BOSTON'S XMAS GIFT

SUBWAY CONNECTIONS WITH THE SUBURBAN DISTRICT.

TUNNEL COST TWO MILLIONS

Takes Passengers Under the Bay, Wharves, Streets and Buildings. Every Man, Woman and Child in the City Consider It a Joy Forever.

Boston, Dec. 24.—The city of Boston, and especially that suburban section known as East Boston, is going to receive a Christmas gift that will be "a joy forever" to every man, woman and child in town.

The new transit tunnel under Boston harbor, connecting East Boston with the city proper, is completed after years of work and will be opened to traffic tomorrow. The new tunnel is the most important segment of the intricate and elaborate underground system of transportation which, when completed, will give to Boston a rapid transit system that will rival New York's recently opened "Battery to Harlem in 20 minutes" subway.

The tunnel now completed was begun on August 13, 1920, and has cost $2,123,607. It is 7,500 feet long, and the present terminus in Boston proper is Scollay square, where it connects with the subway. Two thousand six hundred feet are under the water, and the rest under the streets, buildings and wharves of the city.

No Poison in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

From Napier, New Zealand, Herald: Two years ago the pharmacy board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine Company, Des Moines, Iowa, U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had, and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones.

TUESDAY TOPICS.

G. J. Hahn and family spent Christmas with Mr. Hahn's parents at Stuart. They expect to return Thursday of this week. Joe Walz, clerk at Degner's hardware store, left Sunday noon for Carroll, Iowa, to spend Christmas week with his parents, and old friends. Miss Latta Bailey of Fairfax, S. D., county superintendent of schools in Gregory county, visited at the home of Geo. B. Christoph Christmas. She was enroute to Deadwood to attend the South Dakota state teachers' association. L. M. Wolfe, a well known stockman of Duff, this state, passed through Norfolk on Christmas eve with seven carloads of stock which he was taking to the markets. J. H. Conley writes from Fremont that his father still lives, has no pain whatever and sleeps nearly all of the time. A large number of the merchants closed their business houses for all or a portion of the day yesterday in observance of the Christmas holiday. People should remember on a day like today that newsboys can get cold as well as anyone else, and that an invitation to come in and get next a stove for just a minute, may at times be mighty acceptable. Mrs. S. G. Dean had the misfortune to fall on the icy steps at her home

Christmas day and in the fall suffer a severe fracture of her wrist. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. S. E. Kierstead of Tilden has arrived to care for her during her disability.

A large number of teachers of eastern South Dakota have been passing through Norfolk during the last few days, enroute to Lead, where the state teachers' association is to be in session for three days this week, beginning with today.

A small crowd of dancers celebrated the day after Christmas at Marquardt hall last night. Although the night was bitterly cold and stormy, the pleasure of the inside tended toward forgetting the weather and every moment was enjoyed.

The icy walks gave young Norfolk an elegant opportunity for trying the skates and sleds that were left by Santa Claus on Christmas and gave the same opportunity to those who had been in possession of the necessary sliders, but without occasion for their use.

County Commissioner Geo. D. Smith was one who enjoyed a family reunion for Christmas at his home northwest of the city. His sons, George Smith of Foster and Fred Smith of Omaha, and his daughter, Mrs. Sadie L. Devell, of Strawberry Point, Iowa, were present to partake of the Christmas cheer at the Smith home.

Geo. H. Spear is one who was left in doubt as a result of the Sioux City fire. The firm that he represented on the road with popular brands of cigars was one of the large sufferers from the conflagration. They have another house at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and from this house it is expected that their customers will be supplied, but how much representation they will want on the road until they have partially recovered from their Sioux City loss is a matter that has not yet been settled.

Lincoln Journal: The Russian count, so called by the fact that he masqueraded as a scion of nobility, will be liberated from the Nebraska penitentiary, where he is serving a sentence of one year and a half for forgery. The records of the prison show that his term will expire the first of the year. His prison name is Julia Count. His correct name is said to be Agneff, and, instead of being a Russian count, he is said to be an Italian barber. He was convicted in Omaha for passing forged paper on Rome Miller, proprietor of the Millard hotel. The forgery was committed when the man got hard up for funds to pay his board bill.

The Entire Corps, as a Compliment to the Norfolk Superintendent and His Standing in the State, Will be on Hand at Omaha all Week.

Superintendent D. C. O'Connor leaves tomorrow noon for Omaha, where he goes to attend the session next week of the Nebraska State Teachers' association. Very nearly the entire corps of teachers under Superintendent O'Connor will attend from Norfolk. He has always been recognized as one of the leaders in educational matters of Nebraska and the compliment paid to him by the large attendance of his teachers is appreciated by the state association.

Omaha stores sent out invitations asking that the teachers make their headquarters in the stores while at Omaha but Norfolk's teachers are said to have all done their entire purchasing here, where the stores were as adequately equipped as in Omaha, and there will be little Norfolk money left in the state's metropolis this year.

CHRISTMAS OBSERVANCE

NORFOLK SPENT A DELIGHTFUL HOLIDAY.

