THE TIM- OF THE SLIP ER approaches fast. See that "hobby" on Christmas day slips on comfortable—at the same time beautiful—foot resters purchased from us. Shoes, too, are lasting and sensible evidences of the donor's regard—lasting in more ways than one if bought here, because the lasts on which our shoes are made need only two words to describe them: "The best."

FRIDAY FACTS.

Additional local on the last page. Elkhorn encampment No. 27, I. O. O. F., meets tonight for work in the degrees and it is desired that all members be present. Visiting patriarchs are invited to attend.

W. H. Johnson has been confined to his home by sickness for a few days, but is now much improved.

Miss Elsie May, employed in E. B. Kauffman's bakery, was very sick with appendicitis yesterday, but is much improved today.

Many of the Sunday schools of the city are planning to appropriately observe Christmas with programs and gifts to the children.

Because it gave unsatisfactory time Dr. R. A. Mittelstadt has decided to have the electric clock removed that he had placed at the corner of the Bishop block on a level with the second story.

Mrs. Otto Tappert and Miss Mary Mesmer have been notified of the death of a sister in Manistee, Mich., from typhoid fever and Miss Mesmer has gone to that place to attend the funeral.

Charley Betts of St. Paul, Minn., has been in town purchasing horses for the past ten days. He shipped a carload to St. Paul a week ago, will ship another tonight and expects to ship again next week.

S. W. Hayes is again a full fledged justice of the peace and will transact the business of that office in addition to his duties as police judge. Justice Conley having turned over the books and papers, belonging to the office.

The West Side Whist club held a very pleasant session with Dr. and Mrs. A. Bear last night. It being so near Christmas Dr. Bear thought the one making the highest score should be given a present and as Mr. J. K. Bonas led with a score of 68 he was presented with a representation of Foxy Grandpa and his two little grandsons.

The present season has produced an unusually early crop of ice of fine quality and G. W. Schwenk proposes to begin his harvest tomorrow from his pond east of the city, where the ice has formed to the thickness of 10 1/2 to 11 inches. A force of 20 men and several teams will be employed by Mr. Schwenk in the work of cutting and putting up the ice. It is the earliest harvest he has been able to make in a number of years.

Some very splendid holiday windows are shown by the merchants of Norfolk who are carrying a line of goods of unusual excellence. Those who have particularly noticed the windows and the goods displayed have remarked that the display would be a credit to a city much larger than Norfolk, and there are many of them, almost every store making excellent displays in their line of trade. It is doubtful if Lincoln or Omaha has better displays, though the larger windows of their buildings may give them greater opportunity.

The condition of Congressman John S. Robinson at his home in Madison is reported quite serious from appendicitis. Yesterday he was delirious, and the doctors are convinced that an operation will be necessary although they fear that it could not be undertaken in his present condition and wait for some improvement. Mr. Robinson had intended to return to Washington today, but his trip is, of course, delayed. His many friends in Norfolk and throughout the district will hope that he may speedily recover his usual health.

The Norfolk council of the Loyal Mystic Legion has on exhibition at the office of the secretary, L. M. Gaylord, the prize banner that was awarded them by the supreme council at Hastings for the greatest percentage of gain in October. It is a fine work of art and the Norfolk members will be proud in their possession of the handsome piece of lodge insignia. The local council of the order will hold its election of officers Monday evening, after which refreshments will be served and all members are requested to be present.

Fire broke out in the Anderson Mercantile company's store at Neligh at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening. Prompt work by the fire department kept the flames within the building. Between fire and water the entire stock was badly damaged, perhaps a loss of four-fifths. The value of the stock was between $12,000 and $15,000, upon which there was an insurance of but $2,000. The loss to the building is considerable. The fire started from a lamp being set beneath a line of women's wrappers, which were suspended from the ceiling, and extended half the length of the room.

