

HE DYNAMITED THE FISH

GAME WARDEN IS AFTER ILLEGAL FISHERMEN.

ATTACHES GO TO CLAY CENTER

Will Assist in Prosecution of Anders, Charged With Dynamiting Fish. Propose to Stamp Out Pot Hunting Evil.

Lincoln, June 2.—Special to The News: Several attaches of the game warden's office have gone to Clay Center to assist in the prosecution against Anders, charged with dynamiting fish. The department is determined to stamp out pot hunting and illegal fishing altogether, and a test case will be made of the Clay Center man.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK AT TILDEN

Various Exercises of the Week Well Attended.

Tilden, Neb., June 2.—Special to The News: This is commencement week for the public schools of Tilden. Sunday the baccalaureate sermon was preached to the graduating class by Rev. J. Narvis Gortner, pastor of the M. E. church at this place.

Thursday afternoon the class day exercises were held at the same place. Thursday afternoon the class day exercises were held at the same place. Thursday evening the commencement program was rendered, the speaker of the evening being Hon. J. L. McBrien, state superintendent of public instruction.

All of these exercises were attended by large crowds of people, showing the interest the people have in the public schools.

The reception to the class of 1935, given by the alumni, will be held at the home of Mrs. D. F. Roseberough this evening.

This class is the largest ever graduated from the schools, consisting of twelve members as follows: Grace M. Hanlon, Aura B. Thornton, N. Charles Dales, Clyde W. Erskine, N. Maud Pierce, Ella M. Nelson, Irwin C. Miller, Alta B. Ives, Clem G. Baker, Tolle Waterbury, Gladys Hayden, Laura M. Stocker.

As a result of a visit of Prof. T. M. Hodgman, inspector of high schools, of the University of Nebraska, the Tilden school has been placed on the list of accredited high schools.

Teachers have been elected for the next year as follows: Frank S. Perdue, superintendent; Harriet L. McClay, principal high school; Myrtle Bennet, grammar room; Ruth A. Bush, second intermediate; Miss McGreevy, first intermediate; Alta McKiver, second primary; Mrs. N. E. Bentley, first primary.

TUESDAY TOPICS.

S. Wright of Humphrey was in the city over night.

Mrs. M. M. Sweeney of Humphrey is in the city today.

Ex-Senator W. V. Allen of Madison is in Lincoln on business.

Mrs. Kate C. Robinson of Madison was in the city yesterday.

Mrs. S. K. Long went to Fremont this morning for a visit with friends.

J. M. Smith, the Madison cigar man, was doing business in Norfolk yesterday.

L. Sessions went to Omaha this morning to attend the convention of the state funeral directors.

Attorney Reed of Madison was in the city over night and left on the M. & O. train this morning.

S. T. Feuth of Boone, Neb., has accepted a position as bookkeeper with the Norfolk Lumber company.

L. C. Mittelstadt left this morning for Lincoln where he will join the lumbermen's excursion to Portland.

W. E. Friend of Plainview was in the city over night. He left this morning on the early train for West Point.

A. D. Lain and Attorney Maggi, both connected with the Nebraska Telephone company, are in town from Omaha.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Germiquet are in the city today enroute to their home at Bonesteel from a visit to friends at Glenwood, Iowa.

Miss Lulu Durland of Plainview visited friends in the city over Sunday and left this morning to attend the summer term of the Fremont Normal school.

A letter from Miss Mabel Collamer of Sioux City states that she and her mother left yesterday for Kirksville, Mo. Their address there is 205 North Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Koenigstein left today for St. Louis, where they will make an indefinite visit, and may locate permanently in that section of the country.

William Matheson, who represents the J. I. Case firm in this territory, has moved his family to this city from West Point and will occupy the home at 505 South Eighth street. His family arrived today.

Miss Bessie Cass of Plainview and Miss Lucie Stone passed through the city this morning on their way to Fremont, where they go to attend normal school.

A. K. Barnes, who has been visiting at the home of his parents, Judge and Mrs. J. B. Barnes, left today for Kearney, where he goes to resume his work with Commissioner Oldham.

G. L. Dickover of Sioux City is in the city visiting his brother and looking for a location, as it is possible he may decide to locate in Norfolk. It had been seventeen years since Mr. Dickover and his brother met.

