

ONE OF BANDITS CAUGHT

POSSE CAPTURES TALLER OF TWO CODY BANK ROBBERS.

SLAYER OF CASHIER MIDDAGH

Officers Come Upon Fugitive Near Thermopolis and Cover Him With Guns Before He Has a Chance to Shoot.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 17.—A dispatch just received here from Thermopolis states that two men, named Hanna and Edwards, who were in the posse that pursued the two men who held up the saloon several nights ago in Thermopolis, overtook one of the men at the mouth of Owl creek. When called upon to surrender he made no resistance, but threw away his gun. He was brought back to Thermopolis and has been placed in jail at that place.

The captured man appears to fill the description of the one who shot Middaugh in the attempted bank robbery in Cody. The capture was made about three-quarters of a mile above the mouth of Owl creek, in the Big Horn valley, a few miles from Thermopolis. They rode cautiously upon the ruffian and succeeded in getting a drop on him before he was aware of their presence and upon being questioned as to the identity and whereabouts of his partner he refused to utter a single word, in fact he has remained silent ever since his capture. Upon his person were found a revolver and some money that are known to be the same as that taken from Edwards' saloon. Parties from Cody will go to Thermopolis for the purpose of identifying the captured man as the larger of the two who attempted to hold up the bank here. It will be remembered that it was the larger of the two men who fired the fatal shot that killed Middaugh.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE MEETS

Rev. Dinwiddie of Washington Says Canteen Will Remain Abolished.

Columbus, O., Nov. 17.—Rev. E. C. Dinwiddie of Washington, superintendent of the legislative department of the American Anti-Saloon League, in an address before the league, said that the canteen will remain abolished in the army. He said that the government will be asked for additional appropriations for substitutes for the canteen, such as reading and recreation rooms. He declared that an attempt will be made to modify the interstate law so that states will be given jurisdiction over express companies in the matter of liquor shipments. E. S. Chapman declared the league would never succeed until it takes the stand that the liquor traffic is not a business, but a crime.

Congratulate Senator Fairbanks.

Indianapolis, Nov. 17.—Political aspirations and affiliations were forgotten when several hundred representative men of both the Republican and Democratic parties assembled at the Commercial club to congratulate Senator Charles W. Fairbanks, vice president-elect John W. Kern, Democratic nominee for governor, sat side by side with Senator Beveridge and Senator Fairbanks and the combination added enthusiasm when the leaders of the two parties engaged in friendly political repartee. The club rooms were crowded and many were forced to stand. John W. Kern acted as chairman of the meeting.

Amador Denies Report of Plot.

New York, Nov. 17.—The Panama consulate in this city received a dispatch from President Amador, which read: "Deny reports of disorder or plot." This message was sent in contradiction of the reports which reached Washington to the effect that the enemies of President Amador were conspiring to overthrow him and that they control the balance of the $10,000,000 which the United States still owes Panama for the canal rights.

Body of Captain Recovered.

Bangor, Me., Nov. 17.—Efforts to identify the sunken craft on Spruce Island ledges resulted in bringing to the surface the body of Captain Wallace of the fishing schooner Uncas. Wallace had lashed himself to the wheel, but the grapples caught in such a way that the line was broken and the body came up. The bodies of the other two men of the crew were not recovered.

Four Find Water Graves.

C. J. O'Connor, banker at Homer, suffered a loss of several hundred dollars on Monday afternoon in a peculiar way. He received at Dakota City twenty carloads of cattle from his ranch in Custer county, this state, which he intended putting in the feed yards at Homer. The cattle were started on their ten mile drive to Homer without being watered. When Omaha creek, five miles south of this place, was reached, the cattle stampeded for the water, and instead of crossing the bridge went down over the bank into the creek, where, in their madness for water, thirty were killed, some being drowned and others trampled to death.

There is nothing more daintily pretty for the home than artistically executed hand painted china and Norfolk art lovers are pleased to know that there are among its citizens those who are of the artistic temperament to bring forth the choicest productions. One of the leaders in the art is Mrs. E. P. Weatherby, who has prepared through months of effort an unusually attractive annual display which will be shown at her home on Koenigstein avenue during the day and evening of Saturday. Mrs. Weatherby hopes that the art lovers of Norfolk will feel cordially welcome to inspect the display, whether they wish to purchase or not, for art's sake alone.

ATCHISON GLOBE SIGHTS.

