

CLOSING IN UPON FEZ

Pretender Within Four Hours' March of Moorish Capital.

CHRISTIANS REPORTED SAFE.

Sultan of Morocco Recovers From His Panic and Sends Troops to Defend Approaches to the City—Europeans Flee From Tetuan.

London, Jan. 2.—A dispatch to the Times from Tangier says a courier from Fez has arrived there, bringing a letter dated Dec. 26, saying that the pretender was then four hours from Fez. All available troops had left the capital to defend the approaches to the city. The Christians in Fez were all reported to be safe.

Madrid, Jan. 2.—News has reached here that the European inhabitants of Tetuan, Morocco, have quitted that port, fearing the rebels will attack the place. Dispatches received here from Tangier report that several provision convoys have entered Fez. The sultan's troops intended marching out from Fez Dec. 27 to attack the rebels. The sultan has summoned his brother, Mulai Mohammed, to Fez in order to disprove the pretender's claim to the throne, that the brother had fomented the present trouble.

GERMANY IS SATISFIED.

President Castro's Proposition is Acceptable to Berlin.

Berlin, Jan. 2.—President Castro's reply to the powers through Minister Bowen is substantially an unqualified acceptance of their proposals to arbitrate and the accompanying conditions. The foreign office here received his answer today and is satisfied with its spirit. A further interchange of views, preparatory to signing the protocol, will take place in Washington. The only really important question to be settled is what shall be done with the blockade. A continuance of the blockade is relied upon to hasten the conclusion of the arbitration preliminaries, especially on the part of Venezuela.

Rome, Jan. 2.—While reserve is maintained at the foreign office with regard to the Venezuelan matter, it has been learned that the foreign office considers the additional proposition made by President Castro as not likely of acceptance. Communications on this subject are being exchanged with Germany and Great Britain.

Castro Defines His Attitude.

Caracas, Jan. 2.—There have been persistent rumors in official circles and throughout the city that President Castro had refused to agree to the proposals of the allies to refer the Venezuelan question to The Hague. The correspondent of the Associated Press saw the president for half an hour yesterday afternoon. It is not true that the president has declined the proposals of the powers. The executive declares that he only wants fair treatment. It was clear from what President Castro said that he believes it will be very easy to reach a full settlement of the entire controversy.

President Castro said to the correspondent: "If a settlement is not reached, it will be because a settlement forms no part of the plan of the allies. In this case the prolongation of the present situation would be disastrous for all concerned. The solution of the present difficulty depends more on the allied powers than on Venezuela."

Disease Spread by Pencils.

Boston, Jan. 2.—The board of health having traced diphtheria to the habit of children of putting lead pencil points into their mouths, has taken steps to stop this source of contagion in the Boston schools. It has been the custom for pupils to drop their pencils into a box upon leaving school for the day and in the morning pick out one for the day's use. Hereafter each will have his or her own pencil and be required to use none other.

Deadly Toy Pistol.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 2.—Four boys have died in Norfolk since Christmas of lockjaw, caused by burns received in the firing of toy pistols charged with blank cartridges. George Wright, a messenger boy, who wounded himself accidentally on Christmas morning, was attacked by the disease and is reported in a dying condition. Municipal legislation is proposed to prohibit the sale of the weapons in the future.

Add Insult to Injury.

LaGuayra, Venezuela, Jan. 2.—The former Venezuelan gunboat Zumbador, now transformed into a British warship, arrived here at noon yesterday and caused considerable indignation among the people ashore, who looked upon her arrival here under the British flag, especially on New Year's day, as adding insult to injury.

Governor Odell's Second Inauguration. Albany, N. Y., Jan. 2.—Governor Odell yesterday was inaugurated for his second term. The occasion was an unusually brilliant one, marked by the presence of many distinguished visitors and the participation of a large representation of the National Guard, as well as crowds from all parts of the state.

Pleasant Evenings on the Farm. The long winter evenings are here again and in most farm houses it is a question how to spend them in a way which is not only pleasant, but also that the time will not be altogether wasted. The farmer, as a rule, cannot get away from his work even in reading time and he enjoys most of all sitting down and going through a first-class farm magazine like the Twentieth Century Farmer. This is chock full of the ideas of the brainiest men in the country, practical men, who have been selected as writers because each in his own line has made a study of how to make farming pay. One idea from men like these may be worth hundreds of dollars to any farmer or stock raiser.

There is no more wide-awake weekly magazine published than the Twentieth Century Farmer and a trial subscription of three months will be sent on receipt of 25 cents, the price per year being $1. A free sample copy will be sent to anyone sending their name and address to the Twentieth Century Farmer, 3075 Farnam street, Omaha, Neb.

It contains from twenty-four to forty-eight pages every week and besides articles dealing with farming and stock raising, it has abundant reading matter interesting to the farmer's wife and the children as well.

Pudd'nhead Wilson.

