

THE BURIAL OF AULTMAN

FATHER IN BOSTON RAISES A ROW OVER REMAINS.

HE IS CARED FOR BY COUNTY

The Young Crook Who Was Killed in This City, Buried at the County Poor Farm, After Series of Telegraphic Battles—Father Claims.

"Boston, Aug. 6.—Send my murdered son to Boston immediately. Have no money. Don't dare cut him at your peril.—Sam Aultman."

"Norfolk.—As you object college, refuse money transportation, buried this morning poor farm by county.—Dr. P. H. Salter."

That tells the story of the disposition of the body of Louis Aultman, the young crook who was killed by Officer Pilger in Norfolk and whose body, pending definite instructions, has been held until today for burial.

In the above telegram, S. Aultman of Boston admits for the first time any relationship whatever to the young thug who was killed here while trying to escape the officer.

The burial of the man brings an end to a series of telegraphic battles between the authorities in Norfolk and the father of the dead thief. S. Aultman, 53 Leverett street, Boston, has insisted that the remains be shipped to him at the expense of Norfolk. He has no money, he says, for transportation. He was informed that in case he did not send money, the remains would be sent to a medical college, according to law. This was before the senior Aultman admitted a relationship and thus claimed the body.

THE OMAHA EXCURSIONISTS

WERE ENTERTAINED IN NORFOLK LAST EVENING.

RECEPTION AT THE ELKS CLUB

A Pleasant Meeting Between the Commercial People of Norfolk and Omaha—Traveling in Special Train of Five Pullmans.

In its handsome special train of five Pullmans and a smoker, the Commercial club of Omaha and the Live Stock exchange of South Omaha, arrived at the South Norfolk station of the Northwestern at 8:30 last evening. Attached to the train was the private car of Superintendent Hughes who is accompanying the excursion. Mr. Hughes is ably assisted in looking after the interests and welfare of the commercial people on the trip by John A. Kuhn, assistant general freight and passenger agent, and E. E. Benjamin, traveling freight agent, E. C. Griffin, general agent at Omaha and A. A. Jansner, general agent at South Omaha.

At the Northwestern station, the excursionists were met by a committee representing the Norfolk Commercial club and after they had had supper at the Railway eating house, the train was brought up town, stopping at the Main street crossing. Everyone of the wholesalers and commission men on the trip have one or more customers in Norfolk and for the next hour they were busy inspecting the places of business and meeting their customers.

They were accompanied by the First Regiment band, and during the time that the trades people were calling upon their customers the band played a number of selections on the street, The News coming in for a serenade.

At 9 o'clock an informal reception was tendered at the Elks club rooms, where a large number of Norfolk business men gathered to meet the visitors. There was no set program, each visitor and each resident busying himself in getting acquainted with his neighbor.

Music by the band and selections by the Mendelssohn Male quartet added spice to the event. At a proper time C. E. Burnham of the Commercial club gave a few words of welcome and invited the guests to partake of the refreshments that had been prepared. This was responded to briefly by Chairman Judson and Commissioner McVann on behalf of the excursionists. Then the refreshments were served, cigars were passed, and the visitors retired to their cars which had been placed on a switch up town. The club buffet was not open during the entertainment.

This morning the party divided between the Oxnard and Pacific for breakfast and at 8 o'clock the train started for Oakdale. From there it is making a trip over the Albion line and will reach Omaha this evening at 10 o'clock.

Norfolk people were more than pleased to entertain the business men of Omaha and South Omaha, and they feel that they received more benefit from the occasion than the visitors. They became better acquainted with the people with whom they have been trading and a friendly feeling was established that will redound to the advantage of both. The excursion gave an object lesson, teaching what may be accomplished through organization and concentration of purpose, and opened the eyes of Norfolk people to the advantages of having a wide awake commercial club to guard the interests of the town.

At Atkinson.
Atkinson, Neb., Aug. 6.—Special to The News: The Omaha Commercial club arrived at 10:30 yesterday morning and remained for thirty minutes. The band that was with them marched up to the main square of the town, where a large platform had been erected and they with the Mendelssohn male quartette gave a concert during the whole time. In the meantime the Commercial club looked after the business men and scattered advertising material.

At Battle Creek.
Battle Creek, Neb., Aug. 5.—Special to The News: The Commercial club of Omaha and the South Omaha Live Stock exchange were here yesterday afternoon, and the merchants gave them a nice reception in the depot. The weather was so unfavorable at the time they were here last evening that it was thought not advisable to attempt to go up town.

GRAFTERS MOVE TO NEW FIELDS

Bonesteel Bunch Moves on to Devil's Lake After a Fortnight in Sioux City.

Sioux City, Aug. 5.—Restored and refreshed and considerably lighter in pocket than when they arrived in Sioux City the day after the big riot at Bonesteel, the gang of grafters and gamblers which has been making headquarters here, left yesterday for Devil's Lake, N. D., for the next government land lottery.

While the bunch tarried here it behaved itself reasonably well. A few "rats" started to mix things a bit, but Chief Dineen gave them the order to skip, and they went, the better element of the sporting fraternity indorsing the orders of the police.

