

A. J. DURLAND TO LEAVE

He Will Shortly Move Business to Omaha.

TO SELL ALL CITY PROPERTY

A Novel Scheme Has Been Devised for the Disposing of City Lots and Acres Valued at Over $50,000. Will be April 22 and 23.

[From Saturday's Daily.] A. J. Durland, one of the pioneers in public enterprise for Norfolk, has determined to leave the city and will shortly remove his business interests to Omaha. He goes because of the fact that in Omaha, situated as it is upon the main line of transit between the two coasts, he will have greater opportunities for the transaction of his business.

Before leaving Mr. Durland intends to dispose of his Norfolk city property. A novel scheme has been selected for the disposal of these lots and acres at public sale.

Norfolk has never known and perhaps Nebraska for the matter of that, a sale of city lots and acres of such enormous bulk as this which Mr. Durland is now planning for Norfolk on April 22 and 23.

This sale is to begin at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of April 22 and within less than two days property worth $50,000 will pass from the ownership of Mr. Durland to that of the purchasers. Col. F. M. Wood, the well known live stock auctioneer, will be here to conduct the sale.

Every lot is to be separately sold. During those two days it is anticipated that there will be things doing in the world of real estate. There will be wagons to haul the prospective purchasers about from one lot to another and there will be a brass band to let the people know what is going on.

Most of the property is located in the heart of The Heights, a beautiful residence portion of the city on the south. Just south of Pasewalk avenue a new addition has been recently opened by Mr. Durland and here there will also be sales.

In the departure of Mr. Durland, Norfolk will lose a progressive and enterprising citizen. The Durland Trust office will remain in Norfolk for a time, for perhaps a year and perhaps five years.

It is expected that for this big sale, which is unique enough in its manner of conducting, hundreds of strangers will be in from outside of Norfolk and that many who contemplate building in the not distant future will take advantage of the splendid opportunity offered for the securing of valuable and really very choice residence locations at perhaps unheard of prices. Besides those who buy to build there will also undoubtedly be a number of buyers for the sake of investment.

FRIDAY FACTS.

Virgil Horton of Stanton was in the city yesterday.

J. D. Hale of Sturgis, S. D., was in the city yesterday.

Ed. Kuntzmar was an over night visitor from Humphrey.

F. L. Estabrook shipped two cars of eggs east this week.

W. C. Brandon was a city visitor over night from Niobrara.

Roofing at the new government building goes merrily on.

Mrs. Edward Tanner was in the city from Battle Creek yesterday.

Mrs. F. W. Jenal of Bloomfield is visiting with her mother, Mrs. Maas.

Miss Nina Walker has gone to Columbus to attend the teachers' convention.

C. S. Smith and J. N. Duncan were county seat visitors in Norfolk yesterday.

Miss Nell Craig of Neligh and Miss Leap of Meadow Grove spent last night with friends in this city.

Grand Master Workman Jaskalek, of the A. O. U. W. of Nebraska, was in Norfolk today on a trip through the northern part of the state.

Mrs. C. E. Burnham and daughter, Miss Burnham, came down from Tilden yesterday and attended Gilmore's performance with Mr. Burnham.

Miss Opal Olmstead of Wayne visited with her father, W. M. Olmstead of the Sturgeon Music company yesterday.

Norfolk is not all bad yet—there is one woman in town who actually doesn't know what Hearst's Chicago American looks like.

Lealand Spaulding is in the city from Philadelphia. "It is the only town in America," says he, "where a man has been run over by a horse."

A number of gardeners who are after an early crop are already planting their potatoes. Some onions, radishes and other early garden truck have also been planted.

Gilt Wright, formerly of this city but now an actor with "The Devil's Lane" company, is in the city for a short visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wright.

The champion pool game at the Trocadero tomorrow promises to draw crowds of cue experts from the city and country. Ben Wellbaum will arrive from Battle on the early train.

Mrs. Sweet of Creighton, state president of the W. R. C., visited with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sturgeon yesterday, on her way home from Beatrice where she had been attending the state encampment of the order.

James Gaughn of Bonestell, S. D., was in Norfolk on business and incidentally making purchases here that he used to make in Omaha. He is a hardware merchant at the North-western terminal station.

The teachers of northern Nebraska are leaving Columbus today on their homeward journey and many of them will pass through Norfolk tonight. They have had a good session and will return to their homes ready for better work during the closing months of the year.

The grip seems to be still prevalent in Norfolk. There are a very large number of people who have been suffering from the distressing and yet not at all serious ailment for several weeks. There are no cases of contagious disease in the city, but the grip is holding a few of them for a little while at least.

J. C. Reed is moving into his newly acquired residence property on South Eighth street, which he had purchased of M. Enders. The moving is being done during the absence of Mrs. Reed in Washington state, where she has been called by the sickness of her father. Mr. Enders has moved into the house just west of the old foundry site until such time as he can get the new residence he is to build ready for occupancy.

