

THE CONVOCATION BEGINS.

Address by Rev. C. H. Young of Omaha.

SYMBOLISM OF THE CHURCH.

Bishop Williams is Present and Presides at the Celebration of the Holy Eucharist This Morning—Twenty-Five Clergymen Here.

From Wednesday's Daily.

The annual convocation of the clergymen of the diocese of Nebraska opened in Trinity church last evening at 8 o'clock, being present Bishop Williams and about twenty-five of the clergy. Service was opened with evening prayer, after which the records recently put in as a memorial to Mrs. Wells was blessed and dedicated to the service of God.

After the dedication an address was given by the Rev. C. H. Young of the associate mission of Omaha on the "Symbolism of the Church." The address was crowded with information as to the forms and ceremonies of worship in the Episcopal church and explanation was made of many usages which to the uninformed have seemed trivial and unimportant. Those present regretted that the address was not heard by more of the general public as it was highly instructive and very edifying.

Another feature of the service was the singing, which was heartily joined in by all the congregation and clergy, and was an inspiration to all who heard it.

Holy eucharist was celebrated in the church this morning at 7:30, Bishop Williams being celebrant. There will be a choral celebration tomorrow morning at the same hour.

The services of the convocation will continue through today and tomorrow and end Friday morning, and all are open to the public. It is hoped the public generally will appreciate this opportunity of listening to some of the most distinguished clergymen in the state, it being assured that they are heartily welcome at any or all of the services.

The people of western counties are guarding against possible damage by prairie fires, as the grass is unusually heavy this fall. There is so little uncultivated prairie left in the eastern portion of the state that the fear of prairie fires has been greatly reduced and slight precaution is necessary.

The Fort Dodge, Iowa, Daily Chronicle of Saturday, November 9, gives an interesting sketch of the Central Iowa Mutual Fire association of which C. B. Holahan, formerly of this city, is secretary. The association was organized in 1898, has 250 agencies and is operating in every county in Iowa. The association feels especially proud of its home endorsement, having over 100 policies with Fort Dodge people among whom are the leading business men of the city. The Central has not an unsettled loss on its books. The excellent record and standing of the company is readily conceded by Norfolk people who know the secretary, are cognizant of his business ability and judge the other officers by his standard.

Pender Republic: The fatal termination of one of the smallpox patients in the Lemmon home emphasizes the necessity of great caution on the part of our people. It makes no difference that some are unwilling to admit that the malady is smallpox. Competent physicians here and elsewhere have positively declared that it is smallpox. The health of the community is far more essential than that somebody's opinion, formed without any knowledge of diseases whatever, should be respected. The rights of the community are bound to be and must be respected. The community has been greatly endangered by the willful commingling among our people, of persons coming from families having the disease, which is no less than criminal and should be treated as such.

A set of agents are canvassing Norfolk on a scheme that has very much the appearance of a fake and people will probably do well to require the fulfillment of their generous offer before parting with their money. For a cash consideration of $9 in installments these generous people propose to give nine books and a number of art premiums besides allowing their patrons to choose a handsome piece of furniture, which if of any value whatever, is worth more than the entire price asked for books, pictures and furniture. People will do well to remember that no firm or company, it matters not how generous, can afford to give something for nothing. It is said that these agents have refused a number of offers to sell their goods to reliable business men and accept cash on delivery, which is pretty good ground for suspicion.

Notice. All persons are hereby cautioned not to fish on my premises after this date, with either net or line, or they will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. Norfolk, Nebraska, Nov. 11, 1901. F. W. BOCHS.

SECOND DAY'S SESSION.

Scholarly Papers Read and Discussed.

NEXT MEETING AT FALLS CITY.

Telegram of Greeting Sent Bishop Worthington—Invitation to Visit Beet Sugar Factory Accepted—"The Crozier" a Financial Success.

From Thursday's Daily.

Yesterday's session of the annual convocation of the clergy of the Episcopal church of the diocese of Nebraska, being held in Trinity church, corner of Madison and Ninth streets, began with a celebration of the holy communion at 7:30 a. m. The Rt. Rev. Arthur L. Williams, D. D., bishop-coadjutor of Nebraska, was the celebrant. The service was well attended. At 9:30 the office of morning prayer was said by the Rev. F. S. White of Omaha and the Rev. W. O. Butler of Fullerton. The rest of the morning was devoted to the reading and discussion of an able paper on "The Essential Character of the Church" by the Rev. Philip G. Davidson, rector of St. Matthias church, Omaha; a business session at 11 o'clock and intercessions for missions. At the business session the report of the business manager of "The Crozier," the diocesan newspaper, was read by the Rev. W. H. Moor of Omaha. The financial report was highly satisfactory, showing a small balance on hand.

