

BIG WEDDING AT NELIGH.

Popular Young Couple United In Congregational Church.

WHALEY-REMINGTON, NUPTIALS.

Interesting Ceremony and Splendid Decorations - Will Make Their Home at Columbus Where Groom is Engaged in the Hotel Business.

Neligh, Neb., Oct. 15.—Special to The News: Miss Bertha Remington of this city, daughter of M. C. Remington, and Prof. George H. Whaley of Columbus were married in the Congregational church last night at 8 o'clock, Rev. W. J. Turner of Norfolk officiating.

The church had been very beautifully and profusely decorated in green and pink which appeared very pleasing during the ceremony under the soft lights from the electric lamps. Miss Bess Gaasbeek of Atinsworth presided at the organ and the music was very sweet and appropriate. Mrs. O. A. Williams, wife of Attorney Williams, acted as matron of honor; Miss Bess Galloway of Omaha as bridesmaid, and Mr. Walter Romig of the Atlas bank of this city as groomsmen.

During the gathering of the guests at the church Misses Bernice Anderson, Goldie Relf, Daisy Winn and Claudia Getchell acted as ushers. The bride was becomingly gowned in white avelin cloth over silk; the maid of honor wore blue silk and the matron of honor wore her wedding gown of white brocade satin. The ushers wore white shirt waists, with black skirts and black ties. The gown of the organist was green, over silk.

After the ceremony the guests assembled with Mr. and Mrs. Whaley at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Rollins, where a reception was held and where the guests enjoyed themselves until summoned to the home of the bride where refreshments were served. Both of the homes were artistically decorated in white and yellow, with roses, carnations and chrysanthemums in rich profusion. Mr. and Mrs. Lehman and Mrs. Gray of Columbus, and Mrs. M. Remington of Syracuse were in attendance.

The bride is a graduate of the high school of this city, a graduate of the music conservatory of Gates academy, and has been a special student in the Anna Morgan school of Chicago. She is a charming lady, of very excellent disposition and talented both in music and elocution, while in her work in the Sunday school she was greatly beloved by those with whom she labored.

The groom is a graduate of the state university, was for some time superintendent of the Neligh schools and later went to Norfolk where he was principal of the high school for some time. He is now engaged in the hotel business at Columbus, being one of the proprietors of the Thurston house.

Educational Item. "Have you heard the latest educational item?" asked Biggs. "No," replied Wiggs. "What is it?" "They have just decided," said Biggs, "to rewrite the primer in words of five syllables for Boston children."—Smart Set.

Sandy Bottom. "Sandy Bottom" is said to be a play combining both pathos and comedy in that way which has so often been spoken of as that "the laughter chases away the tears." A play to enjoy lasting popularity must possess these qualifications or else fail to long interest a fickle public. It is necessary to touch the strings of the human heart. A simple, plain, truthful story. The drama will be presented here under the management of Hampton & Hopkins, who successfully piloted "Human Heaters" during its most successful money-making trips. It is promised that it will be given in a superb manner by a company of unusual excellence. "Sandy Bottom" will be the attraction of the Auditorium Friday night.

THE BANKRUPTCY LAW DISCUSSED

Extract From the Paper Read Before the Nebraska Bankers' Association at Lincoln.

N. A. Rainbolt, ex-president of the Norfolk National bank, read before the state bankers' meeting at Lincoln Wednesday afternoon a paper relating to the repeal or modification of the present bankruptcy law. He detailed the history of the law from its invention, and took a stand generally in opposition to legislation of that character. A quotation from his paper follows:

"If no one would take advantage of the law but those for whom it was intended there would be no opposition to it. But where one deserving seeks relief, five or more unworthy resort to its use. I examined the records of the ninety-four cases of bankruptcy in the district where I live. With twenty-one of the bankrupts I was personally acquainted of these twenty-one I found one worthy case, six unworthy or dishonest cases, nine doubtful and five farcical. Ninety-one of the cases had small dividend each, not exceeding ten per cent. In the two years ending September 30, 1902, there were in the United States 26,976 voluntary cases closed. Of these 5,869 had liabilities less than $5,000, and nearly one-half, or 12,984 cases, had no assets.

"Such an exhibit of the actual working of the law excites our contempt and disrespect for it. We feel ready, in an almost united chorus, to call for its repeal. Every man here past middle age, if he passes in mental review those he has known, who have had financial reverses, will find very few of the real worthy who have ever appealed to a court of bankruptcy. Men of the stamp of Wm. McKinley, S. V. White, Jay Cook, Sir Walter Scott and Mark Twain, when once overwhelmed with debts, did not sit down and whine, and then ask the law to relieve them of their just obligations. Just the opposite spirit that never knows defeat is what we want to dominate every man in this country. To discourage or lessen it, is to weaken us and to mark the beginning of our degeneracy. It is to the credit of our nation that the individual here depends upon his own efforts, assumes the responsibility of his own acts, and is willing to abide the consequences. This attribute has in no small measure caused us to forge ahead and to advance to our present high standing as a nation. Nor are we wanting in charity and benevolence. We need no law to protect the suffering and oppressed. Our public provisions, numerous charitable institutions and associations and spontaneous impulses of our people are abundant in that behalf.