MADISON SCHOOLS WIN THE PIANO

In Contest With Lodges the School Children Take the Prize.

Telephoning from Madison this morning, Dr. F. A. Long conveys the news that the public schools of that city have won in the contest for the piano that has been offered by the merchants of that city for the organization showing the most votes at the end of the contest, which finished last evening.

The schools had 2,400 more votes than their closest competitors, which were the lodges that meet in the K. P. hall. A large total of votes was cast, and the pupils, teachers and others interested in the schools are jubilant over the outcome. Last week the lodges were almost 4,000 votes to the good, but the schools had accumulated a large number of votes that were placed to their credit before the close of the contest, and they will have the benefit of the handsome instrument offered by the merchants of the county seat.

LARGELY ATTENDED MEETINGS

At the Women's Meeting the Number of Converts Grew to 381.

That woman's meeting yesterday afternoon was a remarkable gathering, not only in respect to numbers, for it was perhaps the largest assembly of women the town has ever seen or ever will see, but in respect to the interest taken. The evangelist took for his text: "She hath done what she could" and at the conclusion of his address a large number came to the front, swelling the number of converts to 381. It was a never-to-be forgotten afternoon.

Last night the evangelist spoke on the prodigal son and his touching pictures of home life and the breaking of home ties were pathetic and when he spoke of the prodigal's return, of the father putting on the son the robe that he used to wear, the audience was moved to tears. Tonight the subject will be "The Closed Door."

BUSY WITH STOCK SHIPMENTS

Feeders are Hurrying Stock to Market Because of High Grain Prices.

The Northwestern is still having a big run of stock from Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming to the markets of the east. One day this week nine extra trains passed through the city enroute to market carrying only cattle, sheep and hogs. This is not the regular season for stock shipments, the rush taking place in the fall when cattle are in off the ranges, but the run this spring is unusually large and is composed of the animals that have been in the feed yards during the winter and are in fine condition for the fancy market. The high prices of feed has influenced the farmers and feeders to get rid of as much of their stock as possible and it is probable that the rush will continue until all but stock animals are cleared from the farms and ranches. After the rush is over it is to be expected that the market price of stock will rise, as it is not probable that it will continue at the present low figure with the prices of grain at such a high point.

Eight of the trains that passed through the other day were double headers and a total of 175 carloads were included in the nine extras.

The Illinois Horse Co. can supply 60 pedigreed draft stallions; 30 of them imported; 6 breeds—Percheron, French Draft, English Shire, Belgian Clyde; 5 colors—black, brown, bay, roan, gray; rich blood, extra shire breeders 2 to 5 years old. Some will make 2400 pound horses. Easy payments. The general manager will be in Sioux City for a week. 22 Balton block. Permanent address, Des Moines, Iowa.

The busy season for the painters and paper hangers has arrived and the prospects are that there will be more of this work than ever done this season. Numerous homes and store buildings will be improved by the application of new paint and interior decorations.

The work on the Norfolk telephone system is still in progress, but is now largely outside work on the lines and changes in the poles. Many of the poles and anchors used in the old

DEATH OF A PIONEER

August Raasch Passes Away at the Age of Eighty-Eight.

LIVED HERE THIRTY-SIX YEARS

A Member of the Wisconsin Colony of Germans Who Converted Fertile Valleys into Profitable Farms in This Vicinity is Dead.

[From Saturday's Daily.] In the death of August Raasch last evening at the home of his son, Henry, just north of the sugar factory, another of the few remaining German colonists who came to this section of the state from Wisconsin in the year 1868 has passed away, and there are now but a few members of the first colony settlement remaining.

Mr. Raasch was eighty-eight years of age, and it was this that was responsible for his death, the limit of life's span having been reached. Mrs. Raasch preceded him but a few months, having been buried on New Year's day, but eight grown sons and daughters with families of their own are left to mourn his loss.

The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock from the house and at 2 o'clock from the St. Paul Lutheran church of which Mr. Raasch was a member. Rev. Mr. Hoelzel, pastor of the church will have charge of the services. Interment will be in the cemetery adjoining the St. Paul church northwest of the city.

The sons who survive are August, Herman, John and Henry Raasch, all well known and substantial men of this vicinity. The daughters are Mrs. Fred Haase, Mrs. Julius Marquardt, Mrs. Mary Jansen and Mrs. Ed. Feil, all but Mrs. Jansen making their homes in this vicinity. Mrs. Jansen lives at Sioux City.

Mr. Raasch, being among the first to create from the fertile wilderness of the Northfork valley a profitable farm home, was among those who have been able to profit by the change and he leaves his family well provided for. He leaves a large number of friends among the pioneers of the locality and is favorably known to many of the people of Norfolk who have followed in the wake of the early colonists. His funeral will undoubtedly be largely attended Sunday afternoon.

