

Hyperopia-

Hyperopia is a condition when rays of light entering the eye, do not focus on the retina. Many young people will overcome this defect by using an extra supply of nerve force in order to see, and sometimes can see better than a person with normal eyes, but at the same time they have all sorts of trouble, such as headache, sick stomach, indigestion, constipation, piles, female disorders, ALMOST ALL NERVOUS AFFECTIONS.

Some people will ask, how can Hyperopia be cured all this trouble? Ask any Ophthalmologist and learn the reason why. There is only ONE remedy for Hyperopia.

FRIDAY FACTS.

The plumbing shop of Stitt & White is being removed from North Fourth street to the room on Main street recently occupied by Conley's bicycle shop.

While playing shinny Wednesday little Alfred Massack was struck in the face by a brick thrown by a companion. The boy's nose was broken and his face was quite severely bruised.

The body of the late Mrs. Herman Naegle was escorted to the train this morning by members of the Sons of Hermann, to which Mr. Naegle belongs. The lodge also sent a handsome floral offering. The remains were taken to Schuyler, the former home of the deceased and interment took place this afternoon.

The marriage of Ernest Wichman and Miss Emma Moldenhauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Moldenhauer, is announced to take place in St. Paul Lutheran church Thanksgiving afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The 3-year-old son of T. H. Marcellus of Gross fell into a box of slacked lime Wednesday and remained in it five minutes before its plight was discovered. The little one was so badly burned that death ensued in a short time.

The meeting called at the city hall last night to discuss the hospital situation was fairly well attended and the matter was very thoroughly discussed. It was decided to hold another meeting next week on call of the chairman, W. H. Bucholz.

Members of the Presbyterian church and other friends of Rev. and Mrs. L. W. Scudder gave them a surprise pound party last evening at their home on North Eighth street. The evening was pleasantly spent and Mr. and Mrs. Scudder received numerous acceptable gifts.

Mrs. Henry Stewart of Lynch had her hand shot off accidentally Wednesday. She was with her husband who was hauling wood and in attempting to remove a stick the hammer of the gun was struck and the weapon discharged. She bled frightfully and is not expected to survive.

Mrs. J. N. Bandick entertained her lady friends yesterday afternoon to the number of about fifty. The afternoon was pleasantly spent and at 5 o'clock the guests were seated at small tables and served with a dainty three-course supper. A number of the young lady friends of the hostess assisted her in serving.

There was a fair attendance at the hard times sociable and bean supper given in the G. A. R. hall last evening by the ladies of the W. R. C. and they were successful in clearing about $9. The supper was up to the usual standard of the meals prepared by that society and was thoroughly enjoyed by those attending.

C. W. Braasch received a telegram this afternoon announcing that his son, Edward W. Braasch, had died at his home in Tilden. The young man had been suffering from consumption for a number of years and while it was expected that the disease would result fatally, the news of his death came with a shock to his family and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Braasch will leave for Tilden tonight.

A company of twenty Russian immigrants arrived in Norfolk last evening and expect to locate in this vicinity. They were largely married people with a number of children. Among them was a deaf and dumb young man who as a boy made his home here for several years with Mr. and Mrs. John Freythaler. He was very glad to return to this country and was overjoyed at meeting Mr. Freythaler.

There was a very large attendance at the M. E. church last evening on the occasion of the reception to Rev. J. F. Poucher and family. Short speeches were made by representatives of the eight different societies of the church and were followed by a social good time with entertaining amusement features to add to the pleasures of the occasion. The ladies of the church served choice refreshments during the evening and the entire time was spent most enjoyably.

Jas. McAllister was before Police Judge Hayes this morning, charged with stealing coal. C. W. Braasch being the complaining witness. He pleaded not guilty and testimony was submitted. The possession of the coal was not denied by McAllister but he claimed to have secured it from Frank Brady as pay for helping unload a car. Brady denies that he made any such agreement with McAllister. The coal in controversy was perhaps 300 or 400 pounds. Judge Hayes took the case under advisement and will render a decision this afternoon.

