

CAN NOT FIND BOY'S BODY

Elkhorn Refuses to Give Up Eddie England's Form.

DISTRACTED FATHER GAVE UP.

Fearing That the Current Has Carried the Corpse Far Down the Stream, the Searching Has Been Practically Abandoned.

[From Tuesday's Daily.]
The body of 17-year-old Eddie England, who swam into his death Sunday evening, just south of the city on Fourth street, in the Elkhorn river, and for whom a constant searching was kept up all through the hours of yesterday, has not been located and hopes of finding the form of the lad have almost been given up.

The distracted father of the water's victim, who arrived in the city at noon yesterday, was nearly crazed over the sudden loss of his boy—the boy that had left home only a few days ago in perfect health, cheerful and happy, and whose body, after losing its life at merry play, had been carried away by the pitiless current of the river which seemed to unfeeling and even with glee, shut off the breath of life from young Eddie England.

This morning, nearly insane with grief, the dejected father took a seat in an out-going train and returned to his home in Omaha, to take the news to a heartbroken mother, who had been waiting for hours to have the dead body of her boy brought home. Last night, at the depot hotel, where the lad had been employed and where the father lodged, Mr. Eng was completely overcome and acted in the weird manner of a madman.

All day yesterday the river was dragged by men in boats, with great iron grappling hooks, and by excellent swimmers, who dived to the sandy bottom for any trace of a human form. This failing, dynamite was exploded in the stream, with the hope that the lifeless remains might be sent to the surface, but the selfish Elkhorn refused to give up the corpse that it held tightly within its powerful grip.

Finally, along toward dusk when the falling light made further search impossible, the score of men on the river's bank were compelled to quit their efforts and to leave unaccomplished the hopeful purpose of the morning. And so, with the bereft father in their midst, the little group of tireless workers came away, with nothing of the remains of Eddie England except the clothing which he had worn Sunday afternoon and which, in the careless fashion of a youth eager to get into the water—eager for a first dip—had been left indifferently upon the shore until the wearer should return.

It is highly probable that the raging, swollen current has carried the limp frame far down the stream, where, in days to come, it may float to the surface, or where, perhaps, it may cling to some protruding underbrush and remain indefinitely hidden.

The Royal Highlanders held election of officers in their hall. The following were elected: O. W. Kunzman, illustrations protector; Mrs. Wilkinson, C. C.; Mrs. Ranken, evangelist; George Scott, warden; F. E. Morton, sentry. After the regular order of business had been attended to, the members resolved the meeting into a social session and passed a pleasant evening. Ice cream and cake were served near the close.

Passengers taking a train from the Northwestern depot at South Norfolk are frequently confused by the similarity of the trains, especially those who are "smart" and do not need to inquire directions or destinations. Three trains, composed of three yellow coaches, leave the station at about the same hour, and each of them stands on the tracks awaiting its turn. Before they had all assumed that Northwestern yellow and the extra train to and from the west had been added, things were not so complicated, but now it is nothing uncommon for passengers to make a long chase after a departing train, only to learn after they are aboard, that they are bound in the wrong direction. Others do not find it out until the conductor comes to collect their tickets.

SIX GRADUATES IN MUSIC.

Closing Recital Given Before a Pleased Audience Last Night.

[From Tuesday's Daily.]
The closing recital of the commencement exercises of the Norfolk branch, Western Conservatory of Music, given at the M. E. church last evening, under the auspices of Mrs. Cora A. Beels, teacher, was very gratifying to the participants and patrons.

There were six young women to graduate from the school, namely: Miss Grace Lyford Craig of Pierce, Miss Celestine D. Grunwald of Pierce, Miss Nelle C. Grant Madison, Miss Florence Faye Hutton of Pierce, Miss Nelle A. Schwenk of this city and Miss Belle Turner of Pierce. All acquitted themselves with personal credit and credit to their teacher, giving interpretations of difficult classics in a thoroughly finished and artistic manner.

The graduates were assisted in the recital by post graduates and junior members of the department, the entire program being one to please the musical ear, closing with "Calif of Bagdad," by Boildieu, on four pianos by eight performers.

