WEDNESDAY WRINKLES. Mrs. C. H. Reynolds went to Omaha

L. Dryer of Wayne was in the city

C. F. Reynolds of Madison was a city visitor yesterday.

Geo. C. Stevenson was a visitor over night from Madison

M. G. Bley and family are moving to Plainview today.

C. W. Goodwin was over from the county sent yesterday

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Walker of Madison were Norfolk guests yesterday. F. A. Huston was in the city from Neligh over night, enroute to Pierce.

Bud Powers is up from Omaha to visit his parents, Judge and Mrs. I. Powers. Mrs. Wm. Newman of Stanton is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F.

Moldenhauer. Mrs. M. C. Walker and daughter Nola, have taken rooms at A. Osborne's for the winter. W. R. Perkins, representing the Union Pacific official directory, was in the coming two years. Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Schlect and son are expected here from Grand Island to ter."-New York Times. spend the winter, Mr. Schleet making this city his headquarters.

C. J. Tenny, vice president of the Peoples Practical Gas company of Chicago was in the city yesterday looking up the question of gas lighting for Nor-

Mr. and Mrs. Layha left this morning for their home in Kansas City. Mrs. Chesnutwood will go there to make her home with them after her business af fairs are adjusted.

The grand regent of the Royal Arcanum, Deputy Grand Regent Brink and marked; Grand Secretary Grimmel of Omaha will meet with Norfolk council, No. 1794, at its regular session tomorrow

The weather this morning gave every prospect of a beautiful day, but the sun had barely risen when Old Boreus swung in with astonishidg vigor and during the day has given every indication that he is here for the winter with the especial mission of jollying up the coal men.

Bids for the rebuilding of the new wing at the Norfolk hospital for the insane will be opened by the state board of public lands and buildings at Lincoln next Friday. The architect is confident that at least two responsible bidders, and perhaps more, will be represented when the bids are opened.

Miss Etta Durland and Miss Gracia Kidder, representing the Senior Endeavor society of the Congregational church, and Miss May Johnson, repreting the Junior society, will leave Friday for Fullerton to attend a two days' session of the Fifth district convention of those societies.

Mrs. D. E. Budenz, formerly city editor of THE NEWS but now of Martinsville, Ind., where she is engaged in stretch. Once it was forty-two hours. newspaper work, arrived in Norfolk this morning, enroute home from a visit to Denver and Victor, Col. She is the guest of Mrs. W. N. Huse and other old time friends and will spend a week or ter days renewing old acquaintances.

A Patrons Educational meeting under the auspices of the Norfolk Woman's club will be held in the Assembly room of the High school building Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. State Superintendent W. K. Fowler is to give an address and others interested in school work are on the program. Each member of the Woman's club is privileged to invite three guests and the club will be glad to welcome all patrons interested in school work.

The funeral of the late D. F. Sidler was held this afternoon from the family residence on South Fourth street, Rev. J. F. Poucher conducting the services. The remains were interred in Prospect Hill cemetery, being followed to their last resting place by the family and friends of the deceased. Daniel Frazier Sidler was born at Danville, Montour county, Pennsylvania, October 24, 1842. When he was eight years of age the family moved to Schoolcraft, Mich., and wine and beer. At 4 o'clock every day in 1870 he was united in marriage with he used to enter a certain chophouse Miss Ella Cox of that place. Four years and take his seat at a table always reafter their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Sidler moved to Roselawn, Indiana, and 17 years ago they moved to a farm in Stanton county, where they resided until diately. 1893, when they moved to Norfolk and have since made this city their home, the doctor's arrival the cook put a B sides his wife the deceased leaves three children, Fred Sidler, Mrs. Lottie fire, and to while away the time until Davis and Earl Sidler, the youngest being 14 years of age. Two grandsons, Hobert and Philip, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sidler, also survive his death. The this, Dr. Fordyce drank half of his father, a brother and a sister of the deceased also mourn his death, their home While eating the steak he drank the being in Michigan. About four years tankard of ale and after that the rest ago Mr. Sidler was attacked with heart of the brandy. The waiter then untrouble and has suffered more or less from that disease since. Last April he suffered a stroke of paralysis which left half daily at his one meal and after it him helpless and his condition has im- returned home to give his lectures on proved but slightly since. He was very chemistry, which are still quoted as patient through all his suffering and classics of that science. He ate nothing when the end came at 8 o'clock Monday else until the next day, when he remorning he was prepared to meet it and turned at the same hour to the same passed away with scarcely a struggle. About six weeks ago Mr. and Mr. Sidler united with the Methodist church of this the last. city and he died in the faith. The deceased and his family had a large number of friends in Norfolk who will mourn his death and extend their sympathies to the living.

