

AN INDIAN FULL OF LEAD

Carries Fifty No. 3 Shot in His Back and Hands.

SANTEES TANGLED IN A MIX-UP.

One Old Buck Lies at the Point of Death Because of a Row Over Cards. Another Has a Broken Rib and Sixty-Five Will go to Omaha Monday.

Niobrara, Neb., Nov. 14.—From a Staff Correspondent: With fifty No. 3 lead shots piercing both his hands and passing the center of his back, Smith Whipple, an Indian on the Santee reservation, lies at the point of death as a result of an all round row in which Moses Whipple opened fire. The trouble came over a game of cards at the reservation. Besides the terrible shooting of Smith Whipple, Garvin Whipple was almost beaten to death and is suffering from a broken rib and other serious wounds.

Had Been Drinking.

The Indians had been drinking and Amos Zimmerman was also arrested. Moses Whipple, the man who did the shooting, is in jail and will be taken to Omaha before the grand jury on Monday. Sixty-five Indians as witnesses will be taken, also, and they will occupy a special car.

Captain B. J. Young, chief of the Indian police, arrested the shooter, who is a cousin of Captain Young. U. S. Marshal Allen of Omaha was here and drove over to the reservation to learn the particulars.

Bids are to be Opened by the Government January 1.

Niobrara, Neb., Nov. 14.—From a Staff Correspondent: James Garvey is here taking depositions upon the land of deceased Indians. The land of Indians who have died on the Ponca and Santee agencies is to be sold by the government to the highest bidder. For the purpose of certifying to death, Mr. Garvey has come and a number of the Indians were here yesterday to give testimony.

There is some good land in the lot and some lively scrambles are already on for the choicest acres. Bids are sent to the government and will be opened January 1.

NEW NIOBRARA BRIDGE.

Four Spans are About Finished but Work May be Delayed for Material.

Niobrara, Neb., Nov. 14.—From a Staff Correspondent: The new bridge over the Niobrara river six miles from here is fast nearing completion under Foreman T. W. Trowbridge's supervision. Already three 68-foot spans are done and a fourth will be finished the first of next week. After that it is thought that material will delay for some time.

Niobrara Notes.

The new brick yard here is now turning out first class pressed blocks of clay and at a fast rate. All new machinery has been put in and it is thought there is a good field for the output.

The mill here is running full force, turned by the power from Niobrara's very superior artesian well. Twenty-five hundred gallons of water turn out every minute.

The Niobrara Valley bank has just moved into its handsome new building on Main street. This is a beautiful structure, two stories high, and made of fine face brick. The furniture is as handsome as anything in north Nebraska.

TYPHOID FEVER AT PILGER

August Wagner Dies and Three Other Members of the Family are Sick. Another Case in Town.

Pilger, Nov. 14.—Special to The News: August Wagner, a highly respected young man 20 years of age, died Thursday night of typhoid fever, after an illness of three weeks. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock from the Methodist church and interment will be in the Pilger cemetery. Three others of the family, who live in the eastern part of town, a sister and two brothers, are prostrated with the same disease. The father died several years ago and August has been the main support of the family. They own the mill but it has not been operated for some time, and he has been working at what he could get to do.

Chas. Rowe is also sick with typhoid fever, and has been for two weeks.

EAGLE KILLED.

Mart Melia Kills a Large Grey Eagle Saturday Night.

Last Saturday while Mart Melia and a few friends were out hunting coons on the island west of Gretna, Mart saw a large bird perched on a tree which he thought was a large hoot owl. He shot at it and brought it to the ground. But what was his surprise to find that it was a large grey eagle. He brought the bird to town Saturday and its wings measured seven feet and one-fourth inch from tip to tip. The eagle is a bird very rarely seen in this part of Nebraska. We believe this one that Mr. Melia killed is the first ever killed in Sarpy county. The bird was not torn at all by the shot and is an elegant specimen of the national eagle.

Patsy McDonald purchased it and has sent it to Omaha to a taxidermist where it will be mounted. Residents of the Platte and Elkhorn bottoms say that they have noticed a pair of these huge birds for several days flying down there and it is presumed that the one Mr. Melia shot was one of these. Mart has the honor of being the first man to ever kill an eagle in Western Sarpy. They also got a large fat coon that same night. The bottom seems to be proficient in all kinds of game this year. A few months ago a large animal resembling a panther was seen down the river and now this eagle. It is said that the hunters of the Yellowstone Gun club, who are camped on an island west of town are keeping a sharp lookout for the mate of the dead eagle, and will try to get it. But we believe that Mr. Melia can rest easy, for the laurels will not be taken from him in a long time, if ever.—Gretna Breeze.

