Women and Jewels.

Jewels, candy, flowers, man—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often gained in the strenuous efforts to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Boschee's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is a certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. You can get Dr. G. G. Leonard's reliable remedies at Asa K. Leonard's. Get Green's special almanac.

The U. S. civil service commission will hold examinations at several places in each state during March and April, to secure young men and women for the government service—9,889 persons secured positions last year through these examinations. All appointments are for life and for most positions only a common school education is required. Salaries at appointment vary from $660 to $1200 a year with liberal promotions afterward. Politics is not considered. This affords a good opportunity for people between 18 and 45 years of age. Those desiring places of this kind can get full information about them, free, by writing to the Columbian Correspondence college, Washington, D. C. and asking for its civil service catalogue, number three.

Mrs. John Quick and Mrs. E. C. Adams were out soliciting Saturday afternoon for Mrs. D. K. Yonce, the woman who has been taken care of by Mrs. Adams for the past five weeks. The ladies met with generous and prompt responses from the men and women of Norfolk and were successful in raising $36.75. Her railroad fare was paid and she and her children left on the noon train for her former home at Rural Retreat, Grayson county, Virginia, thankful that she had been provided with the means necessary by the generous people of Norfolk, who are never solicited in vain for charitable objects of like character.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Chapman were given a farewell reception Saturday evening at their home in South Norfolk, the participants coming; unannounced. Their married acquaintances were welcomed during the hours between 7 and 9 o'clock and from 9 to 11 the young people called, the number altogether participating being eighty-four. The visitors brought refreshments and the evening was very happily spent. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Chapman were presented with two very handsome rugs to remind them of the Norfolk friends they leave behind. Mr. Chapman has served as master mechanic of the Norfolk division of the F. E. & M. V. for the past 17 years and has made this city his home during that time. He has gained a large number of friends among the railroad men and among the people in general with whom he has come in contact, all of whom regret his departure very much but will unite in wishing him an abundance of success in his new home. His successor is W. B. Aiton, foreman of the shops at Long Pine, who comes well recommended for the position. Mr. Chapman has resigned to accept a position that is considerable of an advancement and will leave the latter part of the week for Eureka, Cal., where he has accepted the position of master mechanic and master car builder of the Eureka and Klamath River railway. In addition to his regular railroad duties he will have charge of the erection of a 1200 horse power plant, and its operation after erection.

Manager Bidwell and other Elkhorn officials are experiencing considerable difficulty in selecting a route for the proposed extension of that line from Verdigre into Boyd county. They have several routes to choose from, each about as favorable as the other and those particularly interested in each route are exerting themselves to have the extension come their way. The management has thus far accepted nothing but a right of way, depot sites and entrance into towns from people along the line, but rival towns and localities express a desire to offer additional inducements to bring the road their way. Manager Bidwell is quoted as saying: "There has been no determination on the matter yet, but the route through Bristow to Spencer and on up to Butte is now the one held in greatest favor. This follows the south branch of the work on which we are now experimenting. It runs alongs Ponca creek. Spencer is about fifteen miles from Lynch, and the surveyors are not yet there. We can get into the town site of Spencer easily, since it extends from the hills down to the creek bottom. To Butte it will be different. That town is located on a high hill seven or eight miles farther on and more than a mile from the creek, and we cannot enter it, though we will be within the distance named if we follow this route. The other branch of the fork runs out of Lynch, northwest along Silver creek. Both are tentative projects, with the sentiment favoring the Butte line now."

Card of Thanks. We hereby express our appreciation of the manner in which the generous people of Norfolk met our appeal on behalf of Mrs. D. K. Yonce, who has, through their generosity, been permitted to depart today for her old home in Virginia. MRS. JOHN QUICK, MRS. E. C. ADAMS.

Card of Thanks. We hereby extend our sincere thanks to the people who aided in disposing of the quilt raffled off Saturday evening—To Shurtz & Jenkins for displaying the quilt in their Fair store; to Miss Nettie Allbery for her kindness in selling tickets, and to the people in general who so generously patronized us by purchasing tickets. Career and Character of Abraham Lincoln. An address by Joseph Choate, Ambassador to Great Britain, on the career and character of Abraham Lincoln—his early life—his early struggles with the world—his character as developed in the later years of his life and his administration, which placed his name so high on the world's roll of honor and fame, has been published by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway and may be had by sending six (6) cents in postage to F. A. Miller, General Passenger Agent, Chicago, Ill.

Perhaps You Wonder if the tormenting cold that made last winter one long misery will be as bad this year. Certainly not, if you take Allen's Lung Balsam when tickling and rawness in the throat announce the presence of the old enemy. Do not expect the cold to wear itself out. Take the right remedy in time. Allen's Lung Balsam is free from opium.

