"WHICH IS WHO" PLEASURES.

A Comedy Full of Laughable Incidents.

COMPANY DRAWS A FULL HOUSE

The Livingstones are Complimented with the Spirit Shown by Norfolk People, Who are Given an Enjoyable Evening.

Norfolk theatre-goers did well by the Living-tones and their company last evening when they presented "Which is Who" at the Auditorium. The house was well filled and there was a degree of enthusiasm seldom shown by a Norfolk audience. The most satisfactory part of the entire evening was that there were no disappointments. The entertainment was good and every promise of the company was carried out. The patrons were assured of an evening of laughter and pleasure and they received it to their entire satisfaction. The statement that it is the comedy success of the season is no longer considered as mere talk by Norfolk people who now realize that it is entitled to all the credit given it, and more—the company deserves a packed house wherever it goes. It not only has a strong cast but an honest effort is made to please that cannot help but win a substantial reputation.

The comedy is not of the kind with a scant excuse for a plot just to work in specialties but the plot is prominent, and the feature of the performance. The specialties between acts are simply given for good measure—the entertainment would be complete and worth the price of admission without them. The story is of that amusing kind after the style of Shakespeare's "Comedy of Errors" in which a plot of misunderstandings, mistaken identity, and similarities brings each player in exact opposition with every other player and each with an abundance of troubles of his own. The trouble thickens and increases rapidly until the final act when, just as the curtain goes down, each receives a satisfactory explanation of his difficulties. The real causes of all his troubles, a real live baby and a frisky dog, make their appearance in this final scene and the exclamations of surprise and delight on the part of the audience attest the success of the scheme.

The cast of characters was exceptionally strong and even, each performer taking his or her part with grace and cleverness. It would be difficult to pick the star and it may be local pride that would choose F. H. Livingstone, as "Mr. Algie Which," as such. Mrs. H. S. Livingstone as "Rose Who" was like wise exceedingly popular in her role.

The singing and dancing of Mile. Trojan, the monologues and songs of Harry Oliver and the act of De Armo, "the Human Fly" were excellent specialties, especially the latter, astonishing feats being performed on the trapeze.

While Mr. Livingstone was here last summer he assisted Trinity Social guild in preparing for an entertainment and last evening members of the society to the number of 21 occupied front seats in the balcony and after ascertaining which was who presented him with a beautiful floral favor, which was duly appreciated.

The "Which is Who" company left today for Pierce, where they are billed to appear tonight.

CITY BUSINESS.

Council Allows Some Bills and Transacts Other Business.

The city council met in regular session last evening, when there were present Mayor Koenigstein, Councilmen Brummond, Degner, Gow, Spellman, Uhle, Walker and Westervelt. Absent, Clements.

Minutes of regular meeting of September 20 were read and approved. The auditing committee reported as correct the August report of the treasurer and clerk; also the September report of the police judge.

The resignation of J. H. Conley as chief of police was read, and the mayor stated that he had advanced Martin Kane to chief of police and appointed Herman Koch as night policeman.

The resignation of J. H. Conley was accepted by the council and the appointment of Kane and Koch was confirmed. The report of the city treasurer for September was read and referred to the auditing committee. The report shows balances as follows: General fund, $5,29; interest, $1,848.44; water, $293.73; road, $56.23; sinking, $4,645.15 fire department, $55.00; street light fund, $30.82.

The following bills were allowed: Martin Kane, September salary, lamp chimney and disposing of dogs, $64.40. J. H. Conley, salary, postage, disposing of dogs, $53.50. H. H. Hoyt, salary for September, $40. Fred Len, salary and labor, $47.50. O. B. Walker, first quarter's salary, $12.50.

Emil Pribenow, repair to fire apparatus, $3.50. F. W. Klentz, hauling hook and ladder truck to Schelly fire, $1.00. J. M. Salter, two-months' salary as janitor at the city hall, $5.00.

Fred Klentz, street sprinkling, $20.00 World-Herald, advertising, $4.00. American Contractor, advertising, $3.50.

A. G. Eberhart, meals for prisoners, $9.40. Anzeiger, printing, $18.75.

W. H. Lowe, surveying, $5.00. August Pasewalk, repairing grader and tools, $8.05.

Oscar Uhle, axle grease, 50 cents. Oscar Ritchie, work on grader with team, $29.00.

W. Zastrow, work on grader with team, $18.50. Emil Heckman, work on grader with team, $19.75.

L. Wetzel, September salary, $45.00. Harley Widaman, seven days as assistant fireman, $10.50.

Wm. Blucher, digging up water gates, $1.50. Oscar Uhle, supplies to waterworks, $1.50.

C. W. Braesch, coal to waterworks, $200.15. Norfolk Electric Light and Power Co., two-months' street lighting, $120.00.

M. E. Spaulding, oil and gasoline, $18.25. Bill of R. M. Upton, work with team on grader, for $22.20, was allowed at $18.50.

The claim of the Norfolk Printing Co., $11.00, for publishing ordinance No. 260, known as the sewer ordinance, was rejected for the reason that the contract between the council and Mr. Rish was that Mr. Rish should pay the expense of publishing the ordinance and it so appeared in the published proceedings of the meeting.

Ordinance No. 263, prohibiting the hitching of teams on Norfolk avenue, was passed the second reading. Motion to suspend the rules and pass the ordinance on its third reading was lost.

Ordinance No. 264, regarding water rates, was passed on its first reading.

Proposition of the Norfolk Foundry and Manufacturing Co., to settle claim against the city for $150.00, was accepted, and the amount allowed.

The mayor stated that the residents of the block between Madison and Philip avenues, on the east side of Ninth street, had built sidewalks and requested the city to build a cross walk on Madison avenue in order to connect with other walks. On motion the street committee was instructed to build cross walks as requested.

C. Wilde appeared before the council and complained of the F. E. stock yards, for the reason that they are being used as feeding yards, and that they have become a nuisance. The chief of police was instructed to notify the station agent that such nuisance must be abated.

The mayor stated that about 250 feet of walk on Third street along vacant lots had been destroyed some time ago, and now the residents of that part of town request that it be rebuilt. The street committee was instructed to build the walk as requested of brick and charge same to property.

Mr. Degner reported a lamp post on South Fourth street as broken down, which should be replaced. The matter was referred to the committee on public works.

The council went into executive session and discussed several matters.

Tickets for the Columbus-Norfolk foot ball game Saturday are on sale at Leonard's drug store.
