White and Colored Citizens Tender Separate Receptions to General Wright, Which Are Also Attended by the Chief Executive. Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 20 .- Although the home-coming of General Luke E. Wright, vice governor of the Philippines, there is no reflection on the warmth of the welcome extended to him to say that President Roosevelt's presence was the overshadowing feature of the day. Excursion trains were run into the city and a number of distinguished people were present to participate in the celebration. Among them were Governor Benton McMillin and General Joseph Wheeler. The program was a long one. After the president's arrival there was a parade through the streets to the Gavoso hotel, where a breakfast was served. In the afternoon the president spoke at two receptions given in honor of General Wright, one at the Auditorium, given by the whites, and the other in the black section of the city, given by the colored people. Later there was a Colonial Dames tea at the Gayoso hotel, at which the president delivered a set speech. Including some brief remarks at the breakfast, the president spoke four times during the day. Altogether it was a splendid tribute to the affection and esteem in which General Wright is held at home. That Mrs. Wright was also pop ular was also made apparent by the applause that greeted every reference to her. This was especially marked at the Auditorium, when the president referred to the fact that his mother's brother served in the confederate navy under her father, who was Admiral Sommes. Mayor Williams and Governor McMillin both made addresses of welcome here and the audience was very enthusiastic when Gen eral Wright delivered his response. He was much touched by the compliment paid him by the president's presence, and with the demonstration in his honor. General Wright did not go deeply into the affairs of the Philip pines in his remarks, but emphasized the fact that the administration of the islands under both Presidents Mc-Kinley and Roosevelt had been absolutely of a nonpartisan character.

The reception tendered by the col ored people was truly remarkable. General Wright earned their undying gratitude during the two yellow fever epidemics, twenty years ago, by remaining here and seeing that the sick

Minneapolts, Nov. 20 .- Two bandits held up a gaming den at Columbia Heights hast night and secured $1,943 from the score of players and the proprietors, Harvey Howard, a negro porter, was shot by the robbers. The NEGROES PAY HONOR TO GUESTS CROPS COMPLETELY DESTROYED gambling house, which is operated by a syndicate of sporting men, is at the end of a trolley line leading from Minneapolts, Each robber used a dark handkerchief to shield the lower part of his countenance. There are two entrances to the place and the bandits, appearing simultaneously at either door, ordered the inmates to the festivities of yesterday celebrated hold up their hands.

The score of attendants and players were lined up on one side of the room, and while one robber covered them, his partner robbed them and the till. First Robert Bryce, the manager, was searched. He was relieved of his revolver, which was thrown out of a window. Then $165 was extracted from his pockets. Ingram Flick, treasurer of the resort, yielded $1.608. Half a dozen patrons of the place were relieved of sums ranging from $10 to $40. While the robbery was in progress. Steve Carlson, who lodges, upstairs, looked in. He made a hasty exit, with four bullets in inffectual pursuit. Then Harvey Howard, the colored porter, aroused from a nap by the shots, bounded in to learn the cause and bounded out again, but two lot of many planters. bullets, one in each leg, tumbled him into the street, where he lay for half an hour, until some of the robbed men bore him inside, after the robbers had left.

DOUBLE MURDER AT ROSEBUD.

Liquor Supplied by White Man Causes the Tragedy.

Sloux Falls, S. D., Nov. 20 .- Deputy United States Marshal Petrie, who arrived here from an official trip to the Rosebud reservation, brings particulars of what will prove a double murder there.

Inapasha, an Indian belonging to Yankton agency, is one of the victims, while Mrs. War Bonnet, an Indian woman living on the reservation, received injuries from which she will die. Inapasha and another Yankton Indian were visiting at the tepee of Mrs. War Bonnet. Hiram Bell, a white man, who formerly lived at Butte, Neb., is alleged to have visited the tepee of the Indians with a jug of whisky. After some of the party had become intoxicated, Bell is alleged to have attempted to assault Mrs. War Bonnet. Her son-in-law attacked Bell, and while the two were fighting, the tepee caught fire. The flames were communicated to Inapasha's clothing resulting in his being burned to death. Mrs. War Bonnet tried to escape, but was knocked down twice and so severely injured that she will die. Bell fied on horseback and is believed to have gone to the Nebraska side of the state line.

rere cared for. The hall was packed to the point of suffocation and the whole spirit of the audience breathed admiration for their friend. General Wright, in addressing the colored audience, spoke chiefly of their future, telling them of the difficult problems before them. He said it would perhaps have been better for both races had the change from slavery to citimenship not come so suddenly. The president's reception when he was introduced beggars description. The colored people were frantic, jumping up and down and yolling themselves boarse.

At the banquet General Wright sat on the right and President Roosevelt on the left of the toastmaster. Great enthusiasm greeted General Wright when he arose to speak. His glowing tributes to the late President McKinlay and to President Roosevelt for their lofty policies in regard to the administration of the Philippines were loudly applauded. He also took occasion to laud the work of Secretary Root, and said the criticism of the army and navy was unjust. There might have been instated cases of cruelty deserving censure, but the cases were the exception, not the rule. On the whole he said the war was conducted in a most humane manner. The Filipinos, he said, could never govern themselves without being taught to do no. He thought congress was going too fast, rather then too slow.

President Roosevelt received an ovation when he was introduced with the statement he had the respect and admiration of the people of the country without regard to political affiliations. The entire assemblage arose and for fully a minute made the banquet hall ring with cheers.

At midnight the presidential party left for Washington over the Southern railway. No stops will be made en route. The train will reach Washington at 6 o'clock Friday morning.