SATURDAY SIFTINGS.

Joe Daniels was in the city yesterday from Madison.

C. H. Bright of Wayne was a Norfolk visitor yesterday.

A. K. Barnes is at home from Lincoln to spend his vacation.

J. A. Robbins was an over-night visitor in the city from Lyons.

Miss Helen Bridge is home from Lincoln to spend her university Easter vacation.

Ernest Bridge has accepted a position in the office of Gow Bros. and began his duties today.

Mrs. Simon Mayer is in the city from Lincoln, visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sol. G. Mayer.

If the weather continues as it is it will be stylish to wear new spring gowns and bonnets in suit cases and band boxes.

Miss Buela Demmer of Creighton was in the city on her way home from Columbus where she had been attending the teachers' meeting.

The minimum temperature registered at eighteen degrees last night and the prospects now are for a day or two of warmer weather again.

Judge J. F. Boyd and Court Reporter Powers were in the city today on their way home to Neligh, having been in attendance on the session of district court just closed at Madison.

Fred J. Kelly, superintendent of schools at Cedar Rapids, is in the city, the guest of his former classmate, Principal R. C. Powers of the Norfolk schools.

W. L. Nies, A. M. Clark, Miss Mable Wallace, Abigail Manning and Emma Schwerin were Wayne county teachers who were in Norfolk on their way home from Columbus.

W. F. Richardson of Carroll, the newly elected treasurer of the North Nebraska Teachers association, was among those who spent a short time in Norfolk on their way home from Columbus.

Unless the weather warms pretty rapidly between now and tomorrow it is probable that some of the Easter gowns and bonnets will not be permitted to show themselves for a week or two longer.

Jack Hale of Bedford, S. D., a brother of Battle Creek's prominent citizen and a well known legislator of South Dakota, was in Norfolk last night, returning home from the democratic state convention at Sioux Falls.

The busy season for the painters and paper hangers has arrived and the prospects are that there will be more of this work than ever done this season. Numerous homes and store buildings will be improved by the application of new paint and interior decorations.

The work on the Norfolk telephone system is still in progress, but is now largely outside work on the lines and changes in the poles. Many of the poles and anchors used in the old system are being removed and a large number of the old wires that are now included in the cables have been taken down so that the appearance of the lines on the streets is more compact.

A company of horse dealers from Chicago are in the city looking for business. They have a covered wagon conveniently arranged and bring with them a number of animals. Those composing the company are S. Nietz, John Buch, P. Shorns and H. Stehr. They have undoubtedly been attracted to this territory by the handsome stock that is in the possession of the farmers and the ranch men.

Norfolk, with other towns of the state, is probably to have pure vinegar in the future, and the people will be gratified to know that they are to have the real fruit vinegar, rather than that made from grains and acids. State Chemist Walker has been here, and at this place and several other towns in this section of the state ninety barrels of vinegar were rejected, not because of any deleterious matter it contained but because the labels were misleading. Mr. Thompson is now of the opinion that he has won out in the fight with the jobbers and manufacturers and that hereafter none but pure vinegar will be sold in the state, and if it is made of acids and other compounds it will be so labeled.

CARTER H. HARRISON HERE

The Mayor of Chicago Passes Through Norfolk Tonight.

GOES WEST TO SHOOT DUCKS

Following in the Footsteps of That Other Leader, Grover the Gunner, the Official Head of Chicago is After the Oily Feathered Birds.

[From Saturday's Daily.] Norfolk seems to be peculiarly struck with noteworthy people just at present and to cap the climax which was begun by Bixby, Maupin and Paul Gilmore, Mayor Carter H. Harrison is westward bound for a hunting trip. Following in the footsteps of Grover the gunner, the official head of Chicago is going out into the western part of Nebraska where the oily-feathered birds grow in bunches to be shot at. The season opens on April 1 and that's one reason why Carter H. is getting thus early into the game. What game he may get is a matter to bet upon.

Good Friday.

Good Friday has not been a generally observed holiday in Norfolk, and except for those who went to the special services at the churches there was little to indicate that this was one of the most important days on the church calendar. None of the business houses were closed in observance of the day. Perhaps the largest observance given the day was at the office of Edwards, Wood & Co., where there was little doing, owing to the fact that the city grain exchanges were observing the day. The grain exchanges will likewise observe Saturday by remaining closed.

Silenced the Noise.

During the performance of the "Mummy and the Humming Bird" at the Auditorium Thursday a considerable improvement was shown in the matter of keeping things quiet in the back end of the house. The ushers paid particular attention to silencing late comers and keeping the entrance in better order. People were not seated during the acts, and it was possible to hear the actors at all times during the performance. It was an improvement that was appreciated by those who go to hear what is being said from the stage.

