BAD WRECK ON BIG FOUR

St. Louis Flyer Plunges Over High Embankment.

CARS TUMBLE INTO CORNFIELD.

Fast Passenger Strikes Broken Rail Near Avon, Indiana, and Entire is Piled in a Heap at Bottom of Embankment.

Indianapolis, Nov. 28.—The St. Louis flyer on the Big Four, which left Indianapolis early this morning, is reported to be a total wreck. The train struck a broken rail near Avon, thirty miles west of here. At this point the road runs along a high fill. The entire train, as reported, plunged down the fill and is now in a cornfield, a pile of ruins. In railroad circles at Danville the belief was general that the loss of life must be necessarily heavy. Every physician in the town has gone to the wreck.

The engine of the wrecked train had brought twelve of the injured in. The engineer said the rail broke under the engine and it and two mail cars got over safely. The four sleepers, however, were at the bottom of the embankment, twenty-five feet below the track, and were a pile of ruins. The passengers were being taken out as fast as possible. It is not known how many are dead in the wreck.

TWO ARE FATALLY INJURED.

Motorman Loses Control of a Street Car in Des Moines.

Des Moines, Nov. 28.—Two persons were fatally injured and six seriously hurt in a street car collision at the foot of Sixth street hill yesterday.

The accident resulted from a broken brake, which permitted the street car to run unimpeded down a hill one-half mile long, where it crashed into another car, telescoping it, after which it darted into the entrance of Lawrence's drug store, where it was checked by an iron post.

Both cars were crowded with passengers, most of whom escaped by jumping. When the debris was cleared away Mrs. J. H. Frawley was found pinned under a stove, which rested upon her face. Two other persons were covered by wreckage, suffering terrible agony.

Fatally injured: Mrs. J. H. Frawley, crushed, internal injuries; Miss Helen Frawley, aged ten, spine hurt. Seriously injured: Mrs. J. J. Foy, leg broken; Motorman William Kilein, severely bruised; James Kirkwood, jumped from car, badly bruised; Julius Shane, cut about head and face.

Runs Into Open Switch.

Indianapolis, Nov. 28.—Passenger train No. 32, on the Pennsylvania road, ran into an open switch at Safford station, six miles south of here. Engineer George H. Frazier of this city was killed instantly and Fireman Lou Grant of this city was fatally injured. Baggage-master John F. Clayton, also of this city, was seriously injured. Three of the passengers were slightly injured. The engine crashed into a stone car on the siding and was wrecked. A relief train brought the dead and injured to this city.

Found Dead in Their Room.

Indianapolis, Nov. 28.—Two men supposed to be E. W. Pollock and Marion Pierson of Bridgeport, Ind., were found dead in their room at the Arlington hotel. They came to the hotel at 2 o'clock and retired immediately. Death was caused by escaping gas. The gas jets were turned on and the gas was escaping when the men were discovered.

Raid Counterfeiting Plant.

Huntsville, Ala., Nov. 28.—Secret Service Agent Shaw yesterday raided a counterfeiting plant on Monte Sano and arrested M. V. Evans, the alleged counterfeiter. A large number of small coins were confiscated. They are so perfectly made that only experts can determine their character. The full outfit of coining utensils was found.

Hold Mrs. Barton for Murder.

Sheridan, Wyo., Nov. 28.—Mrs. Guy Barton, who killed her father-in-law at Arvada three weeks ago, was given her preliminary hearing yesterday. She offered no evidence in defense and was held to the district court without bail on the charge of murder in the first degree. The trial has been set for Dec. 8.

Engineer Killed in Wreck.

Prescott, Ark., Nov. 28.—North-bound passenger train No. 4, en route from Texarkana to St. Louis, on the Iron Mountain and Southern, was wrecked near here yesterday. Engineer A. B. Archibald was killed. Fireman George Hays saved his life by jumping. None of the passengers was injured.

Alleged Swindler Arrested.

New York, Nov. 28.—William Landau, said to be a wealthy cotton exporter of Texas, was arrested here on suspicion of being connected with a swindle, involving the sum of $200,000 or more. The firm alleged to be swindled is that of Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co., bankers of this city.

Gormley Freed by Jury.

