TILDEN TO HAVE A MILL.

Local Capitalists Have Invested in an Industry That the Town Has Long Been After.

[From Tuesday's Daily.] For the past ten years one of the chief necessities in the way of local enterprise has been a flouring mill. Time and again the attempt has been made to interest outsiders as well as residents of the town in such a business institution. In 1897 a meeting of the business men of Tilden resulted in $1,000 being raised as a bonus to any person or firm who would put up a mill of moderate capacity and operate it for a year; but all to no purpose. The negotiations all fell through just short of coming to an agreement, and, until the last few days, the mill was apparently nothing but a remote possibility. The first intimation the general public received to the contrary was in the early part of the week when building material began to arrive in carload lots, consigned to Francis Corkle. Enquiries elicited the very satisfactory information that Frank and Will Corkle and Dan Dauphin have associated themselves in a business partnership, the object of which is to put up and operate a steam mill of not less than eighty barrel capacity, on the tract of land just north of the railroad track, which takes in a part of the baseball ground and extends to the west line of the town site. The Corkles acquired title to this realty some weeks ago but the use to which they intended to put it was kept a secret until they were ready to begin active work on their new venture. In addition to the mill an elevator will be built, and all will be fitted out with the most modern and perfect machinery imaginable. After the repeated and unsuccessful attempts to coax and buy men of means to invest their loose capital in such an enterprise, the completed arrangements for its realization by a few of our home men proved a very gratifying surprise to the whole town, and, to the farmers living in our tributary territory the news will be little less welcome. It is unnecessary for the Citizen to point out the direct advantages which will accrue to Tilden from this addition to its permanent business concerns. Added to these, the confident investment of so large an amount of capital by home men will have a tendency to attract other enterprises and the results are bound to prove both profitable and lasting.

Stickney Throws Down Gauntlet to Other Roads on Grain Traffic.

This applies to all grain shipped into Omaha from the west and allows a 9-cent rate on wheat and flour and an 8-cent rate on corn to Chicago, instead of 14 and 13 cents, as at present.

The Burlington was the only office which had received a notification of this cut. General Freight Agent Ives had a copy of the new tariff sheet on his desk. He said he could not yet announce what action his road or others would take, but that it was probable all would confer on the matter.

LAND FRAUDS ON THE COAST.

Ring with Headquarters in San Francisco Operates on Extensive Scale.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 22.—The government has unearthed a stupendous "land graft" ring that has been carrying on business in every well timbered area on the Pacific slope.

The ring has not only acquired "base" lands by dummies and other fraudulent means, but it has debauched state land officials, making them hirelings or partners in the business; it has maintained in the general land office at Washington agents whose duty it was to "leak" information about proposed reserves and other profitable matters and by use of money has influenced placing of reserves to its own interests. The central figures of the conspiracy resided in San Francisco. V. I. J. Burns, in the secret service, the treasury department, and A. B. Hugh, assistant attorney general in the interior department, were in Portland last week gathering evidence.

The medicals made gains of three and five yards and had just lined up for another effort when Lewis, right guard for the Baltimoreans, fell to the ground. His limbs immediately became rigid. CATARRH A COMMON COMPLAINT.

Catarrh begins with a stubborn cold in the head, inflammation or soreness of the membrane or lining of the nose, discharge of mucus matter, headache, neuralgia and difficult breathing, and even in this early stage is almost intolerable. But when the filthy secretions begin to drop back into the throat and stomach, and the blood becomes polluted and the system contaminated by the catarrhal poison, then the sufferer begins to realize what a disgusting and sickening disease Catarrh is. It affects the kidneys

I had a continual headache, my cheeks had grown purple, my nose was always stopped up, my breath had a sickening and disgusting odor, and I coughed incessantly. I heard of S. S. S. and commenced to use it and after taking several bottles I was cured and have never since had the slightest symptom of the disease. Miss MARY L. STORM, Northwest Cor 7th and Felix Sts., St. Joseph, Mo.

and stomach as well as other parts of the body. It is a constitutional disease and as inhaling mixtures, salves, ointments, etc., are never more than palliative or helpful, even in the beginning of Catarrh, what can you expect from such treatment when it becomes chronic and the whole system affected? Only such a remedy as S. S. S. can reach this obstinate, deep-seated disease and purge the blood of the catarrhal poison. S. S. S. purifies and builds up the diseased blood, and the inflamed membranes are healed and the excessive secretion of mucus ceases when new, rich blood is coming to the diseased parts, and a permanent cure is the result.

S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable and a reliable remedy for Catarrh in all stages. Write if in need of medical advice; this will cost you nothing.