KANSAS HAS BACKED DOWN

Game Will be Played Saturday With Bender and Wilson on the Team. Affidavits Sent.

Lincoln, Nov. 13.—The university of Nebraska and Kansas have settled their differences growing out of the protesting by the Jawhawkers of Bender and Wilson, Nebraska players, and the football elevens representing the two institutions will meet on the gridiron at Lawrence.

This happy conclusion to the controversy was reached after it seemed almost certain that disagreement might lead to a permanent rupture of athletic relations.

Nebraska's final decision was telephoned to the Kansas board which was that the two Nebraska players charged with professionalism had refuted the allegation in affidavits and that Kansas should withdraw the protest if the game was to be played.

The board at Lincoln received the following message from Lawrence: "Under the circumstances we waive objections to playing Bender and Wilson, but still request the affidavits." In response Nebraska wired as follows:

"Will come. Affidavits on way."

The Nebraska board has issued a statement of the dispute, and hoping for amicable athletic relations in the future.

THANKSGIVING TURKEYS HIGH

With the Holiday Two Weeks Away the Birds are Now Selling at Twenty Cents a Pound.

Omaha, Nov. 16.—Judging from present indications the Thanksgiving turkey is going to cost a little more this year than ever before.

Although it is yet a little early in the season to judge accurately, local commission men say that all reports indicate a decided shortage in the supply. A few turkeys are coming in, but not in sufficient quantities to lower prices.

With the exception of last season, which was a high year for turkeys, the birds in the past have usually sold for about 12 cents per pound alive, or 16 cents per pound dressed. Last year the supply was short and prices went as high as 18 cents for the Thanksgiving trade.

This year, with Thanksgiving almost two weeks off, turkeys are already retailing at 20 cents a pound. While prices usually increase as Thanksgiving approaches, yet local commission men are of the opinion that the present price is so prohibitive that it will reduce the demand to such an extent that prices will not advance to more than 22 cents at the most.

KANSAS-NEBRASKA GAME IS ON

Protesting Jayhawkers Endeavoring to Take Honors from the Cornhuskers Otherwise than Bluff.

Lawrence, Kas., Nov. 14.—Special to The News: The Kansas-Nebraska football game is on this afternoon before the largest crowd ever before assembled on the home grounds to watch a contest of football.

The Nebraska team and the crowd that accompanied it were given a noisy demonstration by the Kansas people and there is every indication that the battle will be hard fought and interesting.

The Crackle You Hear Is the Sign They are Fresh

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

TOLD BY THE TRAVELERS

They All Call B. W. Jonas a Wizard For Fair.

A GOOD STORY FROM BUTTE

How a Man Named Allen and His Bride, Who Were in Butte From Anoka, Were Bothered by the Cruel People at the Oxford Hotel.

[From Monday's Daily.] "That man Jonas," said a commercial traveler of Lincoln who came in from the north and Sunday in Norfolk, "is about the best ever in his line of business. He's the fellow who stands at the general delivery window at the postoffice and he is certainly a wonder. He has a reputation all along the line with the boys and if he isn't just the best there is in the state I don't want a cent."

"Three weeks ago I came into Norfolk for the first time. I called at the window and got three letters. Then I went away and he didn't see me again until today. I walked into the office, followed the long line into place and finally got up to the window. Without a minute's hesitation Mr. Jonas called me by name and said, 'Here are two letters for you.' He had never seen me in his life but once. It had been three weeks in the meantime and thousands of other strangers had passed that window. I had heard of him on the road among the boys, but I really didn't take much stock in their stories."

"The boys tell me that he will pass through a hotel corridor and will spot every man in the room by his right name—even men whom he has never seen but once and that in the rush that is always on at the general delivery department. Why in towns out in the country I have to tell them my name every single week and that man is a wizard if there ever was one."

One On the Groom.

A. H. Winder, a well known traveler out of Norfolk who sells shoes, brings a good story from Butte, Neb. Last week, on Friday night, there was a newly married couple up at Butte. Allen was the groom's name and that was the bride's name too, a matter of fact, Mr. and Mrs. Allen were up from Anoka and had come to Butte on their honeymoon. They stopped at the Oxford hotel, during the supper time some of the boys in the corridor thought of a scheme and stole the wedding license which Mr. and Mrs. Allen had carefully rolled up and put among their luggage. A blank paper was substituted. Allen, by the way, had forgotten to register when he came in. Along about midnight—and the night was cold—one of the travelers who was waiting to take the bus for Anoka, was unanimously elected night clerk and it appeared to be clearly his duty to go up and find out the man's name so that he might be accurately registered on the book. Allen wanted to know if he'd have to register that night. "That is the rule of the house," said the newly appointed night clerk, "and besides there is some question as to your marriage license." So Allen came down in the cold, cold air and registered. Then he went to produce his license and drew a blank. His face turned pale and he knew not what to do until the joke was explained and it was called one on the new married man.

