

HYPEROPIA

It is a condition of the human eye that when rays of light enter they are not brought to a focus soon enough to form the image on the retina clearly, an extra amount of nerve supply is necessary to increase the refractive apparatus of the eye in order to see better. This extra waste of nerve force is what causes seventy-five per cent of so-called diseases.

Medicine cannot cure Hyperopia. Consult an ophthalmologist; follow his advice, and nature will do the curing.

Dr. Marquardt, Ophthalmologist.

MILLINERY OPENINGS ARE HERE.

Womankind Have Treats This Week in the Starting of the Fall Hat Season.

Fashionable millinery will be more in vogue in Norfolk circles of femininity from now on than for several weeks past. The fall season, with its rich display of pretty things in the way of hats, has been started and hereafter the woman who has no new bonnet will watch the windows until she finds what she likes. Nor need she go away from home. Never have the lines exhibited in Norfolk been more attractive than styles brought on for the openings this week. The Inskeep store held its formal fall opening yesterday and a large crowd of womankind attended. Tomorrow the shop of Miss Bender and the Misses Durland will also receive for the starting of the season, and society folk of the town are expected to turn out. There are dozens of effective designs to select from, experienced trimmers and trimmers well known in Norfolk to aid the undecided, and stocks as complete as can be to choose the hat that is exactly right from.

Miss Porter is with Miss Bender for this season again; Miss Terry is again with the Inskeep firm and Miss Harris has returned to the Durland Sisters. All have been studying eastern styles through the summer.

FIGHTS OVER LAND LAWS.

Irrigation Congress Divided on Homestead and Desert Acts.

Ogden, Utah, Sept. 18.—That there will be a determined fight against any action by the National Irrigation congress favoring a repeal or modification of the existing land laws was made evident. The committee on resolutions, after practically an all day session, found itself hopelessly divided on two of the questions before it, the desert land act and the commutation clause of the homestead act, and majority and minority reports will be presented on the action recommended by the committee. The vote on these two questions was twelve for and nine against. The sentiment in favor of the repeal of the timber and stone act, under which the opinion was expressed that great frauds were being perpetrated against the government, was almost unanimous. Nevertheless on this, as well as on other recommendations, a sharp fight will be waged, with the outcome in doubt.

The fight for the honor of entertaining the National Irrigation congress in 1904 has been quite bitter. The situation seems to be El Paso against the field, with the field of unknown strength.

The committee on nominations will recommend the election of the following officers for the ensuing year:

President, W. A. Clark of Montana; first vice president, L. W. Shurtliff of Utah; second vice president, W. C. Johnston of Denver; third vice president, John Hall of Texas; secretary, H. B. Maxson of Reno, Nev.

There was no opposition to the election of Senator Clark as president of the congress and it is expected that the list of officers presented will be adopted by the convention by a unanimous vote.

Each of the six banks will receive $500,000. The amount of security to be given for the loan is $4,000,000.

SLOT MACHINES MUST GO

Little Wheels Will Make Their Bow to Norfolk.

WILL TAKE TO TALL TIMBER.

Within Five Days the Little Gambling Devices Must be Cleared From Counters in this City—Estimated that There are a Half Hundred.

All slot machines in Norfolk must go. Within five days every wheel of chance in the city must have taken to the tall timber and have buried its face from public view. After next Tuesday not one single nickle will be allowed to slip through a slot or play for a cigar.

This is the order given to Chief of Police Kane today by Mayor Hazen and this the announcement made by the chief to owners of slot machines in Norfolk. There are said to be probably a half hundred wheels in the city, playing for chips. They have been allowed to run for a long time but now they will make their final appearance.

Nothing in particular has brought the order from Mayor Hazen. He has been deliberating for some time upon the proposition and a number of citizens have expressed to him their opinion that the slot machine is a malicious form of gambling and ought not be allowed.

"It is because of the boys and the young men," said an officer, "that the machines are to be taken out. Here they learn how to gamble and that is not what we want."

The merchants who have maintained wheels have nothing to say about the proposition. They are generally pretty well satisfied, although, of course, the machines induced some patronage. The wheels play about even but the feature which makes them valuable is the fact that when a man starts to play one, he spends more than he otherwise might.

DR. FRANK OSBORNE HONORED.

Receives the Appointment of Physician at Beatrice Institute for the Feeble Minded.

The many friends of Dr. Frank Osborne, son of A. Osborne of this city, will be pleased to learn that he has received the appointment as physician at the Beatrice institute for the feeble minded. Dr. Osborne has been at Pierce since the first of June, where he took the practice of Dr. J. T. Pringle, the latter having been in New York during the summer taking a post-graduate course in a hospital school, and has made many friends, professionally and otherwise, during his stay in that city. Dr. Osborne is one of the rising young men of his profession, is a graduate of the state university medical department and also took an extended course in hospital work at Buffalo, N. Y., and Dr. A. Johnson, superintendent of the Beatrice institute, will not be disappointed in his selection for assistant. Dr. Osborne will visit over Sunday in this city with his parents and will leave for Beatrice Monday to take up his work.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUSES.

Meetings for the Various Wards Tonight to Select Delegates to County Convention.

The republicans of Norfolk will hold their ward caucuses tonight, all but that of the Fourth ward being called to meet at the city hall at 8 o'clock. The purpose of the meetings is to choose delegates to the county convention to be held at Battle Creek a week from Tuesday when county officers will be nominated. It is expected there will be some wire-pulling at the caucuses by the various candidates for county office and their friends and some contests may develop. There appears to be especial interest attached to the office of commissioner for which Norfolk has several candidates, each anxious to have the delegation favorable to their ambitions. Then the candidates for the other offices will be anxious that Norfolk should send a delegation to Battle Creek favorable to them, so that the caucuses held tonight will be scarcely second in importance to the county convention itself.

AN ELEGANT LODGE HOME.

Norfolk Odd Fellows are Completing the Work of Renovating and Repairing their Hall.

Norfolk lodge, No. 45, L. O. O. F., is just finishing up the work of thoroughly renovating and redecorating their hall, which has been done at an expense of several hundred dollars during the past few weeks, and they now have one of the prettiest and most comfortable lodge rooms in the state.

Chief among the improvements is the steel ceiling and the removal of the platform on which were placed the chairs for the members of the lodge meeting in the hall. The new ceiling is of late and artistic design and the removal of the platform gives the room a modern appearance and increased floor space that has heretofore been lacking.

The field of the ceiling is joined to the walls by a molded and curved border and the whole is painted in agreeable colors. New embossed paper adorns the side walls, the carpet has been thoroughly cleaned and the hall is now one of the prettiest to be found anywhere, particularly when the electric lights are lighted at night.
