

EXPLOSION WRECKS MINE

Disaster in Nelson Colliery at Dayton, Tenn.

TWENTY-TWO LIVES ARE LOST.

List of Dead May Go Still Higher—Premature Blast Causes Trouble—Careless Firemen Touch It Off Before Men Have Left Mine.

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 1.—An explosion of gas in the Nelson mine at Dayton yesterday afternoon ignited the dry coal dust in the mine and caused a terrific explosion. Twenty-two men are known to be dead. Twelve bodies are still in the mine.

The dead: Lark Hunter, Alex Tafar, James Franklin, John Harney, Tom Shaver, James Harris, P. G. Travis, all white; George Griffiss, Ben Griffiss, Reese Dean, Norris Piersoll, Morgan Smith, John Robinson, J. E. Hill, Bryant Smith, Mack Foust, all colored, and six others, names unknown. W. T. Head is fatally injured.

Gas exists in the Nelson mine and the men are required to use safety lamps. It is the rule of the company for the miners to place their fuses ready to be lighted for blasts just before quitting work each day, and there are workmen known as "firemen" who go through the mine after all the miners are out and set off these blasts. The miners quit work at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It takes about 45 minutes to get out of the mine. The two "firemen," who are supposed to have caused the explosion, are Lark Hunter and John Harney. They shot the blasts about 4:45 o'clock, before all the miners could get out of the mine. It is supposed that one of the fuses was defective and resulted in what is known as a blown blast. The flame shooting out from the blast ignited the gas, which, in turn, ignited the accumulation of dry coal dust in the mine. The explosion that followed was terrific. The flame shot out of the mouth of the mine and the shock completely wrecked the shed at the mine entrance. Three men were killed while standing outside the mine and two were seriously and one fatally injured.

The bodies were literally mangled and torn to pieces. The company states that there were but 75 men at work in the mine. Most of them were out of the mine when the explosion occurred. This mine has been the scene of two serious explosions in the past. In 1889 four men were killed by an explosion of gas. Dec. 20, 1895, an explosion of mine dust occurred, in which 28 lives were lost.

At this place the river is from seven to nine miles wide and has washed away several miles of the track of the Alabama and Vicksburg railway and has tied up the Gulf and Ship Island road. The plant of the waterworks company is under water, and the pumps have been stopped, causing a water famine all over the city, and the oil mills and other factories and steam power concerns have been compelled to shut down. Another pump is being put up and water is promised tomorrow in sufficient quantities to relieve distress. Traffic is entirely cut off between this city and Meridian and will be for several weeks.

Des Moines, April 1.—Louis Busse, charged with murdering his wife June 18, 1901, was placed on trial at Waverly yesterday. The theory of the prosecution, as outlined by the district attorney, is that Busse married his wife in order to secure $2,800 that she had previously obtained in a damage suit for seduction against another man. He proposed marriage without any previous courtship and acquaintance and was accepted. Eighteen months later, it is claimed, he cut her throat, placed her body on a feather bed and mattress, saturated the whole with kerosene and set it on fire. It is alleged he then left the house, expecting it to burn down, consuming the body and that of a sleeping infant that occupied an adjoining room. ## PATRICK MARRIED IN PRISON.

Condemned Man Outwits Tombs Officials and Signs Marriage Contract.

New York, April 1.—Albert T. Patrick, convicted last week of murder in the first degree for plotting the death of Millionaire William Marsh Rice, and now awaiting the death sentence, and Mrs. Addie L. Francis, have become husband and wife in the matron's room of the Tombs.

A penstroke did it despite all precautions to prevent it. The arrangements were so perfectly made, so secretly planned and cleverly executed that not until the marriage was irrevocably complete were Patrick's guards cognizant that it was even intended. The fact that Commissioner of Correction Hynes had declared his opposition to a marriage between the prisoner and the woman who had been so faithful to him during his long incarceration, made the Tombs officials more alert to prevent a marriage in the prison.

The marriage is said to have been accomplished, however, while the matron was present. The latter, however, was so much preoccupied with attending to the linen and her other duties that she was unaware of what was going on.

Mrs. Francis, accompanied by her attorney, her sister and Patrick's father, called at the Tombs and asked for a conference with the prisoner. He was escorted to the matron's room, and after a few moments the guard is said to have stepped outside. It is said that the wedding contracts were then signed by Patrick and Mrs. Francis in duplicate. Under the law enacted by the legislature a year ago, this form of marriage is lawful when the signing of the contract is witnessed by two persons.

EMPEROR'S YACHT DAMAGED.

It had considerable headway and collided with a pier in the basin of the dock. Its port rail was stove in and the large counter plate at its stern was badly damaged, but while it continued on to sea for its trial spin, it will return to Stapleton, Staten Island, for a more careful survey before it starts on its journey across the Atlantic.

Philadelphia, April 1.—The six-story building at 610 and 612 Market street, the first three floors of which were occupied by the George D. There were about 60 persons, mostly girls, in the building when the fire was discovered, but they all got safely out of the place. Many of the girls who were employed on the upper floors escaped by means of the fire escapes and fire ladders. Several young women and a number of firemen were hurt, but none of their injuries are very serious. The loss on the building and contents is estimated at $110,000.

