Collision on Southern Pacific Near Tucson, Ariz.

TWENTY KNOWN TO BE DEAD.

Injured Pinned Under Debris of Wrecked Care Are Roasted to Death. Bedies Charred Beyond Recognition. Operator Blamed for Accident.

Tucson, Ariz., Jan. 29.—The failure of Night Operator George Clough at Walls station to deliver orders to westbound train No. 9, known as the Sunset Limited, caused a head-end collision at 3 a. m., between trains No. 7 and 8, fourteen miles east of Tucson, and six miles from Vails station, with fatal results.

At last accounts twenty bodies have been taken from the mass of burned and charred wreckage and it is believed that several more are buried in the twisted and tangled mass of fron and steel.

Following is a list of the identified dead: J. M. Hilton, J. W. Bruce, R. S. Wilkey, George McGrath.

Seriously injured: H. W. Hartman, Saginaw, Mich.; Frederick Donahue, Battle Creek, Mich.; Ben Sawyer, mail clerk; A. B. Silverton, New York; G. S. Gilbert, fireman; Ben Bradsford, May Hill, N. Y.

Both trains were running at full speed when the collision occurred and the crash and scene following was beyoud description. So great was the impact that the engines reared up like two animals engaged in combat and crushed the boilers like shells. The cars in the rear rushed on the mass of heated iron and piled up in an indescribable and badly tangled manner. Fire Starts in Wreckage.

Fire broke out at once. The flames, fed by the oil from the broken tanks of the engines, quickly communicated to the cars, and the whole mass was soon in flames.

Those who were able to escape from the cars in the rear of the trains quickly came to the rescue. But all their efforts went for little, as the pile of debris was heated to such a degree that the workers could not approach near enough to do anything. Smoke from the burning oil and cars. as well as escaping steam, blinded all those who got near the flames. It is declared by passengers who were brought to Tucson on the relief train that oil from broken tanks ran in streams down each side of the track. When this inflammable fluid took fire it rendered efforts at rescue difficult and dangerous.

It is declared that the mass of wreckage was heated to a white heat by the intensity of the fire. A Pullman sleeper on the rear of train No. 8 was detached by the tremendous force of the collision and ran down the grade into Tucson, crashing into a switch engine. Both the engine and sleeper were damaged to a considerable extent. The arrival of the runaway sleeper was the first news of the wreck to reach Tueson. Soon after the Pullman car ran into Tucson a brakeman arrived from Vails, bringing news of the wreck. His report said that the dead would number from thirtyfive to forty. A relief train was quickly made ready, and Dr. Fenner, the railroad surgeon at this point, with two assistants, was hurried to the scene. They found a terrible state of confusion existing about the scene.

Men and women were running to and fro in a panic, some clad only in their night clothes, others in different stages of undress. Many of these were suffering from slight injuries. Six of the Injured Will Die.

The cries of the seriously injured are said to have been dreadful. The surgeons rendered every aid possible under the circumstances. Sixteen of the most worst injured were put aboard the relief train and brought to Tucson, where they were made as comfortable as possible at the railroad hospital. Six of these were seriously injured and are not expected to Both engineers, Bruce and Wilkey, and Fireman McGrath, were burned to death in the wrecks of their engines.

It is absolutely impossible to secure the names of all the dead passengers. There are, in many cases, no means of identification and the officials say they have no information that will help out in the matter.

Eleven cars were completely destroved and the worst part of the wreck and where most of the bodies were found was the smoker, which had been telescoped by the forward

Four Killed and Four Injured in Collision on Northwestern. Chicago, Jan. 29.-Four persons were killed, four seriously injured and eight slightly hurt in a rear-end collision between stock trains on the Chicago and Northwestern railway near Lafix, Ill., yesterday.

The dead: Charles X. Coe, Woodbine, Ia., imprisoned in the debris and roasted to death; B. Lane, Vail, Ia., pinned down by wreckage and burned to death; A. A. Amey, Scranton, Ia., badly burned, died an hour later in the station at LaFox; J. Peterson, Battle Creek, Ia., badly burned and died before medical aid arrived.

Seriously injured: H. Johnstone, Clinton, Ia.; William Kochsims, Schleswig, Ia.; Eyers Neilson, Schleswig, Ia.; Albert Playman, Dunlap, Ia. The trains came together in a dense fog. The killed and injured were for the most part stockmen in charge of stock on the way to Chicago.

DEATH LIST NUMBERS TWENTY. Several of the Injured in New Jersey

Wreck May Not Recover. New York, Jan. 29.—The total loss of life by the collision on the Central Railroad of New Jersey at Graceland in twenty. In addition to these Engineer Davis and Fireman McCarthy of the Philadelphia and Reading express, who are in the hospital at SHARP DEBATE IN THE SENATE. Plainfield, may die at any moment, and it is believed that several of the injured passengers cannot recover. The number of those injured is known to be upwards of fifty, of whom thirteen remain in the hospital.

The blame for the disaster is placed by the railroad officials on Engineer Davis, who, according to a policeman who took him from the shattered cab of his engine, admitted that he had seen the red and green lights, but, expecting to see them suddenly changed, rushed on. According to the statement of the station agent at Cranford, an attempt was made to hold the express at that point by telegraph, but almost at the instant the message was received the train thundered by at upwards of sixty miles an hour and the crash followed two minutes later. The dead: Rowland Chandor, Ed ward Currid, Thomas A. Cuming, Edward Flynn, Elias Giles, Joseph R. Hallett, Horace G. Hand, R. W. Happerson, Fred Hardingha, Henry Roger, Lena Linbarger, Henry L. Mahan, Harvey M. Patterson, Charles B. Reed, F A. Smith, Harold W. Tomblinson, Craig Waldron, Edgar W. Williams, James Beekman.

