

DITCH TO BE DUG AT ONCE.

Park Avenue Drainage Will be Opened Soon.

STREET COMMISSIONER'S PAY.

His Salary Was Raised by the Council, in the Hope That Someone Might be Kept in the Office—Shipley Has the Ditch to Dig.

From Tuesday's Daily. The ditch along Park avenue, running into the Norfolk river, will be dug. Norfolk, by means of it, will be drained. This is the decision of the city council and for this work a contract, without bond, has been made with C. E. Shipley.

A special meeting was held last night to consider the contract. One had been previously arranged, containing a clause which said that the contractor must give bond. Shipley stated that as he owned no real estate he was unable to find a company which would bond him, but he agreed to do all of the work and receive no pay until it was completed. Then the money was to be paid to the street and alley committee and they were to pay the bills for material, etc. What is left will go to Shipley.

The council agreed to this on a vote. Raise Street Commissioner's Pay. The salary of the street commissioner was raised by the council. He will hereafter receive $10 per month and in addition to that will get $1.50 per day for time actually at work. This is the result of an unavailing effort to keep a street commissioner, four having filled the office within the past summer.

TUESDAY TOPICS.

A. J. Dunlevy was here from Tilden yesterday.

Rev. J. J. Parker is here from Plainview, the guest of his son, Dr. C. S. Parker.

The players who put on "Two Married Men" arrived in Norfolk at noon from the east.

The funeral services for Mrs. Adam Kost will be held at the Sacred Heart church Wednesday morning at 9:30.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Baird of Grand Island are visiting friends in the city. Mr. Baird has only recently returned from a trip to California.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Kern went to Stanton today to attend the wedding of John Navis and Miss Cora Klug. The couple have both visited Norfolk.

J. W. Diekover, who is to start a new store in the Asmus building on October 1, arrived yesterday from Sioux City. He was accompanied by his brother.

The ladies of the Buelah chapter will meet socially Thursday evening of this week in honor of Mrs. Gardner, who is leaving for California. All members are earnestly requested to be present.

Dr. R. A. Mittelstadt returned last night from Silver Creek, where, in company with his brother, L. C. Mittelstadt, he had been duck hunting. They brought back half a hundred of the feathered, web-footed migrants.

L. L. Rembe, who has been ill for two weeks, is now down with typhoid fever and will be confined to his home for some time. His plumbing shop for the time being is closed and J. F. Lindsay has given up his position temporarily.

Clerk of the District Court Chr. Schavland led the Madison delegation into Norfolk yesterday and saw some of the politicians regarding his candidacy for treasurer. He went to Battle Creek today to look after his chances of getting on the ticket for the office.

Company L will leave about October 15 for Fort Riley. Orders received state that the boys will receive pay from the time they start for the camp until they return home to Norfolk, thus giving them wages for about twelve or fourteen days instead of ten—the length of the campaign.

It is a significant fact that every ministerial delegate to the general conference next year at Los Angeles, Cal., named at Fremont by the north Nebraska Methodists has held residence in Norfolk. In addition to this Norfolk was honored by the selection of Mayor M. C. Hazen as one of the lay delegates.

County Surveyor W. H. Lowe returned last night from Madison, where he has been doing surveying for farmers in the vicinity of the county seat. He states that farmers are growing somewhat particular about the lines with their acres crawling up around the $100 mark in value. With the increased prices of property and the transfers that have been made Mr. Lowe has been unusually busy this season.

Fred Krantz, living southwest of the city, is one farmer who is not given to worry over the outcome of the corn crop, and much of his farm is the bottomest of bottom land, too. Nevertheless, he has one field that has ripened thoroughly, producing excellent corn, and another later planting that will develop some nutritious feed. He expects to feed about ninety head of cattle, not counting hogs, and have some corn to market in the bargain.

While it is true that G. E. Moore has sold his home on North Tenth street to A. N. McGinnis of Warnerville precinct, it is not true that he will give up possession this fall, and Mr. Moore and family will continue to occupy the property until spring, thus giving Mr. Moore six months to cast about in the city for a residence which suits him better. If Mr. McGinnis moves to town this fall it will therefore be necessary for him to rent a temporary residence until he can secure possession of his new home. There was no intimation in the item yesterday that Mr. Moore was to leave Norfolk, and those who have been bidding him good-bye, are at the least, premature.

Business men who were pessimistic a few weeks ago, are now cheerful and happy. For some time the farmers have been so busy closing up their buying and their thrashing, that they have had no time to come to town to trade. Optimists were confident that it would be all right as soon as this work was done, but there are others who have endeavored to accredit the loss to any and every cause that could be brought to their minds, and considered it permanent. The past few days have supported the optimistic view of the situation. Trade is coming in nicely. The rush of the farmers is about over, and they have the money to spend and are spending it for the comforts and luxuries of life. The business was in the country but those having most of it have been too busy to deliver. And the more busy they were, the more business has accumulated for the merchants, who are now to reap their reward.

