Mr. Huntington is to leave the first of the week for a six-weeks' trip and one of the purposes of the party was to bid him goodbye. The "children" spoke pieces, sang songs and exchanged valentines through the medium of the customary valentine box. C. H. Reynolds performed the duties of pedagogue with more or less dignity. T. J. The Kindergarten club was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Reynolds Saturday evening. Baum Bros. have sold their entire stock of dry goods to S. N. Rosenthal of Genoa who will move it to the store room formerly occupied by the Fair store, which is being placed in condition to receive the goods. It is expected that the transfer will be made within a few days and the new store opened up for business. As soon as the dry goods are moved out Baum Bros. will have their big double store room renovated and handsomely decorated, preparatory to making their next move. Just what that move will be they are not yet ready to announce, but their friends hope that it will be something that will add materially to the business interests of Norfolk.

Prospects for improvements in Norfolk were never better than they are for the coming season. Not the least of the betterments in sight is the rebuilding of the roundhouse and machine shops of the E. & M. V. railroad at South Norfolk. It is stated unofficially that the round house is to be enlarged from a 10-stall to an 18-stall house, and all the stalls are to be made larger to accommodate the big locomotives that are now being placed on the road. The switching yards are also to be increased in capacity, to make room for the growing business of the main line and to take care of the business which will come through the extension of the Verdigre line into Boyd county. All of which, added to the prospective building of a gas plant, sewerage system, a number of business houses and residences, besides many blocks of permanent sidewalks, indicates that the coming season will be a busy one in Norfolk.

Ordinance No. 267.

An ordinance granting the right to erect and maintain gas works in the city of Norfolk, Nebraska, and regulating the construction and operation thereof.

Be it ordained by the city council of the city of Norfolk:

Section 1. There is hereby granted unto Clinton J. Colby and Charles I. Tenney, who are associated together for the purpose of manufacturing illumination and fuel gas under the cold process and other patents, and to their associates, successors and assigns, the right and privilege to erect, maintain and operate gas works in the city of Norfolk, for the purpose of manufacturing gas for fuel and lighting purposes for both public and private use, with the right to lay all mains and other pipes in the streets and alleys of the city of Norfolk that they may deem to be necessary for the business of the said parties, their associates, successors and assigns, subject, however, to such regulations as the council may, by resolution, impose as to the manner and the places of occupying the said streets and alleys by said company in laying its mains and pipes and in operating its said gas.

Section 2. Said parties and their associates and assigns are authorized to erect such works and buildings as they may deem proper for manufacturing gas as above set forth and for other purposes in connection therewith and to lay and maintain such mains and pipes as they may deem proper in any and all of the streets and alleys of said city of Norfolk, under the provisions and restrictions contained in section one of that ordinance, and to do any and everything that may be necessary and proper for the purpose of carrying on the business of said persons, their associates, successors and assigns, in connection with the manufacture, sale and distribution of gas for purposes of lighting and fuel and such other purposes and uses as may be found desirable and this right is granted unto the said parties, their associates, successors and assigns, for the period of twenty years. Provided, however, that the city shall not be liable for damages to said company for establishing, changing or altering the grade of any street or alley in which said company may have laid its mains or pipes or stretched its wires, or in improving any of said streets or alleys.

Section 3. Said parties, their associates, successors and assigns shall furnish gas during the life of this franchise at such reasonable prices as the conditions existing in the city of Norfolk may permit, but in no case shall the charge to private consumers exceed the maximum price of $2.00 per 1,000 cubic feet of gas, with the usual discount of 10 per cent if such charge be paid within ten days after the first day of each and every calendar month, when the same becomes due and payable.

Section 4. That the said Clinton J. Colby and Charles I. Tenney, their associates, successors and assigns, shall erect and install such lamps and lamp posts for street lighting and to be located at such points along and adjacent to any lines of pipe owned and controlled by them, as the city council of the city of Norfolk may, by resolution, direct, and shall supply sufficient gas of standard quality to supply said street lamps so ordered by the city and shall receive therefor the sum of not exceeding $2.00 per thousand feet of gas for all gas required for use in said street lamps less the following discounts for the prompt payment thereof within ten days after the first day of every calendar month, when the same becomes due and payable, to-wit: 15 per cent from the regular price for all gas used when the amount is less than 100,000 feet in any calendar month; 20 per cent discount when the amount of gas used is more than 100,000 feet and less than 200,000 feet in any calendar month, and 25 per cent on all gas used when the amount consumed is more than 200,000 feet in any calendar month.

That the city of Norfolk will maintain and care for said lamps and will attend to the lighting and extinguishing of the same.

Section 5. That said Clinton J. Colby and Charles I. Tenney, their associates, successors and assigns shall, within three months from the date of the passage of this ordinance, commence work upon the erection and construction of such gas works and shall continue such work with all reasonable diligence, until the same are completed, and a failure to comply with the provision shall work a forfeiture of all rights and privileges hereby granted.

The said parties, their associates and assigns shall cause the said gas works and other buildings constructed under this franchise to be so located and constructed that the same shall not be or become a public nuisance, or cause damage to the property of others, and they shall cause said buildings and improvements to be so constructed as to conform to the fire ordinance and other regulations of the city of Norfolk.