When you attend a circus, turning a somersault looks easy, and when you attend a lecture, talking in public looks easy.

It is said of a worthless Atchison man that the only thing he has on earth is opinions and the only thing he does on earth is to air them.

An Atchison preacher is much disappointed in a new horse. It doesn't seem at automobiles, but frightens badly at Salvation Army parades.

The wives of Methodist preachers who have to move only once in five years may not be rich or powerful, but they are a year ahead of the wife of a president.

This is the season of the year when the man who has delayed laying in his coal wants the dealer to deliver a hurry order, because his wife is not well, or the baby is sick.

Complaint is made by housekeepers of how much more it costs every year, and their husbands blame the added expense on this political party or that one. The blame of it lies with self-indulgence. Every generation affords some luxury that the generation preceding got along nicely without. At least a third of every dollar's purchase is for something that is not essential to happiness, health or comfort.

A girl who was brought up on the seacoast visited Atchison recently and attended a christening of a baby at a church. She was very much surprised that the preacher didn't break a bottle over the baby's head.

If a man should butt his head against a stone wall, over and over, and injure himself, people would say, "How foolish." They could realize the folly of it. Yet people do equally foolish things year after year. Every man who drinks whiskey, butts into a stone wall, and injures himself needlessly. Every man who worries, butts into a stone wall, and injures himself without excuse. Say to any man or woman that they must not do a certain thing, and they will insist on doing it, year after year. We, the people, haven't much sense.

THE CAUSE OF TYPHOID

SURFACE WATER IS THE MEANS OF CONTAGION.

COMPARATIVE DEATH RATES

Smallest Proportional Deaths are in Cities—Pure Water is Necessary to Escape the Germs—Wells Should be Deeper.

Built upon what was once the bed of an ancient bayou having two hundred feet of glacial and post tertiary deposit beneath us, containing a high percentage of ammonia from the nitrogenous remains of organic deposits, the water in Norfolk, even if free from present pollution, could not be of the purest; but when two-thirds of all the surface water sinks into this porous strata to contaminate it we need not look for the sources of typhoid in local pollution of the standpipe.

The water in our public system is surface water and derives its origin from the same source as all other surface wells in the town. For thirty-five years an area equal to 320 acres has been peopled and the sewerage placed in earth vaults and refuse and waste of all sorts carried into the soil by the annual precipitation. Cemeteries have crept near the center of city in spite of protests and now after an unusual period of excessive rainfall we are paying the penalty and that is not the end. The experience of other communities forces the inference that next year will witness a worse outbreak. The following diagram illustrates the percentage of typhoid in cities, towns and rural communities:

Cities: [Blank] Towns: [Blank] Rural communities: [Blank]

While typhoid may be communicated through other agencies, water is the chief source of infection and the bacillus typhosus will survive in the soil from year to year awaiting water and warmth to develop its spores.

The remedy for Norfolk is within easy reach. Within 125 feet of the bottom of the city's deep well, below the red Dakota sandstone, there is pure artesian water coming down from the snowfields of the mountains. Taylor creek, fifteen miles southwest is an example of the artesian water that may be obtained. There is a stream less than five miles in length which when not carrying surface drainage has a volume of water at most equal to the North Fork and all coming practically out of one spring.

The impression prevails that the city water is obtained from the new deep well. There is no water in the deep well except what flows into it from surface veins. The water used by the city is surface water and comes from a different well.

He said the boy suffers sharp pains occasionally but that he sat up yesterday and watched other boys, through the window, playing marbles. The wounded boy was not in condition this morning to be seen as it made him cry out, his mother said, when anyone entered the room.

THE SON OF U. S. MINISTER TO ENGLAND

Commends Pe-ru-na to All Catarrh Sufferers.

Hon. Louis E. Johnson is the son of the late Reverend Johnson who was United States Senator from Maryland, also Attorney General under President Johnson, and United States Minister to England, and who was regarded as the greatest constitutional lawyer that ever lived.

In a recent letter from 1006 F St., N. W., Washington, D. C., Mr. Johnson says: "No one should longer suffer from catarrh when Peruna is accessible. To my knowledge it has caused relief to so many of my friends and acquaintances, that it is humanly to commend its use to all persons suffering with this distressing disorder of the human system."—Louis E. Johnson.

