C. Howe of the American Beet Sugar company. Mr. Connolly returned last evening. Miss Lottie Crum is visiting with her sister, Miss Ora, who holds a position at the Norfolk hospital for the insane. She is on her way home to Creighton from Omaha where she held a position in a millinery store. The First Congregational church society has extended a unanimous call to Rev. W. J. Turner of McCook to accept the pastorate of the church here and it is probable that he will accept and move to Norfolk soon. Rev. Mr. Turner was moderator of the association meeting recently held here and is highly recommended as a pulpit orator and church worker. The state board of public lands and buildings in session at Lincoln yesterday indefinitely extended the time allowed contractors to submit bids for rebuilding the west wing of the hospital for the insane at this place. The board met to open the proposals but as none had been presented an adjournment was taken. The Bee correspondent says: "Several contractors have the matter under consideration and will present their estimates within the next few days. The board will insist on the citizens of Norfolk advancing sufficient money to pay for all labor employed in the rebuilding." A world-renowned vaudeville troupe—the latest New York success—gave a clever entertainment of high artistic merit at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Salter last evening. The performers represented all nationalities and were brought from all quarters of the globe at large expense, although their personalities were familiar and recognizable. They were so successful as entertainers that it is hoped that they may again favor the amusement loving people of Norfolk and be induced to entertain the next time at the Auditorium. A stage had been provided in one end of the dining room and each performer was announced with full title and name by the stage director with the usual flourish. Sandow, the world famous strong man, was there and lifted great weights of 1,200 pounds with very little effort. Hermann the great, magician, whom many had supposed was dead, was there and performed cleverly. There was a monologue by the fellow with his hair parted in the middle. John Chinaman was present, the renowned Irish comedian sang, Katrina and her darlin' made their positively last appearance. Cake walks, fancy dances, singing and cornet solos were among the features. After the entertainment refreshments were served, the performers participating and the entire evening proved very enjoyable to those in attendance.

MADISON.