The essayist of the morning gave a clear exposition of the church, defining it as the extension of the incarnation in the world and having as its essential work the uniting of man to God. He showed how that this work is wrought by the sacraments of Christ's appointment and how that the apostolic ministry is a logical and necessary requirement for the work of the church. The paper was one of marked ability and was listened to with intense interest.

The afternoon session began at 2:30 and was opened with devotions by Bishop Williams. The Rev. Wm. J. Moody of Falls City, opened an interesting discussion by a well written paper on "The Best Basis for a Diocesan Assessment." He advocated as the best basis of assessment for the necessary expenses of the diocese a pro rata tax upon the parochial income rather than a per capita tax. This seemed to be the prevailing sentiment of all the clergy present. Mr. J. B. Maylard who was requested to speak from the layman's point of view endorsed the plan advocated by Rev. Mr. Moody.

A business session followed the discussion, at which an invitation to hold the next convocation in Falls City was accepted. Various committees were appointed. A telegram of greeting was sent to Bishop Worthington. An invitation to visit the beet sugar factory was also accepted. At 5 o'clock evensong was said by the Rev. Jno. T. Foster of South Omaha and the Rev. E. S. Murphy of Auburn.

At the evening session, which began at 7:30, the Rev. H. B. Jefferson of Fremont read a scholarly paper on "The Observance of Sunday" to a large and appreciative congregation. The speaker urged a more careful observance of Sunday on the grounds of divine commandment and man's spiritual and physical need.

This morning there was a choral celebration of the holy communion at 7:30, led by the full vested choir. Bishop Williams was celebrant; the Rev. J. C. S. Wells, gospeller and the Rev. D. C. Pattee of Schuyler, epistoler. The music was well rendered. For such an early hour a good congregation was present.

Morning prayer was said and the discussion of Sunday Observance was then taken up and was followed by an admirable paper on "The Relations of the Clergy to Missions" by the Rev. James Wise of South Omaha. The writer emphasized the clergy man's duty of informing the people as to missionary needs, urging that knowledge begets interest.

A special to the Bee from Long Pine states that the report of sixty cases of smallpox in that town is a prevarication, pure and simple and that there is no such man as Dr. Dodd in Brown county. The dispatch states that there are no more cases of the disease there than in many other Nebraska towns and that all are under quarantine regulations.

The first of a series of lectures on the Life of Christ, illustrated by Tissot's famous pictures, was given at the First Baptist church last evening by Rev. H. E. Ryder before a large audience and those attending expressed themselves as pleased and impressed with both the talk and the pictures. Another of the lectures will be given tonight and one tomorrow night.

Mrs. Orvail E. Satterlee, formerly Miss Mamie Mather, who has been seriously sick for several days past, died yesterday afternoon and it is understood that the funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon, interment to take place in Prospect Hill cemetery. Mrs. Satterlee was 24 years of age and her death was surrounded with circumstances that make it particularly sad. The husband and relatives who survive have the sincere sympathy of all their acquaintances in their hour of affliction.

Astronomers who were looking for a grand meteoric shower last year now consider that their figures may have been off a year and are, preparing to take account of the phenomenon this fall. If the event happens it is expected that it will begin tonight, perhaps about 1 to 3 o'clock, and may be continued for three or four nights following. It is expected that the earth will pass through or near the Leonis during that time and a grand display of celestial fireworks that will be worth seeing is anticipated. The event is one of a life-time as it takes place at intervals of 33 years. No doubt there are many Norfolk people who would like to see it and a number have made arrangements to keep vigil, but that all may see it who do not wish to stay up till that time Mayor Konigstein has arranged to give notice by sounding the fire whistle or ringing the fire bell, or both, if there is a display worth seeing, but care will be taken that it does not resemble a fire alarm. Thirty-three years ago it is said that the display was a very beautiful one and all would be disappointed if there is another such display and they should miss it. The Illustrated Bee of Sunday gives a very complete account of what may be expected from this astronomical phenomenon. To locate the constellation which is in the northeast heavens the article gives the following direction: "The constellation Leonis rises shortly before midnight on November 14, but it is not well in view till 1 a. m. It can be found readily by using the "pointers" in the dipper in a reverse direction from the customary use in finding the North star. Leonis will be identified about as far off as the North star is the other way and as a very good outline of a sickle, with the bright star, Regulus, at the outer end of the handle. A better way is to use the two stars forming the side of the dipper nearest the handle for pointers. These point, again in the direction opposite to the North star, directly at the sickle. The radiant of the Leonis is within the curve of the blade of the sickle, near the center. The whole of the constellation, however, does not come into good view till about 2 a. m."