Chicago, Nov. 28.—James H. Gormley, president of the Masonic Fraternity Temple association, who has been on trial for conspiracy to defraud the county out of taxes on the Masonic Temple, was acquitted by the jury.

ATTRACTIVE BACK YARDS.

Some Good Suggestions For Inexperienced Gardeners.

The average town back yard presents a number of difficult problems to the inexperienced gardener who aspires to be the owner of a "vine and fig tree" of his own. As a rule, the fillable portions of the plot are narrow and are hedged by a high board fence that on one side reaches a scorching temperature daily in midsummer, while on the other it is in many cases destined to perpetual shadow. A common cause of failure to produce a pleasing effect in the long, narrow yard is the planting of too many hardy shrubs and vines, says the New York Tribune. They fill the limited space in proportions that are unpleasing to the eye, and the foliage seldom remains attractive through the entire season.

A deutzia or two, which can be kept trimmed in small clump-like bushes, and a hardy climbing rose for the rear end of the fence are enough for the ordinary space. A grapevine trained over a trellis built above the kitchen windows will furnish a welcome shade to that apartment during the summer and provide luscious fruit for the fall. After the frosts come the vine can be tied back, so that it will not shut out the winter sunlight from the kitchen, and in the following spring it may again be spread over the frame.

With a yard sixty-five or seventy feet long or more it is a good plan to shorten the grass plot enough to allow for a large square bed at the end farthest from the house, which will be surrounded on all sides by a walk of the usual width. A border bed eighteen inches or two feet wide should extend around the three sides of the yard next to the fence.

A profusion of vines to hide the fence completely will furnish a refreshing outlook for hot weather. For the sunny side of the yard nasturtiums, morning glories of all kinds, especially the Japanese varieties, and both the red and the white variety of the scarlet runner may be used. The latter bears a mottled bean, which few people know is delicious when cooked and far surpasses in favor the lima bean. On the shady side of the yard there may be planted clematis, which is beautiful not only in summer, but when the seed pods burst in the fall; both the pink and white solanum and Madeira vines. The Lopis pernum, which bears beautiful crimson flowers, will thrive in either shade or sun.

WASTE PAPER BOXES.

They Are Proving Very Useful in Many Towns.

Recently a village improvement society in a New England town had a number of boxes placed in the streets for the reception of waste paper and other rubbish of like nature. The boxes were made of wood and painted green. About twenty-five were made, and they were put at points where it was believed they would be most useful.

These boxes have proved so useful that it has been thought wise to go to the expense of providing twenty-five new ones made of galvanized iron instead of wood. The wooden boxes, however, are not to be split up into kindling wood. They are to be placed on private streets, while the metal boxes are to be used on the more traveled thoroughfares. The latter are strongly made and ought to last a good while. They are oval in shape, with a hood half covering the top. In dimensions the new receptacles are about the same as the old ones. They are painted green and bear the name of the department on both front and back and the words "For Waste Paper" on the hood.

The society is much pleased with the result of the effort to educate the people of their town in habits of cleanliness. The process must necessarily be a slow one, but the quantity of paper thrown into these receptacles shows that the people are realizing to a considerable extent the desirability of not littering the streets.

The idea of waste paper boxes is one that can be profitably adopted by any city or town which desires to keep the streets free from the litter of paper, and a few in the streets will do much toward keeping the thoroughfares in that neat condition which marks a well kept town.

Attractive Country Roads.

Nine-tenths of the world judge from appearances. A country road can be made wonderfully attractive by proper attention to its appearance. A space of about three feet in width should be left between the edge of the road and the surface ditch on each side. This strip should be cleared of weeds and sodded, or sowed with grass seed. While not strictly necessary, this improvement gives a look of prosperity to the country, makes it attractive and inviting and adds to the value of surrounding property. In short, it is a good return for the little labor invested in bringing it about.

An Ancient Bible.

In the Cottonian library in England is an old manuscript copy of a part of the Bible in Latin. The London Chronicle says it was used at the coronations of English sovereigns 300 years before the "stone of destiny" was brought from Scone to Westminster by Edward I.