THE NEWS' MARKET REPORTS.
Figures of Interest to Farmers, Stock Men and Dealers Will be Given Each Day—The Latest.
The News has made arrangements whereby it will be able to give its readers the latest possible telegraphic market quotations from Omaha and Chicago that will be of immense advantage to farmers, stock men, and dealers in grain and live stock. It is a service that would cost individuals a large amount of money, but is given at no increase over the subscription rates of The News, and will appear in both the 1 o'clock and 5 o'clock editions. Those looking for desirable markets will thus be enabled to make or save many times the cost of a subscription on their deals.

The value of the service will be unquestioned by those who realize the true import of the enterprise. The fact that the morning quotations in Omaha and Chicago will be in the 1 o'clock edition and in the hands of readers as soon in the afternoon as it is possible for the trains to get them to the subscribers' homes should require no further advertisement to interest those who have only had the quotations of the preceding day, unless they have received them by telegraph.

Those farmers and stockmen who live on rural mail routes will have the advantage of this service.

It is in line with the progress made by the paper during the past year, and is certain to be appreciated by those who are up-to-date and desire the best service obtainable in the newspaper line. The quotations will be in the hands of the readers of the paper while they are fresh and valuable.

AUTUMN AND THE OLD MAN.

The Hand Organ Fiend, Who Has Made His Rounds, Returns.

Autumn is here. So is the old man with the hand organ, who, after having been out over the country through the summer, has been forced by the chilly days and frosty nights to seek shelter for the coming winter. On the streets today he was grinding away at the instrument, sending melancholy strains of ancient tunes out upon the unappreciative air.

The old man has a pitiful look upon his face this fall, as crouched and bent by his age and his work, he returns to a spot to hibernate until the warming months of spring.

The old man, as he sits out in the cold street thinly clad and shivering, reminds you of the mammoth picture which hung in the art gallery at the Trans-Mississippi exposition—the great, square painting entitled "Autumn," which brought an old, stoop-shouldered harpist home from the summer season—home to shelter and warmth, while the youth passed by, without heed. The old man's work was done, and he was returning, in the autumn time of his life, back to the place of rest and comfort and freedom from toil. And just so the old, old man who came back to Norfolk today with the hand organ, after having made his summer rounds, is driven away from the open by the elements that youth is able to bear.

FUNERAL AT OSMOND.

Nick Smith, a Popular Young Man of the Town, Buried Yesterday.

Osmond, Neb., Sept. 30.—Special to The News: The funeral of Nick Smith, a popular young man of this place was held yesterday, and was largely attended by his friends and neighbors.

Mr. Smith has been in Bristol for the past two months, and it was there that he was taken sick and died, the remains being brought home for interment. His fatal illness was appendicitis.

REPUBLICAN TICKET NAMED

Delegates Met at Battle Creek and Did Business.

SCHAVLAND FOR TREASURER.

Chief Fight Was on the Treasuryship, Though There Was Something of a Contest for Superintendent. All Precincts Represented.

Battle Creek, Neb., Sept. 29.—Special to The News: Republicans from all parts of Madison county flocked to Battle Creek this morning to attend the convention called to name the county ticket of the party, and from the time the first delegates began to arrive, until the meeting was called to order, there was a lively exchange of political opinions as to what the convention should do regarding the aspirations of the various candidates coming before it.

Aspirants for the various offices and their friends were on the ground early and were working to interest the delegates in their particular ambitions with more or less success. While there were not enough offices to go around, and there was, therefore, more than one candidate for most of the positions, there was an entire absence of bitterness in the pre-convention contest, and the evidence was there that whoever the convention chose would receive the united support of the party.

More than usual interest was taken in the meeting and more than the usual number of delegates were in their seats when at 1:45 o'clock Chairman Jack Koenigstein of the county central committee called the meeting to order. The call was read by Secretary S. R. McFarland, and immediately the business of the convention was taken up by naming a committee on credentials and the naming of the temporary officers.

Judge Isaac Powers of Norfolk was chosen as temporary chairman and S. R. McFarland of Norfolk as temporary secretary.

A committee on credentials was named as follows: James Clark, Highland; W. M. Rainbolt, Norfolk; Guy Deuel, Meadow Grove; F. P. Prince, Madison; T. T. McDonald, Tilden; M. L. Thomsen, Battle Creek; Smith Grant, Emerick. A short recess was taken to permit the committee an opportunity of preparing their report.

The committee on credentials reported all precincts represented, and all delegates present entitled to seats in the convention.