Following were the numbers played by the graduates:

- Fairy Fingers, Mills—Celestine B. Grunwald.
- Last Smile, Wallenhaupt—Belle Turner.
- Waltz Op. 18, Chopin—Nelle A. Schwenk.
- Galop, Raff—Grace Lyford Craig.
- Gondoliera, Venizia E. Napoli, Liszt—Florence Faye Hutton.
- Galop Chromatique, Liszt—Nelle C. Grant.

On presenting the diplomas, President E. H. Scott, of Chicago set forth the aims of the department and praised the thoroughness of the work accomplished by the teacher, Mrs. Beels. He complimented the post graduates on the breadth and intelligent interpretations manifested in their work since graduating and reminded the graduates that they had just reached the beginning of their musical life and that they should make themselves useful with their music and not consider it as a mere accomplishment. He commented especially on the presence of the boys on the program and particularly of Oscar Schavland who, he said, played Polka de Concert by Bartlett with a degree of perfection not excelled by young or old in Chicago or New York, Boston or Berlin. He also commented upon the fact that several of the graduates had already become successful teachers.

Prof. Scott left this morning for Chicago via Sioux City. He had a dozen other commencements which he was to attend, but was compelled to cancel the engagements on account of the floods.

Drowning Didn't Bother Them.

[From Tuesday's Daily.]
While strenuous efforts were being made yesterday morning to recover the body of Eddie England, who had drowned in the Elkhorn on the previous evening, two little fellows on the bank were watching the work. For an hour or so they looked at the man who was diving about in the terrible current, and then, tiring of the sight, one of them got up off the ground, shook himself and said, "Come on, Bob, let's go in." Bob was willing, and the pair of them went around the bend, at exactly the spot where the boy whose body was not yet recovered, had gone to his death but a few hours before, and they there piled their clothes in a heap and "dipped."

POLICE COURT WAS BUSY.

Several Lawbreakers Came Before the Judge.

BOOHE GOT CHANGE OF VENUE.

Three Boys Were Arrested on Complaint of C. P. Michael—One Dismissed and the Others Paid Part of Costs.

[From Wednesday's Daily.]
Herman Boohe, with a good sized following of his neighbors and friends, appeared before Judge Hayes' court at 2 o'clock this afternoon and secured a change of venue, transferring his case to O. A. Sleeper of Warnerville. He was arrested and brought to town by J. A. Rainey, game warden, on the charge of having had in his possession more than the fifty fish allowed by law. Rainey was accompanied by a constable this morning, Frank Jarmer, as threats had been made yesterday by neighbors, and he wanted to be safe.

Three Boys Arrested.
For the manner in which they treated his son when they met the lad in an out-of-the-way street, and for a matter which, though unpretty so far as it went, might, it would seem, have been settled out of court since nothing but an undesirable sort of notoriety was gained for both the complainant and the unthinking defendants, C. P. Michael took the trouble to swear out three warrants for a trio of boys yesterday afternoon, and waited for them to be arrested and hauled up into police court on the charge of disorderly conduct and disturbing the peace. One of the prisoners was dismissed completely and the other two were let off for payment of a fraction of the costs, which amounted to $4 each. The youthful prisoners were Raymond Hoagland, Willie Hayward and David Weeks, the latter being dismissed and the cost of his trial being set up against the account of the complaining Mr. Michael. It seems that the Michael lad carried word home of his mistreatment and immediate arrests followed.

FROM FLOODED KANSAS CITY.

Mr. Altschuler Gives an Account of the Awfulness of it.

[From Wednesday's Daily.]
Adolph Altschuler, of Kansas City, is the guest of his sisters, Mrs. D. Baum and Mrs. J. Baum. Mr. Altschuler left Kansas City yesterday, and gives a very graphic account of the flood situation as it now is. He says that there is no water supply as yet and that the liquid is being sold for so much a gallon. It is hard here to realize the difficulties of mere living which have been encountered on account of the flood. All sanitary plumbing in the residences, as elsewhere, has been rendered useless by the lack of waterworks, and the down town street sewers, where tents cover the man-holes, have been necessarily brought into use for carrying away the refuse matter of the city. Many people have lost everything they had. One of Mr. Altschuler's friends, who owned a $15,000 stock of clothing, piled everything near the ceiling, upon tables. This was in the morning, when the water stood three feet in the store. By night the flood was running through the second story at the rate of many miles an hour, and everything, clothing, tables, doors and even nails were washed away.