If this be true, the use of this Bible for the purpose dates back to the year 1000. It is a quarto of 217 leaves, containing the four gospels, and seems from the style of the writing and illuminations, which are very beautiful, to have been made about the end of the ninth century.

It narrowly escaped destruction in the fire at Ashburnham House in 1731, of which it bears evidence in its crumpled leaves and singed margins.

There is some evidence that the son of Edward the Elder, Athelstan the Glorious, who was king of the West Saxons from 925 to 940, owned this Bible and gave it to the church of Dorset.

Bats and Vampires.

At sunset in the forest of Gulana the bats flit from their hiding places, some taking the place of the parrots and flocking around the fruit trees, while the horrid vampires wander far and near in search of some sleeping animal, or even man, in order to obtain a meal. Cows, goats, hogs, fowls as well as game birds and quadrupeds all suffer from their attacks if not secured in well latticed pens, while the traveler must not be surprised when awaking to find blood oozing from a wound in his foot or temple.

In some places domestic animals cannot be kept at all, as they are so weakened by repeated attacks as to ultimately die of exhaustion. Fortunately, however, the vampires are not very common, and with proper care may be excluded from dwelling houses and stock pens.—Longman's Magazine.

Ideas of Happiness.

Two young women, patiently of the "saleslady" persuasion, rode down Chestnut street in a crowded trolley car on a recent morning. They chatted animatedly about the merits and demerits of Will and Gus till they reached Broad street. From there to Twelfth they preserved a dreamy silence. Then one broke out with:

"I say, Ag, what would you choose if you could have everything in the world you asked for?"

"Well," said Ag slowly and musingly, "I think I'd choose enough silk dresses to last me for the next ten years. What'd you take, Sade?"

"Me?" replied Sade. "It's the dream of me life, Ag, to have all the money I'd want, so I could go to me job in a cab every morning."—Philadelphia Times.

Anxious Moments.

Some of the most anxious hours of a mother's life are those when the little ones of the household have the croup. There is no other medicine so effective in this terrible malady as Foley's Honey and Tar. It is a household favorite for throat and lung troubles, and as it contains no opiates or other poisons it can be safely given.

Cut this out and take it to Kiesau drug store and get a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, the best physic. They cleanse and invigorate the stomach, improve the appetite and regulate the bowels. Regular size, 25 cents per box.

A Violent Attack of Croup Cured.

"Last winter an infant child of mine had croup in a violent form," says Elder John W. Rogers, a Christian Evangelist, of Filley, Mo. "I gave her a few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and in a short time all danger was past and the child recovered." This remedy not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the first symptoms appear, will prevent the attack. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by KIESAU DRUG CO.

Jumped on a Ten Penny Nail.

The little daughter of Mr. J. N. Powell jumped on an inverted rack made of ten penny nails, and thrust one nail entirely through her foot and a second one half way through. Chamberlain's Pain Balm was promptly applied and five minutes later the pain had disappeared and no more suffering was experienced. In three days the child was wearing her shoe as usual and with absolutely no discomfort. Mr. Powell is a well known merchant of Forkland, Va. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and heals such injuries without maturation and in one-third the time required by the usual treatment. For sale by KIESAU DRUG CO.

W. A. Herren of Finch, Ark., writes, "I wish to report that Foley's Kidney Cure has cured a terrible case of kidney and bladder trouble that two doctors had given up."

One Minute Cough Cure.

Is the only harmless cough cure that gives quick relief. Cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, whooping cough, pneumonia, asthma, lagrippe and all throat, chest and lung troubles. I got soaked by rain, says Gertrude E. Fenner, Muncie, Ind., and contracted a severe cold and cough. I failed rapidly; lost 48 pounds. My druggist recommended One Minute Cough Cure. The first bottle brought relief; several cured me. I am back to my old weight, 148 pounds. One Minute Cough Cure cuts the phlegm, relieves the cough at once, draws out inflammation, cures croup. An ideal remedy for children. A. H. Kiesau.

To the Public.

Allow me to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I had a very severe cough and cold and fearing I would get pneumonia, but after taking the second dose of this medicine I felt better, three bottles of it cured my cold and the pains in my chest disappeared entirely. I am most respectfully yours for health, RALPH S. MEYERS, 64 Thirty-seventh St., Wheeling, W. Va. For sale by KIESAU DRUG CO.