The main business of the convention, the naming of candidates for the county offices was next taken up. The fight of the convention was on the nomination for county treasurer.

Arthur P. Pilger, of Norfolk, the present deputy, sought advancement, and the position was also sought by Chr. Schavland, who has for a number of years served as clerk of the district court. The nominating ballot stood: Schavland, 81%; Pilger, 48%, and Schavland was declared the nominee of the party.

Sheriff J. J. Clements was renominated for the same position by acclamation.

C. F. Eiseley, for county judge, was also nominated by acclamation. For clerk of the district court, W. H. Field of Tilden was named by acclamation and without opposition.

For superintendent of public instruction there was also a contest. Wm. Dowling of Madison and Prof. Perdue of Tilden were before the convention for the office. On the first ballot, however, it developed that the contest was rather one way as Mr. Dowling received about three-fourths of the votes cast, and was declared the nominee.

The naming of a candidate for county clerk was deferred until the last. The delegates are enthusiastic, and with the disposal of the principal contests all were feeling cheerful.

For assessor there was a pretty contest between J. L. Rynearson of Madison and H. G. Bruggemann of Norfolk. The vote gave it to Rynearson by 75% to Bruggemann's 54%.

For coroner, Dr. H. L. Kindred of Meadow Grove received the nomination by acclamation. County Surveyor W. H. Lowe was renominated by acclamation.

For county commissioner, Second district, Geo. D. Smith of Norfolk was named without opposition. Joseph Curtis of Madison received the unanimous nomination of the convention for county clerk.

REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE.

Men Who Will Have Charge of the Campaign in Different Precincts.

At the republican county convention in Battle Creek Tuesday, no change was made in the county central committee, the same committee that was named at the first convention when delegates to the state convention were named, will act through the campaign.

The committee is as follows: Norfolk, First ward, W. H. Widaman. Norfolk, Second ward, S. R. McFarland. Norfolk, Third ward, Jack Koenigstein. Norfolk, Fourth ward, J. L. Hershiser. Norfolk, Outside, C. P. Byerly. Battle Creek, C. F. Montross.

Union, Claus Young. Warnerville, B. B. McGinnis. Jefferson, W. H. Field. Grove, John Christy. Madison, George Wyckoff. Emerick, W. W. Young. Madison, Outside, Ralph McGee. Kalamazoo, D. E. Martin. Shell Creek, C. A. Randall. Door Creek, John Crook. Green Garden, Jake Gableman. Schoolcraft, S. M. Dowling. Fairview, H. C. Haskins. Valley, F. H. Palmer. Highland, Henry Mossman. Meadow Grove, Will McDonald. The chairman of the committee is Jack Koenigstein and the secretary S. R. McFarland, both of Norfolk.

JUDGE BOYD MEETS COMMITTEE.

Candidate for Judge of This District is in the City, and Will Consult Members.

Judge J. F. Boyd and Court Reporter W. C. Powers of Neligh, arrived in Norfolk Wednesday morning from Center, Neb., where they have been during the past ten days attending a session of court. Judge Boyd, the republican candidate for the bench in this district, will meet with the judicial central committee in Norfolk Thursday night. At that time they will outline a plan for the campaign and attend to other details necessary. The prospects for re-election of Judge Boyd could not be better.

M. D. Tyler is chairman of the committee.

O'NEILL FAMILY ALL POISONED.

George Bowden, Wife and Four Children Get Arsenic in the Milk and Are Ill.

O'Neill, Neb., Sept. 30.—Special to The News: George Bowden, his wife and four grown children lie seriously ill at their home here at a result of being badly poisoned. Arsenic in the milk was the cause. There is no clue to the guilty party. They will recover.

STOLE A MARCH ON HIS FRIENDS.

Robert B. Johnson, Who Took a Brief Vacation, Returned With a Rife.

When Robert B. Johnson left Norfolk a week ago Monday morning for a brief vacation from his duties as a member of the Johnson Dry Goods company, his friends and even his relatives little knew that his vacation meant a wedding trip and that when he returned to Norfolk he would bring a bride with him. This, however, is just what Mr. Johnson has done and when a cab drew up at the home of O. J. Johnson on Koenigstein avenue yesterday noon, his friends began to realize quite thoroughly that he had stolen a march upon them for sure.

Leaving the city for a vacation, Mr. Johnson journeyed back to New Salem, Illinois, where as a physician he at one time practiced for more than a year. The day after his arrival, on Wednesday morning, September 23, the marriage of Miss Nellie Ingalsbe to Mr. Johnson took place.

A short wedding trip to Chicago preceded the traveling to Norfolk; and yesterday the couple arrived over the Northwestern. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Johnson was hard at work in his department at the big store and only a small minority of the comers-in appreciated what had taken place.

For the present Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will board.

