CATTLE WERE NOT STOLEN

A CAR OF STEERS DISAPPEARED SATURDAY NIGHT. WERE IN THE M. & O. YARDS.

They Had Climbed up the Chute, Jumped Off the Platform and Gone to Hunt Something to Eat, Which They Found in Smith's Corn Field. Very early yesterday morning Agent Elseffer of the M. & O. discovered what appeared to be a robbery of the stock yards near the depot, but later developments proved that the cattle had simply escaped. The night before P. E. Wantz had shipped in a car of cattle from Johnston, enroute to Sioux City, and unloaded them at the M. & O. yard. In the morning they were gone, and the first thought naturally was that they had been stolen. The gate was found closed just as it had been left the night before. During the day, however, the cattle were found wandering around in the country north of town, and they were returned to the yards and continued on their journey this morning. Another inspection of the stock yards showed that when the cattle were unloaded, while the outer gate was closed fast enough, the chute gate had been left loose and the cattle had climbed up through the runway and jumped off the platform. There were twenty-six head of steers in the car. Eighteen head of them were feeding in Commissioner Smith's corn field when found, and the others were between town and Mr. Smith's farm.

ARRANGING FOR CANNON

SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE TO BE HERE SEPTEMBER 27. WATSON OF INDIANA WITH HIM.

The meeting on the 27th will be the Greatest Event of the Campaign for Republicans and a Large Crowd is Expected to be Present. The committee on arrangements for the Cannon meeting, which is to be held on the evening of September 27, met Saturday night and discussed plans for the meeting, which is designed to make the event of the campaign. The Auditorium has been secured, which will be decorated and provided with seats to its fullest capacity, and it was arranged to hire a band and secure the services of a male quartette if possible. It was decided to ask Congressman McCarthy to preside over the meeting. The matter of reserving seats for people who come from outside towns was discussed, but no definite conclusion was reached. There will no doubt be big delegations from towns surrounding Norfolk to hear the famous speaker of the house of representatives, and it is the purpose of the committee to see that the visitors are provided with good seats in the Auditorium. Some plan to take care of all who come will be arranged and announced later. The seating capacity of the Auditorium is only about 300 and it may be necessary to have an overflow meeting should the crowd be large. Speaker Cannon is one of the most widely known men ever to visit Norfolk and there unquestionably will be a big crowd to hear him. He will be accompanied by J. E. Watson, congressman from Indiana, who is said to be a brilliant orator with great capacity to interest an audience. Those speakers will be at West Point during the afternoon of the 27th and will arrive in Norfolk at 7:35 in the evening. A committee will be sent to West Point to escort them to the city. With the exception of President Roosevelt, who was here in 1896, when he was a candidate for vice-president, Wm. J. Bryan, who was here the same year when he was campaigning for the presidency, Mark Hanna of Ohio and Roswell G. Horr of New York. Speaker Cannon will be the greatest attraction from a political standpoint who has ever been in the city. "Uncle Joe" Cannon, speaker of the national house of representatives, now on one of the most remarkable speaking tours of the campaign, will cross the Nebraska state line next Friday, the 27th instant, and will, on that evening, speak at Falls City, Richardson county, in the First congressional district. The coming of Mr. Cannon to Nebraska and his stay of five days in the state is an evidence of the importance the national committee of the republican party attach to the result in the state. The speaker is one of the most brilliant stars the republicans have in their constellation of campaign orators and the demands for his presence in various localities have been fairly overwhelming. Traveling in a special car and accompanied by a personal staff, including Mr. L. White Busbey, his confidential secretary, Speaker Cannon will swing through many states before the November ballots fall. His trip is to be under the direction of the republican congressional committee and "Uncle Joe's" vigorous efforts will be devoted almost entirely to the congressional campaign. A Great Drawing Card. Speaker Cannon is expected to prove one of the very greatest drawing cards of the campaign. He has for years been a picturesque figure in American politics, a type of the rugged statesman, free of opinion and breezy in the expression of it. The wide reputation he had hitherto enjoyed throughout the country was greatly enhanced by his selection as presiding officer of the national house and by the more recent nomination. Mr. Cannon's tour will extend over Indiana, Illinois, Nebraska, Iowa, Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut and Rhode Island, thence back through Indiana to his home district in Illinois. It can be imagined that with such a trip before him "Uncle Joe" will have little time to devote to his personal interests at home. During the past ten days, however, he has been engaged in "clearing things up" around his own district and feels he can safely trust things to go well there until he gets back. Just at the close of the campaign he will reach his home town, Danville, Ill., and end the ante-election functions with a grand rally. Since Thursday Mr. Cannon has been in Indiana, speaking in the doubtful districts. Today he reaches Illinois, speaking this evening in Fairfield Wayne county. This is in the Twenty-fourth congressional district, carried two years ago by Representative J. H. Williams, democrat, by a plurality of only 152 votes. The republicans see here a fine opportunity to reverse the results of the last election. So deep rooted is this feeling, Mr. Cannon will spend two days in the district. Wednesday, the 21st, he goes to the Twenty-fifth Illinois district, speaking

GOOD GOVERNMENT JOB

MAN WANTED TO TAKE CARE OF THE FEDERAL BUILDING. THE PAY WILL BE $50.00 A MONTH.