John Lotz of Sioux City is in the city and may decide to settle here. Mr. Lotz has been in the saloon business for some time and may buy out a Norfolk establishment.

C. J. Hibben, his mother and his children left today for Wabash, Ind., where they will remain for some time. Mrs. Hibben and her grandchildren will remain until the latter part of August while Mr. Hibben will remain until the latter part of July.

George W. Hutton of Orchard, a prominent real estate dealer of his section, was in the city this morning, leaving at noon for the north. Mr. Hutton reports that at Orchard there is a fine new school house and handsome new churches have been built. He was formerly owner of the Orchard News.

L. E. Dudley and family left this morning by prairie schooner for Fort Pierre, S. D., where Mr. Dudley owns a good claim. They were accompanied by Mrs. Dudley's father, F. Ladhoff. They will remain in South Dakota for eight months at least. During the absence of Mr. Dudley, Ed Lamb will have charge of his transfer business.

Mrs. J. M. Covert came down from Ewing yesterday and with her husband left today for Bellevue, this state, where they will attend the college graduating exercises. Miss Mary Covert is among this year's graduates, completing her four years of school work, taking the science and history course. She has averaged above 90 in her studies during the past three months and stands two points higher than the average of her class. She has paid her own way very largely.

Last Sunday was but the sixth after Easter, yet the weather showed an entire lapse in the matter of carrying out the old saying that it would rain seven Sundays after Easter if it rained in this vicinity.

The June bugs in Norfolk threaten to become a pest to an alarming degree. Around all of the street lights, both arc and gas, the creatures swarm at night, flying full force into the faces and hair of passers-by and covering side walks and streets. Each morning reveals a new bunch of dead ones from the battle of the night before.

With an all day electric service the business men and residents of Norfolk are installing various electric devices for convenience and comfort. Electrically driven fans are becoming quite common in the business houses to add to the comfort of customers, and in a number of them the coffee grinders, sausage machines, ice cream freezers, and like devices have been attached to electric motors that whirl them at speed and at will.

The little mosquitos promise to be as vigorous and as much of a nuisance in northern Nebraska this season as they were some seasons ago when they almost drove men to drink. The wet weather has brought them in herds that are fierce and they attack humanity with the aggressiveness of a Jap torpedo boat. They are about as successful, too, for the average human being has little chance against them. Norfolk people would be willing to make peace at any terms. They are even willing to arbitrate.

Announcement cards have been received in Norfolk from Mr. and Mrs. Thomas James Morrow of Sedro Woolley, Wash., regarding the marriage of their daughter, Edith Catherine, to E. Jason Denny on Wednesday, May 31, at their home. The bride and groom will be at home June 18 at 755 Twenty-seventh avenue, north, Seattle, Wash. The bride and groom were both formerly prominent residents of Norfolk and have many friends here. Mr. and Mrs. Morrow resided in this city for many years until this spring, when they left for the west. The bride is a graduate of the Norfolk High school, class of 1898, and was a favorite in social circles. She taught school in Norfolk for a few years after graduation. Mr. Denny was wire chief with the Nebraska Telephone company here and has a good position in Seattle.

A week from today is again circus day in Norfolk, when the Sells Brothers and Forepaugh aggregation promises to be in with four special trains hauling tents, equipage, wagons and menagerie. This is the largest show that has visited Norfolk since Ringlings were last here and that has not been for five or six years. The Ringlings used to make regular dates in Norfolk every two or three years, but they have recently cut it off the schedule. It is said because the management was not satisfied with the tax prescribed by the ordinance. The Ringlings is the only large show that has made Norfolk in recent years except Barnum and Bailey who showed on the lots north of the union depot eleven or twelve years ago. They gave but one performance. In the afternoon, and many of the Norfolk business houses were closed to permit the attendance of clerks and employers. The vast tents were filled to capacity by the people and many were here from all portions of north Nebraska to take in the event. An equally large crowd may be expected for the Sells and Forepaugh show which has a reputation rivalling that of Barnum, Omaha and Norfolk are the only points in Nebraska where they will exhibit. They are at Omaha the 12th, Norfolk the 13th and Sioux City the 14th. The attendance at the Gentry Brothers performance, which was here last Friday, was undoubtedly reduced by the fact of the near approach of this larger show.

LIVERY AND HOUSE BURN

ATKINSON HAS THE WORST FIRE FOR MANY YEARS.