NEW SERIES OF POSTAGE STAMPS

Postmaster Hays Receives Notice of Commemoration Lot.

Postmaster Hays has received notice that a special series of postage stamps will be issued commemorative of the Louisiana purchase of 1803, to be known as the commemorative series of 1903, the issue to begin April 21. They will be for sale to the public during the St. Louis exposition, from April 30 to December 1, 1904, but may not be sold before or after that time.

The one-cent stamp, green, bears the portrait of Robert Livingston, United States minister to France when conditions were negotiating for the Louisiana purchase.

The two-cent stamp, red, bears that of Thomas Jefferson, who was president when the purchase was made.

James Monroe, special ambassador to France at that time is represented on the three-cent stamp, which is purple.

The blue five-cent stamp has the picture of William McKinley, the president who approved the actions of congress connecting the United States government with the commemorative exposition.

The ten-cent, brown stamp, bears a map of the United States during the territory of the Louisiana purchase.

These stamps are not to take the place of the regular stamp, but are to be sold to those who wish to buy them during the term of the St. Louis fair.

TEACHERS CHOOSE NORFOLK

North Nebraska Association Meets Here Next Year.

MISS OTELIA PILGER ELECTED

Norfolk Young Woman is Honored With Position of Secretary for Ensuing Term—Fremont Wanted the Next Meeting But Norfolk Won.

Columbus, Neb., April 1.—Special to The News: After a spirited contest between Norfolk and Fremont for the next annual meeting of the Northern Nebraska Teachers' association which closed here this afternoon, Norfolk came out with flying colors and the school ma'ams of this section will convene in the gateway to the new northwest next spring.

Officers for the following year were elected late today as follows: President, Superintendent McLean of South Omaha.

Vice president, Superintendent Leed of Dixon county.

Secretary, Miss Otelia Pilger of Norfolk.

Treasurer, Principal Richardson of Carroll.

Blacksmith Adds a Trip Hammer.

August Pasewalk, the blacksmith, is installing a new trip hammer and engine in his shop on North Third street. The machine is a late improvement for the handling of heavy work and will be an important addition to Mr. Pasewalk's facilities for turning out work. It is similar to a steam hammer, only that the steam power is not attached directly but is conveyed from an engine that may be employed in the other work of the shop.

IT WOULD ADVERTISE NORFOLK

If There Were Souvenir Postal Cards From This City.

Norfolk, Neb., April 2.—Editor News: In every hamlet of Europe and in nearly every city in the eastern and middle states, souvenir postal cards can be obtained, but Norfolk stationers do not seem to appreciate the advertising the city would receive from such a source. We have several striking objects for illustrations, e. g., the sugar factory, government building, asylum and the falls at the dam when the water is moderately high.

MONDAY MENTION.

Fremont is to enter the base ball C. S. Hayes went to Stanton on business.

Guy W. Barnes was in the city over Sunday from Tilden.

U. S. Commissioner J. D. Keller and Brannan inspector Ed Blake of Bonestell were in Norfolk on Sunday, season with a city league of five teams.

New couplings are being placed on the fire hose of the city and it is hoped that the condition of the hose will be better than ever before when the time comes that it may be needed.

Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Dexter, who arrived from Lowell, Mass., today, will remain in Norfolk for several weeks. They will have a suite at the home of Mrs. Davenport, North Ninth street.

The worry of the man whose wife insists upon cleaning house at least once or twice a year has commenced and during the next month or two he will be fortunate to go home and find the interior arrangement of his house in order.

Lealand Spaulding has taken charge of the pool hall in the Eble building and will open it under the name of the Eagle Pool Room. He expects to make improvements and conduct a temperance resort for billiards and pool players that will be attractive.

Yesterday was the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. George Stapenhorst and also the birthday of Mrs. Stapenhorst. A large number of friends spent the evening with them at their home, corner Fourth street and Phillips avenue, and made it a very enjoyable Easter night.

Police Judge Hayes has carefully estimated the business that has passed through his office during the past month and finds that the city treasury was benefited to the extent of just eleven dollars and forty cents. He is of the unqualified opinion that Norfolk's goodness and sobriety is not exactly profitable to the city, nor to the police court or its officers. It may be beneficial in a way but certainly not regarding the revenue derived from violators of the laws and ordinances.

A Columbia bicycle belonging to N. A. Huse was stolen during Saturday night and ridden from Eleventh to Seventh streets. It was found yesterday in the Mittelstaedt lumber yard where it had been thrown when the rider found a tire punctured.

The marriage of George Eble and Miss Blanche Hill took place yesterday at the home of the bride's mother on South Fourth street. The young couple are well known in Norfolk, having made this their home for many years. They will build a new house and continue to reside here.
