BURKETT ON THE ISSUES

CONGRESSMAN FROM SECOND ADRESSES NORFOLK PEOPLE.

REVENUE LEGISLATION TALK

The Speaker Declares it is Not a Bad Law and Shows Reason for Increase in Taxation—Urges Support of Entire Republican Ticket.

[From Tuesday's Daily.] For about an hour and a half last evening Congressman Elmer J. Burkett of Lincoln fired broadsides of galling political oratory in the Auditorium...

The building was cold and cheerless; there were a number of vacant seats, but the orator and the audience seemed to forget all these adverse circumstances as the speaking proceeded...

Judge Robertson then introduced Congressman Burkett who opened with the statement that it was the fifty-second day he had been talking to the people of the state...

Under the old law the insurance companies that take more money out of the state than any other form of business, never paid taxes...

All are agreed that this is the greatest country on earth and all must agree that never in its existence has it experienced a better eight years than those that have passed since William McKinley was first elected president...

Mr. Burkett made a strong point when he said that the democratic party was continually working in the interest of the consumer while the republican party stoutly maintained that the producer was the one entitled to consideration...

son he would be a producer or go bankrupt and laws that would benefit producers would be to his advantage. Another policy of the republican party was to keep men busy at home. In Canada, it was related, a working man would consume but $22 worth of American products in a year...

The speaker then devoted his attention to state issues and in reviewing revenue law history stated that Governor Holcomb in his message of 1897 laid particular stress on the need of revenue legislation...

Mr. Burkett closed by urging the support of the republican ticket all along the line from top to bottom. In supporting Roosevelt it is necessary to have given a good administration and deserve endorsement...

Proposed Constitutional Amendment. The following proposed amendment to, and convention for the revision of, the Constitution of the State of Nebraska, as hereinafter set forth in full...

1. That it is deemed necessary to call a convention to revise, amend and change the Constitution of the State of Nebraska.

The new law was made to equalize the taxes. Under the old law this county was paying nine mills, while a Missouri river county was paying but four mills. In some counties, therefore, more taxes will be paid to the state and in other counties less money will be paid.

The taxes assessed against the Norfolk National bank, one of the large tax-payers of the county, were cited. Last year the total taxes assessed against this bank were $1,988.10; this year its total taxes are $1,839.94.

ture was pledged to repeal it. But President Barnham had investigated for himself and he found that at the most, the new revenue law was accountable for but $11.32 of this increase, and the rest was because of the high levels of the school board, the county board and the city board...

The speaker argued that one of the reasons for the new law was to increase the taxes to some extent, but it is clearly shown that all the increase is not due to the law. For the past fifteen years the state has been running behind with its expenses...

The merchants will benefit by the frost. They have had reason to complain of the warm weather thus far. Heavy goods were not needed by society at large...

KILLING FROST ARRIVES

QUARTER OF AN INCH OF ICE FROZEN LAST NIGHT.

Corn Was Benefited by the Freeze. Farmers Can Now Get Into Their Fields—Business Will Pick Up. Flowers Were Put on Retired List.

[From Monday's Daily.] The killing frost has arrived. The first freeze of the fall fell upon Norfolk and northern Nebraska last night. The government thermometer at Dr. Salber's residence registered thirty-one degrees above zero...

There was not an ear—not a kernel of corn in this section of the state which was not completely prepared for the frost. Every bit of it was as ripe as ripe could be; it all needed the frost to make it ready for the market.

Great Help to Corn. It is considered that the frost has been a blessing to everyone. In the first place, the farmers will now be able to husk their corn and toss the hard, crisp ears into the bins.

complaint against her 16-year-old son, Fred Newwood, charging that he was merely and asking that he be taken to the reformatory. Fred got wind of it and made himself scarce, but was found Saturday night and brought to town by Sheriff Friston. He was taken to North Monday morning. Tuesday his trial was held and he was sentenced to the reform school, where he was taken later in the week. This is probably the best thing that could happen to the boy, as he had older associates here who were constantly leading him into trouble. Let us hope that this may be the means of making a good man of him. Clearwater Record.

merous educators of prominence are arriving from various parts of the country to take part in the program. As a preliminary to the celebration there was begun today a series of conferences of lecturers by a number of eminent foreign scholars. This part of the program, which is purely academic in character, will be succeeded by three days of exercises which will be of more general public interest. Next Saturday will be given over to the students: all exercises on that day will be planned and conducted by them. On Sunday there will be a religious service of praise and thanksgiving, and the following day the celebration will close with a reception and luncheon to the famous guests of the university. A leading feature of the exercises will be an address by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, the president, reviewing the history of the university and its achievements.

The Practice of Medicine Becoming Specialized

The Physicians of the Large Cities the First to Adopt it and There are Now Many Throughout the Country.

Specialism is the idea of the day. Not that every physician can be a specialist, nor would it be justifiable in every doctor becoming one, but there are advantages that can be derived only by a special practice which is applicable to certain communities even though the physician himself is not a bona fide resident of that immediate vicinity. Small towns and the country are the principal communities in which a specialist could scarcely prosper, but as practiced by some specialists, that of going from one city to another, making his visits and seeing his patients at regular appointed intervals, one can derive advantages far superior to those received in many instances by a visit to the cities.

Dr. Caldwell is charitable. In many instances where people are devoid of funds to pay for their services she charges in such cases for the medicine only and no person, no matter how humble, has she ever turned away without seeking to give them relief.

We cite, for instance, that of Dr. Caldwell, a specialist of Chicago, who is and has been making regular visits to our community for the last two years. Dr. Caldwell came well recommended and has succeeded in establishing a practice far beyond her expectations. She has made many cures and has succeeded in building up a reputation and practice among those whom she has cured that would be hard to get away from her. Dr. Caldwell is a lady from the new school. Her experience and training have been gained by many years of practice and the treatment of a vast number of cases. She confines herself to the treatment of chronic, lingering and deep seated ailments. She pretends to cure only such diseases as she has had sufficient experience in handling, and does not go into that class of incurable diseases which in many cases are useless to bother with.

By permission we are pleased to publish a few of the cures she has made throughout the state of Nebraska: Mrs. Oscar Lange, Tekamah, Neb., cured of stomach trouble and female trouble of long standing. Mrs. Maloney, West Humphrey, Neb., cured of nervous trouble, kidney and liver trouble, and female weakness.

As a result of long experience, Dr. Caldwell is thoroughly familiar with her specialties. In the treatment of cancer, consumption, heart disease, nervousness and female diseases, there are very few specialists better qualified than Dr. Caldwell. Some of her cures seem almost like miracles. People from far and near consult her as she makes these regular visits and she is always busy from the time she arrives until the time of her departure. It is claimed by Dr. Caldwell's friends that she can diagnose a disease without a question. This being

Mr. Pete Hible, Columbus, Neb., cured of kidney and bowel trouble. Mrs. John Swain, Clarks, Neb., cured of female trouble, catarrh and nervous trouble. Mrs. Henry Hart, Kearney, Neb., cured of tumor.