Ideas of News.

Justice John M. Harlan of the United State supreme court, when a practicing lawyer in Louisville, once tried his hand at newspaper work, taking the place of a personal friend, then editor of the Louisville Commercial. The justice got along all right writing editorials, but had ideas as to news that were at variance with those of the city edi-

One of the reporters had written a clever account of a man who had fallen from the fourth story of a building and escaped without serious injury. It made a story of about a column in length. With a proof of the article in his hand the temporary editor came to the city editor and said:

"Mr. Smith, please have this story cut down. I can't see anything in it that makes it worth that space."

"But it's the 'star' story of the day, Mr. Harlan," gasped the astonished news man. "I think it's a remarkable story and well worth all the space giv-

"I don't," said Justice Harlan. "If a town yesterday making contracts for man had jumped up four stories, it would certainly have been remarkable, but even a fool could fall down four stories, or half a dozen, for that mat

The Driver's Point of View.

The hotel coach was filled with a crowd of happy, jubilant visitors, and the horses toiled splendidly up the hills. As each eminence was reached and at every turn in the road the crowd would burst forth into cries of wonder and delight at the magnificent scenes which burst upon their view. The mountain jehn alone preserved a dignity and silence which rather awed the others. At length, after a particularly lovely view had been passed, one of the guests at the driver's left hand re

"You don't seem to take much interest in the scenery. No doubt it's an old story to you.'

The driver shook his head. "No, that's not it," he answered. "I just don't care." Then he leaned a little closer and whispered: "But I knows just how you folks must feel. You all come from a long distance just to see things, and you're bound to enjoy it anyhow so as to get your money's worth and not feel as though you was cheatin' yourselves. Oh," said this driver in a superior tone, "I don't mind it when I understand how 'tis."-Leslie's Weekly.

The Tugboat Captain.

A tug lay hard by, and the captain added his bit to my sociological nocturne, as I sat in the pilot house and peered out on the water, where red lights and green lights, with many of yellow and white, dripped zigzag fashion down from the wharfs and ships.

"Where do you sleep?" questioned I. "Why, here," he replied, "in this very pilot house on that nice fluffy bunk ou're a-settin' on; an' sleep at that wheel, a-steerin' this boat sir. Can't be helped, sir. The hours we work would stave in a trained nurse an' send a sentinel to be shot. Why man, I've seed the time when I've stuck by that wheel twenty grim hours at a And when you read in the paper about towin' a big propeller clean through a dock or jammin' her into her next door neighbor fer keeps don't you say us tug folks are Johnnie Raws. Just say we're worked and worked till we sleep at the wheel. For that's God's truth, sir."-

Held by Etiquette.

When Dom Pedro, then emperor of Brazil, was entertained at the White House, he had been told by a confused senator that it would be expected that he, the emperor, should be the last of the guests to depart.

The president's wife, however, informed her other guests that they would be expected to follow, not precede, the royal party in leaving the house.

The result was that no one dared to go for fear of a breach of etiquette. But at 3 o'clock in the morning a tired woman pretended illness, and the deadlock was broken.

Great is etiquette, but common sense is sometimes allowable.