Catarrh Poisons. Catarrh is capable of changing all the degenerating secretions of the body into building fluids, which destroy and inflame every part they come in contact with. Applications to the places affected by catarrh can do little good save to bring quiet disagreeable symptoms, and it is that gargles, sprays, atomized inhalants only serve as temporary relief.

There is but one remedy that has the desired effect, and that remedy is Peruna. This remedy strikes at once in the roots of catarrh by restoring to the capillary vessels their healthy elasticity. Peruna is not a temporary palliative, but a radical cure.

ROBERTSON AS GOVERNOR

LINCOLN EVENING NEWS SUGGESTS HIM FOR 1906.

NORFOLK MAN IN PUBLIC EYE

While it is Still Early to Make Plans, the Lincoln Paper Says That Mr. Robertson May be a Candidate Two Years From Now.

The following clipping, which intimates that Norfolk may be the present home of the next governor of Nebraska, is taken from the Lincoln Evening News:

W. M. Robertson of Norfolk was in the city Monday. He called on Governor Miley and extended his congratulations on the recent victory. Mr. Robertson was at one time, last spring, a formidable candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, and some bitterness was engendered, because it was believed by the governor's friends that he was entitled to a second term without opposition.

He stated that there was general satisfaction in Madison county over the republican victory. Many of the populists had voted for Roosevelt, and they are gratified at the landslide for the president.

He stated that the people of Norfolk will ask the legislature to appropriate $50,000 for the construction of another cottage and the reconstruction of the remnant of the main wing, which was untouched by fire. This would give accommodation for a considerable number of patients.

Talk of Change in Revenue Law. Mr. Robertson said that the people in that section of the state will probably ask to have the assessment of real estate changed to an annual period instead of every four years as it is under the present statute.

The protest against the four years' assessment is based on the fact that there is a possibility of a decrease in the value of land in less than that period, and also the fear that personal property will decrease in value for assessment purposes, thus throwing a disproportionate burden on the land.

He said that the taxes had been very heavy because of the fact that the county had been in debt, and was obliged to pay off outstanding warrants. The heavy rains of the past year caused many bridges to go out and led to a heavy drain on the bridge fund. He said that in many of the districts school boards had raised more revenue than is needed for the present year, and thereby created some antagonism to the new statute.

There are some instances where enough money was raised this year to run the districts for three years.

May be a Candidate in 1906. While Mr. Robertson considers it rather early to make the announcement it is probable that he will be a candidate for gubernatorial nomination when Miley's term expires. For several years he has been ambitious to occupy the gubernatorial chair, and it is probable that his canvass for the nomination will be begun long before the convention meets.

CARRIED DOZENS TO THE STREET

Egress But the Fire Escapes Were Cut Off and These Were Overtaxed.

New York, Nov. 16.—Three hundred men and girls employed in a manufacturing concern in a five story building on the Bowery were thrown into a panic by fire today, but by prompt work on the part of the firemen and volunteer rescuers, all were taken out of the building.

The structure was practically destroyed. The fire started in the Central knitting mill on the second floor and within a few minutes the flames swept up through the halls to the floors above.

The stairways were made impassable by the roaring flames and the fire escapes were taxed beyond their capacity to empty the building.

The firemen literally carried dozens to the street who had been rendered helpless by fright.

JOHN CLARK IS ARRESTED

YESTERDAY'S AGGRESSOR FOUND HIMSELF IN POLICE COURT.

HE GOT HIS CHILDREN BACK

All But the Oldest—She is Too Well Satisfied Where She is to Return Home—Baby Boy Was Returned to Its Grandparents Yesterday.

The Clark case, so far as the returning of the children was concerned, has been settled out of court. The baby boy, Elmer, which was taken to the Osborne home Tuesday, was returned to the home of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Clark on South First street yesterday afternoon and the 13-year-old girl, Hattie, and the 3-year-old girl, Lillie, were taken back home last night. They were given up by Mrs. A. F. Clark, who had given them refuge before. Mary Jane Clark, aged sixteen, is still at the home of Mrs. A. F. Clark, being unwilling to go back to the home of her father.

John W. Clark Arrested. But John W. Clark, yesterday's aggressor, was today placed upon the defensive when he was arrested for disturbing the peace, being guilty of violent, tumultuous and disorderly conduct and using obscene language. The charge was filed by Mrs. A. F. Clark and John pleaded not guilty. The arrest was made at 11 o'clock.
