

YOUNG WOMAN FOUND DEAD

ALBION SCHOOL TEACHER FAILS TO RESPOND TO CALL.

DEATH DUE TO HEART FAILURE

Miss Mable Kingham Does Not Hear the Summons to Breakfast—Inquiry Shows That She Had Died During the Night of Heart Disease.

Albion, Neb., Nov. 4.—Special to The News: Miss Mable Kingham, daughter of E. J. Kingham of this city, was found dead in her bed yesterday. She had been teaching school out in the Caddy district and at an early hour Will Caddy rode hastily into town with the news that they had called Miss Kingham for breakfast and when she failed to respond they discovered that she was dead. Heart failure is supposed to have been the cause of her sudden death.

She was one of the brightest young ladies in this vicinity and had recently graduated from the Albion high school and was teaching in one of the rural districts this year. The sad affair has caused this community to mourn and her family have the sympathy of all who know them.

Mrs. Pilger has returned from Stanton where she visited with friends. While there she attended a housewarming party given by Mr. and Mrs. Zander.

C. S. Bridge and daughter, Mellie, went to Lincoln today to visit with Miss Helen Bridge, his daughter, and watch the Nebraska football game tomorrow afternoon. She was accompanied by Miss Josephine Butterfield, who will be the guest of Miss Helen Bridge until Sunday.

The ladies of South Norfolk are organizing a literature club that will hold meetings during the winter to study the works of prominent authors.

The Junior Endeavor society of the First Congregational church will have a party tonight at 104 North Ninth street to which all members of the society are invited.

A. F. Tannehill has purchased the Asmus home on South Fifth street and will take possession the first of the year. Max Asmus has begun the erection of a new house south of this, on Fifth street.

The funeral of Erlman Treeten, twenty years of age, was held from Christ Lutheran church yesterday afternoon at 1:30. Rev. J. P. Mueller officiated and a large number of friends and old neighbors attended.

Mr. Hugh Alphonsus McCaffrey of South Omaha and Miss Kathleen Lenora Conway, who formerly clerked in the store of the Johnson Dry Goods company, have invitations out announcing their marriage today at the home of the bride in Lynch.

The Nebraska University football team will meet the team from the Iowa state university tomorrow afternoon in Lincoln. The Iowans are said to be heavy and fast and there is every indication that tomorrow's game will be the best played in Nebraska for many a moon. Booth's men will go into the game to fight for every point, but the Hawkeyes have long been a fearful foe for the Gophers and there will be something doing every minute of the game.

James Callahan, brakeman on the Northwestern, had a narrow escape from death at Fremont. He fell under a switch engine, and the monster machine pinched off two toes of his right foot. He let one of his feet slip down below the step and it caught in a frog. The next instant he was thrown headlong from his position and the wheels were upon him. The engineer quickly reversed the engine and kept the big machine from going over him and crushing out his life.

Winside Tribune: A meeting of the stockholders of the Farmers' Independent Telephone company was called last Saturday afternoon and the following officers elected: President, Jay Wilson; secretary and treasurer, Charles Long; board of management, Frank Long, Hans Brogren, J. S. Jensen. Material for the construction of this line is expected soon and work will begin at once. When completed there will only be a space of a half mile to connect with Hoskins.

Winside Tribune: For a Kansas drought victim, one who came to Nebraska a few years ago to recuperate a lost fortune, the Tribune thinks that Sam Row will take no back seat in the wagon of prosperity. It has just leaked out that he has recently purchased another farm, the one adjoining his on the south. This added to his already well improved place, makes him a nice farm and gives plenty of pasture land, which he needs as he is an extensive stock man. Mr. Row's friends are glad of his prosperity.

Sixty friends enjoyed a delightful evening last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Maynard, on The Heights, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sitt and Mr. and Mrs. George Davenport. Supper was served at 6:30, military entrance following. The team captained by Mr. Boas and composed of Mrs. Weils, Mrs. John Davenport, Mrs. C. E. Burnham, Mrs. C. D. Simms, A. J. Koenigstein and Mr. Boas won the prize. The ice cream was done in flag effect, as a touch of the militarism that prevailed.

Neligh.