His One Daily Meal. Dr. George Fordyce, the celebrated anatomist and lecturer on chemistry, used to eat one meal a day and one meal only, but it was a mighty one, washed down with liberal drafts of served for him. A silver tankard containing a quart of strong ale, a full bottle of port and a quarter of a pint of brandy were placed before him imme-

The moment the waiter announced pound and a half of rump steak on the the steak should be properly broiled the waiter brought the doctor some tempting morsel like a broiled chicken or a plate of fish. When he had eaten brandy and then began on his steak. corked the bottle of port, and the doctor proceeded slowly to enjoy it until it chophouse for the same sort of a meal. Dr. Fordyce lived to be sixty-six years old and kept up his one meal custom to

SUPERINTENDENT IN DOUBT, use. He has a nice house, barn and from Thursday's Daily The official count of the vote has not been made and until it is made at least one office-that of superintendent-will be in doubt. Word has been received from Jefferson precinct that the vote certified to was five votes too many on the republican candidates and their totals and majorities were reduced by that number. This gives Superintendthis may be changed by the official count and Mr. Crum's majority increased or a majority given Mr. Barnes. Nothing has been heard that will change the results on other officers, most of them receiving such majorities that a few votes will not effect.

Change of Five Votes Indicates Mr. Crum's Election.

The race between Bauch and Winter for the clerkship was close, but the change of five votes in Jefferson incresses Winter's unoffical majority to 17 and he is probably elected, as the official count is not likely to show enough change to give Mr. Bauch the victory.

THURSDAY TIDINGS. J. F. Twamley of Omaha is here on Prof. Chambers was a passenger to Madison today. Judge J. B. Barnes returned at noon from a trip to the state capital. Dr. C. A. McKim paid professional visits to Stanton and Battle Creek to-W. Z. King left this morning for Omaha to take a position in the office of the creamery company. F. L. Campbell of Omaha better known here as "Terra Cotta," is greethis Norfolk friends today.

J. T. Thompson has been called to Allison, Iowa, by a message announcing the serious illness of his father.

Mr. Orin Trowbridge of Columbus, Wis., is visiting at the home of W. H. Butterfield for a few days and looking over the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Storis Mathewson are preparing to go to housekeeping in their home on North Eleventh street, lately vacated by John Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Reynolds left this morning for West Liberty, Iowa, called by a message announcing the serious ill. of the peace, O. D. Munson and O. A. ness of Mrs. Reynolds' mother.

Dr. G. W. Wilkinson is preparing to move back to Norfolk from Lincoln and, with his daughter, will soon begin housekeeping in his residence on East Madison avenue. The small frame building east of Marquardt's jewelry store is being leveled up and a new sill put under it. Dave Shores, porter at the Oxnard, expects to put a shoe-blacking chair and a Mrs. Mayme Cleaver of Neligh will be in Norfolk tomorrow to inspect the Woman's Relief Corps. The inspection will take place in the afternoon and a full attendance of members is desired. Tea will be served after inspection. A new game was successfully worked by a smooth 'un at Fremont. He bought some chickens of a farmer and told him to call at a neighboring store for his pay. The farmer is still looking for the pay or would be satisfied with a return of the poultry. Wm. Pater, aged 63, died at 2 o'clock this norning at the home of Henry Piller on Braasch avenue, where he has been boarding since July. He has been sick with stomach trouble for the past this is rapidly developing into one of their bodies.-Exchange. three months. He leaves a son, Wm. Pater, ir., who works in the sugar factory, two daughters, and a sister, Mrs Frank Boche.

An exchange perpetrates the follow ing: A toddler of 5, who a short time before had been allowed to select one kitten from old Tabby's litter, the others being drowned, was carried by his nurse into the dimly lighted room to take his first peep at his triplet baby brothers. He looked at them critically and turning to his mother, said, 'Mamma, let's keep the blue-eyed one."

Jake Smith, claiming to be a Pennsyl vania coal miner, was up before Police Judge Hayes this morning on the charge of disorderly conduct. The judge was feeling first rate over his re-election as justice of peace and let him off with a minimium fine which with costs amounted to $7.10. The fine was paid and Jake continued his search for a mine where help was needed.

Joseph Hopkins, aged 19, of Tilden accidently blew the top of his brother's The injured boy's name was John, 11 years of age, and he lived until 3 o'clock Tuesday morning. The older boy was explaining the working of his shot gun when the weapon was discharged, with the result stated. The boys are grandsons of Crandall Hopkins, the first settler in Antelope county.

