

A CASE OF FREEZE OUT

HOW A YOUNG MAN WAS CURED OF AN AMBITION.

COUNT VON RAHDEN TELLS IT.

The Creighton Hotel Man at One Time Wanted to be a Knight of the Iron Horse. But the Ambition was Cooled in a Single Day.

Count Von Rahden, the genial landlord of the Creighton hotel, tells a pretty good one on himself. When he came to this country he admits that he was somewhat green. In the course of his career he landed in Grand Island and went to work as clerk in the Palmer house. That work did not particularly suit him and he determined to go to railroad. Every time the superintendent came to Grand Island he struck him for a job, and finally the superintendent told him that the next time he had a vacancy he would let him know. One day the count received a message from the superintendent to report in Council Bluffs, prepared to go to breaking on a freight train. He lost no time in getting to Council Bluffs and soon found the conductor with whom he was to work. The conductor looked him over critically as though sizing up his capacity, and then guffly said:

"Young man, you may go up on top."

Up on top the young man went, and though the thermometer was down to 20 degrees below zero, he managed to stick it out until the train had reached Fremont. Then he clambered down the side of the car more dead than alive with the cold and commenced to warm his chilled bones by the caboose fire. Pretty soon the conductor came in and discovered him and asked him what he was doing there. The count explained that he did not come dressed to withstand such weather cruelly, and that he would freeze if he were obliged to ride further on top of the freight car. The only sympathy he received from the conductor was:

"Well, next time you will know enough to dress warmer. Go on top!"

This time the count succeeded in remaining on top until Columbus was reached, when he decided to make another appeal for warmth. The conductor was ready for him when he came down and ordered him to go back on penalty of losing his job. Although he was chilled to the marrow, the count clambered back and stuck to it until the train reached Silver Creek. Then as boldly as he could with his limbs having all the appearance and sensation of having been through the cold storage process, he came down from the car, walked deliberately into the caboose and sat down by the fire. Before the conductor had time to remonstrate with him he defiantly said to that august gentleman: "You may go to — with your old railroad. I'm a braker out of a job. Put me off at Grand Island and back to the hashery I go."

It was done and the next morning he appeared behind the desk of the hotel as smiling as ever to the traveling people who came to stop with him.

A long time afterward he found out that the whole transaction was a put up job, in which he firmly believed the superintendent was more or less implicated, to make him sick of railroad.

It worked.

THURSDAY TIDINGS.

Mrs. C. E. Hartford is on the sick list.

There are two more days of the Bonesteel rush and there are a number with an ambition for a chance at the homesteads who have delayed things until the last and will hurry through to get in during the remaining days. A number of crowded extras have been going up today over the Northwestern and the final rush will be tomorrow and Saturday.

More cement walks are being laid about the high school building on South Sixth street, preparatory to the opening of the school year in September.

The city has been doing something toward getting the weed forests off of public property, but there are a number of private holders who have not yet risen to the needs of the season.

Jupiter Pluvius resumed work at the old stand early this morning and the prospects are that he is bent on keeping the thing going until the ground is again thoroughly soaked and the ponds and ditches full. Farmers say that some rain will benefit rather than damage the growing crops, but for the sake of the oats and wheat crop it should not continue very long or do the thing to an excess.

Yesterday morning the residence of Martin Heinsohn, who lives nine miles northwest of North Bend, was struck by lightning. The bolt struck the chimney and tore out the whole west end of the house, doing damage of about $250. Singularly none of the inmates of the house were seriously injured. Willard Siders and Hayes Haverfield, two North Bend decorators who were at work there, occupied a bed together. They were covered with debris but were unhurt, except a slight burn on the cheek of one of them. A year ago the house was struck in precisely the same manner.

Road Notice.

To all whom it may concern: The commissioner appointed to locate a road commencing at the southeast corner of Sec. 33-21-2 running west on county line between Madison and Platte counties to the southwest corner of Sec. 32-21-2 west of the sixth P. M., has reported in favor of the establishment thereof and all objections thereto, or claims for damages must be filed in the county clerk's office on or before noon of the 29th day of July 1904, or such road will be established without reference thereto.

County Clerk.

TAKE FISH AND SEINE

DEPUTY GAME WARDEN RAINEY MAKES ARREST.

