OUR NEIGHBORS.

Superintendent Meagley of the Santee and Ponca Indians informs The Pioneer that a resurvey of both reservations has been authorized by the Indian department. It will not be a new survey in the sense of correcting errors, but rather the re-establishment of the original lines and corners under which the Indians located their lands. This may effect the status of the 80-rod jog controversy in Raymond township that has been a source of annoyance to the white settlers on the Ponca strip.—Niobrara Pioneer.

13,000 BAGS OF SUGAR.

Have Already Been Ground Through the Factory.

HAVE USED 6,500 TONS OF BEETS.

The Factory is Working at Rate of 400 Tons Every Day—Beets Test About 14 Per Cent, the Same as Last Year—Campaign Will be Good

With about 400 tons—eight million pounds—of vegetation in the shape of white sugar beet roots, grinding into the south end of the factory every twenty-four hours, the American Beet Sugar plant in Norfolk may be said to be going some this season.

The sheds at the factory, the long, spacious halls arranged for their reception, are filling up to the brim with the little bulbs of vegetation every day, and every day brings more of them than the one preceding. Trainload after trainload of sugar beets are coming into the yards from every direction and from every section of northeast Nebraska just now. The railroad tracks across Norfolk avenue, down town, are blocked almost constantly with the extra loads which the farmers have shipped to this city to be converted from raw material into the manufactured sweetness.

13,000 Bags So Far.

Having now run for just nineteen days straight, the knives have sliced up 6,500 tons of the agricultural product and from this just 13,000 bags of granulated whiteness have been ground.

Beets Testing Well.

The beets this year, despite the summer which was unfavorable for farming in many ways, are testing well. They are averaging about 14 per cent in sugar, practically the same as that of last year.

The campaign, according to the present outlook, will last about as long as that of a year ago, running into the end of the year.

INSPECTION OF RURAL ROUTES.

Mr. Fagerton Finds an Impassable Road on No. 4, But Patrons Will be Undisturbed.

Rural Route Inspector Fagerton, who has been in Norfolk during the week to inspect the sections covered by the service with a view to altering the plans in some respects, has returned to Omaha after driving over routes No. 2 and No. 4. Mr. Fagerton found on route No. 4 that there was in one place an impassable road and the direction of the carrier may possibly be altered so that he shall escape this.

"There will be no change," said Mr. Fagerton, "so far as the patrons are concerned and no one who is now getting the service will be cut off."

Mr. Fagerton found that the great majority of farmers appreciate the service and there were several who said they would rather give up $25 a year than to lose their daily mail.

Lambert-Howard.

At the home of the bride, 1217 Madison avenue, the marriage of George Lambert and Mrs. Lydia Howard took place Thursday morning. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. F. Poucher. The couple left at noon for Sioux City.

LOCAL LIMNINGS.

Express Agent Ray of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, will have temporary charge of the American Express company's business here during the absence of Mr. Haggard on his vacation.

The weather caught cold this morning, and the mercury in the thermometer has been declining steadily today, with promise of colder tonight. The barometer has attained the unusual high record of 30.24 which gives promise that the weather will remain fair and the weather clerk foretells that the mercury will again rise during Friday until it reaches the famous Indian summer position that is its steady average during the autumn months.

Grandfather Geo. D. Smith comes to town with evidence to disprove any imputation that there is a tendency to race suicide in his neighborhood, by the fact that a bouncing baby daughter was welcomed to the home of his son, William, northwest of the city, yesterday. He will have one additional constituent whose affairs he will need to supervise when he is promoted to the job of commissioner from the Second district but that is not giving him any cause for worry and does not subordinate the importance he feels over the event itself.

BUSY WEEK AT THE NEWS OFFICE

Election Ballots and the Nebraska Workman Come on, Together With Regular Run of Work.

The News begins this evening its annual work of getting out the election ballots for Madison county and several other counties in this section of the state. This is a huge task for an office with the facilities and equipment that The News has at its command and almost an impossible task for the average country office. After supper the linotype machine will begin casting the slugs for the work and the type will be rattled up a rate that would astonish five or six hand compositors. Then there is the press work, which is the most difficult part of the performance to a country office as few presses are large enough to do the work. The News force will be extra busy with the work during several days, and in the meantime will be called on to print a run or two of the Nebraska Workman besides caring for two daily issues and the weekly, not to mention the regular job work and ad. composition. It means a big lot of work, but the office is equipped to handle a lot of it without causing any of its patrons unusual delay. An idea of the week's work may be realized when it is understood that there are about 45,000 impressions on the ballot job, a run of 48,000 on the Workman, and 12,500 impressions on the daily and weekly, all work for the large cylinder presses, not to mention the thousands of impressions on the jobbers that will be made in turning out the commercial work of the office, which at this season of the year is brisk.

Wanted.—Man to work on ranch. A. J. Durland.

Grip Taken by Mistake.

Dr. C. A. McKim, who lost his case of instruments a few days ago on a train, explains that they were not stolen and that the grip was merely taken off the train by mistake. A telephone message fixed the matter all right as the man who had made the error was only anxious to locate the owner.