ELEVEN HORSES ARE CREMATED

Livery Barn and Home of C. F. Weller Destroyed by Fire Early Yesterday Morning—Loss Between $6,000 and $7,000, Insurance Normal.

Atkinson, Neb., June 2.—Special to The News: C. F. Weller's livery, livery barn and eleven head of horses were destroyed by fire at an early hour yesterday morning. The loss was between $6,000 and $7,000, with an insurance of but $900.

The livery was 40 by 100 feet and the house 28 by 28. The fire started in the southwest corner of the barn and rapidly consumed both the barn and the house adjoining. Three or four people were asleep in the barn at the time the fire started, and one of them, Sam Anderson, was hard to waken and for a time it was thought it would be impossible to get him out, as the fire started under the corner of the building where he was asleep, and it was well along before the alarm was given, but he was finally rescued just in time to save him from cremation.

One of the horses burned was valued at $2,000 and another at $1,500. One team belonged to Henry Winkler, from the country, who was in town over night, and the most valuable horse belonged to Charles Golder, who lives twenty miles north of town. All the others belonged to Mr. Weller.

The fire had gained good headway when the alarm was given and the water pressure did not seem to be as strong as usual, so there was very little opportunity to save even the contents of the barn. The household goods were all saved, as the residence did not catch fire until the barn was pretty well consumed. The wind was from the southwest, carrying the flames from the business part of town toward the residences on the north side of the track. Embers were blown a quarter of a mile, but prompt work prevented them from igniting other buildings. The barn was just across the street from the water supply and gas tank, or lighting plant. For a time there was a good deal of excitement over the fear that the gas would explode. This was the worst fire Atkinson has had for a long time.

At present the family of Mr. Weller are being cared for at the homes of friends, until he has an opportunity to readjust his affairs.

WEEKLY CROP SUMMARY.

Warm, Dry Weather of the Week Was Favorable to Crops.

Lincoln, Neb., June 6.—U. S. Department of agriculture, climate and crop bulletin of the weather bureau, Nebraska section, for week ending June 3:

The past week has been for the most part, warm and dry. The mean daily temperature averaged 4 degrees above the normal, while the maximum temperatures on the last two days quite generally exceeded 90 degrees.

The rainfall was light—less than half an inch—in most places; however, heavy showers occurred in a few localities, with rainfalls ranging from 1½ inches to more than 2 inches.

The warm, dry weather of the week has been very favorable for crop interests. The replanting of corn has progressed rapidly and is about finished. Some low lands are, however, still too wet to plant. The cultivation of corn has been general in central and southern counties and is just beginning in northern. Corn has improved in condition but the stand is thin in many fields.

Winter wheat continues in good condition in most counties, but some damage from Hessian fly and rust is reported from Seward, York, Saline and Fillmore counties. Oats have improved in condition and generally are growing nicely. Alfalfa is being cut and a good to heavy crop is being secured. Potatoes are growing finely. Pastures and meadows are in exceptionally good condition.

Sam Coakley Hurt.

Sam Coakley was thrown from his wagon on Fourteenth street last evening and sustained some wounds and bruises. A physician was summoned, but it was found that the injured man did not require much professional attention.

STITT GETS CONTRACT.

Norfolk Architect Will Draw Plans For New Hospital Wing.

J. C. Stitt, the Norfolk architect, has been given the contract for making plans and specifications for the work of reconstruction that is to be done at the Nebraska state hospital for the insane located here. The contract was let yesterday by the state board of public lands and buildings at Lincoln. According to a Lincoln dispatch the reason for not having work already begun on the new wing is the fact that the state board has been buried with other work.

DR. MYERS ARRIVES.

Will Succeed Departing State Veterinarian, Dr. McKim.

Dr. J. C. Myers has arrived in Norfolk from Calumet, Ill., to take up the veterinary practice which is to be left by Dr. Charles A. McKim. Dr. McKim has been appointed state veterinarian by Governor Miley and will soon leave for Lincoln, where he will make his headquarters during his term of service. Dr. Myers during the absence of Dr. McKim will have charge of the work in Norfolk. Dr. Myers and Dr. McKim were former school mates at college. The newly arrived veterinarian has had many years experience in Chicago and Galena, and comes highly recommended. Dr. McKim is not positive as to his future plans, after his state work.

