces of timber plumed them down. Many were forced through the window by the sudden shock. The cylinder on the right side of the freight engine was torn off and escaping steam added to the horror. The noise caused by the accident attracted a crowd immediately and it was only a short time before hundreds were assisting in the work of rescue. All those killed outright seemed to be in the third car, while most of the injured were in the car which was struck by the engine. Miss Tonkin was 18 years old, the daughter of John Tonkin of Oil City, Pa., a prominent citizen of that place.

STRIKING MINERS OPEN FIRE.

Make Two Attacks in Which Seven Hundred Shots Are Fired.

Madisonville, Ky., Sept. 19.—A force of union miners attacked the Pernock mines here, where a strike has been in progress for some time. The union men opened fire when the guards were least expecting an attack and about 500 shots were exchanged, but no one was injured. At 6 o'clock last evening another attack was made. After about 200 shots had been exchanged the union men retreated. County Judge Hall and Sheriff Mankins have asked Governor Beckham for troops. Warrants have been issued for J. D. Woods, district president of the Miners' union, and others.

Rob Trials to Lynch Preacher.

St. Paul, Sept. 19.—Albert Dahlquist last night narrowly escaped from a mob of about a thousand people who were demanding that he be lynched. Dahlquist is alleged to have made a speech in Minneapolis a few days ago in which he referred to the assassination of President McKinley as a "noble deed." The man is an itinerant preacher and has been holding meetings on Payne avenue, in a district largely inhabited by Scandinavians. Dahlquist outfooted his pursuers and escaped.

For Upholding Anarchy.

Humboldt, Neb., Sept. 19.—Charles Carsh, a Richardson county farmer, who expressed delight at the shooting of President McKinley, was tarred and feathered by a crowd of men near Humboldt last night. Carsh has strong socialist tendencies and has been expressing his views freely since the tragedy at Buffalo. The citizens held an indignation meeting, which ended in last night's occurrence. Carsh has consulted an attorney and seems determined to prosecute his assailants.

Cloudburst at Americus.

Americus, Ga., Sept. 19.—Five thousand dollars will not cover the damage wrought by a cloudburst here last night. Carloads of lumber in the yards of the American Construction company floated away to Muklessee creek. Railroad bridges were damaged considerably and one train reached this city yesterday. Many cattle in pasture below Americus were drowned. It is estimated that thousands of bales of cotton will be lost in the flood.

Good Roads Convention.

Buffalo, Sept. 19.—There was a large attendance at the International Good Roads convention yesterday. Victor Vallant, the official representative of the Italian government, delivered a brief address on good roads. The session closed with an address by A. W. Campbell, deputy minister of public works of Ontario, on the general subject of good roads.

2248 LANDS ON FRENCH SOIL.

Double Row of Soldiers Line Route of Presidential Train.

Compiègne, Sept. 19.—The czar's first day on French soil passed without great incident except the delay of a couple of hours in docking the Standard, the Russian imperial yacht, at Dunkirk. The presidential train, conveying M. Loubet and the czar and zarina, arrived at Compiègne last evening. The utmost vigilance was exercised along the railroad track, the train dashing through a double row of bayonets and drawn sabres as the infantry was reinforced by regiments of dragoons and lancers. In some places a double line of troops was on each side of the track, the first line being foot soldiers and the second line cavalry. Any outrage along the track was utterly impossible, as no one was allowed to approach it. The town of Compiègne was brightly illuminated, the whole route from the station to the chateau being decorated with festoons and colored lights. The streets were entirely clear of the public and the sidewalks were occupied by soldiers. Every window, however, was filled with spectators, who greeted Emperor Nicholas with an incessant hurra of cheers.

A four-horse band with the czarina and her ladies of honor headed the procession, Emperor Nicholas and President Loubet following together. Cannon salutes were fired and the bands played "The Marseillaise" and Russian hymns, until the chateau was reached. This beautiful structure was illuminated with lines of electrical lamps. Mme. Loubet was waiting there to receive the imperial guests. The evening was spent quietly at the castle. M. and Mme. Loubet and the czar and the czarina dining in their respective apartments.