Mr. Johnson is distinctly a Norfolk man, having made his home here for many years. After his graduation from medical college he practiced at Madison for a time, later establishing an office in this city. For a year after that he practiced at New Salem, where he met Miss Ingalsbe. Giving up his profession through choice, Mr. Johnson returned to Norfolk and has since been connected with the Johnson Dry Goods Goods company. His many friends here are glad to welcome Mr. Johnson as a married man, and his bride.

RUMOR IS WITHOUT FOUNDATION.

Frank Hepperly Was Not, as is Reported, Killed at Hartington Tuesday Afternoon.

[From Wednesday's Daily.] A rumor current in Norfolk to the effect that Frank Hepperly, a bridge man from this city, had been killed yesterday at Hartington, is absolutely groundless. A telephone message to Hartington showed that there was no foundation for any such story.

The start of the tale is probably traceable to the fact that two men in Hepperly's gang are said to have been killed in Dakota this summer. During the early part of the week a similar rumor was started, stating that a bridge man in Norfolk had been killed.

SUGAR BEET HARVEST ON.

Some Excellent Roots are Being Received at Factory.

WHEELS START NEXT MONDAY.

Everything is in Readiness to Grind the Beets into Granulated Sweetness When the Button is Touched. Ames Factory to Start Work.

[From Wednesday's Daily.] The harvest of sugar beets is on and some very excellent roots are being received at the factory north of the city. The crop will continue to come in by the wagonload and the carload, until, by the time set for the start of the machinery next Monday there will be immense heaps of the raw material on hand. Many of the beets are large and stocky, and the tonnage promises to be large, but the late rains and cloudy weather have served to retard the ripening process, so that much of the crop will not test high, but it is believed that the farmers will be at no loss as the increased tonnage will make up for the lack in quality.

Everything is in readiness at the factory for the start of the campaign, and a long and profitable run is anticipated. A number of the men employed for the work are already on duty, and the balance of the force will be expected to show up Monday to begin the season's work.

Ames Factory Starts Monday.

The sugar factory at Ames will begin the campaign next Monday, also, and the beets for the run are already coming in, 35 carloads being received there from North Platte Monday. The beets that the Ames factory is receiving from the western part of the state are of much better quality than those grown in the factory's immediate territory. The floods, the late rains, and other conditions have combined to almost ruin the crop in Dodge county, and both quality and tonnage are lacking. The highest expectations there are for two-thirds of a crop, and test at 12 to 13 per cent.

THURMAN WELL KNOWN HERE.

Horseman Who Died in Iowa Raced at Madison, Neligh and Stanton This Fall.

Isaac Thurman, whom the telegraphic dispatch stated had died suddenly in Iowa, was well known here, especially among the horsemen. He had his last race, Monona Parker, 2:29, in the races at Madison, Neligh and Stanton. He fell dead in her stall at Logan, Iowa, of heart disease. While at Madison he had a touch of the trouble that resulted in his death, but soon recovered.

Mr. Thurman's home was at Smithland, Iowa, where he owned about 1,500 acres of fine farm land and was otherwise very well fixed financially. Among his fine stock were eighty-seven head of standard bred horses, of which Monona Parker had made the best record.

AT THE THEATRE.

"Two Married Men" Drew a Crowded House Last Night.

"Two Married Men" drew a crowded house last night at the Auditorium and put on a list of specialties that kept most of the audience in place until the curtain fell. The show was a farce comedy which might have been better in several ways. Some of the specialties got a hand, but it was, for the most part, a rather chilly reception that the two married men found in Norfolk. They left on the morning train for Sioux City. The company is playing one night stands only.

The next attraction is the "American Hobo," which appears at the Auditorium Thursday night.

BONESTEEL INDIANS ARE HOME.

Baseball Team Which Made an Extensive Tour, Won 102 of 119 Games Played.

Bonesteel, S. D., Sept. 30.—Special to The News: Backus and Orlofsky, who started out from here the latter part of June with the American Indian baseball team, for a tour of eastern states, have returned. The last game of the season was played at Butte, Neb., resulting in a score of 16 to 4 in favor of the Indians. The team went as far east as Forest, O., and played a total of 119 games, out of which they won 102.

Bonesteel Breivites. Fire on the Rosebud reservation did an enormous amount of damage. It burned for almost a week and covered many miles of territory. Thousands of tons of hay and some stock were burned. Rain helped to quench it.

August Lenz Very Sick.

August Lenz, who lives two miles southeast of the city, and is well known throughout this section of the country, is not expected to live. He has been suffering from stomach trouble for some time, and is now very low. His case has puzzled the doctors and he has been practically given up to die. Recently he took a trip to Hot Springs, S. D., but received no permanent benefit therefrom. He is unable to take nourishment and is gradually wasting away.