Schuyler Quill: You may talk about your independent fellows all you please, but John Garmon over at Edholm comes about as near being independent as anybody you ever saw. He has a fine farm and that isn't all. It's what enables passengers to reach the princihe has on the farm that makes him independent. A nice young orchard, a coast and Missouri river not only in the good vineyard, a large walnut grove, a shortest possible space of time, but also big garden and truck patch with a large in the most comfortable and enjoyable ner. reservoir to water it all. The reservoir manner. The dining cars on this train is stocked with fish. Plenty of them so are stocked with the best the market other improvements. What more can a man ask? After all no man is so independent as a practical farmer, like John Garmon of Edholm.

The farmers of western Nebraska are complaining that jack rabbits have increased in such numbers that they have become a pest. The coyote has been the deadly foe of the rabbit and now that he has been killed off as a matter of protection to chickens and young pigs and sheep the jack rabbit is multiplying ent Crum a majority of four votes, but rapidly and doing much damage to fruit trees and grain crops. The farmers are planning organized hunts this winter to reduce the number of

BEGA.

Miss Mary Hendrickson is visiting in Fremont for a short time.

Mr. Hyland of Stanton was in this vicinity on business Saturday.

Mr. Shultz and daughter went to Norfolk on business Saturday. Chas. Wilson and sister went to Norfolk to do some shopping Saturday.

Robert Elliott visited with his parents in Winside Saturday and Sunday. Andrew Olson and Bernard Aspline spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in Wayne. Andrew Olson went to Knox county short time. Miss Gussie Lundquist, who teaches south of Stanton, spent Sunday with

Wednesday to visit with his sister for a

On account of the rainy weather, Rev. Winfrey did not fill his appointment

Saturday and Sunday. The Epworth league was well attended Sunday evening. The meeting proprietor, and told him it would take was led by Clara Hendrickson.

WARNERVILLE.

Mrs. Bowlesby of Silver Creek is the guest of her sister, Mrs. G. W. Hills. The dance and oyster supper given by the local lodge of Modern Woodmen at the table with forty-two marks after Friday evening of last week was a great it indicated that I had eaten forty-two success, there being a large attendance. The lodge netted a neat sum of money warks showed that I had slept in the for the treasury.

At the election Tuesday the republicans elected the following precinct of- ures 14, which was the amount I owed ficers: assessor, F. Z. McGinnis; justices him. And it was a true bill."-Yank-Sleeper; constables, W. P. Rowlett and Fred O'Dell; road overseer, in district No. 16, Israel Miller. In road district No. 9, J. Hoehne, democrat, was elected. this country. A typical shop is a Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank the neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted during middle of which rises an octagonal the long sickness of our husband and father and for the welcome sympathy they have expressed since his death.

MRS. D. F. SIDLER. FRED SIDLER MRS. LOTTIE DAVIS. EARL SIDLER.

Northern Wisconsin Railway Farm Land :For Sale.

The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railway has for sale in Northern Wisconsin, at low prices and easy implement is never used by Persians. terms of payment, about 350,000 acres of choice farm lands.

Early buyers will secure the advantage of locations on the many beautiful streams and lakes, which abound with most excellent water supply, both for barber shaves the heads of his customfamily use and for stock.

soil fertile and easy of cultivation and sets their broken bones and shampoos the greatest sheep and cattle raising regions in the northwest.

Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minnother towns on "The Northwestern titled "Harmony of the Gospels" he Line" furnish good markets for stock and farm produce.

For further particulars address: GEO. W. BELL. Land Commissioner, Hudson Wis., or G. H. MACRAE, Asst. Gen'l Pass. Ag't, St. Paul, Minn.

The only direct route between California and the east is the Union Pacific. 'The Overland Route." This was the first road to span the continent with bands of steel. It made friends in those early days-it is making them now, on account of its superior service and superb equipment and quick trains. For full information call on or address J. B. Elseffer, agent.

Relief for Stout Women.

The "Nemo Self-Reducing" is the only corset for stout women that posihead off while out hunting Monday, tively reduces the abdomen, relieves those who are physically weak, gives a graceful figure and assures a perfect fitting dress. All this is accomplished by minister an antidote. the "Self-Beducing Idea," a new method of adjusting.