The Man is to be Custodian, Fireman, Laborer and All Round Janitor for the Best Building in Norfolk—Application Must be Filed Soon. Uncle Sam is just at present looking for the man who is capable and willing to take charge of his new United States court house building in Norfolk as custodian, fireman, laborer and all round janitor, and he will certainly be successful in finding him, as the position carries with it a salary of $500 a year or $50 per month, and with a paymaster as reliable as the government it is a situation that will attract a number of applicants, without a doubt. It is not an undesirable job for the reason that it is the best building in Norfolk and the man who gets the job will take pride in keeping its marble floors and surfaces neat and clean and its other adornments bright and shining. The man who gets it need not expect that he is drawing one of those proverbial government snags, especially in the winter season, but it will be a job that the person of ordinary activity can handle and have time to sit around and look wise, or show his friends around the building or make tips from the patrons of the place for little extra services. The government announces it as an examination, but further along says there is no examination connected with the application. The examination is to be held October 5, at which

That at such next election of members of the legislature on the ballot of each elector voting at such election, shall be printed or written in such manner that the elector can indicate his preference under the law the words: "FOR calling a convention to revise, amend and change the Constitution of the State of Nebraska," and "AGAINST calling a convention to revise, amend and change the Constitution of the State of Nebraska;" and if a majority voting, at said election shall vote for a convention, the legislature shall, at its next session, provide by law for calling the same. I, Geo. W. Marsh, secretary of state of the State of Nebraska, do hereby certify that the foregoing proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Nebraska, and providing for a convention for the revision of said Constitution of the State of Nebraska, is a true and correct copy of the original enrolled bill passed by the Twenty-eighth session of the legislature of the State of Nebraska, as it appears from said original bill, on file in my office, and that said proposed amendment and revision of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska is submitted to the qualified voters of the State of Nebraska, for their adoption or rejection, at the general election to be held on Tuesday, the 8th day of November, A. D. 1904. In testimony whereof, I hereunto set my hand and affix the Great Seal of the State of Nebraska. Done at Lincoln this 5th day of July, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Four, of the Independence of the United States the One Hundred and Twenty-Ninth, and of this state the Thirty-eighth. (Great Seal) Geo. W. Marsh, Secretary of State.

MACY The Practice of Medicine Becoming Specialized The Physicians of the Large Cities the First to Adopt it and There are Now Many Throughout the Country. Specialism is the idea of the day. Not that every physician can be a specialist, nor would it be justifiable in every doctor becoming one, but there are advantages that can be derived only by a special practice which is applicable to certain communities even though the physician himself is not a bona fide resident of that immediate vicinity. Small towns and the country are the principal communities in which a specialist could scarcely prosper, but as practiced by some specialists, that of going from one city to another, making his visits and seeing his patients at regular appointed intervals, one can derive advantages far superior to those received in many instances by a visit to the cities. We cite, for instance, that of Dr. Caldwell, a specialist of Chicago, who is and has been making regular visits to our community for the last two years. Dr. Caldwell came well recommended and has succeeded in establishing a practice far beyond her expectations. She has made many cures and has succeeded in building up a reputation and practice among those whom she has cured that would be hard to get away from her. Dr. Caldwell is a lady from the new school. Her experience and training have been gained by many years of practice and the treatment of a vast number of cases. She confines herself to the treatment of chronic, lingering and deep seated ailments. She pretends to cure only such diseases as she has had sufficient experience in handling, and does not go into that class of incurable diseases which in many cases are useless to bother with. As a result of long experience, Dr. Caldwell is thoroughly familiar with her specialties. In the treatment of cancer, consumption, heart disease, nervousness and female diseases, there are very few specialists better qualified than Dr. Caldwell. Some of her cures seem almost like miracles. People from far and near consult her as she makes these regular visits and she is always busy from the time she arrives until the time of her departure. It is claimed by Dr. Caldwell's friends that she can diagnose a disease without a question. This being ROBBED BY WOMAN.

She Pounds and Chokes Her Victim After Most Approved Fashion.

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—A new masker joined the carnival of crime sweeping over Chicago, when a veiled woman held up and robbed Sigurd Fabrigren of his watch and $25. This highway woman carried her brigandish work on with the same fearlessness that marks the nightly holdups by highwaymen. Armed with a revolver, she hustled her victim into an alley, choked him, punched him, and threatened to kill him if he made an outcry. The robbery occurred at Chicago and Wells street. The woman bandit who was fashionably attired had her features covered with a heavy veil, after relieving her victim of his watch and money, compelled him to move on. The woman then disappeared, and although police searched the neighborhood thoroughly they were unable to find her.
