consternation in government circles Sept. 22. and throughout the country.

It is now rumored that Prime Minister Balfour will also resign, but the rumors appear to lack foundation. The most extraordinary condition in the constitutional history of Great Britain now confronts the government and the people are considerably excited over the development of the past few hours.

Chamberlain Resigns.

London, Sept. 18 .- The official announcement of the resignation of time. Joseph Chamberlain and two other members of the cabinet was made in Downing street in the following communication: "The following ministers have tendered their resignations, which have been accepted by the king: Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, secretary for the colonies; Rt. Hon. C. T. Ritchle, chancellor of the exchequer, and Lord George Hamilton. secretary for India. The accompanying correspondence passed between the premier, Rt. Hon. A. J. Balfour, and Mr. Chamberlain."

There is no clue to the cision, however mistaken we may think it, no good government in a democratic country can ignore it. I feel, therefore, that as an immediate practical policy the question of preference to the colonies can not be pressed with any hope of success at the present time, although there is a very strong feeling in favor of the other branch of the fiscal reform, which would give further discretion to the government in negotiating with foreign countries for commodities, and

In his reply, Mr. Balfour unhesitatingly admits the principle of Mr. Chamberlain's project, only contending that the country is not yet ripe for it.

The retirement of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, which precipitates the most dramatic crisis and the bitterest narty struggle since his secession from Mr. Gladstone's home rule cabinet, was unknown and unsuspected in London until the official announcement late last night.

It is rumored that the resignation of other members of the cabinet is immiment, and that Lord Balfour of Burleigh, secretary for Scotland, has actually resigned, although the fact has not yet been formally given out, Lord Lansdowne, the foreign secretary, left London for Balmoral, whither Premier Balfour and his brother are alse expected to proceed immediately.

In the conse, ative clubs the manmer in which the crisis was projected was almost as great a surprise as in liberal quarters. Curiosity centers on the attitude of the Duke of Devonshire, whose resignation has been fully expected. It was supposed by some that he would take the present opportunity of retiring from politics on the ground of his advanced years. 'As to the reconstruction of the cab-Inet, no great interest is excited, although the political prophets are already busy appointing Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer; the Earl of Selbourne, as secretary for the colonies, etc., because it is recogfilzed as impossible that an appeal to the country can be much longer delaved, and the general opinion is that in the present shattered condition of the unionist party the liberals will be refurned to power.

not one unfavorable comment was to be heard among the crowd. The electric lights which illuminated the carnival square will be on been a great feature with the out of town arrivals, and another year will put them back again. The decorations, upon which an almost unlimited lot of labor has been let loose, are the pride of Nehgh and have made a hit throughout the feast. The display in front of the office of H. E. New York, Sept. 18 .- The steamer Vidar arrived here, having on board six of the crew of the steamer Mexicano, which foundered during a gale on Sept. 16. Captain Sorensen said he was sitting in his cabin Wednesday morning when he heard a cry. Going to his vessel's bridge he saw something in the water, and with the aid of his glass, he found it to be a small hatch, with a man in ollskins stretched full length on it. He steered for the man and rescued him almost exhausted and unable to speak. The Vidar had proceeded about a mile rendered very sick by drinking water cano carried a crew of twenty-two
