

VICTIM OF DOOR IS DEAD

AUSTIN HYNES PASSED AWAY AS RESULT OF FRACTURE.

FUNERAL WAS HELD YESTERDAY

Man Who Pitched Forward on His Face and Head as the Result of a Sudden Opening of the Door That He Pushed, Succumbs to Injuries.

O'Neill, Neb., Nov. 18.—Special to The News: Austin Hynes, prominent farmer and old settler of Holt county, died at his home in Turner from the effects of the fall which he sustained when the door that he was attempting to open, suddenly gave way and pitched him forward upon his head, causing a skull fracture. He was buried at Turner yesterday.

Mr. Hynes was injured at a neighbor's house last Saturday. The door was swollen and opened hard. In endeavoring to force it, Mr. Hynes exerted himself freely and when the door did open it went suddenly, causing him to fall forward on his head and face. No one expected serious developments and the sudden death came as a complete surprise to his neighbors.

A large company of members and their friends were present. An interesting literary program was given and a dainty supper that had been prepared by the ladies was served. Arrangements were forwarded for paying on the certificate that is held by Mrs. J. A. Hornberger of Lincoln. Mr. Hornberger was a member of the Norfolk lodge in good standing at the time of his death.

An automobile that arrived in Norfolk last night from Madison contained the following passengers: Carl Horst, B. Oscar Nicholson, Willis McBride, Dr. Montgomery and Herman Fricke. Miss Faye Burnham left at noon for Lincoln where she will visit for two weeks with Miss Beemer, daughter of the warden at the penitentiary. Machinist Kenaston, employed at the Northwestern roundhouse in this city, was slightly injured last above the eye this morning by a bolt which shot through the air and struck him. A fraction of an inch lower, it would have ruined his eyesight. He was driving a bolt on the anvil with a sledge, when the blow broke the bit of metal and it flew wildly at him.

About sixty days remain in which people who drew claims in the Rosebud will have a right to make settlement and the majority of the holders from this part of the country have already established themselves so that they can go on and make residence. Many new buildings have been erected on the reservation and numbers of families have already moved to that section of the country.

The people of Lincoln are rejoicing over the prospective establishment there of a wholesale military home. It remains for someone to discover and proceed to prove that Norfolk is one of the best locations in the state for wholesaling business. A point half a day nearer a field of customers than Omaha or Lincoln would alone be argument for the establishment of a wholesale business and particularly for perishable cold storage goods reaching this point in refrigerator cars and distributing to the merchants of north Nebraska and South Dakota. The field is wide open and it is up to some one with the necessary capital to see the prospect for a good business investment.

AN ERA OF ROAD BUILDING.

Much Work Planned for Future by the Northwestern.

The Northwestern, if reports are to be given credence, is entering an era of much building. Besides 250 miles of good road to be built in Wyoming, the company is to make several important extensions in Wisconsin. Work which already has been arranged for will give the company a double tracked line from Gillette, Wis., to Chicago, a distance of 260 miles.

The improvements also will shorten the line between Green Bay and Chicago and Gillette and Chicago. One extension will be from Manitowish to Green Bay, a distance of forty miles, and another will be from Green Bay to Gillette, a distance of thirty-six miles. The management also is figuring on making important extensions in upper Wisconsin, possibly with a view of getting into closer touch with the copper region.

At a recent meeting of Northwestern directors it was decided to build an extension from a point on the main line near Mercer, extending northwesterly to a point in the boundary line between Michigan and Wisconsin. Still another extension, for which papers have been filed, will run from a point in Forest county and will extend to the Wisconsin-Michigan boundary at Sanderson, the aggregate of the two lines being fifty-five miles. Most of the extensions now under way and under consideration were mapped out before the reelection of Governor LaFollette. It was rumored that in the event of his reelection the Wisconsin railroads would abandon some of their plans or postpone them until the governor's policy became more clearly defined.

So far as the Northwestern is concerned this has not been the case. State Journal.

CARL KORTH WEDS WEALTH

WELL KNOWN MADISON CITIZEN TO ENTER MATRIMONY.

SAYS HE WILL BE WELL FIXED

Will Leave Norfolk on a Train Very Soon for Michigan and Will Return With a Bride Who is Both Handsome and Well-to-do in Property.

Carl Korth, well known in Madison county, and who acted an expert chauffeur in a touring automobile car that arrived in this city from the county seat last night, will leave Norfolk for Michigan on an early train and will return to this county as a bridegroom. What's more, Mr. Korth in marrying, will not only secure a handsome helpmeet but will also wed wealth.

Pursuing a rumor among his friends to the effect that he would soon be married and that his bride, a widow, is a woman of wealth, with real mines and hotels and livery barns and any number of other valuable possessions, Mr. Korth was this morning interviewed upon the matter. At first denying that he had any matrimonial intentions whatsoever, he later withdrew that statement, admitted that he will very soon be married and added, further, that when he is married, "Carl Korth will be fixed all right."

