Populists and democrats by the score have been passing through Norfolk during the past twenty-four hours, enroute to the state convention at Lincoln which starts today. Madison county is well represented in a leader who may possibly be the nominee for governor, W. V. Allen of Madison.

The old building at the corner of Norfolk avenue and Second street that got weak in the knees and settled down on its haunches, is being dismantled and the material of which it was constructed removed from the site.

Miss Laura Buckendorf entertained a jolly company of young friends last evening at her home on Madison avenue. A lawn party had been planned but the chilly atmosphere drove the young people in doors and if there was any disappointment it was soon forgotten in the delightful entertainment that was prepared by the hostess.

Six companies of the Twenty-Fifth infantry, stationed at Fort Niobrara, under the command of Major C. W. Penrose, passed through Norfolk yesterday enroute to Fort Riley, where they will go into camp for about a month.

Humphrey beat Madison at baseball, 7 to 1. The game was played on the Humphrey grounds. Batteries were: Humphrey, Nunally and Tiekotter; Madison, Whorley and Codall.

The children of Johannes Lutheran church and Sunday school will enjoy a picnic Sunday afternoon in the Ruhlow grove east of the city, preparations for the outing being now under way.

In an interview at O'Neill, Judge M. F. Harrington denies the report published by an Omaha paper which declared that he would support Judge Westover for the nomination of governor, and denies also the report that he had had any interview with Judge Westover. Holt county democrats feel favorably inclined to Westover, but they prefer to keep him on the district bench.

Fremont Tribune: Will Evans came down from Norfolk this morning, his resignation as dispatcher at the Junction there which was handed in three weeks ago, having just been accepted. He intends taking a vacation of eight or ten weeks before giving much consideration to what he will do in the future. After seventeen years continuous service with the company he thinks he has earned a deserved rest.

There was a near approach to a frost last night and there may have been a light touch of it in certain localities, but for the most part only a heavy dew resulted and the prospects are that the crops will have another full month in which to develop. In that time most of the corn will be out of danger and there will be a bountiful crop, beyond a doubt.

The small grain crops are proving a little disappointing and No. 1 wheat and oats will be rather scarce, promising good prices for such as have succeeded in producing the best yields of this cereal.

OLLIE CAGLE ABOUT SAME

YOUNG MAN FROM PIERCE RESTORED SLIGHTLY.

WOUND IS ONE OF ROUND CLUB

With a Huge Lump on His Head, Split in Two Directions, as Though He Had Been Struck With a Loaded Cane or a Sand Bag.

Ollie Cagle, instead of "Ole Gogle" as formerly published, the young man from Pierce who is very weak from his wounds received during the last night of the state firemen's tournament, rested slightly during the night and is in about the same condition today as yesterday.

The wound on his head is a huge lump, split across in two gashes, at right angles. It looks as though he had been struck with a very hard, round club of some sort, or a loaded cane.

Police will investigate the assault.

Mr. Cagle's mother is here today.

The reason why the wounding of Cagle was not published sooner was the fact that the story was suppressed in Norfolk and was not given to the newspapers until four days after it had occurred. Just why the matter was kept so quiet by police and others is not known.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Miller, who are relatives of Cagle, did not even know of the accident until two or three days after it had happened. Mrs. Miller is an aunt of Cagle. Mr. Miller met Dr. Alden on the street and asked how he happened to be in Norfolk. "Ollie was hurt," he said, "and I had to come down for it."

The wounded man was unconscious for thirty-six hours.

The facts were carefully kept from The News for several days. The police, in giving details of what had happened on the last night, very carefully avoided any mention of the Pierce man.

CAPTAIN GEGNER NOW A MAJOR

Canvas of First Regiment Votes Made Yesterday and the Madison Captain Was Chosen.

The votes cast by members of the First regiment, Nebraska National Guards, for the election of major to fill vacancy, were canvassed yesterday with the result that Captain Fred Gegner of the Madison company was chosen for the position.

There were a large number of candidates in the field and the fact that the office fell to Captain Gegner is particularly gratifying to the north Platte companies of the regiment who have heretofore received few of the regimental honors.

The election of Gegner will create a vacancy in the captaincy of the Madison company and an election will be held at an early date to fill the position.

QUARANTINE ON CATTLE

ONE WILL BE STARTED WEST OF O'NEILL OR OAKDALE.

MORE VETERINARIANS TO COME

The Quarantine Which Now Exists on Horses in Northern Nebraska Being Decreased—Disease is Rapidly Disappearing.

A quarantine on cattle will shortly be established in this territory, either west of Oakdale or west of O'Neill, the exact line not yet having been fixed by the federal authorities.

"We will in all probability have a large force of veterinarians here during this fall and winter," said United States Veterinarian White. "We will within a few days establish the quarantine, and will know shortly whether the line will start at Oakdale or at O'Neill."

In a district quarantined, no stock of the sort under restriction, is allowed to be shipped out of the country without having first been examined by the federal authorities and pronounced all right. Fat cattle can be shipped for feeding, when examined, but they must be labeled and pronounced first class.

A quarantine now exists through several counties of northern Nebraska and the Rosebud reservation on horses. The disease is being fast exterminated and the quarantine decreased constantly.

FARMERS MUST CUT WEEDS

After the 15th of August Provision is Made for the Clearing of Highways.

Farmers who allow weeds to remain on the public highways in front of their premises after August 15, are liable to pile up a considerable bill of costs for themselves. Under the law of the state now any person may complain to the overseer of highways of a weed patch along the road and the overseer is compelled to have the weeds cut without unnecessary delay.

For this service the overseer is to receive $4.00 a day and the claim becomes a lien against the land and is collected with the taxes for the year. Commissioner Smith says the road overseers have instructions to comply promptly with every complaint made and the board expects to allow this class of bills as soon as presented. The object of the law is twofold—to get rid of the noxious weeds and prevent them from going to seed, and to improve the appearance and usefulness of the highways. Unquestionably farmers can do this work cheaper than the overseer, and it will be economy to attend to it at once, as the 15th of August is nearly here.

Special summer tourist tickets at greatly reduced rates to many points in Wisconsin on sale by C. St. P. M. & O. June 1 to September 30. Return limit October 3.

FLUNG WHIP INTO OWN EYE

AUGUST SCHULZ FEARS HE MAY LOSE HIS SIGHT.

LASH CURLED INTO HIS OPTIC

Driving a Binder, August Schulz Urged on His Team With a Hurl of the Leather—Like a Boomerang the Lash Swung Back at His Eyes.

August Schulz has a very seriously injured eye as the result of striking the optic with the lash of a whip which he was flinging at a team of horses.

Mr. Schulz was driving a binder. The horses were not moving fast enough. With a hurl of the leather, he curled the whip over the backs of the animals. The tiny end of the lash, like a boomerang, swung back at him and caught his eye. He fears that he may lose sight in it.
