FRIDAY FACTS.

Additional local on last page.
Dave Signor had a wagon load of fish on the streets today for sale. They were taken out of the Missouri river.
This portion of Nebraska has been passing through a wet streak of weather today that has not been highly appreciated by the numerous admirers of the Italian brand.
It is not unlikely that Nebraska producers will find a ready market for their surplus potatoes in other parts of the country where the crop was not so generous. Several cars of the vegetable were loaded here the first of the week and shipped to Pittsburg, Pennsylvania where there is understood to be quite a lively demand for them.

Residents in the vicinity of Madison avenue and Ninth street very much regret that the light which has been maintained as a sample at the street intersection for some time by the Norfolk Electric Light and Power company has been removed. The company has been maintaining it without expense for some time but it was decided that it had remained long enough to prove what such a lamp would do toward illuminating an allotted space.

People with loose articles about the place will probably take the precaution to nail them fast today as tonight is Halloween. The weather and the police may combine, however, to prevent the usual number of pranks played. Chief Kane states that he will endeavor to have 25 extra police on duty tonight and anyone detected in the act of doing malicious mischief will be arrested and prosecuted. Innocent fun will not be stopped but it must be understood where fun ceases and harm begins.

There should be a large attendance at the Auditorium Tuesday night. In addition to the Ed. Redmond's presentation of "Davy Crockett," which has played to good houses in St. Joe and Sioux City and is stopping here on its way between the two towns, Manager Spear has arranged to give the full general election returns, this to continue as long after the show as the people may desire, as the Auditorium is on the all-night circuit and the lights will burn for the accommodation of those who will stay.

McCann & Humphrey have purchased the granite and marble works, formerly known as the Alderman Granite Works. The members of the new firm are from Iowa, A. T. McCann from Bloomfield, where he has been in the business all his life, having succeeded to that of his father, which was established in 1844 and was the oldest marble business in the state. Mr. McCann's family is now here and they will reside for the present in the second story of the Eiseley block. Mr. Humphrey, the other partner, is from Diagonal, Iowa, and he will not remove to this place until about the first of the year. J. C. Larbins, who has been foreman of the works since they were started, and Abner Bale, a marble cutter, will remain with the new firm.

About 100 people, skaters and spectators, attended the contest at the skating rink last night and enjoyed a delightful evening. The prize for the most graceful couple on the floor was awarded to John Stafford and Miss Hattie Limerode. The judges were A. L. Briggs and Jas. Wolfkiel, chosen by the management, and they selected Duard Stafford to act with them. Music was furnished by the Norfolk orchestra and A. L. Briggs of Missouri Valley, Iowa, the champion roller skater of Iowa, gave some expert and graceful exhibitions of the art. Mr. Briggs has been induced to remain for this afternoon and evening. He gave instructions to lady patrons this afternoon, and this evening, in addition to the instructions, he will give another exhibition. Spectators will be admitted this evening for 15 cents, and admission and use of skates will be 25 cents. The next contest to be arranged for will be for individual skating. Hereafter, until further notice, the management has decided to give a dance every Thursday night. Up to 10 o'clock the hall will be used for skating and after 10, until midnight there will be dancing, for which orchestra music will be provided.

CLOSING POLITICAL RALLY

Hon. Norris Brown of Kearney Talks Republicanism.

MAKES A GOOD IMPRESSION.

Judge Barnes Presided and W. M. Robertson Told How He Knew Mickey Was Not a Railroad Candidate—Music by Colored Quartet.

The republican rally last night was held in the Rees building, the building at the corner of Main and Third streets having been put to use for apple storage and sales room. The room had been seated with chairs, lighted and was made very comfortable by the committee. A large flag was hung over the rear end of the room and pictures of McKinley, Roosevelt, Mickey and McCarthy were displayed.