> See exhibit in south show window. See the 50 cents pleated satin belts we are selling for 25 cents.

MRS. J. BENSON. South 16th street, Omaha, Nebr.

The complete service of "The Chicago-Portland Special" via Union Pacific, pal cities between the north and Pacific he can always have enough for his own affords. All meals served a la carte.

THE STIRRUP CUP.

My short and happy day is done; The long and lonely night comes on And at my door the pale horse stands To carry me to unknown lands.

His whinny shrill, his pawing hoof, and dreadful as a gathering storm, And I must leave this sheltering roof And Joys of life so soft and warm.

Tender and warm the joys of life; Good friends, the faithful and the true; My rosy children and my wife, So sweet to kiss, so fair to view,

So sweet to kiss, so fair to view; The night comes on, the lights burn blue, And at my door the pale horse stands To bear me forth to unknown lands.

A NOVEL HOTEL BILL.

The Man to Whom It Was Presented Could Not Understand It.

"Talking about bookkeeping, there used to be a man in Yankton whose system of bookkeeping accounts was wonderfully efficient. He kept a hotel, and he could neither read nor write. He did not know how to spell his own name, but he did a thriving business and collected every dollar of his accounts. Once, years ago, when I first came to this country. I went to his hotel and stopped there two weeks," writes Milt Brinben.

"When I left, he presented me with a statement of what I owed him, and it was a curiosity. He had copied it from his ledger. At the top of the sheet there was a rude picture of a soldier on the march and after it three straight marks. Then there was a scene showing a man at table eating. Then appeared a bed with a man to it. In the amount column there was a picture of a doll and after it the two letters "RS." After the picture of a man eating there were forty-two marks; after the view of the man in the bed, fourteen marks. I looked at the account, then at the me a week to answer that conundrum.

"I was completely stumped, and when that hotel man deciphered the amount for me it was this: The picture of the soldier walking meant march, and the three marks supplied the date, March 3, when I began boarding. The man meals. The man in bed with fourteen house fourteen nights. The doll with the 'RS' after it meant 'dollars,' and in the figure columns appeared the figton Press.

A Persian Barber.

A Persian barber works in a style very different from that in vogue in square room, with one side open to the street. In the center is a tiny bed of flowers sunk in the floor, from the stone column about three feet high.

The capital of the column forms a receptacle for the water in which the mile by a harpooned whale. The barber dips his hand as he shaves his length of line and the short distance customer's scalp. In Persia they do from the point of descent after being not lather. The shop is very clean. In two recesses stand four vases filled surface was a proof of the depth to with flowers and the implements of the barber's art-scissors, razors, lancets, hand mirrors, large pinchers to extract teeth, branding irons to cauterize the arteries in amputating limbs, strong killed. That piece of wood was so combs, but not a hairbrush, for that

From the barber's girdle hang a round copper water bottle, his strop and a pouch to hold his instruments. In his bosom is a small mirror, the presentation of which to his customers s a sign that the job is finished and fish and furnish a never ending and that the barber waits for his pay. The ers, dyes their beards, pulls their teeth, Land is generally well timbered, the blisters and bleeds them when ailing, Strange Lapse of Memory.

Cases of forgetfulness on matters of interest are on record. While Dr. eapolis, Duluth, Superior, Ashland and Priestley was preparing his work enhad taken great pains to inform himself on a subject which had been under discussion relative to the Jewish Passover. He wrote out the result of his researches and laid the paper away. His attention and time being taken with something else, some little time his mind again. Then the same time and pains were given to the subject that had been given to it before, and forgotten that he had copied the same paragraphs and reflections before that it was only when he had found the papers on which he had transcribed them that it was recalled to his recollection. This same author had frequently read his own published writings and did not recognize them.

An Expert.

Professor-If a person in good health, but who imagined himself sick, should send for you, what would you do? Medical Student - Give him something to make him sick and then ad-

Professor - Don't waste any more time here. Hang out your shingle.-New York Weekly.

Jones-Has your wife got her new hat yet? Brown-No; I've given her the money for it several times, but she has spent it on some great, glorious bargain she saw before she got to the milliner shop.

In Temptation's Way.