Foley's Honey and Tar always stops the cough and heals the lungs. Refuse substitutes.

A Policeman's Testimony.

J. N. Patterson, night policeman of Nashua, Ia., writes, "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs and tried at least half dozen advertised cough medicines and had treatment from two physicians without getting any benefit. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and two thirds of a bottle cured me. I consider it the greatest cough and lung medicine in the world."

If You Were Scared

easily you might suppose that the pain in the lower part of your back meant kidney trouble. But being a person of sense you know it is only muscular stiffness, from cold, and that prompt treatment with Perry Davis' Painkiller will prevent it from growing into lumbago. Act accordingly and you will be glad you saw this. There is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'.

A Startling Surprise.

Very few could believe in looking at A. T. Hoadley, a healthy, robust blacksmith of Tilden, Ind., that for ten years he suffered such tortures from rheumatism as few could endure and live. But a wonderful change followed his taking Electric Bitters. "Two bottles wholly cured me," he writes, "and I have not felt a tinge in over a year." They regulate the kidneys, purify the blood and cure rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness, improve digestion and give perfect health. Try them. Only 50 cents at the Kiesau Drug store.

A Thanksgiving Dinner.

Heavy eating is usually the first cause of indigestion. Repeated attacks inflame the mucous membranes lining the stomach, expose the nerves of the stomach, producing a swelling after eating, heartburn, headache, sour risings and finally catarrh of the stomach. Kodol relieves the inflammation, protects the nerves and cures the catarrh. Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia, all stomach troubles by cleansing and sweetening the glands of the stomach. A. H. Kiesau.

He could Hardly Get Up.

P. H. Duffy of Ashley, Ill., writes, "This is to certify that I have taken two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure and it has helped me more than any other medicine. I tried many advertised remedies, but none of them gave me any relief. My druggist recommended Foley's Kidney Cure and it has helped me. Before commencing its use I was in such a shape that I could hardly get up when once down."

Invaluable for cuts, burns, bruises, sprains, lacerations, eczema, tetter, salt rheum, and all other skin diseases. Look for the name DeWitt on the package—all others are cheap, worthless counterfeits. A. H. Kiesau.

These famous pills do not gripe, but move the bowels gently and easily, cleansing the liver. Their tonic effect gives strength to the glands, preventing a return of the disorder. A. H. Kiesau.

Physicians Prescribe it.

Many broad minded physicians prescribe Foley's Honey and Tar, as they have never found as safe and reliable a remedy for throat and lung troubles as this great medicine.

There is no cough medicine so popular as Foley's Honey and tar. It contains no opiates or poisons and never fails to cure.

CATARRH

Often begins with a cold in the head, but it never stops there. The tendency is always from bad to worse. The simple cold becomes a protracted, stubborn one, while the discharge from the nose grows more profuse and offensive. The inflammation extends to the throat and bronchial tubes, causing hoarseness, a tickling sensation and an aggravating cough. The foul matter that is continually dropping back into the throat finds its way into the stomach, resulting in a distressing form of dyspepsia, nausea, and loss of appetite and strength. THE GATEWAY TO CONSUMPTION. The catarrhal poisons are absorbed into the blood, and all the membranes of the body become infected, and what was supposed to be purely a local disease has become constitutional, deep seated and chronic.

Sprays, washes, powders, salves and other external remedies give only temporary relief, and the disappointed and disgusted patient finally gives up in despair and declares catarrh incurable. The only way to get rid of catarrh permanently is to treat it through the blood. The system must be toned up and all impurities removed from the blood, and this S. S. S. does promptly and thoroughly. It expels from the circulation everything of an irritating, poisonous character, allowing the inflamed membranes to heal when the mucous discharges cease, and the damage done to the health is soon repaired. S. S. S. keeps the blood in such a healthy, vigorous condition that cold, damp weather or sudden changes in the temperature are not so apt to bring on catarrhal troubles. S. S. S. is a vegetable medicine unequalled as a blood purifier, and the best of all tonics—just the remedy needed to thoroughly and effectually cure catarrh.
