NEGRO BURNED AT STAKE

Delaware Mob Wreaks Vengeance on Girl's Assailant.

GUARDS FIGHT FOR PRISONER.

Fusillade of Shots and Streams of Water Fail to Drive Off Angry Thousands Who Deal Out Summary Justice to Slayer.

Wilmington, Del., June 23 .- A northern mob, led by a Virginian, burned a negro at the stake within a few miles of Mason and Dixon's line. The victim was George F. White, a negro, just out of the workhouse, who was accused of having feloniously assaulted and stabbed to death Miss Helen S. Bishop, the seventeen-year-old daughter of the Rev. F. A. Bishop. The crime of the negro was committed June 15 and ever since then there have been mutterings to lynch White.

After much agitation on the part of those who cried for venegance, a mob, estimated at 4,000 men and boys, gathered in the neighborhood of Price's Corner. They came from everywhere, including Wilmington and the small towns to the south of Price's Corner. Lack of a leader was supplied by a Virginian, whose identity could not be learned. The police of Wilmington and the constables tried to disperse the growing crowd, but without avail. It was evident that hundreds came from mere curiosity, but once in the mob they became inflamed with the spirit pervading the throng and then active'y joined it. The real leaders were few in number, but they did their work well.

It was after 10 o'clock when the march to the workhouse, a mile away, was taken up. The chief warden of the workhouse and his guards, who have been on almost constant duty since the negro was landed in the prison, had been warned of the coming of the mob and prepared to defend the man at all cost. Armed with pistols, shotguns and other weapons, the mob surrounded the workhouse. A battery of railroad ties soon carried away the great outer door of the workhouse. The second, third and fourth doors were battered down by the forward leaders in the attacking party amid the yells and cheers of those who were pressing forward from the rear. Then the would-be lynchers were momentarily halted by a hall of bullets from the inside. A great howl went up from the leaders, but they were pressed forward by those in the rear. More shooting was heard, and there was a scramble to get out, but the braver ones stood their ground. In the fusillade that followed four persons fell, all members of the mob. They were quickly carried to the rear and attended by those who were not brave enough to be at the front. None of them in the confusion could be identified except the boy, who is said to be Peter Smith.

MAKE A BREAK FOR LIBERTY. MAT One Convict is Killed and All Are Recaptured by Guards.

Canon City, Colo., June 23 .- Kirsch Kuykendall, a convict at the state penitentiary, was shot and killed when attempting to escape with five other desperate prisoners. As Dr. T. D. Hallmer and the hospital steward were making the morning rounds Kuykendall complained of being ill, and the doctor prepared to make an examination. The prisoner drew a bottle supposed to contain nitro-glycerine and ordered the two men to throw up their hands. They did so. Kuykendall and five other convicts then overpowered Cellhouse Keeper Clarence Cleghorn and Steward John E. Keefe. The four prison officials thus made prisoners were stripped of their clothing, which the convicts put on. Taking the doctor and the steward with them the mutineers proceeded toward the gates. On the way they captured Warden John C. Cleghorn's wife and forced her to go along, using her as a shield to prevent the guards from firing at them. The inner and outer gates were blown off their hinges with dynamite, which the convicts had secured, but an attempt to force the armory was foiled. Meantime Warden Cleghorn had arrived from town and, collecting guards, ordered them to shoot the fu- of two disasters close upon one anothgitives whenever an opportunity presented itself to do so without injuring Mrs. Cleghorn. Holding knives over the woman, the mutineers shouted that they would kill her if the guards fired. Mrs. Cleghorn fainted, and the convicts then took to their heels, pursued by the guards. Kuykendall was killed by Yardmaster John Clark, after shouting: "I'll never be taken alive. I'll not go back to that hole." James Armstrong was overtaken by Cleghorn, son of the warden, and was severely beaten over the head with a revolver. The other fugitives, who were taken alive, were Thomas Fisher. Thomas Fallon, Cuaz Cordova and Robert Kane.

NEW CARDINALS NAMED.

Pope Gives Little Evidence of Being Seriously III.

Rome, June 23 .- The consistory was specially important, owing to the persistent rumors regarding the pope's ill health and previous postponements. Naturally, a ceremony in which the pope, half hidden in vestments, is borne on a chair and is continually assisted, is not the best opportunity to judge of his appearance or the state of his health, but a man capable of undergoing the strain of such a function has plenty of vitality. The pontiff's features seemed slightly more clear cut and his hands trembled perceptibly, but his voice is plainly heard, though it has lost something of its power. The ceremony was shortened as much as possible and only lasted about thirty-five minutes.