LITTLE GIRL BURNED TO DEATH

She Was Playing With Matches and Her Clothing Caught Fire With Fatal Results.

Tobias, Neb., Nov. 13.—Special to The News: A little girl by the name of Elde was playing with matches this morning, when one of them was ignited, her clothing caught fire and she was so badly burned that she died shortly after.

No Wonder He is Insane.

A writer in the Port England Mirror, a newspaper published by lunatics in an asylum located at Grahamstown, South Africa, gives the following reasons for his detention: "I met a young widow with a grown step-daughter and the widow married me. Then my father, who was a widower, met my step-daughter and married her. That made my wife the mother-in-law of her father-in-law, and made my step-daughter my mother and my father my stepson. Then my step-mother the step-daughter of my wife, had a son. That boy was, of course, my brother, because he was my father's son. He was also the son of my wife's step-daughter and, therefore, her grandson. That made me grandfather to my step-mother. Then my wife had a son. My mother-in-law, the step-sister of my son, is also his grandmother, because he is her step-son's child. My father is the brother-in-law of my child, because his step-sister is my wife. I am the brother of my own son, who is also the child of my step-grandmother. I am my mother's brother-in-law, my wife is my own child's aunt, my son is my father's nephew, and I am my own grandfather."

BURGLARS AT VERDIGRE

Havlicek & Gross' Store Robbed of $600.

BLOOD HOUNDS ON THE TRAIL.

Robbers Traced to the Peyton Ranch, Southwest of Verdigre—Sheriff Joins the Trailers This Morning at 9 O'clock and Will Help in Search.

Creighton, Neb., Nov. 16.—Special to The News: Burglars broke into the general merchandise store of Havlicek & Gross at Verdigre about 2 o'clock Sunday morning and carried off a lot of valuable goods of the firm. An early estimate of the loss made by the company is that not less than $600 worth of silks and other valuable goods were taken from their shelves.

The Oakland bloodhounds were telegraphed for as soon as the robbery was discovered and they arrived with their trainer yesterday and were at once placed on the trail. The track of the robbers was followed as far as the Peyton ranch, southwest of Verdigre last night and there the trail was rested up.

Deputy Sheriff John L. Burns, who was elected sheriff at the last election, was summoned and left Creighton at an early hour this morning, expecting to join the posse at the Peyton ranch at 9 o'clock, when the search will be continued and it is hoped to have the thieves apprehended before night.

JOHNNIE BENDER WON THE DAY

Magnificent Work of Nebraska's Captain Saved Defeat and Won Victory at Lawrence.

Lincoln, Nov. 16.—Johnnie Bender and his cornhuskers were given a warm greeting when they arrived home from Kansas and the student body received them with open arms. Captain Bender is distinctively the hero of the university today for it was he who won Saturday's game against the old time enemy—Kansas. The line plunging and the yards gained stand in the Jayhawkers' favor but Captain Bender saved the day and once more the Nebraska boys return with a no-score victory.

At one time Kansas had the ball on the two-yard line and only by a marvelous brace was the goal kept clear. Bender caught a Kansan who had dashed for sixty yards down the field and who, it seemed, had an inevitable touchdown before him. With a flying tackle the husky little Nebraskan nailed the runner and saved the day. Again on a trick play, when the game was nearly done, Bender dashed through the mass of players and made a wonderful run, scoring for his team. Perry of Norfolk alternated at right tackle with Robertson.

A Little Loss

of strength and flesh, little barking, obstinate cough and a little pain in the chest may not mean galloping consumption, but they are signs that prudence will not neglect. A few doses of Allen's Lung Balsam cause a free discharge of mucus and so loosens the cough. It heals the inflamed air passages and all its work is accomplished without a grain of opium.

People Believe in It.

It has been cynically said that anything can be sold by advertising nowadays. This is not so. Many liniments have been advertised but only one—Perry Davis' Painkiller—has stood the test of sixty years' use. Today its popularity is greater than ever and is based not upon what anybody says but upon what the remedy does. There is but one painkiller, Perry Davis'.