Doing the Right Thing.

The trouble begins with a tickling in the throat and a nagging little cough. Soreness in the chest follows and the patient wonders if he is going to have an all winter cold. Probably, if he does the wrong thing or nothing. Certainly not if he uses Perry Davis' Painkiller, the staunch old remedy that cures a cold in twenty-four hours. There is but one painkiller, Perry Davis'.

CONVICT CHASE STILL ON

Two Fugitives Surrounded in Farm House, but Escape.

MUTINEERS TRAP OFFICERS.

Cheriff Cook and Deputy Are Themselves Made Prisoners—Forced to Promise Immunity From Arrest. Farmer's Wife Used as Shield.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 11.—Sheriff Cook of this county and Deputy Sheriff Williams were captured by two escaped convicts from the Fort Leavenworth military prison yesterday afternoon at Pauline, five miles south of Topeka, and held prisoners in the farm house of a man named Wooster for several hours. They finally escaped between a line of police sent from Topeka to reinforce the sheriff and are now at large. Both were slightly wounded. Wooster was badly wounded by one of the convicts when he tried to fire on them. Mrs. Wooster and Sheriff Cook were held before the convicts as a shield by the prisoners in making their escape. A posse is in pursuit.

At 2:30 p. m. some farmer boys near Pauline learned that the convicts were in the neighborhood. Hastily forming a posse armed with target rifles, pistols and clubs, they gave chase. Neither of the convicts was armed and they were unable to make a stand. Later Sheriff Cook and Deputy Williams arrived. Coming upon the convicts, both officers fired, wounding the men, but not disabling them. The convicts then fled through a small opening in the timber and ran into the house of Farmer Wooster. Sheriff Cook telephoned to Topeka for assistance and then took up the chase. Thinking that the convicts had run around the house, Cook darted through the open door, intending to surprise them at the rear door. But instead of this, the convicts had gone into the house and the officer almost fell into their arms.

Sheriff Gives Up His Gun. Sheriff Cook was ordered to give up his gun, which he did. Deputy Williams by this time had reached the house and entered without knowing what had happened inside, and he, too, was made captive by the convicts.

In the meantime Chief Stahl of Topeka with eight officers were on the way. They arrived at the Wooster house about an hour after the officers had been imprisoned. Chief Stahl immediately began negotiations with the convicts to give up their prisoners and to surrender themselves, but the convicts only laughed. Farmer Wooster then managed to get a gun and was about to make an attack on the convicts when one of them laid him low with a blow from the butt of a revolver taken from one of their captives. The convict broke Wooster's right hand and cut a gash in his head. One of the convicts told Sheriff Cook that he would be killed if he made the slightest move looking toward their capture. In the meantime, the police officers on the outside had surrounded the building, but were afraid to make a move for fear that Cook and Williams would suffer.

Walk Off Unmolested. Mrs. Wooster had fainted during the excitement. She finally revived and at 7 o'clock the convicts placed the woman and Sheriff Cook in front of them as shields and made for the door. Then, after exacting a promise from the sheriff that he would not permit any of the officers to fire on them, they started for the open air. As they left the house with the frightened farmer, wife and the submissive sheriff before them, the convicts passed between a cordon of police, who could have easily captured them, and started for the railroad track. The sheriff had in turn exacted a promise from the police that they would not molest the convicts and they did not.

After covering a considerable distance down the track, the convicts suddenly disappeared through a hedge fence, bidding the officers a mocking farewell. One of the police sergeants later said he could have easily touched the leading convict with his hand as he passed.