Neligh, Neb., Nov. 4.—Charles Sternberg, who recently beat his wife and shot a neighbor, Mr. Bossert, was arraigned before County Judge Finch Saturday and waived examination. He was held in the sum of $1,500, and in default of said sum was committed to the county jail until the next term of the district court here. The defendant seems very cool and exhibited very little interest in what was taking place. The more serious charge of shooting Mr. Bossert is withheld until further developments in his case. At this time, however, he is doing very nicely and may possibly recover from his wound. The present charge was one preferred by the wife, who has gone to her mother's in Humphrey for the time being.

N. D. Jackson, candidate for the legislature on the republican ticket, is making a few speeches nowadays. He will have no difficulty, however, in securing the election.

The new dam at the mill here is now completed. This makes the third time Mr. Gilman has had to remodel this dam this summer, but he believes he has it in such shape now that further washouts will be impossible.

The Creighton brothers, who removed here from Pawnee county a year ago, threshed out thirteen hundred bushels of oats which weighed out over fifteen hundred bushels. This is the experience the farmers are having with oats all over the county.

STOLE A MARCH ON HIS FRIENDS

George Offenhauser Returns From Omaha With a Bride.

George Offenhauser of this city and Miss Edyth E. Ernst of Shenandoah, Iowa, were married in Omaha yesterday afternoon and arrived home today. Mr. Offenhauser stole a march on his friends in his hymenial venture. He left Norfolk for Omaha on Tuesday and said that he would return within a day or two. Little did his closest friends in this city dream that when he returned he would bring with him a bride. Mr. and Mrs. Offenhauser will make their home for the present at the Oxnard hotel. Mr. Offenhauser is a popular young jeweler here.

CREWS ARE TRANSFERRED

THE NORTHWESTERN RAILROAD GRANTS PETITIONED CHANGE.

MEN CAN BE AT HOME OFTENER

A Few Will Move to Fremont to do the Short Hauls, While Norfolk Crews Will Run Through to Omaha and the Valley, Returning at Once.

A change in the railroad crew systems which has been long hoped for by the employes of the Northwestern, is announced today and takes effect this week. According to the change, a number of crews, both engineers and trainmen, will be transferred to Fremont where they will be allowed to do the "shorter" work, and be at home all of the time; while those in Norfolk will run directly through to Missouri Valley, Omaha and other points, returning immediately and thus bringing them home a much greater portion of the time than during the summer.

The shifted positions have been advertised and the older men have made application for them, they having first choice in the work. The stock business having slackened slightly, three crews have been taken off.

CORN SHOW AND INSTITUTE

INTERESTING PROGRAM FOR THE FARMERS AT MADISON.

HELD ON NOVEMBER 18 AND 19

Contest for Prizes Open to the Farmers of Madison County—Institute Workers of the State Will be Present to Address the Meeting.

A county corn show and institute is to be held at Madison November 18 and 19, which should be of material benefit to the farmers and farm owners of the county, and the farmers in the vicinity of Norfolk should be represented, both personally and with exhibits. The following instructions and program of the meeting has been issued by the officers:

Corn for contest must be brought in to the opera house, or sent in care of the officers, and entered by the evening of the 17th of November and will be received and cared for as soon as the 14th. Forty ears constitute an entry.

The institute opens at 10 o'clock in the morning on November 18, and the following is the program:

The roads that had been cut up by the late rains are again becoming smooth and even as paved streets so that the pleasures of a drive into the country at this beautiful season of the year are greatly enhanced.

Otis Bowers of the minstrel company carries a thoroughbred greyhound with him and yesterday he took the animal out and ran down a couple of rabbits east of town. He said that he flushed several covies of chickens during the sport.

The new cement walk of regulation width is almost completed along the east side of the Citizens National bank lot, and the stakes have been set and work will begin along the Cotton lots on the other side of the street which, when completed will afford the people a good walk to the government building.

Madison Star-Mail: Daniel S. Fraser and Miss Francis E. Baird were married at Omaha on Wednesday at 8 p. m. It is Dan Fraser and we all know him as a Madison boy who served as corporal of Co. F, First Nebraska. He now holds a responsible position with the American Express company at Omaha where they will make their home. Further particulars we could not get but join with Dan's many friends in congratulations and wishes for a life's happiness.

Beach & Bowers' minstrel company entertained a good house at the Auditorium last night. The company has visited Norfolk several times since it has been on the road, but is always welcome and always has a new and entertaining program to present to the public. Most of the numbers were new and snappy and some of the jokes received their first introduction to a Norfolk audience. The solos, quartet singing and ensemble numbers were well received and the dancing was cleverly executed. The orchestra music was of high quality and the tentures in general were well received. Particularly new and attractive were the feats of dexterity and strength shown by the acrobats of the company, and the trick house in the final act left a happy impression on the audience that looked at intervals along the street in broad grins and hearty laughs as they made their way home.