The funeral of Mrs. W. J. White was held from the family home at the corner of Madison avenue and Fourth street at noon today, Rev. F. P. Wigton of the Presbyterian church conducting the services. The remains were taken to Wayne, the former home of the family, on the 1 o'clock train for interment. The last sad rites were attended by relatives and friends, and many beautiful flowers were received, the school-mates of Madge White in the public school contributing a generous share. Mrs. White had lived here with her family less than a year, but had won many friends during her residence who will be sorry that she has been called from them. The family resided in Wayne for a number of years, but before coming to Norfolk had lived at both Neligh and Clearwater. She was a consistent member of the Presbyterian church. Besides her husband the deceased leaves a son and four daughters, all of whom are minors. The eldest, Max White, is employed at Brunswick, and came down from that place to attend the funeral of his mother.

Old settlers say that conditions are now more favorable for sleighing than they have ever been since the country was settled. They recall winters when there was much more snow, but it was accompanied by blizzards and the country being open, it was usually piled up in great drifts and banks. A time is recalled in the 70's when there was seven feet of snow on the ground and the drifts resembled mountains and filled gulches and valleys level full. It was accompanied by several blizzards, which endured for three days at a stretch, and the snow drifted in the rivers and creeks to the extent that there was no water left in the streams, all having been absorbed by the snow. Those who have sleighs or sleds are making the most of present conditions, and those who have horses but no sleds are rapidly acquiring the requisite machinery for a sleigh ride. Some have placed runners on the axles of their carriages or wagons while others have nothing better than a box with a couple of planks nailed on for running gear.

Regardless of the means, the same end is attained, and those who have not enjoyed a slide over the glossy surface of the snow and ice are infrequently met with. The boys with their hand sleds are enjoying conditions to their fullest extent, either by coasting or by attaching their sleds to passing vehicles. If there was a week of such conditions each winter more people would provide themselves with sleighs and sleds, but many have considered that for a day or two of sleighing each winter, which has been the general rule, it would not pay to buy or manufacture the necessary vehicle. The weather has warmed some today and the sun is threatening the snow, but it is probable that no great amount of damage will be done before another cold spell, and perhaps more snow, will come to the rescue of sleighing conditions.

Anyone having horses or mules to sell will please bring them to Brunswick's barn any time next week between Wednesday morning and Saturday night.

SEE A BEAUTIFUL MIRAGE.

County Officers Given a Treat By Dame Nature.

DESCRIBED BY CHR. SCHAVLAND

View of the Country 30 to 40 Miles Distant Presented by a Peculiar Condition of the Atmosphere—Display Lasted an Hour and a Half.

Madison, Dec. 18.—As requested, I will try to give you an account of the beautiful mirage observed by me and others from the court house this morning:

When I arrived on the court house hill this morning about 8:30 o'clock, I beheld one of nature's phenomena, rarely to be observed in this part of the country—nothing less than a mirage.

The sun was just up, the atmosphere clear, not a cloud in sight, and the temperature, while considerably below freezing, was continually rising, everything giving promise of an ideal winter day. Below the hill was the city of Madison, almost hidden from view by a veil of smoke, which hardly rose above the church steeples, but covered the city like a sheet, there being not a breath of wind to move it in any direction. Soon I discovered a similar sheet of black smoke spreading itself out in the air, west-northwest from Madison, in the direction of Tilden or Oakdale, about 35 or 40 miles distant. Presuming that the atmosphere was in a similar condition there as here, I was at a loss to know how smoke lying close to the ground could be seen so distant, when ordinarily it would be almost impossible to see it that far, even though it should rise straight up. But the mystery was soon cleared; for in a few moments first the contour of the country and especially the banks along the north side of the Elkhorn river from Tilden to some place east of Battle Creek, and later the banks themselves, appeared above the horizon, forming apparently a continuous plane with the country ordinarily visible from Madison, the most distant of which is about five or six miles, while the country seen in the mirage is from 30 to 40 miles distant. Especially were the so called "Yellow Banks" plainly visible with their trees and groves. Looking in a southwesterly direction, Boone county with its hills and plains was clearly seen, and prominent in the panorama was the big railroad cut near Bradish in that county. The spectacular reflection lasted for about an hour and a half and was witnessed also by Messrs. Geo. E. Richardson, J. J. Clements, Emil Winter and C. W. Cram.

Yours very truly, CHR. SCHAVLAND.
