

ARE TAKING THE CENSUS.

Enumerators Start Out Well With Work.

HAVE TROUBLE TO COUNT.

Some People Think They Will be Mixed up in Poll Tax or Assessment on Account of the Counting. Peculiar Experiences.

[From Thursday's Daily.]

The census enumeration in Norfolk is starting out well. Councilman August Brummond, who is taking the count in the First ward, chalked up 238 persons yesterday. "I find lots of people who don't want to be counted," said Mr. Brummond. "They seem to think it has something to do with the poll tax or assessment, and last night an entire family refused to give me their names. Strangers, too, who have been here for a short time only, fear that by putting in their names the poll tax will be marked against them. This is not true. This census will not be used for any other purpose than to get the number of persons living here."

The enumerators are having a time to get the ages of women. Some women deny the statement that they are sensitive about the years they have lived. One matron, however, asked "What business is it of yours?" in no very gentle tone, when the man came around.

It is hard to get the questions answered precisely. "How old were you at your last birthday?" asked the man. "At my last birthday?" she queried. "Yes," he replied, "at your last." "Why-er-thirty-three or (and the number 33 went down) next September."

Another enumerator was out in the residence part. "How many children have you had?" he asked. "Altogether?" she questioned. "Yes," he said, "all of them." The woman thought a minute and then answered, "Why just eleven." After he had marked it down she said, "that is, eleven living and that doesn't count the three dead in the place we used to live."

WEDNESDAY WRINKLES.

Frank K. Jackson, of Fairfax, S. D., was in the city this morning.

Miss Annie McBride left today for Denver, where she will visit three weeks. Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Huse have gone to Omaha to attend the convention of the National Editorial association.

A delightful shower fell between midnight and morning, with just enough of water in it to nicely sprinkle the streets. The Royal Highlanders are planning an entertainment to be given during their next regular meeting next Monday evening.

Miss Minnie Steimel, of Rushville, Ill., is expected in the city tonight for a visit with her cousin, Miss Stella Lukart.

The gentle shower that came last night relieved the street sprinkler from commencing operations before breakfast this morning.

President Ehrhardt, of the Congress Construction company will arrive in Norfolk tonight from Chicago to look over the new government building.

This kind of weather makes it a common thing to see the boy with "the hives" and a new straw hat, who is going back home where his bean lives at."

Miss Edith McClary left today for St. Paul, Minn., where she goes to attend the marriage of Miss Allison Searles. Miss Searles was formerly a Norfolk girl.

The perfume that comes from the stagnant pool west of the Pacific block is neither agreeable nor healthful and some means should be provided for draining the water off or the lot where it is located should be filled.

A number of new brick masons will arrive tonight for work on the federal building. The iron columns are now in the hands of the railroad company, and are expected any day. When they arrive, work will be resumed in real earnest.

J. Koenigstein is having the gravel and other material put on the ground with which to construct a cement walk the entire length of the Pacific block along Fifth street. The sidewalk level is considerably above the street and considerable filling will be necessary before the walk can be laid.

Yesterday was not nearly so hot as many people who sweltered and baked beneath the torrid sun, seemed to think. The thermometer lacked four degrees of reaching the maximum for the season thus far, as the mark for yesterday was 93. A good strong wind that played in from the south kept things moving pretty well but it also brought along a batch of hot air that gave people the misimpression. It was a great growing day for corn and the fields of greenness seemed to fairly jump up from the rising of the sun to its going down.

PRESIDENT EHRHARDT HERE.

Is Looking Over the Work on Norfolk's Public Building.

[From Thursday's Daily.]

President Gustav Ehrhardt, of the Congress Construction company, arrived in the city last night from Chicago and will be here for a few days. Mr. Ehrhardt has just put in a bid for a new building at Waco, Tex., and will begin a big structure at the New Orleans navy yard soon. His company are just completing a handsome $800,000 postoffice at Helena, Mont.

"We are still badly delayed by the iron shipment," said Mr. Ehrhardt, "but just as soon as it comes—and we expect it by tomorrow—things will begin to hum about here. Within a very few days then we will shoot the building up to the second story."

"I am afraid," said the president, "that we will have to take Mr. Williams away from here after awhile, to use his head in other places."

BEETS ARE GROWING FAST.

Manager Bundick Says They are Filling With Sweetness.

[From Thursday's Daily.]

"This is great growing weather for beets," said J. N. Bundick, manager of the American Beet Sugar factory in this city today. "We don't want any rain for several days for this is just the right kind of weather for the farmers to get out into the fields and take care of the little roots. They are getting big and healthy and overflowing with sweetness. The stands are simply immense."

At the factory just now the force of men are spinning off a bit of molasses and getting brown sugar. The height of one of the vacuum pans is also being increased, which will enable the factory to boil more sugar than heretofore. The fall campaign will begin along in September and preparations are being made for its start.

A RECORD TOURNAMENT.

Excellent Promise for the Norfolk Event.

MANY FAST TEAMS COMING.

A Large Attendance is Looked For. Now Building Amphitheatre, Placing Telephones, Starting Bells and Fixing Track.

[From Thursday's Daily.]

The prospects are very good that the coming firemen's tournament to be held in this city July 21st, 22nd and 23rd, will be the biggest event of the kind ever held in the history of the state. Those who are in a position to know whereof they speak say that there will be between twenty and thirty racing teams entered in the contests, which will be twice to three times as many as have entered previous tournament events.