Rural Route 4.

Corn husking began with a rush Monday morning. The yield and quality are much better than for several years previous.

About 100 people gathered at the home of A. Fishback Saturday evening in response to invitations to attend a Halloween party. Everyone reported a good time.

A. F. Tannehill has purchased the Carl Asmus property on South Fifth street in Norfolk and will take possession January 1, 1905. His son will take charge of the farm for the coming year.

John Ray bought two cars of fat cattle along the route last week.

There is a young patron on this route who figures that if he had been born twenty-seven hours, fifteen minutes and thirty seconds sooner he could have cast his first vote for president this year. He is as unlucky as Monty Hooligan.

B. B. McGinnis has his new residence ready for the plasterers.

A number of friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. C. Green gathered in Sunday to see their boy twins, who arrived Friday morning.

FOR EXCHANGE—Improved town property of all kinds to exchange for lands. Address Box 97, Plattsmouth, Neb.

And this is November.

With the mercury hovering between the seventy and eighty degree mark, the dust being occasionally kicked into the air by a gentle zephyr, the flowers bloom on the prairies, the grass a brilliant emerald hue on the lawn, the crickets merrily chirping in the weed patches and the frogs tuned up in the ponds it is difficult to realize that this is November, and the attractions of southern California fail to entice the people of Nebraska. Too warm, if anything, in the middle of the day, and with nights cool enough to encourage healthful repose, Nebraska has for a week or more been experiencing beautiful Indian summer conditions and Old Boreas will need to hurry if there is anything resembling Thanksgiving weather by the 24th. It is the kind of condition that causes Nebraskans to sing the praises of their home state and invite people from the frigid corners of the earth to the enjoyments of their Garden of Eden.

Croup.

Not a minute should be lost when a child shows symptoms of croup. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears will prevent the attack. It never fails, and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Leonard the druggist.

Eagles' Annual Ball.

Sugar City Aeria, No. 357, Order of Eagles, is arranging to give its second annual ball on the evening of December 30 at Marquardt's hall. The Eagles had a big time on the event of their first ball last year and they propose to make the one this year even better than the first.

LOST—Between John Ray's corner and Norfolk Bottling works, one hammerless Parker shot gun in case. A liberal reward will be paid if returned to R. Blatt, 214 South 2nd St.

LYNCH IS ILLUMINATED

TOWN LIGHTED BY ELECTRICITY NOW, AND HAPPY.

$8,000 WATER BONDS ARE SOLD

Two New Stores, a New Meat Market, a New Restaurant and a Blacksmith Shop Have Opened at Lynch Within the Last Month.

Lynch, Neb., Nov. 8.—Special to The News: Lynch is jubilant today. The houses and streets are now lit up by electricity. The current was turned on Saturday evening and is giving excellent satisfaction. The plant was installed by the Lynch Milling and Power company and the power is furnished by a 19-horse power well. Sell Water Bonds.

Another reason for the rejoicing is the sale of $8,000 water bonds, voted some time ago, by City Treasurer Egan. Work on a system of waterworks will begin as soon as possible and as much as possible will be done this fall toward installing the plant.

Lynch is one of the best towns in this section of the state and is growing nicely. Two general stores, a blacksmith shop, meat market and restaurant having opened during the last month.

Mrs. Melvina P. Clemmons.

Mrs. Melvina P. Clemmons died Saturday at her home on South Fourth street and was buried yesterday afternoon. Rev. J. P. Poucher conducting the funeral services. Interment was in Prospect Hill cemetery. Mrs. Clemmons was born at Selotville, O., August 30, 1851, and had lived in Norfolk for some time. Besides the husband, four grown daughters were in attendance at the funeral.

WILL BE PERMITTED TO VOTE

Railroad Men and Sugar Factory Employes Will Have the Opportunity.

The employes of the Northwestern and of the Norfolk beet sugar factory will be given every opportunity to cast their ballots today. The railroad men have had their runs so arranged that they will be able to be home during the portion of the day when the polls are open and at considerable change of the general order, they will be able to go to the polls and register their preferences.

At the sugar factory the shifts change at 4 o'clock this afternoon, thus giving every man employed there an opportunity to cast his vote during the hours the polls are open.