"When I am married—and I am going to be married as soon as I leave Norfolk," said the well known Madison county citizen, "Carl Korth will be as well fixed as anybody in this town. In fact I don't think I would trade places with anybody in Norfolk."

He declared, further, that the woman whom he is to wed is a very handsome widow, and photographs of her seem to substantiate his claim. Mr. Korth was happy over the prospect. Asked if it were in this state that he is to marry, he said it was east.

"Where is it?" was asked. "That," he said, "I'm not telling."

"Does she live in Michigan?" was ventured.

A gleam of joy burst into his eye at the suggestion of Michigan and he said, smiling, "Perhaps it is."

Russian Ships Fire Upon Each Other. London, Nov. 22.—The Daily Mail's Copenhagen correspondent recounts a story from a member of the crew of the Russian cruiser Aurora, to the effect that Vice Admiral Rojdestvensky's flagship Kulax Suavarov, in the fog off Dogger bank, bombarded the Aurora, whereupon the Aurora signally "We are being fired at," herself fired 350 shells at the British trawlers and the Russian fleet. This informant distinctly avers that there were two Russian torpedo boats with the first division of the Baltic squadron, to which the Aurora belonged.

SMALL BOY TRIES SUICIDE

LAD SIX YEARS OLD TWICE ATTEMPTS TO END LIFE.

KNIFE ONCE; THEN A HAMMER

Believing That He Hears the Voice of His Dead Father Calling Him and Summoning Him to Join the Grave, the Lad Persistently Tries.

(From Tuesday's Daily.) A queer story comes from Tilden which tells of a little 6-year-old boy who has of late twice attempted to commit suicide because his father, who is dead, seems, he declares, to be persistently calling to him to follow. Each time the youngster was badly wounded by his vicious efforts and means have now been taken to get the notion from his mind, by removing him to the country.

The child's father was a miner and was killed, it is said, about 3 years ago. And it is this dead father whose voice the lad says he can constantly hear and on whose account the child has been so energetic in attempting to end his own career.

Butcher Knife in Throat.

The first trial at suicide by the fatherless boy was with a butcher knife. When discovered, he had the long, sharp blade of the keen-edged steel thrust far down into his throat and the flesh and glands were horribly mutilated and slashed.

The point had been jabbed into his throat just as far as it was possible to jab and then, saving back and forth and stabbing forward, the boy, scarcely old enough to talk distinctly and not old enough to read or write, had made every effort that his morbid mind could contrive for the cutting off of his life blood.

When found by his astounded mother, the child explained that his father, down deep in the ground, had been calling to him; and that the voice had told him to join the departed parent. Efforts to convince the lad that there was nothing in it were all so far as he was concerned.

Beats Brains With Hammer.

The next time the child could stand away from his mother, he seized a small hammer and began beating at his head, trying to rap out his brains. He had severely bruised his face and head when caught and stopped.

"I shall put you down in a hole and lock you there," said the mother, he scoldered at the strange actions of her little son and almost fainted in her attempt to cure him of the fancy.

"That is where I want to go," replied the child. "Papa is down there, and that is just where I want to be, too."

He has been taken out in the country now, in the hope that the pure air and the picturesque surroundings and the novelty of the whole environment may cause him to forget his father and his father's imaginary voice.

AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL.

University Will Instruct Students in Farming.

Commencing January 2, 1905, the University of Nebraska offers a course of instruction in the principles and practice of agriculture. The course covers the subjects of soil, field crops, dairying, butter and cheese making, breeds and judging of live stock, diseases of farm animals, horticulture, shop work, farm machinery, and English. No examinations are required for entrance. It would seem that many students from this county should attend and take advantage of the instruction offered, for the knowledge gained will not only enable young farmers to get better returns from their land but will also help them to save money in carrying on farm work.

FIGHT AMONG THEMSELVES

Various Christian Elements of Macedonia Are Said to Be at War.

London, Nov. 22.—The Standard prints a long letter from Constantinople dealing with the situation in Macedonia. The writer says there has been a remarkable change in the last six months. Formerly it was a question of protecting the Christian population against violence, but now it has become one of intervention between various Christian elements. Since the policing of Macedonia has been taken out of Turkey's hands, the correspondent says, there have been recurring conflicts between rival nationalities, Bulgarians, Serbs and Greeks, accompanied by barbarities quite as bad as those with which the Turks were formerly reproached. The truth is, according to the Standard's report, each of these Christian elements wants independence and their hatred of each other exceeds their detestation of the Turks.

