We never saw smartweed grow to a height of five feet until this year.

If all flesh is grass, as it is, why is not the meat eater a vegetarian after a11?

There are plenty of men still living who have helped drive both cattle and hogs to Chicago on foot.

The Cuban grown pineapple is on the market this year in large supply and at very reasonable prices.

Just so soon as a woman has learned how to make good soups not so much good meat is thrown out to the pigs and chickens.

It is less trouble to kill off the rabbit in the vicinity of the orchard than it is to let the rabbits alone and try to protect the trees.

We find some comfort in the fact that even the best farmers we know have this season more weeds than they know what to do with.

No weed that we have to deal with gets such a grip on the soil as does the squirreltail grass. Its hold is worse than that of a mortgage.

The hen which can be made to lay an egg every day in the year is much farther away than the horse that will trot a mile in two minutes.

While two different crops may be raised in one year upon the same piece of land, it is always a mistake to try to raise them at the same time.

The farmers of the country have had three prosperous years. Aside from the actual profits derived from farm products raised and sold, there has been a very large increase in the value of the height when it has settled solid about land itself, equivalent to over $1,000 425 feet will make a ton, while if it is per year for three years for every man of clover at least 450 feet will be re- who owned a hundred and sixty acre farm. The present good times will continue another year at least-perhaps longer.

The wise man will improve his opportunity.

ASK HER.

We wish that every man on the farm who reads this would just ask his wife what he could do to make the home work easier and the home Itself more attractive. If this were done, a whole lot of funny things would come to the front. One woman would ask for a woodshed, another would want soft thirds of all the broom corn grown in water, another one a place for the men this country. Just why we do not to leave their dirty barnyard clothing, know, as any of the corn belt soils will another a cleaned up dooryard, another a better chicken house, another a more co growing, the culture of peppermint, | convenient water supply, and not one in ten of these women would want anything other than that which was sensible and practical and which almost any man might furnish. The Egyptians required their bondsmen to make bricks The war between the cattlemen and without straw, and there is just lots the sheep herders has reached an acute of the same sort of business going on stage out in the range country. Cattle in many a farm home today.

CREATING WEALTH.

When a farmer from his eighty acre farm produces and sells produce and stock to the amount of $1,500, the world is the richer by that amount, for he has created original wealth; when the miner digs out and sells $1,500 worth of ore he has done the same thing; when the factory takes the farmer's corn or ootton or wheat or the miner's ore and by manipulatthe men who have old, ramshackle ing it gives it an added value the same wealth creating process is repeated, but when a man buys a horse or a farm or any other commodity and sells it for more than he paid, while he may have made money, the world is none the richer, for he has created no new wealth.

WON'T HURT THEM.

Where there are more women and girls around the farm home than there are men and boys it is all right for the women to take a hand in the lighter ly a dry weather tool and of no more as nice and pretty a girl as there could forms of the farmwork. We have seen be found in a whole county, a big sunbonnet hiding her beauty, seated on a sulky plow, driving three big Percueron horses and doing as nice a job of plowing as any man could do. Query .-- So long as it has seemed best for the United States to acquire large areas of sugar producing territory, why not let this territory be developed to the fullest extent in supplying the needs of the American people?

Crop experts place the value of the cereal crop alone of 1902 at the enormous sum of $2,000,000,000 for the farmers of the United States. This is all new created and original wealth. No other country on earth ever before made such a showing.

There is more to encourage one to take up the poultry business today than there has ever been before. Having the use of an acre or so of land, almost any one, using ordinary intelligence, can take up this business and be reasonably sure of a profitable one.

Where Canada thistles have got a foothold in the west they propagate not from the seed, which is infertile, but from the sucker roots. The only reliable way in which to get rid of them is to keep them persistently cut off during the growing period as soon as a sprout shows above ground.

The battle with the weeds has been a hard and a long one the past season. Weather conditions have favored an abnormal growth of weeds and the germination of much seed which has lain in the ground dormant during the dry years. We have a friend who is always a little behind-always behind in meeting his financial obligations, behind in meeting appointments at a specified hour, behing getting in his crops, caring for them and harvesting them. came to the conclusion that it would be for their interest to invest in a good stock horse, so a company was formed with $2,500 capital, twenty-five men taking a share of $100 each. The horse was purchased, a heavy, handsome, well groomed specimen. He was sold at the end of the year for $140. as he proved to be utterly worthless. Twenty-five men know more about the ways and tricks of the wily horseman than they did before, and by common consent the subject is never to be referred to by any of them at thrashing bees and church sociables.

ADVANCE IN LAND PRICES. Every year which passes will make it more and more difficult for a poor man to secure a piece of land for a farm. He is now almost barred out by the high prices of land from all the older settled portions of the country, and if the advance in land values continues for another year there will be very little cheap and desirable farm land to be obtained anywhere in the country. Men will have to be content Frenchwomen work for a living-that with fewer acres, which will involve better methods and larger crops, which this country is usually assigned to in the long run will not be a bad thing either for the man or the country.

WORST STORM LOSSES.

We have a report from the hill country along the Mississippi river which tells a sorry story of the terrible ruln wrought to the cultivated fields by the washing of the unusual floods of rain. These fields have been despoiled of nearly all their fertility and seamed and gashed with watercourses many feet in depth. The damage from this source, as we have mentioned before, is far greater than all the losses sustained by the destruction of crops because it is a permanent loss and one which can never be repaired.