The paper met with such general favor that a motion prevailed directing the appointment of a committee to draw up resolutions in harmony therewith, directed to the Nebraska congressmen and senators and that a copy of the address be sent to each member of congress.

PURSES GO TO POLICE.

Pugilists at Fremont do Not Get the Money.

THEY DO THINGS DIFFERENTLY.

At Carson City and San Francisco the Scrappers Get the Wad. But it is Not the Rule in the Nebraska Town—A Couple of Bouts.

Fistic bouts are not managed in Fremont as they are in San Francisco and Carson City. At those places the principals always receive a purse for fighting, and spectators pay a big price to see the match. In Fremont the sport is free, and the purse, which is made up by the pugilists themselves, goes to the police.

Elmer Corcoran and Tom Etherton fought two rounds at a late hour last night in front of Jens' livery stable at Military and Broad. The affair was insufficiently advertised and the attendance was rather small, but while the mill was going on it was lively enough.

Corcoran, however, seemed to have things all his own way. He reported of his victory to Police Judge Cook today and turned over $5.80 as the proceeds of the exhibition. Etherton was not called on to contribute, as he complained that Corcoran had violated the rules of the ring.

A one-round go-as-you-please affair, in which Gilbert McClintock, better known as "Rusty," used Jim Ainsworth as a tonor drum, was pulled off last night. "Rusty's" donation to the police fund for his part in this performance was equal to Corcoran's.—Fremont Tribune.

WINSIDE.

Chief of Police Smith and Mrs. Smith departed yesterday for Keota, Iowa, on a three weeks' stay. Frank Laase has taken Mr. Smith's place in the service.

Mrs. G. W. Jones and daughter, Mrs. Clark and children, drove over from their home north of Wayne and were guests at the Tracy home Saturday and Sunday.

P. Pryor received a telegram Tuesday telling him of the death of a brother at Waterloo, Iowa. Mr. Pryor and wife started Wednesday for there to attend the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Woolley of Hawthorn, Iowa, and Mr. and Mrs. Penney of Red Oak, Iowa, arrived in Winside Tuesday night for a visit with the W. H. Fisher family. Mr. and Mrs. Woolley are the parents of Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Penney is a sister.

The republicans of Winside met in County Attorney Siman's office Thursday night with F. S. Tracy as chairman and H. E. Siman as secretary. C. H. Fish and Walter Gaebler were nominated for justices and H. G. Smith and Hiram Ransey for constables. The republicans went on record in favor of a "non-partisan judiciary" by the nomination of Mr. Gaebler, whose true blue democracy is known to every man in the county.

On the front page of this paper, under the extra black lines, will be found today's late telegraphic matter.

Sale of Tickets for "Sandy Bottom."

The sale of tickets for "Sandy Bottom" which is to be presented at the auditorium Friday night, will be on at the drug store of Asa K. Leonard Friday morning at 8 o'clock, and those who are desirous of securing seats will do well to be there early to get their pick. This meritorious attraction has been presented in Norfolk before to an enthusiastic audience, but it is said that the company presenting it this season is better than ever, while the special scenic effects have been materially improved. The Auditorium should be packed to overflowing and those who attend will be amply repaid by the entertainment given.

ROUND THE WORLD.

A Wonderful Trans-Pacific Journey via the Northwestern Line.

In line with its well known policy of development of trans-Pacific travel, the Chicago & Northwestern railway is now organizing a personally conducted round-the-world tour, to leave Chicago in October, visiting Hawaii, Japan, China, the Straits settlements, Ceylon, India and Egypt, return via the usual European points of interest on the way home.

The party will be most admirably provided for enroute. The railway trip will be made on luxurious fast trains through the great Mississippi valley over "the only double track railway between Chicago and the Missouri river," and west via Denver and through the mountain wonderland of Colorado and Utah. The trip across the Pacific will be on one of the magnificent new Pacific Mail Co's steamers.

This trans-Pacific traffic has grown to such proportions that the service has been improved and elaborated until in many respects it is said to vie with that found on the finest trans-Atlantic greyhounds.

The trans-Pacific route is the coming highway over which American pleasure seekers will travel for rec-

A NORFOLK WOMAN IS HONORED.

Mrs. F. M. Sisson Was Chosen Delegate to Foreign Mission Convention.