It is also anticipated that there will be a larger crowd of interested visitors than have ever attended previous tournaments. It all now depends on the mood of the weather man. If he provides agreeable sunshine and warmth there will be nothing to prevent a record-breaking tournament. Each team will undoubtedly bring along a large number of enthusiastic backers and they will come from all of the more enterprising towns in all parts of the state.

At a meeting of the executive board held last night, further steps toward the completion of arrangements were made. This morning, under their direction work is being crowded along at the grounds north of the city, an immense amphitheatre, capable of seating 2,100 people is being erected, and it is feared that even this will not accommodate all who will want to see the races.

The telephone company is stringing wires for the telephones that will be used at the grounds and for the electric bells that will be used for starting the races. The telephone company is doing this gratuitously as a contribution to the event. The track is being placed in thoroughly first-class condition, and the committee intends to leave nothing undone that will make the races successful and fast and to provide accommodations for the teams and visitors.

Concessionaires are already arriving and locating on the places allotted them by the committee, and others will be coming between now and the time of the tournament. Almost everything imaginable in the way of concessions has been given a contract, and there will be entertainment of all kinds for all people. A steam carousel is located on the vacant lot formerly occupied by the Reno hotel, and a shooting gallery is being arranged on a vacant place several lots east. These are the advance guard of the concessions, but many more are on the way.

There is some apprehension lest there will not be sleeping accommodations for all the visitors. During the tournament at Grand Island last year a rocking chair on the sidewalk was the best sleeping accommodation some could find, and it is anticipated that the crowd here will be as large or larger than the one attending the Grand Island event. The committee is looking up ways and means to provide for visitors and request is made that those having rooms to rent or other sleeping accommodations for one or more persons leave their names with Secretary McFarland, together with the location of their homes and the accommodations they have available.

The Tiger Club arrangements are proceeding satisfactorily. Three of the floats are said to be ready, except the work of assembling, which will require but a short time, and work on the other two is well advanced. The working team of the club expects to go to Madison some time this week to initiate a class of twenty or more into the mysteries of the degree, and a large class of Norfolk firemen is ready to undertake the ordeal.

The committee would rather the impression would not get out, as it seems to have done that they are to run a sort of street fair and carnival. They expect to have continuous entertainment, both on the grounds and streets but it will not be altogether of a carnival nature, and those expecting that sort of entertainment may be disappointed.

There will be races and contests galore, swift and exciting on the tracks and throughout the day that will be sufficiently entertaining to anyone having a liking for athletic sports, and it is believed that it will keep the board of control on the jump to race all the teams that are to enter in the three days, and it is not unlikely that the races may extend over the fourth day if all the entries expected are made.

The committee has also arranged for quite a variety of entertainment on the streets. There will be plenty of band music, an entertainment in the auditorium each evening, dances and like entertainment and the parade of civic societies, firemen and the floats of the Tiger club on the last night of the tournament provides a program that for entertainment will excel other tournaments, but it will not be a carnival in the ordinary meaning of the term.

All Marks and other representatives of the Stanton running team were here today and rooms and board for fourteen men were engaged at the Barrett boarding house, corner of First and Main streets. Other representatives of running teams will be here during the next week making arrangements for accommodations during the three days of the tournament and there will be something doing from now on until the last racing event is pulled off. Fremont hopes to again win the championship belt and is coming up for that purpose, but those who know are confident that they will meet some sharp competition for the trophy.

It will be a great tournament and there are few who are interested in such events who will care to miss the attractions offered.

The workmen go out to their work on handcars and the crowd of them makes a big procession.

Lincoln, July 9.—The sympathizers of William Rhea, condemned to hang tomorrow at the state penitentiary in this city, express confidence in their ability to postpone and possibly permanently block the execution. THEY COME FOR HUNDREDS OF MILES TO SEE HER.

Nothing so Wonderful in the Days of Specialism.

Dr. Caldwell.

The success of Dr. Caldwell is attributed to her special study of specialism. Dr. Caldwell, student, philanthropist and physician of wide reputation, having given her entire time and practice to a line of special diseases, which enables her from long experience in handling these troubles to certainly come forward as a master specialist. Her faculty for mastering diseases, her ability to diagnose, and her plan of treatment is not excelled by few other physicians. Dr. Caldwell, although a young woman in life, a plain woman, and one who is used to the ups and downs in life, puts herself on a level with her patients and does not pretend to practice the old plan of fashion, which is to look wise and say nothing. She knows disease; she knows where to look for disease, and the spot where located, and most of all she knows from experience, from what she has done in the past, she can certainly do for others in the future. It is said by Dr. Caldwell's friends that she can diagnose a disease of any patient without asking them a single question, that being the case, she is not likely to doctor them for the wrong ailment; she will not take an incurable disease and lead the patient to believe that she can cure them when there is really no hope for them. Her business is large and she has plenty to do, even at times, more than she can do, without taking incurable diseases and deceiving her patients. Dr. Caldwell is a graduate from one of the best schools in America. She has practiced her profession in some of the principal hospitals in this country. Her specialty comprises that class of diseases which the ordinary home doctor fails to cure, such as female diseases, heart diseases, diseases of children and the many special diseases of hidden nature. Her practice is mostly among the plain, hard working people who are unable to come to her city office for treatment; she is reasonable in her charges and very lenient with those who are not able to pay. She is charitable, and it is said has never been known to refuse to treat a patient who is worthy and in need. A number of the important cases that we hereby take the liberty to publish, which might be of interest to some who wish to know more of Dr. Caldwell's great work:

Sophia Kran, Albion, Neb., cured of a bad skin disease.