PROGRAMS, DINNERS AND CHEER

Holiday Has Lasted Practically Three Days—Churches and Sunday Schools Give Appropriate Attention to the Joyful Occasion.

Norfolk is today beginning its recovery from the Christmas holiday which has this year extended over practically three days, or four days counting in the observance by the public schools which gave Christmas programs Friday afternoon. Saturday was largely given to final preparations and in the evening the Sunday school scholars of the churches quite generally enjoyed the usual annual observance with brilliantly illuminated trees, programs of speaking, singing and cantatas and the distribution of gifts. One or two of the churches distributed the treats on Saturday night and the program was given Sunday night. The little folks taking part in the various programs acquitted themselves with credit and were happy in the sense of contributing a share to the annual observance of the Christmas tide. Older ones also took part in the Sunday school programs and throughout the programs were of merit and the church decorations beautiful and appropriate. Not the least of the pleasure of the little ones was the receiving of the bags of candies and nuts, generally distributed by Santa Claus himself or his qualified representative, and all pupils of the Sabbath schools who had ever been enrolled were very generally on hand if they were able to be, and partook of their share of the holiday festivity.

On Sunday there were sermons in the churches appropriate to the occasion in the forenoon and in the evening there was either preaching or Christmas exercises. Among the chief pleasures of the day were the family gatherings at the dinner tables where abundant feasts of good things were spread before relatives and friends. There were few families that did not either serve dinners to relatives and friends at home or were fortunate in receiving invitations to partake of the Christmas cheer in other homes. Coming on Sunday there were few who had business reasons for not enjoying the holidays. Monday was given over largely to rest. A number of the business houses closed all or a portion of the day yesterday and the tired proprietors and clerks recovered somewhat from their strenuous experience of the week preceding the holiday.

Christmas day was cloudy and lowering, opening with a heavy frost, and later in the day it came on to drizzle, the falling moisture freezing in an icy glaze on the streets and sidewalks. The evening was therefore inconvenient for pedestrians. On Monday the wind whipped around to the north and blew strongly, making the footing exceedingly precarious and the weather quickly changed to winter frigidities that has since been intensified.

Taken altogether, however, it has been a most enjoyable Christmas season and there were few who did not receive reminders to make it a merry occasion.

HEALTH AND EDUCATION GOVERN THE WORLD

THE WEAK, SICKLY AND EMACIATED CAN HOPE FOR BUT LITTLE SUCCESS.

BY DR. ORA CALDWELL, CHICAGO.

In compiling the statistics of the different races of people of the world, it is of interest to note the article of diet, the manner in which it is taken and the extent of medical attendance as practiced in the civilized world. It has been demonstrated conclusively that the meat eaters are the strongest, healthiest and the best educated people in the world; therefore it is reasonable to believe that they are the people who govern the world. As demonstrated by Dr. Caldwell, the American people consume on an average of six pounds of meat per week; the English four; the German, three; the French, two; and the Italian, one-half. Statistics prove that epidemics of contagious diseases more largely prevail among those people, whose diet partakes of less meat and more farinaceous foods. Good meat is the most wholesome of all foods to be taken. True, it is not as fattening as the cereals or farinaceous foods, but it is more strengthening and contains more blood and nerve producing elements, so necessary to strength and good health. What is required specially for perfect health is good digestion, plenty of outdoor exercise and special care as to hygiene and all the laws of nature. Dr. Caldwell is a specialist of many years' experience, and has devoted much of her time to the study of diseases of the stomach, diseases of the brain and diseases of the nervous system. From conclusive proof it has been demonstrated that a little food properly served and well digested is far better than a great quantity of an unwholesome character improperly digested.

Dr. Caldwell has been afforded special advantages in studying the characteristics of the people, their diet, their hobbies and the special conditions governing medicine as a specialty.

She has been awarded, in contests with the greatest schools in the world, the highest prize and a number of medals. She has been making a specialty of chronic, nervous and surgical diseases, diseases of the eye, ear, nose, throat, lungs, diseases of women and diseases of long standing character. No matter how long such patients have suffered or who has treated them, she never failed to cure these ailments. In over a quarter of a century in the experiment, study and practice of her profession in the diseases of men and women, she has cured thousands who have been pronounced helpless by other physicians. People come to her from far and near to receive her treatment and her offices are crowded at the places of her appointments and all speak in the highest praise of her treatment.

By permission we are pleased to publish a few of some of the cures she made throughout the state of Nebraska. These are only a few, as time and space will not permit us to publish more: Mrs. Sloan, Akron, Neb., cured of consumption and nervous trouble. The treatment she took improved her at preparation and training. In several instances two of the rooms united in their holiday observance and the teachers were confronted by a "packed house" when all had assembled.

Recitations, dialogues, drills, singing and other features went into the formation of very delightful programs. In some instances the teachers had provided treats of candy, popcorn, cookies or other popular Christmas delicacies for their little men and women and in some of the rooms Santa Claus found time early in his rush season to make the presentation. It was a happy inauguration of the holiday season, and being first on the program it would undoubtedly be as heartily appreciated as the church programs, the hanging of hte stockings tonight, the little parties and the big dinners that are to follow in due course.