Since then, although the experienced men on the police force have been employed in the strike district, leaving the town partially without protection, the Bonesteel gang has kept its light fingers off Sioux City pocketbooks, content, apparently, to rest after the strenuous experiences in Bonesteel.

And now Devil's Lake is to "catch it."

Incidentally Devil's Lake is prepared to take all that the grafters can hand up. The police force there has been augmented and every blue-coat, tin-starred special, or plain clothes man is packing a "gat" the size of a mountain howitzer. Let the Bonesteel gang jolt loose like it did on Black Friday, and there will be work for the undertakers. At least that's the way the Devil's Lake officers have sized it up. And some of them say they are willing to be subjects for the coffin man, rather than permit a repetition of gun play and criminality, like that which disgraced Bonesteel.

The sojourners here are modest as to what they will do when they reach Devil's Lake, where they hope to recoup their somewhat depleted exchequers. They claim to have advice from the advance guard which has been on the ground for a week or more, that money will be easy, the crowds as large if not larger than at Bonesteel and the "graft" good.

BONESTEEL LAD FATALLY BURNED

Belated Story of Burning to Death of a Small Boy, Comes From Gregory County.

The burning to death of a 9-year-old boy is the belated story brought from Bonesteel to Norfolk by F. J. Flannagan.

Charles Kuman, aged 9, was set afire in the rear of Tony Stanton's place by the explosion of a gasoline tank. He ran outside. In trying to save the lad, Tony Stanton was badly burned, his arms being very severely injured.

POLICE COURT HELD AT MIDNIGHT

James Cople of Bancroft Fined for Assault at an Unseemly Hour Last Night.

Police Judge Hayes was summoned from his bed at midnight last night to act on a case against James Cople of Bancroft, against whom a charge of assault had been filed and service made by one of the police officers.

The trial was not of long duration. Cople pleaded guilty to the charge and was promptly assessed a fine of $15 and costs, the costs going in to swell the total to $25.

The arrest was at the request of people in the west end of town who heard a disturbance and summoned an officer, who on investigation, apprehended Cople and immediately took him to the Hayes home where the trial was held forthwith.

WAS A VERY SICK BOY.

But Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"When my boy was two years old he had a very severe attack of bowel complaint, but by the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy we brought him out all right," says Maggie Hickox, of Midland, Mich. This remedy can be depended upon in the most severe cases. Even cholera infantum is cured by it. Follow the plain printed directions and a cure is certain. For sale by Leonard, the druggist.

There was no hail to speak of a mile east of the city during the Friday evening storm, and vegetation is looking fine in that direction.

Regarding the opening of the New Royston Mill at Fremont and the part taken in it by the Norfolk ladies band, the Tribune has this to say: "The Norfolk Ladies band arrived this forenoon and marched on Fifth, Main and Sixth streets, serenading The Tribune and The Herald. In their neat fitting uniforms and jaunty little caps they gave a very attractive appearance. They play surprisingly well. This afternoon at 3:30 they serenaded Mayor Wolz and then marched to the mill."

If nothing further interferes to prevent there will be one of the best water melon crops in this vicinity that has been raised in a number of years. There is not a large acreage planted, owing to the fact that so many failures have discouraged the growers. But the little bugs that have during previous years made so much havoc were not in evidence this year and as a consequence those who did plant melons are likely to gather a fair harvest.

An inspector of rural routes was in Norfolk recently looking over the routes already established and examining two additional proposed routes. Information has been received that one or both new routes will be established in the near future which, if done, will necessitate the holding of an examination for carriers. Application blanks may be had at the post-office on request. The position of rural route carrier now pays $720 per annum and is well worth looking after.

PIERCE MAN BADLY HURT

CONDITION OF OLE GOGLE IS CONSIDERED SERIOUS.

STRUCK DURING FIRE TOURNEY

During the Last Rough Night of the State Firemen's Tournament, Protecting the Party of Young Woman, He Received a Perhaps Fatal Blow.

As a result of the rough times which were enacted on the last night of the Nebraska state firemen's tournament in this city last Thursday, O. E. Gogle, a young man twenty-three years old from Pierce, nephew of Dr. Alden of Pierce, lies at the point of death in a rooming house on South Fifth street, this city.

With a wound in the top of his head which does not appear to be serious, and suffering from intense and almost unendurable pain almost four days after the bruise, Mr. Gogle, who does not distinctly recall the manner or cause of the accident, is considered by his physicians to be a very sick man.

Gogle, himself, believes that he was struck by a stranger and that he fell to the walk, thus receiving the blow which has given him terrible suffering ever since.

How it Happened.

He, together with two other young men and three young women, were attending a dancing party in Marquardt hall. At midnight they left the hall, went down stairs and started for a restaurant to get supper. As they started out a crowd of rough fellows, who had been at it all of the evening, surrounded the young women. Gogle is thought to have waved his arm at the fellows and to have ordered them to go about their business. At that one of the strangers struck Gogle, he fell unconscious and was taken into a drug store for treatment. He has been ever since at the rooming house corner Phillip avenue and Fifth street, belonging to Dr. Bertha Ahlman.