The convicts had secured a good start before the officers had recovered from their surprise. Then some of the policemen wanted to pursue, but Sheriff Cook would not permit it, as he had promised the convicts immunity from arrest. Sheriff Stahl left some of his men on the scene and with the others started back to Topeka to take up the chase later on. The convicts are well armed, having taken all the guns in the farm house, including those of the sheriff and his deputy. They are both white men, but their identity was not learned.

Sheriff Cook arrived from Pauline at 10 o'clock last night. He was somewhat disfigured and his clothes were ragged, but he had lost none of his nerve by his usage at the hands of the convicts. In telling the story of his experiences he made no attempt to conceal the humorous aspect of the affair. He said: "Deputy Williams was not captured, as at first reported. When he saw me taken he stood off from the house and the convicts did not molest him."

Masked Men Raid Lodging House.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Two masked men entered a lodging house at 383 South Clark street at 9 o'clock last evening and with revolvers intimidated the hotel clerk and 15 guests seated about the office. They proceeded to empty the cash drawer of its contents, about $10, and then without hindrance made good their escape.

SUSPECT CASTRO'S BROTHER.

Colombian Liberals Think He Is Playing Dual Role.

Willemstad, Nov. 11.—Advices received here from Capacho Viejo, dated Nov. 5, say that the report from President Castro to his brother Celestino Castro, at San Cristobal, to the effect that the United States government "insists upon mediating between Venezuela and Colombia" caused the greatest excitement among the troops on the frontier. General Uribe-Uribe and General Modesto Castro immediately set out for San Cristobal to obtain details. It seems that General Uribe-Uribe refused to believe the report, declaring that he had no fears as to the future of the liberal cause, because President Castro had given him a cast-iron pledge not to forsake him. "Should President Castro prove untrue to the liberal cause," exclaimed General Uribe-Uribe, "the result would be his ruin. The war will enter Colombia before Christmas."

Dr. Eduardo Blanco, Venezuelan minister of foreign affairs, has resigned his portfolio. He will be succeeded by Dr. Pachano.

BACKBONE OF STRIKE BROKEN. Denver and Rio Grande Switch Engines Fully Manned.

Denver, Nov. 11.—The strike of switchmen on the Denver and Rio Grande railroad is having but little effect on the traffic of that road, according to the statements of the railroad officials. The switch engines all over the system were fully manned, with the exception of those at Salida and Alamosa. The Brotherhood of Trainmen say they will stand by the decision of Vice Grand Master Lee, in which he declared that the agreement between his organization and the Rio Grande was still in operation and that it covers switching. The switchmen employed on the Colorado and Southern railroad, who, it was reported, would aid the Rio Grande men in their strike, say they will continue neutral.

NEW CHICAGO-ST. LOUIS ROAD.

Northwestern Said to Have Completed Deal for Through Line.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—The Record-Herald says: A new through railway line from Chicago to St. Louis is believed by residents of Springfield and other towns in the central part of the state to be a certainty in the near future. The rumor that comes from those cities is that the Chicago and Northwestern railway has completed a deal by which it will absorb the Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis line and thus gain an entrance into the desirable St. Louis territory. For some time the Northwestern road has been at work building a branch road from Dixon to Peoria, and this would connect with the Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis road to make a through line.

CROWLEY OCCUPIES REAR PEW.

Deposed Priest in Church Again, but Has to Take Obscure Seat.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Father Jeremiah J. Crowley, the Roman Catholic priest of Oregon, Ill., whose severe criticism of the church authorities of the archdiocese of Chicago was followed by his excommunication, and whose presence in Holy Name cathedral was the cause of a dramatic scene there last Sunday, when solemn high mass was stopped and the lights put out, appeared at the cathedral again yesterday at the hour of solemn high mass. Father Crowley was admitted, after some parleying at the door, and in a rear seat he sat through the solemn service.

A Clever Dog.

"A Durango man," remarks the Floresville (Mo.) Chronicle, "was showing to a friend the good points of his dog and threw a half dollar coin into the river. Obediently the dog dived for the coin and brought up a two pound catfish and 35 cents in change."

Epilepsy

weakens the body and degrades the mind. It saps the nervous strength that is the source of all health, and perverts the functions of every organ. Because of its stubborn nature, it is often called incurable. This is not true. There is one medicine that never fails to check the nervous spasms and give new strength to the entire system.

"My little girl had epilepsy so bad that in one day she suffered seventy-one fits. The doctors gave her up to die, but I began giving her Dr. Miles' Nervine and now she is perfectly well. It took five bottles to effect a cure."
