

BULLETS FOR JACK SULLY

NOW CARRIES TWO IN HIS SIDE. SHOT BY DETECTIVE.

BROKE JAIL AT MINNEAPOLIS

The Leader of the Gang, Captured at Verdigré and Escaped, Jailed at Mitchell and Out. Disappeared to Canada and Back.

Jack Sully, the notorious leader of the gang of cattle rustlers up on the Rosebud reservation, is not unknown altogether to Norfolk people and some interesting facts about his career and character are afforded by W. A. Hensel of this city. It was only three weeks ago that Mr. Hensel talked with Sully up at Naper and the veteran cattle rustler, a man of sixty years, was at that time suffering intense pain from two bullet holes in his right side, which he had received in Minneapolis from the revolver of a jail detective when the Rosebud rustler was making a hurried getaway.

That escape from prison in Minneapolis occurred just about six weeks ago now. Sully had been taken there on his return from Canada. One story has reported it that Sully has been in Kansas all of this time but as a matter of fact he has really been up in Canada and it was on his return that he was captured in Minnesota and jailed, pending the action of Mitchell, S. D., authorities.

Caught at Verdigré.

Sully was first caught at Verdigré. There he was jailed for rustling cattle. He broke jail and was later found on the reservation, where he was arrested and taken to Mitchell. From the Mitchell jail he broke out on the night of the sheriff's death and at a cost of $1,500, it was estimated. He went to Canada and it was on his return that the officers got him in Minneapolis.

"It was just three weeks ago today," said the old time rustler to Mr. Hensel, "that I broke jail at Minneapolis. There was an Elks carnival on and they had lined us all up in the corridor because there were so many drunks. When they started to take the drunks down to police court, I and my nephew made a break and ran. A detective named Foley saw us and ran. We got across the street and he shot. Two of the bullets landed in my side, here"—and the old man showed the ugly holes in his flesh—"but we were just quick enough to catch an outgoing train. We then bumped our way back and here I am in Naper."

As he told this story, a little under the influence of liquor, Sully warmed up to his boasting. He was then going under the name of Smith. Asked as to how he liked Canada, he replied:

"Oh, I like it pretty well. Not so much competition in my business."

He has begun to show the signs of his hard life and is breaking down all over. He at that time had a very short beard. Sully has been at the head of the gang that has done so much work for years and is now on his last legs.

HERRINGS AT WEST POINT.

Men Arrested in Fight at Naper are Now in Cuming County.

The three Herring brothers who were arrested at Naper have had their trial at St. Paul, this state, on the charge of mule stealing. One of them is still in and the other two came up to West Point yesterday noon, where they got off the train.

It is not thought they robbed the Bank of Naper and President Crosby, who was robbed, is reported to have gone on their bond. Other parties are suspected and arrests may come shortly.

A number of Naper people have gone out to the stone house during the past week to look at the little rock den.

May weather took a queer turn this morning and sought to change conditions with a chilly drizzle of rain from the northeast. The moisture is acceptable, but the coolness of the temperature was not spoken for with any unanimous expression by the people who have been warm in their commendations of the May way of doing the weather up to this point.

Mrs. C. W. Braasch.

The funeral of Mrs. C. W. Braasch will be held from the home, 309 South Fifth street, Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. J. C. S. Wells of Trinity Episcopal church, will have charge of the service.

Mary L. Hoelme was born at a small hamlet near Berlin, Germany, July 18, 1851. Here her early childhood was spent until she came to America with her parents, who settled in Wisconsin and later moved to Omaha. Three years they lived in Omaha, coming to this section at the end of that time. On March 22, 1870, she was married to C. W. Braasch and together they have lived in Norfolk for thirty-five years. For a number of years they dwelled upon the property now known as the Geiger farm, east of the city and have lived for twenty-two years at the home on South Fifth street.

Her husband, C. W. Braasch, and three of her children, W. R. Braasch, R. L. Braasch and Miss Gertrude Braasch, survive their mother. Because of illness in the family, Mrs. Braasch had spent the greater part of her time in her own home of late years, taking great interest in her home life at all times.

For two days previous to her acute illness, she had been suffering intensely but in no wise complaining, it was Saturday morning, very early, before it was learned that she was ill at all. With all haste an operation was performed that day, for appendicitis and gall stones. During Sunday she rallied somewhat but her strength waned on Monday and at 2:20 o'clock that day she passed away.

Interment will be in Prospect Hill cemetery.

UNCLE BILLY PRINGLE BACK

OLDEST TINNER IN AMERICA. NOW ORGAN GRINDER.

LACKS TWO YEARS OF BEING 100

Born in 1806, Living Through Four of His Country's Wars, He Came to Antelope Forty Years Ago and Has Reappeared With Spring.

With but two more years to live in order to make him a centenarian, his snow white hair blowing in the breezes of Nebraska, his frail old figure resisting the slings and arrows of an outrageous fortune and his hands turning away from morning until night at the cranks of his companion organ, "Uncle" Billy Pringle, the quaint old tinner who has hibernated at Creighton, is again upon the streets of Norfolk, manufacturing strains of familiar airs and incidentally making a little living for himself.

"Uncle" Billy Pringle is the oldest tinner in America and enjoys a reputation in the United States and Canada among his craft. He was born in 1806 and can tell queer tales of the wars through which this nation has passed. He was a lad just old enough to enter the kindergarten when the war of 1812 broke out, but he wasn't in school for they didn't have kindergartens in those days.