Trial of Land Fraud Cases Begins.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 22.—Trial of the land fraud cases of the government of the United States against Emma L. Watson, Marie Ware, S. A. D. Ruter, Horace McKinley, D. W. Tarpley, Harry C. Barr, Frank H. Wohlsgaett and others was commenced. It required two and a half hours to secure a jury. In the selection of jurors stress was laid upon the sentiment of talesmen regarding the conviction of women, and if the verdict would be influenced by the fact that there were two women among the defendants.

ARBITRATION COURT CONVENES

Boards at The Hague Will Pass on Taxing Power of Japan.

The Hague, Nov. 22.—The first sitting of the arbitration court on the Japanese tariff taxation was held here. The United States is interested in the matter although not a party to the present arbitration. The point at issue is the contention of Great Britain, France and Germany that Japan imposed taxes on products in the old tariff concessions which, being perpetual leases, are exempt from taxation. The United States and other powers having similar concessions will accept the award. Mr. Gram, president of the court, who is one of the provincial governors of Norway, at the opening of the proceedings, congratulated the governments who, by consenting to submit disputes to international arbitration, had given fresh proof of their attachment to a great and noble cause. He regretted that the path of humanity along the road of progress was full of obstacles, but added that happily the number of conventions forming fresh bonds between nations was daily increasing.

WORK OF NATIONAL GRANGE

Resolutions Demand Passage of Good Roads Bill.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 22.—Master F. A. Herrick of the Ohio Grange, member of the national executive committee, introduced a resolution at the session of the national body relative to the prohibition of individual education in country schools. The resolution was referred to the legislative committee. Governor N. J. Washburn of New Hampshire grand lecturer introduced a resolution suggesting Indian corn as the national floral emblem of the order. The resolution was passed unanimously. The report of officers continued, all reports showing that the grange has taken strides during the past year.

Several important committee reports were read and approved.

The most important was from the committee on public highways, which demands the passage of the Curry good roads bill by congress. Another important report was that of the committee on resolutions concerning the pass system and endorsing the postal savings bank. The recommendation of the foreign relations committee favoring a permanent court of arbitration at The Hague was adopted. It was decided to close the annual convention tonight.

There are thirty-nine cases on the docket, several of which are criminal.

The case of L. A. Wilson, editor of the Springview Herald, against William N. Skinner, president of the Citizens State bank, is attracting a great deal of attention. Skinner is also a defendant in a libel suit for $3,500 for articles appearing in the Keva Paha County News while he is alleged to have been the owner.

O. J. Dutton and Albert Blackner will be tried for forging a deed to certain land in this county. The forgery is alleged to have been committed some years ago but the authorities have been unable to find the parties until last spring when they were located at Osceola, Ia., and were brought here to stand trial.

C. O. Bates, a farmer living southwest of here, will be tried on the charge of maliciously setting fire to his neighbor's hay and timber.

FOR BIG HARBOR BUDGET

House Committee Assembled at Washington Today to Frame a Bill.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 22.—The house rivers and harbors committee assembled in Washington today for the purpose of framing a bill. Last year no general river and harbor bill was urged. The fact that the war department had large unexpended balances available for unfinished projects and the desire not to appear extravagant on the eve of a presidential campaign, were reasons for conservatism. This session liberal appropriations are expected. It is expected that steps will be taken for delayed improvements in the Tennessee, Ohio, Alabama and upper Mississippi rivers.

BOMB WRECKS HOUSE

HOME OF ELMER E. THOMAS OF OMAHA IS RUINED.

BOMB ON PORCH EARLY TODAY

The interior of the building was wrecked.

A squad of police were on the scene in a short time but no clue to the perpetrators could be found. The man evidently made a hasty retreat after setting the fuse, which exploded the bomb.

Thomas had been active in the prosecution of saloon keepers who were charged with a violation of the midnight and Sunday closing law and had also been active for the Civic federation in the habeas corpus proceedings by which Thomas Dennison had sought to avoid being taken in town in connection with the $75,000 Pollock diamond robbery.

To these circumstances Thomas attributes the attack on his home.

Omaha, Nov. 22.—Early this morning a bomb was exploded at the front door of the residence of Elmer E. Thomas, 423 Douglas street, and the building was badly wrecked. Mr. Thomas is suffering from shock.

Thomas was attracted by the light from the burning fuse and thought the house was on fire. Going to the front door, he discovered the bomb, but did not realize what it was and went back into the house to get a rug to smother the fire. Just as he started back through the hallway the bomb exploded, blowing in the front of the house.

Thomas is the attorney of the Civic federation, which has been quite active in a movement to have the saloons close at 12 o'clock. He is also engaged in the prosecution of Tom Dennison in connection with the Pollock diamond robbery. He is of the opinion that the placing of the bomb was a deliberate attempt to blow up his home and kill himself and family.
