

Dorothy Dodd

"I will kill thee one hundred and fifty ways," said Touchstone in "As You Like It."

That is just what the average shoe tries to do to its wearer. I have always made a distinction between a shoe fitting the foot and the foot fitting the shoe. It is the shoe that must yield. Let the foot remain as Nature made it.

When I began designing my own shoes, I insisted that faultless-fitting must be to my shoe what the key-stone is to the arch—the chief element of the whole. Faultless-fitting means a shoe that follows the lines of the foot, allowing free, natural action, fitting very closely under and about the instep and easy and flexible at the ball and toes, thus giving elasticity and better poise in walking.

It is the slipping forward of the foot at every step that makes walking so tiresome.

My shoe is THE ONLY SHOE that overcomes this difficulty. It holds the foot firmly at the waist and instep and supports the arch. It is a totally different construction from every othershoe made.

A "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe has that subtle something in beauty and style that means individuality and lifts it above the commonplace.

Sincerely yours,

Dorothy Dodd

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

City.

For Mayor.....Miner C. Hason
For Clerk.....Samuel R. McFarland
For Treasurer.....Robert Uter
For Surveyor.....Wm. H. Lowe

Councilmanic.

First Ward.....G. W. Wilkinson
Second Ward.....H. A. Pasewalk
Third Ward.....August H. Kiesau
Fourth Ward.....Warren Haribert

School Board.

For members of the Board of Education.....
W. H. Johnson
John S. McClary

For city engineer, W. H. Lowe, the republican nominee, has no opposition. He is fully qualified for the office and Norfolk voters will honor him with the position this spring as they have been accustomed to doing in the past.

As a candidate for the office of city treasurer the republicans offer one of the best known and most popular business men of Norfolk in presenting the name of Robert Uter. As city treasurer Mr. Uter will conduct the business of the office with the same, conservative care that he attaches to his own personal business interests. He will make the city a good officer and the voters can well afford to encourage men of his character to stand for the city offices by electing him with a handsome majority.

The republican candidates for members of the city council are representative men in their various wards, and it is doubtful if it would be possible to present a better ticket in all respects for the consideration of the voters. G. W. Wilkinson in the First ward; H. A. Pasewalk in the Second ward; A. H. Kiesau in the Third ward and Warren Haribert in the Fourth ward, are all men having the best interests of the city at heart and may be depended upon to give of the best of their ability to the wise and economical conduct of the city's affairs.

Those who have supported S. R. McFarland for city clerk in the past have never had cause to regret their action and his friends believe that his record in the office will entitle him to a stronger endorsement than ever at the polls next Tuesday. He has ever been prompt and effectual in his dealings with those who have had business with the city clerk's office, and in presenting his name for the third time for the consideration of the voters the republicans realize that they can offer no more deserving candidate and none who will better or more energetically perform the duties of the office. Mr. McFarland knows no favorites in the discharge of his duties and is the sort of candidate the people delight to honor.

The board of education is one that should be filled with men of particular competence and ability; those who will so guide and direct educational matters that the children of the city shall receive the best schooling that is possible under America's free school laws. They are also expected to exercise a wise economy in the disbursement of funds coming under their direction that the tax payers may not be over-burdened and that the finances of the district may be wisely conserved. In presenting the names of W. H. Johnson and J. S. McClary the republicans have occasion to believe that they offer a ticket of merit and the voters of the district will do well to give it consideration when the time comes for making a selection.

On the coming Tuesday the voters of Norfolk will go to the polls and register their opinion regarding the administration they desire to control the city during the year. The republicans have named a ticket for which no apologies are necessary. Decidedly clean and upright men have been nominated; men of character, who are known to their neighbors and to the majority of the voters of the city. In the interest of a clean campaign these men are largely relying upon the intelligence of the voters and the record of the present administration for their support, feeling confident in the outcome. No argument for the republican ticket can be stronger than the record of the present administration, and if the republican ticket is elected a three column explanation and apology will not be necessary at the close of the year. They can be relied upon to give the people a good government and one of accomplishment along lines that have long been neglected.

In presenting the name of M. C. Hazen to the voters the republicans of Norfolk have provided a candidate of unusual merit for the office, and one whom the people can afford to honor. Honest, clean, upright, intelligent and with no entangling alliances, he can be relied upon to so conduct the affairs of the city that at the end of one, two or three years his motive will not be questioned. He is well versed in the law and it may be expected that, as with everything else he has undertaken, the office of mayor will receive his best consideration. Under his administration, honest and legitimate business will be permitted to prosper unmolested, but it may be expected that any attempt at crime or dishonesty will be rigidly and emphatically dealt with. He is a representative of the conservative element. He will not favor a policy that will be in opposition to what the majority of the people desire. He will not put down an iron foot, if he could, and assert that Norfolk should have a Sunday-like quiet every day in the week but it may be expected that he will be just as sincerely opposed to permitting crime and violence at all times and under every slight provocation. The conservative people of Norfolk do not want a wide-open town and the reputation attached thereto, neither do they desire a town held down to the lines that meet the entire approval of the radical reformers, of whom there are a few. They believe thoroughly in conservative measures and insist on something a degree or two removed from what has prevailed during the past year. In this it is believed that Mr. Hazen will carry out their wishes and that his administration will receive the approval of the large majority of all classes. A vote for Hazen will not be misplaced and those who support him will find no need of apologizing for their action, either now or hereafter.

GRAIN MEN TALK ABOUT CORN.

Increase in Yield Means More Business for the Dealers.
Des Moines, April 3.—The annual state meeting of the Iowa Association of Grain Dealers is in session here with about 150 present. Prof. Holden's talk on corn took up the greater part of the time. The great effort of the association this year is to stir up interest in the subject of increasing the yield of corn. "If we can increase the yield five bushels an acre it will mean 25 per cent more business for every grain dealer in the state," said Secretary Wells.

Big Crevasse is Closed.

New Orleans, April 3.—With the successful joining of ends of the crib work leading from either side of the broken Hymella levee, the critical stage is considered to have passed in the attempt to close the crevasse, now 700 feet in width. Generally, the river conditions are considered to be improved in Louisiana. Every embankment in the state above New Orleans is holding, except those at Bogere and Angola, where the damage done is local. It is felt that the maximum flood is at last in sight.

NOW READY The Many Adventures of FOXY GRANDPA

Including all the merry pictures contained in the two volumes, entitled "Adventures of Foxy Grandpa" and "Further Adventures of Foxy Grandpa."

Mr. Schultz laid to me one day at lunch: "What do you think of a series of comic drawings dealing with a grandfather and his two grandsons?" "Let the grandfather be the cleverer one of the trio. In most of the other cases the young folk have been smarter than the old people upon whom they played their jokes. Let's reverse it."

The next morning he came to my office with sketches for half a dozen series, and with the name "Foxy Grandpa" in his hand.

The success of the series in the New York Herald was instantaneous, for who has not heard of "Foxy Grandpa" and "Bunny?"

The jolly old gentleman, dear to grown people as well as children, might almost be called the Mr. Pickwick of comic pictures.
