

NEW DEPOT AT WEST POINT

HANDSOME NORTHWESTERN PASSENGER STATION OPENS.

MUSIC AND MAIDS CONTRIBUTE

Great Crowds Met Every Train Yesterday, and Gave to Every Passing Passenger a Souvenir of the Occasion—Ended With Football.

West Point, Neb., Dec. 2.—Special to The News: The new passenger station of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, a model in design of architecture, costly in its every part and a credit to any city in the state, was formally opened to use here yesterday afternoon in a demonstration participated in by all of West Point and much of the outside world.

With the merry music of a brass band playing all day long; with the presence of ten prettily gowned young women to add to the effectiveness of the opening ceremonies; with great throngs of enthusiastic people burying the station in their midst, and meeting all trains during the day; and a football game that was well attended in the late afternoon, to give a climax to the festive occasion, the city of West Point betokened the pride that they feel in the handsome new structure, and the gratitude that they hold toward the Northwestern company.

The train from the east at 11 o'clock in the morning was met by the band and again the train from the west in the afternoon. Ten pretty girls gave out souvenirs of the occasion to every passenger on both trains. They also gave boxes of the choicest cigars to the trainees, who stopped their locomotives and their cars at the new platform for the first time yesterday. The people of West Point realize that the trainmen are important factors of the progress of the northwest.

Great crowds met both trains and the celebration ended in the afternoon with a gridiron contest between Oakland and the second team here, West Point, as befitted the day, won by a score of 22 to 0.

The new station is long and broad, with a promenade on its four sides, covered with a pavilion roof. The entire structure is massive in its way, and substantial as money could make it. The foundation alone cost an amazing amount of money and has been built to remain for a hundred years and more. Extremely attractive in its designing, the station will always be a great advertisement to West Point. It is modern in every way.

This is the first new station north of Fremont, to mark the era of improvement which will undoubtedly follow along the entire Northwestern system. A great portion of the credit for the new road is due to General Superintendent C. C. Hughes of Norfolk and Superintendent C. H. Reynolds of Norfolk, both of whom were active in the interests of the new depot. Having recommended its construction, the depot appeared.

The old depot was several blocks east of the main portion of the town and for years West Point, a substantial city and for a long time the terminus of the road, has been trying to have a new station, nearer the business center. The citizens contributed liberally toward the securing of a fine site, just a block from the main part of the town.

DEATH OF A PIONEER

WM. H. LOWE PASSES AWAY AT HIS HOME IN NORFOLK.

WAS SICK BUT A SHORT TIME

Came to Norfolk a Third of a Century Ago—Has Been County Surveyor and City Engineer for Many Years. Leaves Three Daughters.

William H. Lowe, for many years county surveyor of Madison county and city engineer of the city of Norfolk since the office was created, died at 10 o'clock Monday morning at his home on the corner of Madison avenue and Eighth street, after an illness of but a few days from heart trouble. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed, but it will probably be held Wednesday under the auspices of Mathewson G. A. R. post of which he was a member. At his death were his daughters, Miss Orpha Gertrude Lowe and Mrs. Nettie Hamilton, who with Mrs. Elta Sidler of Chicago are the only surviving members of the family.

William H. Lowe was born in New York state sixty-four years ago on September 3, last. From that state he went to Illinois where he lived at the time the war broke out when he enlisted as a member of Company C, Fifteenth volunteer infantry, giving effective service to his country until the date of his discharge. On December 11, 1864, at Marengo, Ill., he was united with Miss Julia A. Glass, who died in Norfolk and was buried here a number of years ago.

With his wife and one daughter Mr. Lowe came to Nebraska in 1870, locating a short time near Pontanello, in Washington county. Soon after they moved to Norfolk and the family has called this place their home for about thirty-three years, and Mr. Lowe in his capacity as surveyor had knowledge of nearly every foot of ground in this locality and made his first trip through with the forty-niners who were attracted to California by the gold excitement.

Not only was Mr. Lowe acquainted with the country and helped in its survey but he knew and was known by every pioneer settler of the country and numbered among his friends hundreds of the more recent settlers. He was a genial, whole-souled gentleman and made friends with numerous acquaintances. He acted as attorney in getting pensions for many of his comrades of the civil war and making out their quarterly papers and had the record of each well in hand. Numerous old and tried friends will mourn with the family over his decease. Besides being a member of the G. A. R. Mr. Lowe was also a Mason, but had not been in active membership for a number of years.

A Certain Cure for Croup.

When a child shows symptoms of croup there is no time to experiment with new remedies, no matter how highly they may be recommended. There is one preparation that can always be depended upon. It has been in use for many years and has never been known to fail, viz: Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Give it and a quick cure is sure to follow. Mr. M. F. Compton of Marek, Texas, says of it, "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in severe cases of croup with my children, and can truthfully say it always gives prompt relief." PLAINVIEW DEPOT AFIRE

BLAZE STARTED DURING BITTERLY COLD NIGHT.

PROMPT WORK SAVED THE DAY

The Fire Boys Turned Out Immediately and Saved the Building From Utter Destruction—Blaze Started in Chimney, it is Thought.

Plainview, Neb., Dec. 2.—Special to The News: Fire early today badly damaged the interior of the Great Northern railway station at this place, but the prompt action of the Plainview fire boys, who got out of their warm couches to fight the flames in the bitter cold, saved the building from utter destruction. The loss from water is quite severe and the operator's room was badly charred. Otherwise the building is all right.

The fire started between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning, and is believed to have originated in the chimney, although this is not positively known. Operator and Mrs. Akers live in the upstairs portion of the building, and were asleep when the fire broke out.

An alarm was turned in by telephone at once, and the volunteer fire boys were almost immediately on the ground. Holding the freezing nozzle against the increasing flames, they very soon subdued the blaze. It was a frightfully cold and raw night to turn out for a fire.

The telephone in the building was quite badly damaged.

The return of the company presenting "Quincy Adams Sawyer" to Norfolk this season is highly pleasing to the numerous friends and admirers of that splendid rural drama. It was the grandest and most telling meeting held in this city in many a day."

The company has won many friends during their stay in the city and will no doubt be greeted by a large farewell audience tonight.

ARGUMENTS IN LAND CASES

Defense Claims Government Has Failed to Make Case.

Portland, Ore., Dec. 6.—The argument of counsel for the detainee in the land fraud case commenced, Lawrence E. Pater of Eureka, Cal., brother of one of the defendants, being the first speaker to address the court and jury on behalf of the persons accused of a conspiracy to defraud the government of public lands. The speaker held that the government had failed to make out its case against the prisoners and attacked the testimony of the government's principal witnesses, Montague and Heldecke, as being unworthy of belief. Counsel asserted that the principals in the defense were innocent purchasers of the land and not responsible for deceptions practiced upon them and that the persons whom the government alleges are fictitious are living human beings who actually went upon the lands in question.

ATCHISON GLOBE SIGHTS.

A big fat Atchison man has more headaches than a woman with money.

It takes a mighty good stage witicism to stand the test of the morning after.

A town farmer lately bought a lot of cattle to feed and starved seven of them to death.

How people admire a man who is really sensible! Why not try to distinguish yourself that way?

Divorcee and straight hair seem to be more apt to run in families than happiness and natural curls.

We are as good as a contractor, anyway; a contractor's tomorrow means three weeks from next Tuesday.

We have observed that nearly all suburban tracts of land offered for sale are within "a mile of town" and "choicely."

When there is a murder in Missouri or the south public sentiment is never satisfied until evidence points to the guilt of a negro.