Mrs. F. M. Sisson and Mrs. J. H. Oxman returned Wednesday evening from Central City, Neb., where they have been in attendance at the annual branch meeting of Topeka branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church. Mrs. Sisson had the honor of being chosen as one of two delegates whose duty it is to represent the branch at the meeting of the general executive committee of the society which convenes in Baltimore October 29. It is the duty of this executive committee to review the entire work in the several foreign fields, to make appropriations and to send out new missionaries.

Sandy Bottom.

Hampton & Hopkins' magnificent production of "Sandy Bottom" that comes to the Auditorium Friday, October 16, like the "Old Homestead" and "Sag Harbor," appeals to the general public tastes. It deals generally with life as it is among the sun-kissed hills of Arkansas, where the scenes are laid. There is no clap-tray or artificial element in the play. It is a mirror of human nature that is graphically pictured. Being a melodrama, of course there are exciting incidents, villainy and pathetic scenes but they are relieved by wholesome comedy, so the play possesses light and shadow in various forms. The company carry absolutely every piece of scenery used in the play.

The Ordeals of a Doctor.

It is often assumed by outsiders that having a profession deals a woman's sympathies, but I cannot believe that this is true in the practice of medicine where one side of the work is so unmercifully sad. I have seen a lady that came after fifteen years of waiting and hoping and was rejected, only to be struck down and gasp its life out in a day with pneumonia. These are the times when it hurts to be a doctor, to find that all the knowledge that you possess, all the skill at your command, is so much chaff before the wind. To have a woman cling to you, begging you to save her baby, is an ordeal to which no human being can grow callous. You must feel as though the brand of Cain were upon you when, with all your efforts, you cannot save the little life. Not years nor experience can lighten hours such as these.—Everybody's Magazine.

FUNERAL SERVICES.

W. A. King. After a brief funeral service conducted at the home, 1102 Nebraska avenue, by Rev. J. F. Poucher, the remains of W. A. King, who died Wednesday morning from dropsy, were taken to Scribner, the former home of the family.

August Lenz. Funeral services were held over the remains of August Lenz Thursday afternoon. The service at the home took place at 1:30 o'clock and the service at Christ Lutheran church shortly after. Rev. J. P. Mueller in charge. Interment was made in the new German cemetery north of the city.

Sore Toe Cause of Illness. Philadelphia, Oct. 15.—William L. Elkins, the millionaire traction owner, is seriously ill at his country home a few miles from Philadelphia. Mr. Elkins is suffering from organic troubles and worry has added to his unfavorable physical condition. It is also stated that Mr. Elkins' illness began with inflammation caused by a tight shoe irritating a corn on his toe. This trouble became so acute that it was feared the toe would have to be amputated.

Blind Swimmer's Straight Steering. It is a standing puzzle that all blind swimmers are able to hold an almost perfectly straight course for very considerable distances, though no more guidance is given to them than some specks of eel or whistle coming from the winning goal. A blind man, in fact, desiring to go in a straight line possesses the curious power of being able to do so almost exactly. A provincial mayor instituted a series of contests in an open lake between blind men and ordinary ones of about equal skill and strength, and the result was marvelous so far as the straight steering of the blind was concerned.—London Chronicle.

Moths and Butterflies. Butterflies are active in the day and fold their wings together when they settle. Their antennae end in clubs. The fore and hind wings never meet together. The chrysalis is angular and not enclosed in a cocoon or silken case. Moths, on the other hand, are usually active in the dusk or at night and do not fold their wings together on settling. The cocoon is very various in shape, but rarely clubbed. The fore and hind wings are generally fastened together during flight by a "hook and eye" arrangement. The chrysalis is not angular and is enclosed in some sort of case or cocoon.

THE WORD MELODRAMMA

It Has Drifted From Its Original and Original Significance.

Nowadays "melodrama" is in general use as denoting a purely sensational play, with an all but impossible hero, heroine and villain among the characters represented. Formerly the word kept more closely in its significance to actual derivation. "Melodrama" is compounded of the Greek words melos, a song, and drama, an action, a play and was applied to two sorts of performances when it first came into use.

It signified a play, generally of the romantic school, in which the dialogue was frequently relieved by music or sometimes of an incidental and some times of a purely dramatic character. On the strength of his "Pyramion" J. Rousseau is credited with the invention of this style. Some of the so-called English plays of the older school, such as the once famous "Bazaar Opera" and the once popular "No Song, No Supper" are in reality true melodramas.

In the second place "melodrama" was applied to a peculiar kind of theatrical composition in which the actor recited his part in an ordinary speaking voice while the orchestra played a more or less elaborate accompaniment appropriate to the situation and calculated to bring its salient features into the highest possible relief. The merit of the invention of this description of melodrama belongs to George Benda who used it with striking effect in his "Ariadne auf Naxos," produced at Götting in 1771. London Globe.