TRIAL HELD HERE MONDAY

Sid Cox, Wm. Clasey and Kyl Anderson of Battle Creek, Charged With Violating the Game Laws of Nebraska by Seining Fish.

Battle Creek, Neb., July 21.—Special to The News: Deputy Game Warden Jacob A. Rainey of Norfolk, was here fishing Tuesday afternoon, and as he is always very lucky this time he caught 141 fish and also a 120-foot sein, which were in the possession of Sid Cox, Wm. Clasey and Kyl Anderson.

All four of them went before Judge Newkirk to 'straighten' things out, especially the net, which Warden Rainey had afterward burned on the street. Among the 141 fish there were not many game fish. About four-fifths of them were soft ones.

A trial over this affair will be held on the third of next month at Norfolk, when County Attorney Mapes will be present.

Two Bottles Cured Him.

"I was troubled with kidney complaint for about two years," writes A. H. Davis, of Mt. Sterling, Ia., "but two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure effected a permanent cure."

Kiesau Drug Co.

No False Claims.

The proprietors of Foley's Honey and Tar do not advertise this as a "sure cure for consumption." They do not claim it will cure this dread complaint in advanced cases, but do positively assert that it will cure in the earlier stages and never fails to give comfort and relief in the worst cases. Foley's Honey and Tar is without doubt the greatest throat and lung remedy. Refuse substitutes.

Weak Hearts

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, the stomach expands—swells, and puffs up against the heart. This crowds the heart and shortens the breath. Rapid heart beats and heart disease is the final result. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat, takes the strain off the heart, cures indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Sold by Asa K. Leonard.

Piles Upon Top of Piles.

Piles upon top of piles of people have the piles, and DeWitt's Witch Hazel salve cures them. There are many different kinds of piles, but if you get the genuine and original Witch Hazel salve made by E. C. DeWitt & Co., of Chicago, a cure is certain. H. A. Tisdale, of Summerton, S. C., says, "I had piles 29 years and DeWitt's salve cured me after everything else had failed." Sold by Asa K. Leonard.

DO NOT HOLD INQUEST

DECIDE THAT INJURIES TO HANS PETERS WERE ACCIDENTAL.

BODY TAKEN TO GRETNA BY SON

Coroner Kindred and County Attorney Mapes Interview Eye Witnesses and Decide That a Formal Inquiry into the Accident is Not Needed.

After an investigation into the cause of the death of Hans Peters, the Gretna man, who received fatal injuries at the Northwestern depot Monday night and died Tuesday morning at the Salter sanitarium it was decided that an inquest would not be necessary. Coroner Kindred of Meadow Grove, County Attorney Burt Mapes and other officers interviewed a number of eye witnesses to the accident and the testimony was conclusive that the fatal injuries received were purely the result of accident.

A son of the dead man arrived in the city Tuesday night and took the body back with him on a special train bound for the east. The funeral will probably be held today.

James A. Wood.

The funeral of the late James A. Wood, who died July 5 at Waukesha, Wis., will take place tomorrow afternoon. Mr. Wood was born in Franklin county, Pennsylvania, March 23, 1846. He witnessed the battle of Gettysburg from his father's farm, and soon after enlisted in Company K, Twenty-third Pennsylvania volunteer cavalry. He served to the end of the war. For over twenty years Mr. Wood was a member of the Morrey Mercantile company. He was a stockholder and director, and retired a few years ago. At one time he was secretary of the Wholesale Grocers' association, and later was in charge of the sales of the beet sugar industries of Colorado. He was universally honored and respected by his business and social acquaintances. The funeral, which will be held under Masonic auspices, will be from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. A. W. Hoffman, 624 East Twelfth avenue. Dr. Vosburgh, pastor of the First Baptist church, will officiate.—Denver Daily News.

James A. Wood was a brother of Editor Wood of the Pilot.—Bonesteel Pilot.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE

Will cure any case of Kidney or Bladder disease that is not beyond the reach of medicine.

GIVEN UP TO DIE. R. Spiegel, 1204 N. Virginia St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over four years I was troubled with a kidney and bladder affection. First I was and was unable to work. Three physicians failed to help me and I was given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured."

STATE OF NEBRASKA, ss.
COUNTY OF MADISON,

I, Christopher Schavland, County Treasurer in and for Madison county, Nebraska, do solemnly swear that the foregoing is a true and correct statement of the receipts and disbursements of my
