A plow and corn planter that will work in the mud and water would be an attractive invention for Nebraska farmers at the present time.

It is not right to encourage habits of idleness on the part of the shovel, the hoe, the rake and the broom when the yards and streets and alleys adjoining the yards and have not yet been relieved of their winter accumulation of dirt and rubbish.

Alabama republicans are lined up for President Roosevelt and when the roll is called at the next national convention the first state on the list will respond for the present executive—and the other states will follow the lead as fast as they are called upon.

The railroad facilities of Norfolk are improving constantly and while it is possible that some town might rival her in this particular it is not probable, and this city will continue as the metropolis of north Nebraska until there is a decided change. It is an ideal location for a good-sized city and the enterprising people now here will see that its destiny in this particular is fulfilled.

Naturally there would be some to criticize the Lorenz method of curing congenital deformities—there usually are men, authorities on matters under discussion, who will find weak points in any new system or method, but if it answers the purpose for which it is intended and brings results, it is what the people desire and until the critics can produce something better and more satisfactory the patients will naturally go to the surgeon offering the best chance of a cure.

Iowa papers and those of other states are having considerable to say about "the Iowa idea" of tariff reform, and the indications are that the leaders of the party in that state will be governed by the wishes of the administration and the national leaders, which is no more than is to be expected from a state as loyally republican as Iowa. When it comes to surrendering a position on a question or bolting the party it is not difficult to believe that Iowa republicans would be prompt in doing the former.

The Omaha strikers have discovered that the injunction scheme can be worked both ways, and the waiters' union has enjoined the proprietors of hotels and restaurants from doing things that will operate to the disadvantage of the unions or its members. They are forbidden the right to import such assistance as the members of the union render, or in any way intimidating or working against the interest of the unions. But the greatest stroke of all is the injunction forbidding these restaurant and hotel men from getting out any further injunctions. With this handling of the injunction law illustrated it is probable that in future strikes the strikers will turn the law against the employers and open operations by issuing injunction papers. Governor Pennypacker of Pennsylvania has signed the new libel bill which has been fought by the newspapers of that state and seems to be intended to curtail some of their liberties. It is probable that well meaning, conscientious publishers will have nothing to fear from the new law, but yellow journalists will do well to have a care, and exercise some discretion to which they have not been accustomed in treating of politics and individuals. The governor explains the provisions of the law at length and states what is expected to be accomplished and that if the law does not meet the requirements it will be remodelled or modified.

Street Car Crash Maims Ten Women Delegates to Fraternal Society's Congress at Indianapolis—Passenger Train Wrecked in Arkansas.

Washington, O., May 15.—The Cincinnati and Pittsburg express on the Midland division of the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern was wrecked five miles east of Washington and two persons were killed and several injured. The dead: Engineer John May and Fireman J. A. Leighton, Newark, O. All the passengers were badly shaken up and some sustained painful bruises. The accident was caused by spreading rails. The train was running at a speed of about forty-five miles an hour when it left the track. Engineer May heroically stuck to his post and cut off the steam and applied the airbrakes. He might have escaped by jumping, but gave up his life to save his passengers. The engine rolled down a small embankment. The other cars left the track, but none of them was overturned.

Robbers Murder Iowa Man. Muscatine, Ia., May 15.—An attempt to hold up Thomas McCarthy's restaurant at West Liberty resulted in the death of Arthur Meade, who attempted to assist the proprietors. The robbers then fled and left town on a northbound train.
