

RELIANCE WINS SECOND

Defeats Shamrock III by One Minute Nineteen Seconds.

IS BETTER ON EVERY POINT

Takes Lead at the Start and Is Never Headed—Rival Companies Interfere With Marconi Wireless Service. Storm Strikes Sandy Hook.

New York, Aug. 26.—In a glorious whole sail breeze, over a triangular course, ten miles to the leg, the fleet-footed cup defender, the Reliance, again showed her heels to Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger, taking the second race of the cup series of 1903 by the narrow margin of one minute and nineteen seconds. It was as pretty and as hard fought a contest as has ever been sailed off Sandy Hook, and had the wind not fallen during the last ten minutes, the record for the course, three hours, twelve minutes and fifteen seconds, made by the Columbia two years ago in her memorable race against the Shamrock II, would have been broken. As it was, the Reliance sailed the thirty miles within two minutes and thirty-nine seconds of the record, which speaks wonders for her speed in the wind that was blowing. The Reliance's victory, narrow as it was, would have even been smaller had not Captain Wringe, the skipper of the British ship, bungled the start, sending his craft over the line nineteen seconds after the last gun, and handicapping her to that extent. At every point of sailing the defender's superiority was demonstrated. She gained one minute and fifty-one seconds in windward work, forty seconds on the run to the second mark, and forty-five seconds on the close reach for home.

Believe Cup is Safe.

Based on the magnificent showing she has made in the two races already sailed, it is the belief of many experts that the cup is safe and that it will take something better than life's latest creation even to budge it.

An assemblage of excursion vessels, almost as large as that of last Saturday, poured down through the Narrows and out into the broad Atlantic to witness the vanishing glory of the challenger. Just before the finish of the race the wind died down, but Reliance went across in ample time to win. There followed the usual riot of whistles, the clanor of bells, the exultant shouts of patriots and the booming of cannon. Shamrock was about a mile astern and crossed four minutes and forty seconds later to a repetition of the riot which had welcomed Reliance's victory. Then the great observation fleet started at top speed, not waiting to follow the racers in. And it was well that it was so. Before half the fleet had reached the upper bay a green-gray squall out of the northwest, raising a curtain of spray as it came, struck the fleet, bringing grief to many excursionists and carrying away yacht and steamer awnings and top hampers generally. Had the squall found the racers and the fleet out on the ocean race course the day might have chronicled a great marine disaster.

Marconi System is Interrupted.

The experience of two years ago demonstrated the uncertainty of all wireless telegraphy, but no one was prepared for the utter collapse of the system. There were four competing systems, three of which were most active. The atmosphere above the triangular course was beaten into a hopeless confusion, so that the Marconi system, with all its careful preparation, was available but for a single message throughout the day. It would not have been so exasperating if the rival companies had been honestly striving to send their own bulletins, but much of the interference was obviously malevolent.

Storm Strikes Sandy Hook.

A terrible northwest wind and electric storm struck Sandy Hook shortly after 3 p.m., and the Shamrock III and the Reliance and a fleet of half a dozen fine yachts were in great danger for a time. The yacht Eureka, breaking from her anchorage, was blown violently against a coal scow and carried the scow before it. It seemed for a time that the two boats would crash into the Shamrock III, which lay almost in the path of the gale, not 100 yards away. Two steam yachts, the Giralda and the Allita, anchored further in the horseshoe, were torn from their anchorage and came into bow and stern collision. The bowsprit of one crashed through the stern of the other, and the two, thus locked, drifted before the wind dangerously near the challenger. The tug Cruiser saved them, pulling them apart and away from the other boats. The Reliance lay in a position more out of danger.

MIMIC WARFARE COMMENCES.

Land Forces Successfully Hold the Fort at Portland.

Portland, Me., Aug. 26.—The attack on Portland by Admiral Barker's combined North Atlantic fleet began promptly at midnight. Vessels from the fleet entered the harbor. At least two landings were made. At 2:25 a.m. a heavy cannonading from the ships and fortifications had been in progress over two hours. Fort Preble, the acknowledged key to the defenses, was surrounded by landing parties, who were fought back by all the land forces massed for the defense of that point. A launch and cutter were captured by the Fort Preble forces.

CORN CROP MUCH IMPROVED.

Cereal Makes Favorable Progress in Nebraska and Kansas.

Washington, Aug. 26.—The weather bureau's weekly summary of crop conditions follows:

Portions of the south Atlantic states experienced heavy rains, while the Ohio valley, the greater part of Texas and the Rocky mountain and Pacific districts are suffering from drought.

On the whole the corn crop has made favorable progress, especially over the central and western portions of the corn belt, the most decided advance being reported from Nebraska and Kansas. In the upper Ohio valley corn is suffering seriously for rain, which is also needed in portions of Illinois and Missouri, and much of the crop in Iowa will suffer unless rain falls soon. The reports indicate that early corn will be safe from frost by Sept. 15 to Oct. 1 and late corn from Oct. 1 to 15.