C. F. Shaw of Norfolk was in town Monday. J. L. Knesel was over from Battle Creek Wednesday. Jake Henderson has typhoid fever at his rooms in the Madison house. Water pipes are being laid to convey city water to the new M. E. parsonage. Sheriff Losey went to Battle Creek Wednesday afternoon after witnesses in the Joseph Phipps case. John W. Towle of Omaha, representing the Canton Bridge company, had business with the county commissioners this week. S. J. Finnegan, county commissioner elect, was in town a couple of days this week, receiving the congratulations of his numerous friends. Miss Alta Chittenden very pleasantly entertained a number of her little friends Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 6. Hot taffy and sticky fingers were the amusements. Jesse Fields moved his family to Tilden Monday, where they will make their future home. He sold his house here to Mr. Matson, who will occupy the same when his present lease of the Burch house expires. C. S. Eddy has lumber and brick on the ground for a commodious addition to his residence. He will do the work himself while he is not working on other people's houses. Fred H. Free and H. F. Barnhart of Pierce, F. M. Cookingham and S. S. McAllister of Humphrey were the attorneys from outside the county in attendance upon district court this week. District court is in session this week with its usual members of attorneys, jurors and witnesses in attendance. On Monday the court was occupied with divorce cases, some two or three being granted. Tuesday the case of M. Gross v. Ed. Reeves, was disposed of, the verdict of the jury being in favor of Mr. Gross. The action was brought by Gross to obtain possession of a house occupied by Reeves, and carried up from justice court. Wednesday morning the case of Nora B. Lewis v. Fred Horst et al was called and is being tried to a jury. The action is for damage resulting from the death of Joseph Lewis, while intoxicated, in August, 1900. It is claimed he obtained some liquor here of Fred Horst and some of Louis Loerke and also some of different saloon men in Humphrey. WARNERVILLE. Mrs. Maud Pettit returned Tuesday from a visit with friends in Kansas. Mrs. North of Essex, Iowa, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Chandler. Mr. and Mrs. Neil McBeath returned Tuesday from a two-weeks' visit with relatives in Brown county. The members of the M. B. A. lodge will have a dance and oyster supper in their lodge room Friday evening, Nov. 23, to which the public is invited. Some one broke into the coal house belonging to the school district, Monday night, and helped themselves to the coal. Members of the school board trailed the thief several miles Tuesday morning going in the direction of Norfolk, but finally lost the track in the sand. The thief drove a team of ponies, shod all around. A Cut in the Rates to Buffalo via the Illinois Central. As the closing day (October 31) of the wonderful Pan-American exposition draws near, the railroad rates have been reduced so much that the Illinois Central is enabled to offer excursion tickets to Buffalo at rates considerably less than half fare. Tickets will be on sale during the remainder of October, and will be limited to leave Buffalo returning, for such trains as reach Chicago on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, not later than midnight of the sixth day, including date of sale. These six-day tickets will not be accepted in sleeping cars. Tickets bearing limits of fifteen and twenty days will be on sale every day until October 31 at corresponding rates. For a circular giving rates to Buffalo from principal Illinois Central stations, and a beautifully illustrated booklet descriptive of the "Rainbow City," address J. F. MERRY, A. S. Genl. Pass. Agent, Dubuque, Iowa. The November "American Boy." The American Boy for November (Sprague Publishing Co., Detroit, Mich.) is an attractive number. Among the leading articles are: Working my Way Around the World, by Harry Steele Morrison, The Boy Traveler: Fun and Profit in Trapping; True Americans, and The Old Put House. A valuable department entitled "For Boys to Think About," occupies two pages and is filled with items of information—science, statistics, etc., of keen interest to everybody. "What Boys are Doing," occupies two pages made up of true stories about successful boys in various lines of endeavor. 80 illustrations. $1 a year. Sprague Publishing Co., Detroit, Mich. Perhaps You Wonder if the tormenting cold that made last winter one long misery will be as bad this year. Certainly not, if you take Allen's Lung Balm when tickling and rawness in the throat announce the presence of the old enemy. Do not expect the cold to wear itself out. Take the right remedy in time. Allen's Lung Balm is free from opium. Women and Jewels. Jewels, candy, flowers, man—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often ruined in the strenuous efforts to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Boschee's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is a certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. You can get Dr. G. G. Green's reliable remedies at Asa K. Leonard's. Get Green's special almanac. Welcome as Sunshine after a long storm is a feeling of relief when an obstinate, pitiless cold has been driven away by Allen's Lung Balm. Only people who have been cured of throat-ache and sore lungs by this remedy can quite realize what the feeling is. There is no opium in the balm; its good effect is radical and lasting. Take a bottle home today.