The following were created cardinals: Monsignor Tallant, papal nuncio of Vienna; Monsignor Cavicchiono, secretary of the congregation of the council; Monsignor Ajulti, papal nuncio at Lisbon; Monsignor Nocella, secretary of the consistoral congregation; Kotschthaler, archbishop Mills Will Take Back the Strikers as Fast as They Are Needed-Troops Guard Dubuque Street Cars-No Change at Kansas City.

Lowell, Mass., June 22 .- The textile counci, declared the strike in the Lowell mills at an end. Every union affiliated with the council was repre-I, nching of William Wyatt and punish sented and the vote was unanimous. Mule spinners and loom fixers were included in this vote, despite statements. that they would oppose a return to work. When asked for a statement President Conroy said: "We now worship at the altar of defeat, but later we shall rise again and conquer."

The strille began on March 30 and involved about 17,000 operatives. The mills were shut down until June 1, when the agents opened the gates and the majority of the operatives went back to work. The strike has cost in wages about $1,300,000. It is understood that the agents will take back all the old help they have room for and will make no discrimination against the lead ... of the strike movement.

The high price of cotton precluded any hope of the success of the strikers' campaign for a 10 per cent inсгеаве.

OPERATORS HAVE GRIEVANCES. Conciliation Board Will Hear Complaints from Both Sides.

Wilkesbarre, June 22 .- When the conciliation board meets in this city on Wednesday the operators will have grievances to be adjusted as well as the miners, and this will be a surprise to many of the latter, who believed that the coal companies had nothing to complain off. The operators will take exceptions to the many petty strikes, which are the cause of much inconvenience, and also that the nonunion men are being interfered with and that the coal output is lessened by the practice of miners remaining home on certain days without permission. The miners will offset this with the charge that some of the men active in the strike have not been given work since and that the award of the commission has been violated by a change in the condition of mining at many places which does not permit the miners to make as much now as before the strike.

Sympathy Strike Not Likely.

Kansas City, June 22 .- There is no change in the strike situation of the 400 freight handlers. A sympathy strike on the part of the switchmen and truck drivers is unlikely. Every Woman Should Write Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium.

"Peruna is better by far than any other medicine sold in the Dominion for the troubles peculiar to the sex. I suffered with backache, headache and dragging down pains for over nine months, and nothing relieved me a particle until I took Peruna. A few bottles relieved me of my miserable half-dead, half-alive condition. I am now in good health and have neither ache or pain. nor have I had any for the past year. If every suffering woman would take Peruna they would soon know its value and never be without it."-Mrs. Joseph Lacelle.

The warden did not wish to slaughter the mob in the prison corridor, so he directed that the fire hose be turned on the crowd. This also held the mob for a time, but not for long. A general rush was made and the guards were brushed aside and a man hunt of the jail was made. There were many negroes confined, but with the aid of a man who knew White, he was quickly found. His cell door was battered open and the cowering and accused man, begging for mercy, was dragged from the cell and the prison.

When the crowd outside heard that success had crowned the lynchers, a cheer was set up. Attempts were made to shoot White on the spot, but the leaders of the crowd would have nothing but his life at the stake.

Resistance on the part of the negro was useless, but his hands were tied behind him. Then the march to the place of execution, just as though it were a march to the gallows in a prison, was begun. With torches to lead the way and with 4,000 persons following the negro, he was led to the road. White was given a last chance to speak, and confessed to the murder of the girl. A stake had been arranged by an advance guard. White was quickly chained to the post and the dry underbrush, soaked with oil, was ignited, and the horrible execution was on. White, suffering intense agony, fainted and his body hung limp. Shots were fired into his body and the victim of the mob was soon dead. Satisfied with their night's work, the greater number of the lynchers immediately left the neighborhood. many of them fearing arrest.

The failure of the county court to give White a speedy trial is in a great measure responsible for the tragedy.

This led the couple to seek relief, and they apparently planned the affair with much deliberation. Miss Brennan purchased a bottle of carbolic acid and shortly afterwards both started out for a walk. They strayed to a secluded spot in the midst of a forest. When a searching party came in sight of the place Miss Brennan put the bottle of acid to her lips and drained it. As she did so Smic started to run, with several of the party close on his heels.