-Detroit Free Press. Some people expect fortune to break in the door and announce her arrival through a megaphone.-Nashville Ban-

About the only way to convert some people is to leave them alone.-Dallas News.

Silence You Can Sec.

There is no such thing as silence in this world. It is an impossibility. That is partly the reason why science has enabled us to see it.

The explanation of the paradox is this: Silence, as we understand it, simply means that there are sounds too delicate or too loud for the ear to register. In other words, when we can't hear anything we call that condition "silence." But wherever you are there are sounds around you. Even in the deepest mine the air vibrates and makes a sound. An instrument has been invented that will catch these sounds and permit of the vibrations being represented pictorially on a screen, and in that way you may see silence and properly understand what it

By comparing the pictures of noises with those of that condition of things known as silence we gain an idea of the difference between a noisy night, for instance, and one when "absolute silence reigns," as the novelist puts it. It is rather surprising to find so much disturbance at the time when everything appears to be perfectly quiet.-Pearson's Weekly.

Diplomatic.

The late Lord Savile used to say, according to The Candid Friend, "that high diplomatists had always to be on their guard against intriguing women, mainly Russian agents, who would use any wile to extract information. During the Russo-Turkish war, when Europe was always on the verge of a crisis and Russian statesmen were most anxious to know what England would do under given circumstances, a lady came up to him suddenly at a ball and said: "I hear that the Russians have made a forced march and entered Constantinople." hoping no doubt that be would be surprised into some indiscreet expression.

"Ineed! And I suppose the sultan has conferred on them the order of the

He merely replied:

Turkish Bath!" The lady continued gravely: "And they say in Paris that if England does not interfere the eastern question is settled in favor of Russia." "And that," replied his excellency.

is, I suppose, the new judgment of Wood Too Hard to Burn.

There are certain kinds of wood that are too hard to burn, or refuse to ignite for some other reason, such as Ironwood and the good brier root, but it is a curiosity to come across a piece of common deal—the soft, light wood of which so many boxes are made-that cannot be set-fire to.

The piece of wood in question was common white deal from Sweden, but was remarkable for its comparative weight. It had formed part of a boat belonging to a whaler and had been dragged below the surface of the water to the depth of more than half a which it had dragged the boat. Only part of the boat came up again at the end of the line, and it was taken on board when the whale had been hard that it would not burn in a gas jet. The weight of water had compressed it .- London Standard.

Birds' Songs. A French writer, Henri Coupon, says that, notwithstanding the fact of their simplicity, the songs of birds cannot be imitated with musical instruments because of the impossibility of reproducing their peculiar timbre. The notes of birds, while corresponding with our musical scale, also include vibrations occupying the intervals between our notes. The duration of birds' songs is usually very short, two or three seconds for thrushes and chaffinches, four or five seconds for blackbirds, but from two to five minutes for the lark.

A Salmon's Leap.

One of the directors of the Norwegian fisheries has been endeavoring to discover the height a salmon will leap when clearing a waterfall which obstructs its passage up stream. Masts were placed below the fall to insure elapsed before the subject occurred to accurate measurements. It is stated that a fish can leap to the height of twenty feet. When a fish failed to clear the fall at one bound, it remained the results were again put on paper in the falling water and then, with a and laid aside. So completely had he rapid twist of the body, gave a spring and was successful.

About the Limit.

"Bilkins, what is the most mortifying thing you can conceive of?" Bilkins-I guess it's when a woman's sons having grown over the head of their father, who is of small stature, the thrifty mother has the outgrown clothes of her sons revamped for the old gentleman's use.—New York Times. His First Impression.

Civil Service Examiner-What do you know about Budapest? Applicant For Position on Police Force-Budapest is the name of a cattle disease. It is usually fatal!-Chicago Tribune.

Her Age.

Judge-How old are you, madam? Witness (hesitatingly)-I am-that Judge-Out with it! The longer you wait the older you will grow.

Two of a Kind. Guest-What a splendid dinner! I don't often get as good a meal as this. Little Willie (son of the host)-We don't either.

The word "mile" comes from the Latin "mille," a thousand. A thousand paces of a marching soldier made the