Considerable spring wheat remains to be cut in North Dakota, but harvesting is practically finished elsewhere in the spring wheat region. In southern Minnesota much grain in shock is damp. In South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas the weather has been highly favorable for threshing.

JUDGE SULLIVAN NAMED

Nominated for Supreme Bench by Acclamation.

JONES AND WEBER FOR REGENTS

Nebraska Democrats in Session at Columbus Nominate the Same Ticket Put Up by Populists at Grand Island. Kansas City Platform Endorsed.

Columbus, Neb., Aug. 26.—The Democratic state convention met at 8:30 last night and placed in the field a fusion ticket, headed by Judge John J. Sullivan for associate justice of the supreme court, and named W. O. Jones of Adams county and E. O. Weber of Saunders county for regents of the state university. The convention, soon after convening, was notified that the Populist convention at Grand Island had named these men on their ticket, and the announcement was received with wild enthusiasm.

Soon after the convention came to order State Chairman Hall named George L. Loomis as temporary chairman. Mr. Loomis made a lengthy address, arraigning both the state and national administrations, and predicting victory in Nebraska this fall for the fusion ticket.

The temporary organization was made permanent and Mayor Reed of Kansas City, Matthew Wyvill, a Cornell university student, guest of Mr. Bryan, and Mr. Bryan himself addressed the convention. Following these speeches Chairman Loomis announced that nominations were in order. The nomination of the ticket took but a short time, all the candidates being named by acclamation.

The platform reaffirms the Kansas City declarations, and opposes the proposed asset currency legislation by congress. On state issues it arraigns the present Republican administration for extravagance in expenditures, for failure to enforce the oil inspection laws of the state, and for permitting corporations to dominate its policy. It also takes to task the last legislature for its railroad legislation and for its failure to pass laws to protect the farmers of the state against the grain trust.

POPULISTS PICK SULLIVAN.

Nominate Him Ahead of Action by the Democrats.

Grand Island, Neb., Aug. 26.—W. R. Weber, chairman of the Populist state central committee, called the state convention of Populists to order at 7:30 last night. Ex-Governor Poynter nominated Judge Parsons of North Platte for temporary chairman. He was elected and later made permanent presiding officer. Judge Parsons paid a compliment to the Denver conference and the convention proceeded to the nomination of a ticket. Judge J. J. Sullivan was unanimously renominated and W. O. Jones and E. O. Weber were named for university regents.

The platform adopted reaffirms allegiance to the principles of the People's party, "as expressed in its national platforms, but recognizes that the election this year involves no national politics. It does, however, involve the right of the people to have the supreme court of the state kept free from the control of evil influences." It condemns the action of the Republican state convention in its selection of a candidate for supreme judge, "selected months in advance by the railroad lobby," and protests against the domination of corporate interests in the court which finally determines the rights of the citizens to life, liberty, property and the redress of his wrongs, urging the people to "prevent these selfish interests from subverting our highest judiciary."

It also endorses the efforts toward higher education and advocates the interests of the state university and the agricultural department of that institution.

THEY COME FOR HUNDREDS OF MILES TO SEE HER.

Nothing so Wonderful in the Days of Specialism.

Dr. Caldwell.

The success of Dr. Caldwell is attributed to her special study of specialism. Dr. Caldwell, student, philanthropist and physician of wide reputation, having given her entire time and practice to a line of special diseases, which enables her from long experience in handling these troubles to certainly come forward as a master specialist. Her faculty for mastering disease, her ability to diagnose, and her plan of treatment is not excelled by few other physicians. Dr. Caldwell, although a young woman in life, a plain woman, and one who is used to the ups and downs in life, puts herself on a level with her patients and does not pretend to practice the old plan of fashion, which is to look wise and say nothing. She knows disease; she knows where to look for disease, and the spot where located, and most of all she knows from experience, from what she has done in the past, she can certainly do for others in the future. It is said by Dr. Caldwell's friends that she can diagnose a disease of any patient without asking them a single question, that being the case, she is not likely to doctor them for the wrong ailment; she will no take an incurable disease and lead the patient to believe that she can cure them when there is really no hope for them. Her business is large and she has plenty to do, even at times, more than she can do, without taking incurable diseases and decaying her patients. Dr. Caldwell is a graduate from one of the best schools in America. She has practiced her profession in some of the principal hospitals in this country. Her specialty comprises that class of diseases which the ordinary home doctor fails to cure, such as female diseases, heart diseases, diseases of children and the many special diseases of hidden nature. Her practice is mostly among the plain, hard working people who are unable to come to her city office for treatment; she is reasonable in her charges and very lenient with those who are not able to pay. She is charitable, and it is said has never been known to refuse to treat a patient who is worthy and in need. A number of the important cases that we hereby take the liberty to publish, which might be of interest to some who wish to know more of Dr. Caldwell's great work:

Sophia Kran, Albion, Neb., cured of a bad skin disease.

Mrs. Lulu Towlesley, David City, Neb., cured of female trouble and female weakness.

Mrs. C. W. Killian, Wakefield, Neb., cured of a tumor and liver and stomach troubles.