Miss Orla Pilger visited Saturday with friends at Tilden. Miss Kathryn Sisson spent Sunday with friends in Creighton. Miss Maud Underberg spent Sunday with relatives in Madison. W. H. Wagton of Omaha is here looking after business interests. Eugene Austin was down from Pierce to visit his parents over Sunday. F. A. Beeler left for Chicago today to purchase a stock of holiday goods. Dr. Brent of Neola, Iowa, spent Sunday at the home of J. W. Ransom. Mrs. Orval Satterly is reported as very sick, with small chance of recovery. C. L. Hall left for Chadron Saturday to accept a position in a barber shop. W. M. Robertson and Sydney returned Friday from their trip to Wyoming. Mrs. A. D. Higgins and daughter of Creighton were Norfolk visitors today. The West Side Whist club meets tomorrow evening with Dr. and Mrs. Holden. Conductor Young, of the C. St. P. M. & O., who has been taking a vacation, resumed his duties today. Frank Beels has returned from Sheridan, Wyoming, where he has been employed during the summer. Mrs. J. E. Glass of Winside visited over Friday night with Norfolk relatives, on her way home from Battle Creek. Mrs. Judge Bates and children of Madison visited over Sunday with Mrs. Bates' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Kost, on South Fifth street. The Dakota county board has refused to issue quarantine regulations against the Indians of the Wannabago reservation, although petitioned to do so. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Myer, who have been the guests of F. A. and L. M. Beeler and families, returned to their home in Oregon, Mo., this morning. Edmund George appeared before Police Judge Hayes this morning to answer to the charge of "drunk and disorderly." He was found guilty and was assessed a fine of $16. Fred Sidler and his mother, Mrs. D. F. Sidler, left this morning. Fred returns to Chicago to take up his work in the Plano factory, and Mrs. Sidler will pay an extended visit with relatives and friends in Council Bluffs and Shelby, Iowa. An Antelope county thief helped himself to a load of corn, husking from one end of the farmer's field to the other. The farmers are now on their guard and don't propose to have such depredations repeated. A load of corn is almost as valuable as a horse this year. Six delinquent members of election boards in Cass county have been summoned to appear before the county judge and show cause why they should not be fined for their failure to serve as officers at the recent election. The late law makes the service of election boards as obligatory as jury service. The full term of district court opens at Madison today and Norfolk attorneys are as usual well represented at the session. The docket is not heavy and interesting cases are few. The most interesting, perhaps, to Norfolk people is that of the State vs. Edmund George, charged with selling mortgaged property. Norfolk has weather in variety. It is as changeable as fusion paramount issues—never exactly the same. Yesterday was nearly summer—today is about winter. It is the next thing to impossible to dress, or regulate the furnace to suit weather conditions. What will fit today may be all wrong tomorrow. The Nebraska football boys may not be able to win from the teams of states further north but it is very evident that nothing further south need hope to win from them. Their victory over Missouri at Omaha Saturday by a score of 51 to 0 was convincing evidence that they were too swift for the more slow blooded southerners. A Neligh farmer missed a buggy on the morning of November 1 and sent to Lincoln for blood hounds to trace the stolen property. Later he found the buggy under a neighboring bridge and learned that he was a victim of Hal-lows' en sprites. The expense of having the bloodhounds was a feature of the joke he didn't relish. The state board of health has been advised that there are 60 cases of smallpox at Long Pine and their assistance is sought in controlling the disease. The board requested the Elkhorn railway officials to assist and asked that the trains be run through Long Pine without stopping but inasmuch as that is a division point the company has not found it possible to comply with the request. They still have the matter under consideration, however, and may see their way clear to do as requested. Real Estate Transfers. FOLLOWED THE LEADER.

A Case Where Naval Cadets Turned Discipline Into a Joke. Among other good stories told by Cyrus Townsend Brady in his "Under Tops' and Tents," published by Scribners, is this: It is related that a large number of naval cadets were negligent in following the service in the chapel, which was after the ritual of the Episcopal church. An incautious officer in charge on Sunday morning made a little address to the church party on the subject, saying he supposed that some of them erred through ignorance, but if they would observe him carefully and do as he did—in military parlance, follow the motions of the commanding officer—they would not go wrong. Word was passed quietly through the battalion. They marched into the church. The officer in charge took his place in the front pew, settled himself in his seat and calmly blew his nose. Three hundred noses were blown simultaneously with a vehemence that was startling. The officer looked around and blushed violently in great surprise. Three hundred heads "followed the motions of the commanding officer." Six hundred cheeks violently tried to blush, a hard thing to do for a midshipman to do, and so on through the service. The man could not stir without instant imitation. He finally confined himself strictly to the prescribed ritual of the service, looking neither to the right nor to the left, not daring to raise a finger or breathe out of the ordinary course. This enterprise also was a startling success. The cadets received other instructions later in the day from a furious officer who sternly resented their innocent statements that they did not know which was ritual and which was not and that he had not instructed them that blowing his nose stood on a different plane from saying his prayers. It was a huge joke everywhere.

BEE AND HIVE.

If the hive rests on the ground, it will be too damp. It will pay to use foundations by filling all frames full. Set the hive a little above the ground to admit of a circulation of air. From 9 o'clock a. m. to 3 o'clock p. m. includes the hours of successful operating with bees. Procure new blood in the apary. Inbreeding is an objectionable with bees as with live stock. It is necessary to unite all weak colonies that will be unable to build up into strong stocks. Care should be taken to save all young brood and the brood combs of those containing brood. On account of it being the only material that can be depended upon to stay pine is the best material for hives. Combs should not be left in empty hives about the apary. That is the worst place they can be left, as moths are always to be found near the bees and are sure to infest the combs. One advantage in closed end frames is that a hive full of combs may be handled as though it were a single piece instead of a collection of loose pieces, thus saving work, worry and time. If the bees cannot conveniently enter the hives during the sudden changes of cool weather, quite a number will be lost; hence care should be taken to have the entrances arranged so that the bees can enter readily. His Shots. "Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Torkins, "I want you to be more careful about the use of firearms." "Why, I haven't"— "Charley, dear," she proceeded, with sweet severity, "you mustn't try to deceive me. I heard you telling yesterday about how you fell down on a long shot. If you must go in for such things, please get a gun that won't kick."—Washington Star. Why He Doesn't Work. "For a man who doesn't work," said the housekeeper, "you have a pretty good appetite." "Yes, ma'am," said Hungry Higgins. "Dat's why I don't work. If I did, dey wouldn't be no satisfyin' me."—Philadelphia Record.