EXPECT BOERS TO MIGRATE.

Many Likely to Accept German Offer to Settle in Damaraland Country.

London, Sept. 19.—Recent advice from Pretoria are as follows: Some of the officials of the Boer government are hopeful that something will result from General Kitchener's proclamation in regard to the burghers who do not surrender by September 15. Many of these Boers are at points some distance from telegraphic communication and will probably not be heard from for some time. It is reported that the final plan of the Boers is to make for the Damaraland border and accept the offer made by the German consul to sell them land at 4 pence an acre. The only stipulations made by the Germans to which the Boers object are that they (the Boers) shall be liable to two years' military service and that their children must be educated in German.

A number of Boers in Johannesburg have asked the American government if they can acquire lands in the United States for settlement.

Later he fastened his head between the uprights of his bedstead and tried to break his neck.

ALLIED PARTY LAUNCHED

Conference of Reformers at Kansas City.

PLATFORM IS AGREED UPON.

National Convention Will Be Held at Louisville April Next for Final Organization—A National Executive Committee Is Named.

Kansas City, Sept. 19.—The delegates representing seven political parties of reform, who came here for the "Allied Third Party" conference, held their first joint session last night, after two days of separate conference meetings behind closed doors. All of the preliminary work of launching the new political party which is to be a union of all reform parties was done by the conference committee of the several delegations before the delegates met in joint session. It was decided that the new party is to be called the "Allied Party." The platform demands the initiative and referendum and public ownership of public utilities; declares against land speculation and alien ownership; favors scientific money, based upon the entire wealth of the people of the nation, and not redeemable in any specific commodity, but to be full legal tender for all debts to be honored by the government only, without the intervention of banks, in sufficient quantity to meet the requirements of commerce; demands just natural taxation and the election of president, federal judges and senators by direct vote; favors the creation of a department of labor and equitable arbitration; favors the establishment of postal savings banks, and favors such constitutional amendments as may be necessary to make the above laws.

The purpose of the joint session was to decide upon the time and place to hold the convention which will confer and ratify the actions of this conference and perfect the permanent organization of the new party.

The conference has selected J. C. Parker of Louisville, Ky.; J. H. Cook of Carthage, Mo.; and Dr. J. E. Chambers of St. Louis, as its national executive committee.

The national convention will be held at Louisville, Ky., April 2, 1902.

Rain Mars Ak-Sar-Ben Parade.

Omaha, Sept. 19.—As a climax to the series of unfortunate conditions that have beset the Ak-Sar-Ben festivities this fall, it began to rain last night just as the big electric parade, the event of the year, reached the crowded downtown streets. Rain continued falling in liberal quantities until the parade was over, but the tens of thousands who filled the walks remained determinedly to see it out. The crowd was so dense that the street car service was overtaxed to clear the streets of waiting multitudes. Today was observed as a day of mourning for President McKinley.

Tinplate Strikers to Remain Out.

Pittsburg, Sept. 19.—At a meeting of striking tin workers from the Star and Monongahela plants, at which 500 were present, it was decided to repudiate the New York agreement and continue the strike indefinitely. A Wife Says:

"We have four children. With the first three I suffered almost unbearable pains from 12 to 14 hours, and had to be placed under the influence of chloroform. I used three bottles of Mother's Friend before our last child came, which is a strong, fat and healthy boy, doing my housework up to well into two hours of both, and suffered but a few hard pains. This liniment is the grandest remedy ever made."

will do for every woman what it did for the Minnesota mother who writes the above letter. Not to use it during pregnancy is a mistake to be paid for in pain and suffering. Mother's Friend eases the patient with a strong body and clear intellect, which in turn are imparted to the child. It relaxes the muscles and allows them to expand. It relieves morning sickness and nervousness. It puts all the organs concerned in perfect condition for the final hour, so that the actual labor is short and practically painless. Danger of rising or hard breasts is altogether avoided, and recovery is merely a matter of a few days.
