

Tired Eyes

Sensations exist for our guidance. They are Nature's warnings. Over-worked eyes demand rest. Eyes that tire easily call for help. Properly adjusted glasses afford the only assistance possible. We make a specialty of relieving tired eyes and guarantee satisfaction.

FRIDAY FACTS.

The Kaffee Klatsch met with Mrs. W. H. Bucholz yesterday afternoon. Dan Murphy is treating his house on South Twelfth street to a new coat of paint. Hoffman & Smith have rented the Anton Bucholz building on east Main street, and will conduct a second hand store as a branch of their furniture business. The Order of the Eastern Star initiated a candidate at their meeting, held last night in Masonic hall, and after the work of conferring the degrees the members enjoyed a nice lunch.

The West Side Whist club spent last evening with Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Weatherby at their home on Koenigstein avenue. The next meeting will be in two weeks with Mr. L. C. Mittelstadt.

G. A. Luikart commenced this morning to make extensive improvements to his residence on Norfolk avenue. Among the additions will be a large reception hall, modern stairway, etc.

A young lad "about knee high to a grasshopper" was seen wending his way to the North Fork this morning with a fish pole over his shoulder—which may be taken as another sure sign of spring.

The painters and paper hangers are unusually busy for this season of the year in making the proper improvements to dwelling and business houses. There seems to be more work in their line than for many years past.

The addition to the Fair store meat market is rapidly assuming shape under the manipulation of as large a force of workmen as can conveniently be worked on it. The brick work on the north east corner is now about complete.

The 10-years-old daughter of Mr. Besinger, a farmer living near Crofton, was shot and killed Monday, through handling a revolver belonging to her brother, who is 14 years of age and rather wild. The bullet lodged in her windpipe, causing almost instant death.

The spring vacation of the city schools will be for a week, beginning with today. Meantime, the North Nebraska Teachers' association will convene next week, so that the efforts of the teachers will merely be directed in another channel, not giving them much rest or vacation.

The latest fad of the "kids" is to decorate their hands with the transfer pictures to be used in making Easter eggs attractive. On the eggs they will look quite becoming, but on boys' hands they are taken by some to indicate that there is still a trace of the savage in their constitution.

This is Good Friday and appropriate services are being held in most of the churches of the city. The day is popularly believed to be the proper one on which to plant early potatoes, and appearances indicate that a number of professional and amateur gardeners are prepared to conform to that belief.

Will Close Gambling Rooms.

Respectfully,

JACK KOENIGSTEIN.

VICTORY FOR NEBRASKA.

The A. O. U. W. of This State Wins Over New York.

CONTEST FOR MEMBERSHIP.

During Three Months Nebraska Gains 2,252 Members, New York 1,181. An Illustration of Why People Have Confidence in the Order.

The membership contest between the Ancient Order of United Workmen of Nebraska and New York, has resulted in a signal victory for this state. The contest started December 1 and closed March 1, but the figures of the net gain made by each of the two jurisdictions are just available. During the three months, New York gained 1,181 members, while Nebraska made an increase of 2,252 members, demonstrating that when it comes to a race the effete east has no business to attempt to trot in the same class with the young and hustling west. The 200 members of the order in Norfolk will join with the remaining 33,000 members of the state in rejoicing over the victory.

This contest was brought about by a challenge issued by Grand Master Workman Jaskalek to the grand master workman of New York, and its prompt acceptance by the latter was the signal that the battle was on. During the whole three months, the membership of the state was very much interested, and every man did all he could to contribute to the general distress of New York. There are at present 302 lodges of the A. O. U. W. in this state, with a membership on March 1 of 33,200. In a letter written on March 24, announcing the result, Grand Master Workman Jaskalek gives a synopsis of how the work was done. One hundred and twenty-two lodges did not initiate a single new member during the time the contest was on, 46 lodges initiated only one candidate, 123 lodges initiated more than one and less than 10, 36 lodges initiated more than 10 and less than 20, 11 lodges initiated more than 20 and less than 50, six lodges initiated over 50 and less than 100, while two lodges initiated more than 100. These two are No. 80 of Lincoln, which initiated 118, and No. 61 of McCook, which stands at the top with 170 to its credit. Norfolk is in the second class, having initiated 72. February was the banner month, more members being added than during any other month since the establishment of the jurisdiction, June 8, 1886.

This wonderful growth in membership could not have been accomplished without a good foundation upon which to work. But the A. O. U. W. has long since passed the experimental stage, and a beneficiary certificate in the order is now considered as good as a government bond. As an illustration of the promptness with which business is conducted by the order, the case of G. W. Wolf of this city is cited. On February 11 he joined the local lodge with a large class of others, at which time he was enjoying good health and his prospects for long life were as good as the average man. Four weeks from that day his death was announced, resulting from pneumonia, complicated with appendicitis. On Wednesday of this week the grand lodge finance committee, in session at Grand Island, authorized the payment of this beneficiary certificate of $2,000, which goes to the benefit of his widow and four small children. It was just six weeks and one day from the time he took the obligation as a Workman that his beneficiary certificate was ordered paid. His membership and dues in the order had cost him not to exceed $5.00. It is such cases as this that give people confidence in the stability of the A. O. U. W. If his death had occurred the day following his initiation, the result to his family would have been the same. The moment a man becomes a member, just so soon does he begin to share in the protection guaranteed by the order.

The A. O. U. W. is a great fraternity, and that it is held in high esteem by the people is attested by the large number of candidates who are applying to its doors for admission.

It has been related by a French officer that there died at Martinico a councillor about a hundred years old, who for thirty years past lived on nothing but chocolate and biscuit. He was, nevertheless, so vigorous and nimble that at fourscore and five he could get on horseback without stirrups.

If the chocolate he used was as good as the Baker's cocoa which will be served free at the Fair Store and C. P. Parish's on Monday and Tuesday, the old councillor suffered no hardship with his restricted diet.

FIRE AT HOSKINS.

Two Business Blocks Destroyed at an Early Hour This Morning.

Two business buildings were destroyed by fire at Hoskins this morning at about 3 o'clock. They were located just north of the Hoskins State bank and were owned by John Shannon. The progress of the flames was stopped when the bank building was reached and that being the only brick building in the business part of town probably saved the balance of the business buildings from destruction.