A dead prairie chicken was found near the High school building this morning. It had probably flown against the wires and killed itself. The bird will be mounted. County Surveyor W. H. Lowe went to Madison today to meet with the county commissioners. From there he will go to the western part of the county on a week's surveying trip. The Norfolk High school football team is arranging for a game with the Randolph team to be played on the grounds here next Saturday. A close and exciting contest is expected. F. C. Weber has purchased of Carl Wilde the cottage on South Seventh street occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George Staphenhorst. They will take possession as soon as Mr. Staphenhorst can find a desirable residence. A letter has been received containing the information that Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cathers of Chino, Cal., will leave soon on a month's vacation, during which time they will visit Los Angeles and the Catalina islands. Farmers in some parts of the state are complaining again this year of cattle being lost by corn stalk disease. The experience of last fall should have taught farmers to be very cautious about turning cattle in the corn fields. Bishop Williams arrived last night from Omaha to attend the annual meeting of Episcopal clergymen of Nebraska. He was the guest of Rev. J. C. Weills over night and will be entertained during the session at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Reynolds. P. L. Hageman of Platte Center passed through the city today on his way home from Knox county, where he bought a farm of 400 acres for grazing and hay purposes. There are a number of his Platte county neighbors who are considering like investments in Knox county land. Deputy State Food Commissioner S. C. Bassett of Gibbon was in Fremont last week to investigate reports that several dealers of that city were selling butter for butter, contrary to law. He found two or three cases where infringement had occurred and they may be prosecuted later. The Valentine Republican says that Hall Taylor of that town choked to death, Monday, the 4th, on beef steak while eating his supper at Collins' restaurant. There have been a good many things laid up against boarding house beef steak but this is one of the worst ever, and it is no joke either. Pole cat stories are the rage. The latest is from Findlay, O., where it is said that four society girls are self quarantined. They went on an excursion after hickory nuts and saw a pretty cat approaching. They called it and it came. They learned that it was pretty enough to look at, but of the pole variety. R. H. Reynolds returned yesterday from West Liberty, Iowa, where he had been to attend the funeral of his mother-in-law. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds were called to that place last Thursday by the announcement of the serious illness of Mrs. Reynolds' mother, but she had passed away when they arrived. Mrs. Reynolds will not return before the latter part of the week. THE NEWS has not been up to its average the past few issues owing to an extra amount of advertising and a rush of work in other departments, but it is believed that its readers will bear with it because they will readily concede that, taking a year through, the publisher endeavors to give full value, and comparison with other papers of like character will convince the doubtful that it gives more for the money than the majority of them. Nebraska won a gold medal on her sugar beet display at the Buffalo exposition. Michigan made a fine display, occupying one side of the porch devoted to the purpose. That state also exhibited the finished product and presented visitors with boxes of candy made from beet sugar. Nebraska's display was modest, but the chemist found the beets from this state tested 16 per cent sugar and 87.4 per cent purity which placed them at the head of the list. The display was quiet a success in other particulars. The eastern people were surprised that Nebraska, the land of sod houses, Indians and buffaloes, should be raising sugar. Career and Character of Abraham Lincoln. An address by Joseph Chouteau, Ambassador to Great Britain, on the career and character of Abraham Lincoln—his early life—his early struggles with the world—his character as developed in the later years of his life and his administration, which placed his name so high on the world's roll of honor and fame, has been published by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway and may be had by sending six (6) cents in postage to F. will generally correct this difficulty. If you will put from one-fourth to half a teaspoonful in baby's bottle three or four times a day you will soon see a marked improvement. For larger children, from half to a teaspoonful, according to age, dissolved in their milk, if you so desire, will very soon show its great nourishing power.