When Mark Twain wrote "Pudd'nhead Wilson," he incorporated into "Pudd'nhead's" calendar, this query, "Why is it we rejoice at a birth and grieve at a funeral? Is it because we are not the person involved?" The question still is a mooted one and the person who successfully solves its intricate pertinence, will be voted a phenomenon. There are things in this calendar of which we might speak at length, all of them salient to life, but they are best brought forth in the dialogue of this dramatized version of "Pudd'nhead Wilson," produced under the management of Shipman Brothers, and scheduled for an appearance at the Auditorium tomorrow night.

An operable company has been engaged to interpret the comedy. The scenic effects and costuming will be marvelous in their completeness and altogether the theatre-goers of this vicinity are to be congratulated upon the fact that this charming play is to be seen here, as it is making its farewell tour, and for the next three seasons will be witnessed only in England and Australia.

Miss Sargent at a Fire.

"Dainty May Sargent," whom Manager Spear hopes to present to the theatre-goers of Norfolk in "Other People's Money," at an early date, was the heroine of a fire in a hotel at Anaconda, Mont., on Christmas morning. She was the first to discover the fire and turn in the alarm and her composure during the ordeal was remarkable, being penned in her room while the fire was being extinguished. The Anaconda Standard tells of her share in the disaster as follows:

"To Miss Sargent, the actress, the credit for discovering the fire and acting quickly must be bestowed. She also showed remarkable courage and presence of mind in the face of the impending danger. Her room is across the hall from the storeroom where the blaze had its origin, and she was awakened from her slumbers by the crackling of the flames outside and the shattering of the transom of the door of her room. She opened the door to see what was the matter, and as she did so a large flame shot across the door from the hall. She quickly shut the door to prevent it from getting into the room and spreading and pressed the call button for a bell boy. She acted upon the supposition that the boy, on reaching the hall, would discover the fire and immediately give the alarm. The fire was burning fiercely outside and the door of her room was almost burned through. Quickly and with perfect calmness she began dressing and opened the window so as to be prepared to jump out if it was found absolutely necessary. Then she sat down and awaited developments. Her composure was perfect, and she, of all in the house was the least disturbed.

"Pudd'nhead Wilson."

Ever awake to the want of his patrons, Manager Beall has made arrangements for the production of "Pudd'nhead Wilson" under the management of Shipman Bros. in this city at the Auditorium on Saturday, January 3.

One of the strongest traveling organizations ever secured for any one production, will appear in this delightful comedy, and the largest house of the season should attest to the public appreciation of the interest being displayed for their amusement.

DEATH OF MRS. DOCKERY.

Dying Woman Amused at Efforts of Doctors to Restore Her.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 2.—Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Dockery, wife of Governor Dockery, who for several weeks had been suffering from an affliction of the heart, died at 5:45 a. m. yesterday. She passed away quietly, after days of suffering. The patient frequently showed amusement at the treatment used to restore her, although she was conscious that the end was near. To enable the patient to breathe more freely and easily oxygen was administered freely. Mrs. Dockery told the governor and her physician when she suffered the relapse Tuesday night that she could not get well, and that it was useless to give her medicine, but she was submissive to any treatment they chose to use.

Mrs. Dockery was born in 1850. She was a native of Missouri and a lineal descendant of Commodore Perry. Eight children of Governor and Mrs. Dockery died in infancy and none survive.

Iowa Teachers Name Officers.

Des Moines, Jan. 2.—The nominating committee of the Iowa Teachers' association decided to report the following list of officers for confirmation by the association today: President, F. M. Wittier, Muscatine; vice presidents, A. M. Couch, Morningside college, Sioux City; Amy Boggs, West Waterloo, and O. E. Smith, Shenandoah; executive (short term and chairman), J. J. McConnell, Cedar Rapids; (long term) W. N. Clifford, Council Bluffs; members of educational council, O. M. Weyer, Keokuk, and President D. E. Bradley of Iowa college, Grinnell. Lorado Taft of Chicago lectured before the general association last night.

New Year's at the White House.

Washington, Jan. 2.—President Roosevelt's New Year's reception was one of the most brilliant events in Washington's recent social history. All callers were afforded the opportunity of greeting the president and Mrs. Roosevelt and exchanging with them the compliments of the New Year. No distinctions were made except such as were rendered necessary in preservation of order. The general public for the first time had an opportunity to see the widely heralded improvements in the white house—improvements which, when completed, will have cost about $600,000.

Court Decides Against Archbishop.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 2.—Archbishop Keane of Dubuque has been defeated in the famous suit brought by C. J. Sherman and John Hanford of Williams, Ia., to recover $2,430, which the plaintiffs subscribed to help build a church at Williams. Judge George Dyer held that they were entitled to recover this amount, as the plaintiffs made their subscriptions conditional upon the church being built in Williams. They contended that the church did not keep its part of the contract and the court upheld their claim. It will likely be appealed.

Dies on Operating Table.

Cleveland, Jan. 2.—E. N. Hogle, general superintendent of the United States Express company, second division, died on the operating table at a local hospital yesterday, after an operation for a supposed abscess of the brain, but which was not found by the surgeons.