Holds Minor for Desertion.

Houston, Tex., April 1.—An important decision has just been handed down by the United States circuit court of appeals in the case of Dan Miller, a minor from Texas, who enlisted in the army at San Antonio, without the consent of his parents, deserted, was arrested and is now in jail pending the decision of the court. The court holds that the enlistment, having made the prisoner a soldier, notwithstanding his minority, he is liable to the military law, just as the citizen who is a minor is amenable to the civil law. The parents cannot prevent the law's enforcement in either case.

Ward, which arrived some days ago from Unalaska. Two thousand and twenty-six skins were consigned to local houses. They are of the Bering sea product, and Deputy Collector Mitten thinks they were taken by pelagic sealers. # PAYNE BILL IS REPORTED

ALL AMENDMENTS DEFEATED.

Test Vote Discloses Only Two Republican Members Hostile to the Measure—Opposition Will Continue Fight on Floor of the House.

Washington, April 1.—The ways and means committee voted to report the Cuban reciprocity bill. The vote was 11 to 5. Two Republicans—Tawney and Metcalfe—voted against the bill. All amendments were defeated.

Following the action of the committee the Republican members who oppose the bill held a conference. About 30 members were present, representing the various states represented in sugar production. No material action was taken, but the discussion was in the line of continuing the contest on the floor of the house. It is said, however, that the opposition will be from members individually rather than from a compact and organized opposition.

After the meeting it was stated that about 30 Republicans would speak and vote against the measure. The ways and means leaders are confident the measure will pass, probably by Republican votes. In any event, there is said to be more than sufficient Democratic support of the bill to offset the Republican defection.

The senator says he believes in Rathbone's honesty notwithstanding his conviction, and claims that under our laws evidence not admissible under the Cuban procedure will aid Rathbone.

Speaking of the call of Senator Hanna on the president and the former's request for a pardon for Rathbone, the Post says: "It is quite likely, of course, that some consideration will be shown Reeves, who turned state's evidence. The attitude of the administration toward Rathbone and Neely will, however, be firm."

Senate Debates Oleo Bill.

Washington, April 1.—During the entire session of the senate yesterday the oleomargarine bill was under consideration. Three speeches were delivered, two in support of the measure and one against it. This was Simmons' maiden speech in the senate and he was cordially congratulated at its conclusion. Dillingham (Vt.) presented a strong legal argument in support of the measure and vigorously arraigned the manufacturers of oleomargarine for imposing, as he said, a fraud upon the people.

Sundry Civil Bill in House.

Washington, April 1.—The house yesterday began consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill, completing the general debate before the close of the session. ## COMPLAIN OF EVANS.

Grand Army Men Object to Pension Commissioner, Not Laws.

Minneapolis, April 1.—Judge Eli Torrence, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, just back from a conference with the president on pension matters, says the report of the G. A. R. pension committee was submitted to the president over a week ago. At his request, however, it will not be made public for some little time, as the president has under consideration the election of a successor to Pension Commissioner Evans, Judge Torrence, discussing the report, said:

"The committee found no fault with the pension laws as they now exist, but rather with the manner in which the laws have been construed and administered by the pension bureau. A desire for a change in the office of commissioner of pensions has been steadily growing for two years past, until now it is almost universal among the veterans. Conservative Grand Army men believe, and with good cause, that great injustice has been done to many deserving and worthy claimants. All the veteran soldier of the Union desires is that the laws be justly and fairly administered and that all who are entitled to receive their benefits shall enjoy them without diminution or unreasonable delays and that every unworthy claim shall be rejected and every fraudulent pensioner stricken from the rolls. The atmosphere of the pension bureau has been such as to create an impression that a great many frauds are attempted by the old soldiers. The records show that only one old soldier out of 73,000 has been convicted of fraud against the government. Certainly it is a wonderfully good showing."

A Testimonial Worth Having.

An inventor, having produced a wonderful hair invigorating fluid, sent a case of bottles to a bald editor, with a request for a testimonial. He got it in these terms:

"A little applied to the forehead has given it a coat of bristles, making a splendid penholder at a small cost. We applied the latter to a twopenny nail, and the nail is now the handsomest shaving brush you ever saw, with beautiful, soft hair growing from the end of it some five or six inches in length."

"Applied to doorsteps, it does away with the use of a mat; applied to the floor, it will cause to grow therefrom hair sufficient for a Brussels carpet. A little weak lather sprinkled over a shed makes it impervious to the wind, rain or cold. It is good to put inside children's cradles, sprinkle on the roadside or anywhere that luxurious grass is wanted for use or ornament. It produces the effect in ten minutes."—Collier's Weekly.

Africans Wash, but Never Wipe.

Great attention is given in most of the African tribes to the care of the body. The teeth are cleansed with a stick which has been chewed into a kind of brush. The hands are washed frequently, not by turning and twisting and rubbing them together one within the other, as with us, but by a straight up and down rubbing, such as is given to the other limbs. This manner of washing is so characteristic that an African might be distinguished by it from a European without reference to the color. The sun is their only towel.

The man who is too proud to ask for favors doesn't get many.—Chicago Record-Herald.