Was a York Man.

It is alleged that the fellow who struck the Pierce visitor was a member of the York running team and that he had struck several people during the evening. He struck M. Kennedy at South Norfolk.

The companions of the wounded man seem to know nothing about the circumstances. They are able to give no clear explanation at all. The police do not know anything about the circumstances. Whoever the vicious assailant may have been, he has escaped the officers completely.

Dr. Alden has been in the city several times since, attending to the case of the young nephew, who is also a nephew of Mrs. Lyman Miller, South Norfolk.

Gogle suffers so that his groans are clearly heard all day and all night at the home of Dr. Bertha Ahlman, next door.

He is manager of the farm belonging to Dr. Alden at Pierce. He is a temperate young man and had not been drinking.

Fly Net Sale.

I will sell flynets for the next thirty days at a discount of from 15 to 20 per cent. I am overstocked with them and they must go.

Paul Nordwig.

Battle Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Palmer went to North Platte Tuesday for a ten days' visit with their son.

Geo. Pratt is here from Oklahoma visiting his parents and other relatives.

Mrs. Bridget O'Hara had her buildings on her farm in Highland precinct treated to a new coat of paint this week.

Farmers in this community are very busy now in the hay fields. They are also threshing barley and rye.

Thos. Morris has his residence on the corner of First and Herman streets which he bought recently of E. H. Luikart, of Tilden, remodeled, and it will soon be ready for occupancy. The Hoover house on Main street, where he is living now, will be occupied by Dr. H. O. Munson.

Shortly before church time Sunday night, Rev. J. Hoffman was called by a telephone to come to Bassett and hold funeral services for an old man and early settler of Rock county, by the name of Fritz Potratz, who died there Saturday. The meeting for that evening was called off and the minister left on the 8:20 train, returning Wednesday. Mr. Just, the Lutheran minister of Bassett, was gone on a visit with his parents in Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz Thomsen of Tilden were visiting here Sunday with his brother, M. L. Thomsen.

Next Sunday afternoon a ball game will be played here at the driving park grounds between Hadar and Battle Creek. A large crowd of spectators is expected and the manager here has arranged for a big seating capacity. Admission 15 cents; ladies free.

M. L. Thomsen has put a lighting plant in his new brick store.

Henry Massman and Herman Horgre went to Butte, Boyd county, on Monday and returned the next day. Our Battle Creek boys, who were in trouble for illegal fishing, settled that affair in Norfolk Monday, which cost them $42.80 each. They wonder how much the Battle Creek Judases got out of it.

ESTABLISH TABARD INN LIBRARY

Station Will be Located at Store of the Klesau Drug Company Where Books Will be Exchanged.

Work is being done in Norfolk the object of which is to establish here a Tabard Inn exchangeable library. The Tabard Inn is the very newest thing in the book and library world. It is a circulating library without dues or fines. A Tabard Inn book purchased at $1.50 carries with it a continuous exchange privilege. The only other expense attached to the use of the books in the library is the payment of an exchange fee of five cents every time a book is exchanged. In order to exchange books at the library stations, a Tabard Inn book, cased in a black cloth-covered box encircled by a red band, is the only identification necessary.

All the worthiest and best books published are listed in The Tabard Inn library. The books available are those on the shelves at the time of exchange.

The Tabard Inn carries its books to convenient centrally-located stations where those having books may make exchanges.

The book-cases (of a quaint Tabard Inn design), holding 125, 250, and 500 books, are placed in attractive shops, covering practically the entire United States.

The Norfolk station will be at the store of the Klesau Drug company where those interested may secure further information regarding the plans. The Tabard Inn is under the auspices of the Book Lovers Library. Books may be exchanged by members at any station in the country. Memberships in other towns tributary to Norfolk are exchangeable at the Norfolk station, and the plan offers a fine opportunity for book lovers of the city and vicinity to have at their command a fine assortment of standard and popular works of fiction.

It is a thrilling but unusually horrible sight to see a man fall from a five-story window, but such a spectacle will be witnessed by every one who visits the Sioux City Interstate Live Stock fair at Sioux City, September 5-10. Diver Johnson will climb a ladder rising a hundred feet straight into the air and leap from its top round. He will fall into a shallow pool of water and only by the greatest skill can he make the hair-raising leap without being crushed to death. This will be an absolutely free attraction daily to all guests of the fair. In addition five other free acts will be shown daily. The Dunbar family, highest-priced acrobats in the United States, will give two daily performances in front of the grandstand. The Kins-Ners, equilibrists from Europe, the Olifans, Parisian eccentrics, and the funny trolley car trio will put on the other three acts. These attractions will be sandwiched in the big race program, so that there will be no lagging in the sightseeing.

DR. Sisson Little Better.

Is a Slight Hope Now for the Recovery of Presiding Elder.

Dr. F. M. Sisson is reported today as somewhat improved and there are now slight hopes entertained for recovery. The chances are still very much against him, however. Today he was given a little nourishment for the first time. He is allowed to see no one.