RENEWED HOPE FOR BASE BALL.

It is Up to the People Whether Norfolk Has a Team or Not.

[From Thursday's Daily.]
There has been a renewed hope in the hearts of local fans today, that there may yet be base ball in Norfolk this season. Wallace Dixon may be persuaded to take charge of a team, if enough support was forthcoming from the business men.

Jack Davey, who played with Norfolk during two seasons, passed through the city today on his return from Salt Lake. He made good with the Mormons all right and played great ball, but he didn't like the town and wants to come to Norfolk again, where he can be "in the world" once more. He says Spaulding is playing excellent ball and that Agan, with the Browns last year, is on first base for Ogden.

The proposition for a team is now up to the people for support.

CHARLES WILLIAMS' REGITAL.

A Large and Appreciative Audience Listened to the Reader.

[From Wednesday's Daily.]
A large and appreciative audience listened to the recital of Charles Williams, of Boston, at the First Congregational church last evening. The entertainment was under the auspices of the Young Peoples Christian Endeavor society. Mr. Williams' readings from "The Crisis," were both clever and interesting, being put in such a way that any who had not read the story readily caught the entire plot. Selections from "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" struck a responsive chord among the auditors and extracts from "The Real Diary of a Real Boy" completed the half hour of effervescent humor.

Mr. Williams has been the guest of his college clubmate, W. M. Rainbolt, during his Norfolk visit.

ELECT "LADY OF KLOFRON."

People to Choose Firemen's Representative.

BUSINESS DONE LAST NIGHT.

Arrangements for Tournament Maturing—Voting for Lady of Honor Begins Tomorrow and Closes the 24th.

[From Thursday's Daily.]
The meeting of the fire department last night, followed by the executive committee having in charge the arrangements for the state firemen's tournament, resulted in much being accomplished toward the state meet and the events for the occasion are taking form and the work is being advanced all along the line.

Notice was received from A. B. Beall, proprietor of the Auditorium, that he had accepted the firemen's proposition for the lease of the house for evening entertainments and the secretary was instructed to at once open correspondence with theatrical companies to fill the dates. It is expected that a contract will be closed with some good company inside of a week or two.

Acting on the suggestion of those who are promoting the Royal Tiger club, which is to have charge of parades and other events of the tournament, a voting contest has been started to select a young lady of Norfolk to occupy a float in the parade as the Lady of Klofron. This will be decided by popular vote of the people of Norfolk, who may deposit ballots at the Vail jewelry store. The election is to open tomorrow morning and close on the 24th. Details of the contest are published herewith. This will be a desirable honor and it is expected that the voting will be spirited. The Tiger club was also granted a vacant lot and a concession, where the degrees of the order will be conferred.

It was decided to thoroughly bill all the towns within a distance of fifty miles of Norfolk, and this morning Ray Hartford left for Stanton, Pilger, Wisner, West Point, and Fremont, and will cover the towns in other directions as rapidly as possible.

A number of bills were allowed, among them being one for $17.60, express charges for sending out the bills to distant towns.

Lady of Klofron.

For the purpose of selecting a lady to be known as the "Lady of Klofron" and to represent the Norfolk fire department and occupy a floral float in the parade of the Royal Tiger club on the evening of July 23, at the close of the state firemen's tournament, the Norfolk fire department has decided to ask the citizens of Norfolk to make the selection by ballot. The ballot box will be at Vail's jewelry store and every citizen will be entitled to one vote. Ballots must contain the name of the lady voted for and be signed by the person voting. The lady receiving the highest number of votes will be declared elected. The balloting will begin on the morning of Friday, June 12, and will end on June 24, at 6 o'clock in the evening. S. R. McFARLAND, Secretary Executive Committee.

ELKHORN STILL HOLDS BODY.

The Form of Eddie England Has Not Yet Been Discovered.

[From Wednesday's Daily.]
The muddy Elkhorn still holds the form of Eddie England, who was drowned Sunday evening, within its waters, hidden away from the surface. The wire catch that was placed below the First street bridge has not yet served the purpose of bringing the body to light, and it is feared that the swift current has carried it far down stream. With no clothing to catch in underbrush or snags, it is not at all unlikely that the boy, if the current caught him right at the start, may have floated many miles before this. No doubt the remains will be one day recovered, as the river, at ordinary times, is very shallow and it hardly seems probable that a human form would remain forever in it, undiscovered.