Singing by a colored quartet opened the program of the evening, after which Chairman Simpson of the republican central committee nominated Judge J. B. Barnes as chairman of the meeting, and he was chosen. Mr. Barnes with a few words of introduction presented Judge W. M. Robertson who has been campaigning with Mr. Mickey. Mr. Robertson began by congratulating the people on the audience present, explaining himself by saying that not in his experience in politics, covering more than a quarter of a century, had there been such a lack of interest in political meetings. He explained the situation with the assertion that everyone is busy and that he does not believe there is an idle man in the country who cares to work. Another reason for the general apathy is that people have confidence in their president and are satisfied with his administration. He took occasion to state that he knew that Mr. Mickey was not a candidate of the railroads. He attended the convention that nominated him, in an interested capacity, and was in a position to know how the nomination came about. Mr. Robertson came close to being nominated at the same convention and it could be seen that his statement had great weight with his auditors.

The quartet gave an original song with Thompson as a theme and Judge Barnes introduced the speaker of the evening, Hon. Norris Brown of Kearney, deputy attorney general and at one time candidate for congress in his district.

Mr. Brown prefaced his remarks with the statement that while this section of the state was not successful in securing the nominee for governor at the late convention, it might be successful next year in naming the candidate for supreme judge. He referred to the chairman of the meeting, Judge Barnes, and his statement was greeted with applause.

Mr. Brown proved to be a most eloquent and entertaining speaker and held the close attention of the audience for more than an hour, during which time he reviewed men and issues before the people in a thorough manner, being careful not to abuse or malign any of the opposition party. It was generally conceded that his speech was a vote maker and he left a good impression with all who heard him. He was interrupted by questions once or twice, but answered in a manner that brought out the applause, even of the questioner.

IRWIN WAS DELIRIOUS.

Opinion That He May Not be a Victim of Assault.

There is no longer any question but that John Irwin, the man found in the old Reno barn in a helpless condition, has sustained a fracture of the base of the skull. His physician says that all symptoms are to that effect. The fracture is about an inch or an inch and a half in length and extends across the opening leading to the drum of the ear. He experienced profuse bleeding from the nose and the fluid that surrounds the brain has been oozing from the ear, damaging the ear drum. Last night he was delirious and had it not been that George Thiele had been appointed to watch him, there is no telling what he would have done. He jumped out of bed several times during the night, and other times, instead of sleeping, he appeared to be in a stupor. It is thought that inasmuch as he has survived thus far, he stands a good chance of complete recovery, with proper care.

Commissioner Winter has put in considerable time with the man. He visited him four times yesterday in an endeavor to find out from him something of how he came to be injured and where he has recently made his home. Irwin appeared to answer readily enough, until important questions were asked, and then he evaded or refused to answer. Whether he was capable of giving all the information desired is a subject of doubt, but it is known that he could have told more than he did. The commissioner finally decided that he should be taken to the poor farm and cared for there, but his condition this morning would not admit of that move being made, and he will be taken care of in the city, being taken to the Wegner house this morning.

Some doubt is expressed about thugs being responsible for his condition and the motive robbery. His injuries may have resulted from a fall, or a blow on top of the head may have produced the fracture of the base of the brain. It is reported that he was under the influence of intoxicants Saturday, but he steadfastly denies that he had been drinking. Whatever may have been the cause for his condition will probably not be known until he has fully recovered the use of his mental faculties, and even then it will all depend on whether or not he would recall all the events that transpired from the time he came to town until he was discovered in the Reno barn.

NIEGENFIND ON THE STAND.

Prisoner Attempts Justification on a Plea of Self Defense.

Interest in the Niegenfind trial at Pierce yesterday centered in the testimony of the prisoner, who attempted to justify the shooting in both cases on the plea of self-defense. He claimed that both Breyer and his daughter attempted to assault him with a pitchfork and that he had killed them because of this. The wound sustained by Mrs. Breyer was received while she was attempting to assist her husband. He also claimed that the posse at Winside fired first and that he shot in self-defense at that time also. The defense will attempt to prove through expert testimony that Niegenfind is not in his right mind.

The prosecution concluded its testimony yesterday forenoon. Sheriff Jones was on the stand, also the two children of Mrs. Peters, August and Esther, their being considered good evidence for the state.

F. J. Miller, proprietor of the Pierce meat market, was on the stand to testify to the fact that the shooting by Niegenfind was premeditated, he having made threats against the family in Miller's presence.