Doing the Right Thing. The trouble begins with a tickling in the throat and a nagging little cough. Soreness in the chest follows and the patient wonders if he is going to have an all winter cold. Probably, if he does the wrong thing or nothing. Certainly not if he uses Perry Davis' Painkiller, the staunch old remedy that cures a cold in twenty-four hours. There is but one painkiller, Perry Davis'.

The advent of the New Year recalls the terrible accident that occurred in Norfolk last New Year's eve when Peter L. Buhmann lost his life while firing a salute to the new year with the city saluting cannon. The explosion of a charge while he was standing over the cannon resulted in his almost instant death, his body being badly mangled.

The village board of Battle Creek is likewise wrestling with the lighting and water question. At a recent meeting of the board they allowed a bill of $90 for placing street lights, which are of the gasoline kind, and one of the councilmen handed in a minority report that his consent could be obtained to sell the whole bunch for 15 cents. The mayor and a committee from the board were sent to Herman to inspect a new system of waterworks recently installed and if satisfied will recommend the establishing of a similar system at Battle Creek.

Principal C. H. Brake of Brown's Norfolk business college has recently perfected and expects soon to publish a chart or map that will undoubtedly prove of great convenience in all school rooms. The main purpose of the chart is to give the exact time at all the principal meridians of the world when it is a certain hour at any one of them, and do it almost instantly. Other important facts that are of daily use in school rooms and other places and only obtainable by the use of facts and figures are likewise shown on this chart and it is anticipated that it will be in large demand when placed on the market.

John C. Sprecher of Schuyler has bid defiance to the seasons and his long form is now graced with a linen duster and crowned with a last summer's straw hat. During the last campaign he wagered with Frank Faulkner that Nebraska would go for fusion and is now paying the debt by wearing summer garments between Christmas and New Year's. The weather has certainly been kind to one with such poor judgment and he is probably faring better than though payment of the debt was in wearing a fur coat and a fur cap. Of the two the duster and straw hat would be far more comfortable the past few days.

Tomorrow is New Year's and a holiday, but one that is seldom generally observed in Norfolk. The banks and post-office will close during all or part of the day and some of the business houses will probably suspend business during a portion of the day, but the day will be quite generally devoted to striking a balance for the year among the business men with the object of ascertaining the profits or losses sustained. Some of the churches will welcome the new year with a watch night meeting. A number of those who enjoy dancing will see the new year in at the third annual ball of the Ladies of the Massachusetts held in Marquand's hall tonight. A number of parties and family gatherings are planned for tomorrow and some balls will be exchanged.

The Bee's Washington correspondent says in today's issue: "The Norfolk Business Men's association has sent letters to the members of the Nebraska delegation calling upon them to support the bill providing for the erection of a government building at that place. A copy of the letter which Senator Millard received today states that 6,000,000 pieces of mail are handled at Norfolk annually, and that as ground for a government building has been purchased it is economy on the part of the government to erect a building, thereby saving rent and building a meeting place for the district court for the United States when it comes to Norfolk. The letter is signed by G. A. Luikart, president; C. C. Gow, vice president; W. N. Huse, treasurer, and Burt Mapes, secretary."

Mrs. J. C. Adams was the subject of a very pleasant surprise last evening when Pastor and Mrs. Ryder and a large number of the members and friends of the Baptist church made their appearance at her home on South Fourth street and as the visitors streamed in by ones and twos, she opened her eyes considerably and did not seem perfectly sure at first that the whole town had not turned out to see her. Needless to say a very pleasant evening was passed. Riddles, conundrums and catch questions gave spice to the time, but the chief source of entertainment was given by Mr. Rouse with his excellent phonograph. A great many selections were given, humorous and otherwise. Of the more serious selections which were much enjoyed were the "Bugler's Dream," and a male quartette which sang with splendid effect "Nearer My God to Thee"; and of the humorous, "Old Josh" and his account of his trip to New York city seemed to be the favorites. Then after refreshments had been served the visitors took their departure, assuring Mr. and Mrs. Adams they had spent a most pleasant evening.

It is a sad thing to see fine fruit trees spoiled by the blight. You can always tell them from the rest. They never do well afterwards but stay small and sickly.

It is worse to see a blight strike children. Good health is the natural right of children. But some of them don't get their rights. While the rest grow big and strong one stays small and weak.

Scott's Emulsion can stop at blight. There is no reason why such a child should stay small. Scott's Emulsion a medicine with lots of strength in it—the kind of strength that makes things grow.
