FIFTY CARS OF MATERIAL.

Half Hundred Have Gone Into Federal Building.

FREIGHT BILL IS ENORMOUS.

Superintendent Williams Returns With More Laborers and Mechanics to do the Work—Walls Will be up Within Five Weeks.

Seventeen carloads of limestone and probably a half hundred carloads of material in all, have already been received at the federal building. Some of the heaviest portions of the building material have come all the way from Maine and the freight charges are something enormous. Several of the cars have exceeded the $100 mark for transportation, alone, and by the time the structure is finished a small fortune will have gone to the railroad companies through Norfolk's new United States court house.

A large quantity of stone has been coming in during the past few days and the brick work is going today. The delay in the work had a tendency to scatter the forces who were putting up the structure, and today, when Superintendent Williams arrives from Chicago, he will have with him several new laborers. There are now about fifteen men working on the building.

The walls will probably be finished within five or six weeks and then the men will get busy on the inside. The width of the walls is astonishing. Two men, abreast, can walk around the top of the wall without any trouble. The cornice pieces are beautiful bits of stone and will make a handsome appearance.

TWO EDITIONS EVERY DAY NOW.

Permanent 1 O'Clock Edition of News Was Started Wednesday for Outside Towns.

Norfolk now has practically two daily papers. Beginning with Wednesday The Daily News issued a 1 o'clock edition which will hereafter be a permanent feature. This is gotten out especially for the out of town subscribers, and will be sent out on all afternoon trains.

There are five different trains, running in as many directions, which leave the city shortly after noon. Two of them, the train for Bonesteel and the train west for Long Pine, carry morning papers. With the advantage of eight hours in location, therefore, The News can give subscribers a half day's later matter in the afternoon than they get in morning papers, besides all of the associated press news which appears in morning editions.

For the Bonesteel and Long Pine lines, this edition arrives alongside of the morning papers. For the line toward Sioux City, toward Omaha and toward Madison, The News, in its 1 o'clock edition, will give patrons practically the same matter which they get in afternoon Omaha or Sioux City papers which arrive late in the evening. As far east then as Fremont the news contained in this paper will be fresh news and the same news, telegraphically, from the outside world, which they get several hours later on so-called evening papers.

For every town in northeast Nebraska, The News will be without a rival as to matters of local interest. Norfolk is an exchange center for this entire section of the state in a telephonic way. Within a radius of several hundred miles in five directions, Norfolk is the hub of a great geographical wheel by virtue of those wire connections. On this account The News has an immense advantage over any other paper published and will be able to furnish telegraphic news throughout the entire section many hours ahead of other dailies.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

After a visit of a few days at the Tribune home, Mrs. Tina C. Baxter left Saturday for Sakatoon, Canada. She goes up there to look after her home and dispose of several hundred acres of land. Nearly two years ago Dr. and Mrs. Baxter moved to Canada from Petersburg, this state, but on account of the doctor's health they were obliged to return to Nebraska, leaving all the business affairs unsettled.—Winside Tribune.

Funeral of Hugo Lenser.

The Late Hugo Lenser, who died recently in the insane asylum at Hastings, was held from the family residence, Thirteenth street, this afternoon at 1 o'clock, and afterward from Christ Lutheran church, attended by a large number of relatives and friends. His sisters, Misses Hattie and Mattie, are here from Omaha, the former arriving yesterday noon and the latter in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Max Lenser came down from Tilden to attend the funeral. Mr. Lenser leaves a wife and two children.

STOLE 100 GOLD RINGS.

Chief of Police Kane is Looking For Two Tramps Who Made the Heavy Haul.

Chief of Police Kane is looking for a pair of thieves with about 100 gold rings in their pockets. The jewelry was stolen last Saturday night from Hastings Bros' store at Central City, Neb., and a letter to the chief has come inquiring for their whereabouts.

The robbers are described as two men who have the appearance of tramps. One wore dark clothes and the other light. They both looked lame. Among the stolen property are rings for men, women and children and it is thought that possibly the burglars may try to sell their goods or pawn them in some of the north Nebraska shops. A reward of $25 is offered for the capture.

COULD BREAK INTO THE JAIL.

Any Burglar who Happened Along Today Could Have Walked in Without Effort.

Any old tramp or thief or burglar could have come along this morning and broke into the city jail without half trying. He wouldn't even have had to pick the lock or file the bars. Everything was wide open, and that was just exactly the reason. The reason the jail was wide open was that not a law breaker has broken a law since last night and there were no arrests made by the police. Everything at the police headquarters was as quiet as a Sunday afternoon, and Judge Hayes had nothing to do. Justice Eiseley finds business dull today, also, and they are wondering why some one doesn't go out and get into trouble. Someone doesn't though, and Norfolk is peaceful.

SEQUEL TO STAIRCASE EPISODE.

The Family Overhead Had to Move out, and Workmen, Also.

An unfortunate accident occurred in the marble works of M. Stannard yesterday, which, following the breaking down of the stairway, compelled the family up-stairs to move in a hurry.

While boiling brimstone to cement a monument the kettle was upset in the fire and everyone in the entire building, including the workmen down stairs, had to move out.

"Two Married Men."

One of the greatest successes on the road for the last five seasons has been "Two Married Men," which is booked to appear at the Auditorium next Tuesday evening. It has been called by the dramatic critics of the larger cities the best farce that has ever been written, and so "Two Married Men" will probably be the best entertainment that will be provided by the local management this winter. It is filled with specialties by high salaried artists, and to miss "Two Married Men" is to miss the best laugh of the season.

Invitations Issued.