And said company shall, before commencing business, cause to be executed to the city a bond in the sum of three thousand dollars, with good and sufficient surety or sureties, conditioned to save the city harmless from damages occasioned by reason of the construction or operation of said gas works.

Section 6. Said parties, their associates, successors and assigns shall cause such works to be constructed that they will produce gas superior in quality to the ordinary commercial coal gas and equal to the gas manufactured at the gas works of the Cold Process company now in operation in the towns of Dyrast and Williamsburg, Iowa, which plants have been inspected by a committee of the council of the city of Deadwood, and whose report is now on file in the office of the auditor of said city, and that the said works shall be of a capacity to produce not less than 300,000 cubic feet of gas in each twenty-four hours.

Section 7. That the city of Norfolk shall have the right to purchase of the said Clinton J. Colby and Charles I. Tenney, their associates, successors and assigns, the said gas works and all of the property and rights and franchises, including everything appertaining to and connected with said plant at any time after five years from the date of the passage of this ordinance and if the parties are unable to agree upon the price of said plant, then the value of the same is to be determined by three appraisers, one of said appraisers to be selected by the parties, their associates, successors and assigns, one by the city of Norfolk and the third one to be selected by these appraisers and which amount so fixed by said appraisers shall be paid before possession is taken of said property.

Provided, however, that if the city of

Norfolk should desire to purchase the said property as herein provided that they shall give to said parties, their associates, successors and assigns, not less than six months' notice of their intention so to do and that they will then require the said property to be appraised and formally transferred to the city of Norfolk as herein provided.

Section 8. It is further provided that if the said Clinton J. Colby and Charles I. Tenney do not complete said gas plant and have the same in full operation within one year from and after the taking effect of this ordinance the rights granted under this ordinance shall cease, this ordinance to become inoperative upon the city of Norfolk in the event that grantee shall within ten days from the passage and publication of this ordinance, file with the clerk of the city of Norfolk a written acceptance of the terms and conditions of this ordinance.

Section 10. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from the date of its passage, approval and publication as required by law.

Passed and approved February 6, 1902.

Attest DANIEL J. KOENIGSTEIN,
S. R. McFARLAND, Mayor,
City Clerk.

I herewith return with my approval, ordinance No. 267, granting the use of our streets to C. J. Colby and C. I. Tenney for the purpose of laying gas mains. Ordinarily I am very much opposed to granting away city rights but in this case we grant no exclusive privileges and the Gas company make no unreasonable demands. Besides that the city reserved the right to purchase the plant at any time and the establishment of a gas plant will add so much to the general comforts of our citizens that personal prejudices should not govern.

DANIEL J. KOENIGSTEIN,
Mayor.

C. F. Eiseley is beginning to think that a certain saying should be changed to "unhappy lies the head that belongs to a justice of the peace." He was routed out twice last night. Once to explain the marriage rates and requirements to an impatient would-be groom and the next time to receive papers appertaining to criminal case.

A new bank is to be opened at Stuart this week with Benton Maret, formerly private secretary to Governor Holcomb, in charge as cashier and A. H. Bohannon, formerly of Madison, assistant cashier. L. M. Wenver of Newman Grove is president, and T. F. Memminger of Madison, vice president, G. A. Lukart of this city is one of the directors. The capital stock of the bank is $25,000.

A case containing more or less filth was up in Justice Eiseley's court this morning. The parties involved are well known in the community but on account of the children of the offenders, their names as well as the particulars are withheld. "A little child shall lead them," never had a more forceful application than in this case. Were it not for the families of the parties they should not be spared the publicity which their offense richly deserves.

The company is incorporated under the laws of Arizona with a capital stock of $2,500,000, divided into shares of the par value of $1 each. It is claimed that the ore from the company's mines will average $15 a ton. The Chicago Commercial Chronicle, in its issue of February 12, gives a column and a half write-up to the company and its property.

Mrs. W. J. Hughes of Newman Grove died in that town on the 12th, from injuries resulting from burns. She was sewing a garment for her baby on the machine when the lamp she was using fell forward into her lap, covering her clothing with burning oil. She started toward the door to summon help and flung herself down stairs, their home being above the harness shop of her husband. Her foot caught in the railing before she reached the bottom and she was suspended in that position when the village marshal found her. The fire was put out and the baby was rescued from the room, which were now on fire, but the mother had received fatal burns and died the same night.

Barnum's Monkeys

"All well—all happy—lots of fun." That is the regular report from the monkey cage of Barnum's Circus ever since the keepers began dosing the monkeys with Scott's Emulsion. Consumption was carrying off two thirds of them every year and the circus had to buy new ones.

One day a keeper accidentally broke a bottle of Scott's Emulsion near the monkey cage and the monkeys eagerly lapped it up from the floor. This suggested the idea that it might do them good. Since then the monkeys have received regular doses and the keepers report very few deaths from consumption. Of course it's cheaper to buy Scott's Emulsion than new monkeys—and that suits the circus men.

Consumption in monkeys and in man is the same disease. If you have it or are threatened with it can you take the hint?

This picture represents the Trade Mark of Scott's Emulsion and is on the wrapper of every bottle.