E. F. Strain of Creighton, news agent on the F. E. & M. V., between Fremont and this place, had his foot crushed beneath the car wheels at Fremont yesterday morning and narrowly escaped being killed. In jumping from the cars he slipped under but clung to the handle bars and managed to drag himself out of harm's way with the exception of his right foot, the toes of which were so badly crushed that several had to be amputated. The young man was given surgical attendance and today was taken through on his way to his home in Creighton.

The case of the State against Edmund George was tried in district court last week. The Madison Chronicle says of it: "The criminal suit of the state against Edmund George was heard Friday. George was charged with selling a team belonging to Carl Schlenning and converting the money to his own use with intent of stealing it. When George was put on the witness stand, he produced a letter purporting to have been written by Schlenning, telling him to sell the team which the writer had left in his possession. The witness said that he complied and subsequently offered the receipts to the owner, but he had refused to receive it. The prosecuting witness swore that part of the letter relating to the sale of the team was a forgery. The jury took the case and returned a verdict of not guilty."

Herrmann, the great, and his company of entertainers arrived today from Grand Island where their performance was given at the Bartenbach last night and will appear at the Auditorium this evening. They showed in the opera house at Kearney Wednesday night and the Hub says of it: "As a whole the entertainment was clean and enjoyable and is a great advance on the old style legerdemain show." The paper says the entertainment given fully supported the reputation and claims of the company, several features being entirely new in that line of work. In the "Escape from Sing Sing" an attendant disappears from a cage on one side of the stage and reappears at a cage on the other side. There is also a mysterious disappearance of both guard and convict. In the representation of "Noah's Ark" Herrmann made another big hit, bringing forth from a supposedly empty ship various fowls and animals, and when the ark was supposed to be empty the doors were opened and a woman was seen seated in the ark. In the "Turkish Elopement" the mezzo soprano of the vaudeville sketch is transferred from a basket at one side of the stage to a Turkish carriage at the other side, without showing any material evidence of the exchange while in transit."

An attempt at a confidence game in a small way was neatly frustrated last evening in the Zische cigar store. Two boys, one perhaps 12 and the other 10 years of age entered the store and while the elder was endeavoring to sell a piece of metal which he claimed to be South Dakota silver the other placed himself handy to the gum stock and dexteriously "lifted" a package of the confection. He did not notice that one member of the cigar firm was in the factory part of the store with his eye on him and when he was requested to remove the package from his pocket he neither affirmed or denied that he had one and assumed an air of indifference. However, when Mr. Zische started out to feel in his pocket he confessed that he had the gum but intended to purchase it. He was allowed to go without an officer being called but was warned not to attempt such a trick again. A number of larger boys on the outside who were interested spectators to the transaction would indicate that there others interested in the plot. The theft of a package of gum is a small thing in itself but it indicated a youthful depravity that might well lead to worse crimes and unless the boys are put on a different track they may come to a bad end. It is to be hoped that this unsuccessful attempt at pilfering will result in a reformation before more drastic measures are necessary.

The Ladies Aid society of the M. E. church will open their exchange tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. Please notice change of time.

BONDS NOT REGISTERED.

Auditor Explains Why Norfolk Lighting Bonds Were Not Acceptable.
The following opinion of Auditor Weston concerning the electric light bonds is self explanatory. This ruling annuls the election held last spring for the purpose of voting bonds for the erection of a municipal electric lighting plant.

Lincoln, Neb., November 21, 1901.—D. J. Koenigstein, Esq., Norfolk, Neb.—Dear Sir: After a careful review of the evidence submitted in the matter of the Norfolk light bonds, this department does not believe it would be justified in registering the bonds when presented.

The principal defect lies in the assessed valuation, which is not large enough to permit you to issue bonds to the extent of sixteen thousand six hundred dollars.

Another point I would call your attention to is that some ordinance or resolution must be presented and passed by the council before you could proceed in the matter. In this instance no such proceeding was performed by the council.

Respectfully yours,
CHARLES WESTON, Auditor.
(Signed) EARL MATHEWS, Bond Clerk.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hibben and family and Mr. Hibben's brother and family returned yesterday from an enjoyable trip to Black Hills points. Mr. Hibben states that things are booming in the hills and great sums of money are being invested. They looked over the work of the F. E. & M. V. which is building its road from Deadwood to Lead. The stupendousness of the undertaking may be realized when it is known that it will cost about a million and a half dollars to build the four miles of road necessary.
