LANDS WILL GET IN COURT

WILL BE LITIGATION OVER HOME-STEADS FOR YEARS.

PREFERENTIAL RIGHT DOES IT

Where There are Eight Homestead ers Adjacent to One Piece of Land, What Hapens to Jones When the Bunch all File on That Section?

Arthur E. Mullen, county afformey of Holt county, was in Norfolk today from O'Neill on legal business. Regarding the opening of the Kinkaid land and the filling at the land office in O'Nell), Mr. Mullon said:

"There will be unlimited lithration over the flitnes on the land. The preferential right, mentioned in yes On motion the board adjourned till terday's News report from O'Neill is seing to be the cause of untold not ups in the end and many a man won't know whether he owns a form o doesn't. The right to file within thir y days is given to any homesteader the lives adjoining a piece of this government land. There's the start: What Happens to Jones?

"In the first place, many a man will file on land which will be taken away from him within the thirty days by the homesteader with his preferential right. Then another feature arises Adjoining a section of government land, it is possible to find eight different homesteaders. Which one is going to have preference when it comes to taking that section? Some The police force of Norfolk has say that the oldest homesteader gets been increased, on account of the it. Younger homesteaders deny that. large number of suspicious charac And there's the rub. The courts will ters who are passing every day be filled, no doubt, for many years to through this city enroute to Bone-come, with cases which shall arise from this clause

Letter Rights.

"Then there's another matter. The government provides that a letter mailed to the land office shall have to file. That is to say, if I mail a letter from Norfolk at noon today and it gets to O'Neill at 4 o'clock this afternoon, it gets preference over the man who comes in at 4 o'clock.

"This is causing no end of trouble ta, Kansas, and says his wife is in too. A man may be No. 100 in line. No. 50 has a piece of land spotted he wired to A. B.