He saw the war with Mexico, the war with the southland, the war with Spain and now, so nearly 100 years afterward, he is watching the war in the eastern seas and incidentally making the war of the winds in his native state.

He worked at his trade in Chicago during the rebellion came to Antelope county just forty years ago—over then a man of almost sixty years and grey haired—later went to Creighton and there ruined his eyesight. Working on the Bruce building he went practically blind and now he turns a hand organ.

Last fall when the wintry winds drove him, trembling, from the streets, he picked up his instrument and went indoors. With the warming days of springtime he has reappeared, as happy as ever, to do his work.

BURNS KILL LITTLE GIRL

ADA DAHLBURG, LIVING NEAR NEWMAN GROVE.

DRESS CAUGHT FLAME IN FIELD

Distracted Parent Rushes to the Rescue, But it Too Late to Save the Little Daughter's Life—Brought to Newman Grove for Care.

Ada, the 5-year-old daughter of John Dahlsburg, a farmer residing eight miles west of Newman Grove, was so terribly burned from a stubble fire on the prairie that she died from her injuries a few hours thereafter.

The father of the child was plowing in a field near his home and had run a furrow and ignited the stubble on one side. Little Ada, who was playing nearby, came too near the burning stubble and her dress was ignited by the flames and quickly burned from her body.

Mr. Dahlsburg was at the other end of the field and, hearing the child's cries of terror and pain, he rushed as fast as possible to her rescue, but upon reaching her side he found that her clothing was burned from her body and she was suffering from fearful wounds.

Temporary dressings were applied at Dahlsburg home and the little one was hurried to Newman Grove and placed in charge of Dr. Frink, but although the physician applied every known remedy to alleviate her terrible suffering she passed away inside of an hour after reaching there. The father of the little girl is distracted with grief.

THE DEATH OF FRANK O'SHEA

Member of Well Known Madison County Family Succumbs to Long Illness.

Frank O'Shea, a well known and wealthy resident of Newman Grove, died in this city this morning of uraemic poisoning. He was taken here a week ago from Council Bluffs for medical treatment and for a time improved but grew worse yesterday. He was taken back four months ago and went to a hospital in Council Bluffs but failing to derive any benefit came to Norfolk. While perfectly rational when the fever was down he would become delirious with the advent of the fever and suffered greatly. His family are prominent in Madison county, having come here in the early days of its settlement. Thomas was postmaster at Madison during Cleveland's last term. Ed served two terms as county treasurer and Peter was a revenue gauger under President Cleveland. Another brother, John, is in business in Humphrey, and a sister lives in Madison. He is also survived by his father.

The Practice of Medicine Becoming Specialized

The Physicians of the Large Cities the First to Adopt it and There are Now Many Throughout the Country.

Specialism is the idea of the day. Not that every physician can be a specialist, nor would it be justifiable in every doctor becoming one, but there are advantages that can be derived only by a special practice which is applicable to certain communities even though the physician himself is not a bona fide resident of that immediate vicinity. Small towns and the country are the principal communities in which a specialist could scarcely prosper, but as practiced by some specialists, that of going from one city to another, making his visits and seeing his patients at regular appointed intervals, one can derive advantages far superior to those received in many instances by a visit to the cities.

We cite, for instance, that of Dr. Caldwell, a specialist of Chicago, who is and has been making regular visits to our community for the last two years. Dr. Caldwell came well recommended and has succeeded in establishing a practice far beyond her expectations. She has made many cures and has succeeded in building up a reputation and practice among those whom she has cured that would be hard to get away from her. Dr. Caldwell is a lady from the new school. Her experience and training have been gained by many years of practice and the treatment of a vast number of cases. She confines herself to the treatment of chronic, lingering and deep seated ailments. She pretends to cure only such diseases as she has had sufficient experience in handling, and does not go into that class of incurable diseases which in many cases are useless to bother with.

As a result of long experience, Dr. Caldwell is thoroughly familiar with her specialties. In the treatment of cancer, consumption, heart disease, nervousness and female diseases, there are very few specialists better qualified than Dr. Caldwell. Some of her cures seem almost like miracles. People from far and near consult her as she makes these regular visits and she is always busy from the time she arrives until the time of her departure. It is claimed by Dr. Caldwell's friends that she can diagnose a disease without a question. This being the case, she is not likely to doctor her patient for the wrong ailment, which is many times done by physicians of inexperience. Dr. Caldwell does not treat typhoid fever, whooping cough, measles, and those acute diseases which the local home physician is called upon to treat. It is not her desire to antagonize nor to take from the home physician that part of the business which really belongs to him. Many times Dr. Caldwell is in consultation with the home physician and the kindest of feelings should exist between them.

Dr. Caldwell is charitable. In many instances where people are devoid of funds to pay for their services she charges in such cases for the medicine only and no person, no matter how humble, has she ever turned away without seeking to give them relief.

By permission we are pleased to publish a few of the cures she has made throughout the state of Nebraska:

Mrs. Oscar Lange, Tekamah, Neb., cured of stomach trouble and female trouble of long standing.

Mrs. Maloney, West Humphrey, Neb., cured of nervous trouble, kidney and liver trouble, and female weakness.

Mrs. John Connelly, Akron, Neb., cured of cancer, had been healed by a number of doctors, without any benefit, cured with five injections.