Tacks Statehood Bill Onto Appropriation Measures.

Rawlins, Beveridge and Carmack Take Leading Parts in Discussion-House Makes Slow Progress on Indian Appropriation Bill.

Washington, Jan. 29.- A sharp deresolution directing the secretary of war to furnish the senate the proceed- one. ings of a number of courts-martial in the Philippines. In the course of his remarks Rawlins referred to the death of Father Augustin, and said he was murdered in coldblood. This roused the ire of Beveridge, who demanded specifically to know who had committed the coldblooded murder. Carmack entered the debate and characterized the charge, which he said repeatedly had been made, that the Democrats were assailing the army, as the "meanest and dirtiest" of any that had been made against the party. Proctor defended Captain Cornelius M. Brownell, who had been mentioned in the Rawlins resolution as being responsible for Father Augustin's death. The statehood bill was taken up at 2:30 and 3 o'clock Lodge spoke in opposttion to it. An attempt by Aldrich to divide the business of the senate with the statehood bill failed, and the senate at 5:15 adjourned.

The statehood bill was then taken up and Lodge spoke in opposition to it. A few minutes before he suspended each of the appropriation bills, the agricultural and the civil sundry bills. The document was handed in very quietly and the occurrence attracted ered an investigation revealed three no attention at the time. The amendments contained in each case all the Word was telegraphed to Alamo provisions of the bill as it came from cans answering the description of the mit that it is the intention to join stopped. A call to halt was answered money for the conduct of the business by a fusillade by the bandits and a of the government so as to render it necessary to accept the statehood bill in order to secure the passage of the appropriation bills. That this is his purpose is made more evident by the fact that Quay requested that the amendments be referred to the committee on organization and conduct of executive departments, of which he is chairman. The house yesterday made slow progress with the Indian appropriation bill, covering only about eight pages in over four hours. Burton (O.) hung has charge of the bill, and insisted upon an explanation of every item He succeeded in having several appro priations cut down. In the course of the debate, he furnished some interesting statistics on the subject of Indian education designed to show that the more money the government spent the more helpless the Indians became, The senate amendments to the bill to amend the bankruptcy act were agreed to.

BLOCKADE NOT OVER YET. Diplomats Must Wait for Instructions

From Europe. Washington, Jan. 29.-The British and Italian ambassadors, and Count Quadt, the German charge d'affaires, called on Mr. Bowen, Venezuelan representative in the negotiations looking to a raising of the blockade and a setzuela, about 10:30 o'clock last night. The conference broke up at 12:30 this morning and the representatives of the allies proceeded at once to their homes. It is said no agreement has yet been reached for the raising of the blockade, and further word must be waited from Europe before this stage is reached. Details of the conditions of adjustment still remain to be decided. As each diplomatic representative of the allies must report to his own country, these representations in turn being the subject of cablegrams between the allies, in order that the concert between them may be preserved, it will be at least twenty-four hours longer before the blockade can be removed. By common consent the duty of giving the press a statement of the conference as far as it was deemed politic to make any announcement was devolved on Mr. Bowen, whose statement was as follows: "We have been discussing certain points which need to be clearly under-London and Berlin." The further statement was made after the conference that there is absolutely no foundation for charges that Germany was delaying the signing of the preliminary protocol. for Father Augustin's death.

PROMPT AID IN WORK OF RESCUE

Three of the Entombed Men Succumb and Six Others Are Seriously Injured-Mountain of Snow Imprisons Miners Before They Can Fiee.

Park City, Utah, Jan. 29 .- A snowslide occurred here early yesterday morning that killed three miners outright and injured several others. It swept down from the high mountain that overhangs the Quincy shaft house, carrying the structure down the sleep and recuperation. valley below and in its course wrought untold other damage.

The killed: John Gaffney, engineer; E. J. Colter, station tender; Charles D. Frink, fireman.

Injured: Con Shay, foreman of the Quincy; George Burt, Peter Burt, Mike Wynn, shaft boss; Bates Noble, David Coleman, Robert Giles.

It is not thought that there are any more persons covered by the slide. It is feared, however, that more slides will take place soon, and excitement in the city is great.

The storm has quieted down some what, but the hurricane will undoubtedly bring more of the snow from the mountains. A light snow is falling.

When the report of the accident at the Quincy was received about a third of the shift from the mine that was off when the avalanche descended were hurrying out to the workings to rescue their fellow workers.

The eight men who had been in the slide were quickly uncovered. A ninth man, who had been partially buried. with a team of four horses, managed to uncover himself. Shay managed to dig himself out. Those who were injured were cut and bruised.

MUST PAY CATTLE TAXES.

Steckmen Fail to Obtain Injunction to Restrain Indian Police.

Ardmore, I. T., Jan. 29.-United States Judge Townsend yesterday handed down an important decision in the tribal tax cases, upholding the contention of the federal officials that the federal courts cannot come to the relief of cattle men whose stock is seized by Indian police because of the refusal of the stockmen to pay tribal taxes. The cattle owners sought to restrain the interior department and the Indian police from enforcing the collection of the tribal tax, also removing replevined cattle. The decision of the court yesterday grew out of the seizure of hundreds of cattle by the police, who, it is alleged, had orders from Secretary Hitchcock to eject them from the domain. Secretary Hitchcock again ordered removal of these cattle, hence the injunction sked for by stockmen and denied.