GOLD WAVE CAME LAST NIGHT.

True to Prediction, Chilly Air Has Brought Out Heavy Wraps.

[From Wednesday's Daily.]
True to the prophecy of the weather man, Norfolk got a drop in temperature last night that has brought vests to the form of the negligee man, and made heavy fall capes no uncommon sight upon the streets today. The barometer indicated 30.14 inches this morning, which is high and which accounts for the chilly atmosphere. The night was ten degrees away from freezing, the minimum point on the thermometer being 42. The high pressure will probably remain for another day, as the prediction is for fair weather, neither warmer nor colder.

Entertained at Tea.

[From Wednesday's Daily.]
Mrs. L. M. Gryllord and Mrs. M. J. Romig pleasantly entertained a few of their friends at a 5 o'clock tea yesterday at the home of the former. Music, recitations and games furnished entertainment. One piece of music worthy of mention was the "Thunder and Rain Storm" rendered on the piano, guitar and tambourine, and which proved real and effective. In the game of archery the first prize, a lithograph entitled "Good Morning" was awarded Mrs. Brown, and the second, a beautifully hand painted cup and saucer, was awarded Mrs. Freeland. The beautifully decorated rooms were thrown together, making the apartments very attractive. The daintily spread table in the dining room, which was profusely decorated with yellow roses, was a rest to the eye and a pleasure to the appetite.

The money was voted in response to the following appeal:

OFFICE OF SUPREME MASTER WORKMAN, A. O. U. W., GAYLORD, KAN., June 4, 1902.—To the Officers and Members of the Ancient Order of United Workmen—Brethren: The late disastrous flood in Topeka, Kan., and other points in that state has brought death and ruin to many members of our order. This call is issued with full confidence that the generous spirit, which has heretofore characterized the A. O. U. W., will again be manifested in response to this appeal. Let all subordinate lodges and individual members immediately take action and forward a liberal donation.

The money contributed should be forwarded to M. W. Sackett, supreme recorder, Meadville, Pa., by draft or post office money order, payable to H. B. Dickinson, supreme receiver-treasurer, Buffalo, N. Y., and an account will be kept with each grand lodge of the amount that has been sent and due credit given for the same.

This call is to be read in every subordinate lodge the first meeting after its receipt.

Trusting that the response to this distress call will be prompt, hearty and generous, I remain,

Fraternally yours,
WEBB MCNALL,
Supreme Master Workman.

Attest: M. W. SACKETT, Supreme Recorder.

It was decided by Norfolk lodge to observe Memorial day next Sunday. An invitation was received from the lodge of Ben Hur to join with them in the observance of the day, which was accepted, and the members will attend services at the M. E. church in the morning and listen to a sermon by Rev. J. F. Poucher. In the afternoon the cemetery will be visited and graves of departed members will be decorated with flowers. An invitation was also extended to the Degree of Honor, the auxiliary of the A. O. U. W., to join in the observance. A committee on arrangements was appointed, consisting of Messrs. Ogden, Quick and Spaulding.

FOOT MANGLED UNDER A TRAIN.

Boy Named Turner Brought to Norfolk Last Night, from Valley.

[From Thursday's Daily.]
With a terribly mangled foot that was horribly crushed beneath the wheels of a freight train yesterday afternoon, a 15-year-old boy named Turner, suffering intensely, was brought to this city last night from Valley, and placed under the surgical care of Dr. J. H. Mackay.

Young Turner is the son of Hazen Turner, of Pierce, and had started out to make a tour of the world. He got as far around the globe as the town of Valley, yesterday afternoon, and was trying to get farther, when he slipped and fell beneath the whirling wheels of the heavy train. His foot was mashed upon the rail and the lad brought to this city on the Union Pacific passenger train last night. He was taken to the boarding house of Mrs. H. E. Austin, 208 South Fourth street.

"I have been troubled for some time with indigestion and sour stomach," says Mrs. Sarah W. Curtis of Lee, Mass., "and have been taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets which have helped me very much so that now I can eat many things that before I could not." If you have any trouble with your stomach why not take these tablets and get well. For sale by Kessan Drug Co.