Prize Waltzes.

Six couples competed for the prize at Freythal's park Monday night, and it was taken by M. Cogan of Chicago, and Miss Lula Mather of the Oxnard, the award being a $5 gold piece.

Improving Residence.

C. E. Doughty has under way some important improvements to his residence property in The Heights. The roof is raised and a bed room and bath room will be added to the conveniences of his home.

Anoka Pastor Resigns.

Anoka, Neb., June 5.—Special to The News: Rev. J. W. DeMerritt has resigned from the pastorate of the Baptist church and expects to remove from here about July 1.

Wanted by manufacturing corporation, energetic honest man to manage branch office. Salary $125.00 monthly and commission, minimum investment of $500 in stock of company required. Secretary, Box 401, Madison, Wis.

Opening Park Dance.

The opening dance at Freythal's park last night was a success in every way and was attended by a large number of ladies and gentlemen. A traveling man won the $5 prize for being the best dancer.

SELLING UNCLE SAM'S TREES

MATURE TIMBER IN FOREST RESERVES WILL BE SOLD.

DEVELOPMENT THROUGH USE

Lumbermen Will be Interested in the Fact That the Trees Protected by the Government are for the Use of the Public Under Restriction.

Information comes from Washington that the mature timber on the national forest reserves is to be offered for sale. This announcement is in line with the declared purpose of the department of agriculture to develop the national forest reserves by use. The restriction formerly laid upon the export of timber from the states in which the forest reserves were located has been removed, and the law now places no limitation on the shipment of timber grown on any forest reserve except those in the state of Idaho and the Black Hills reserve in South Dakota. The effect of this change in the law, and the declared policy of the department of agriculture, is that the timber on the reserves may now be cut and disposed of to the highest bidder. On many of the reserves there are great quantities of mature timber, and on some of them the facilities for getting it out at a reasonable cost are excellent. The forest service, which has charge of the administration of the reserves, is anxious to begin the cutting of this mature timber as soon as possible, and it is prepared to consider offers from lumbermen who wish to undertake such operation.

It is perhaps well to call attention to the fact that this announcement does not mean that the forest reserves are going to be devastated under authority of the government. On the contrary, the distinct and definite purpose of the forest service is to improve the reserves by utilizing the material that is now fit for lumber. In doing so, it will also provide for the reproduction of the forest and the restocking of those areas upon which forest conditions are defective. Work of this kind has been successfully carried on for some years in the Black Hills forest reserve, and has been begun on the lands of the Chippewa Indians, in northern Minnesota, from which it is proposed to create another national reserve.

The public in general, and lumbermen in particular, will be interested to know that in this last case the restrictions imposed by the forester have in no way hampered the lumbering operations. Timber sold at public sale, with full knowledge of these restrictions, brought higher prices than were ever obtained for white and Norway pine in the same region, and the slash has been burned and got out of the way at a cost of about 12 cents per thousand feet board measure.

The supervisor of each forest reserve is authorized to receive applications for the right to cut timber; intending purchasers should communicate with him, not with the department at Washington.

SATISFACTORY SITUATION

BANNER YEAR OF WESTERN STOCK GROWERS.

ANNUAL MEETING AT ALLIANCE

Was a Successful Affair and Well Attended—Membership of Nearly Four Hundred, Composed of Progressive Cattle Men.

Alliance, Neb., June 3.—Special to The News: The Stock Growers association of western Nebraska adjourned last evening, after re-electing all its old officers. This is the tenth year of the association and in its banner year. The membership is now nearly 400, including the most progressive cattle men of this section of the state.

Mrs. S. M. Rosenthal went to Fullerton today for a visit with her father.

George Williams went to Sioux City this morning for a shipment of cattle.

Mrs. Chas. Rudat has gone to West Point for a visit with relatives and friends.

Miss Alta McKiever went to Madison today to attend the teachers' institute.

Wm. White of the Times-Tribune spent Sunday with his parents at Creighton.

C. E. Anderson went to Pilger yesterday to do some repair work on the telephone lines.

J. D. Sturgeon has gone to Laurel on piano business. He was accompanied by his son, Myron.

Mrs. W. A. Vigers went to Sioux City to attend the commencement exercises of the high school.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Hayes and daughter Beulah were early morning passengers for Omaha today.

E. A. Bullock, W. M. Robertson, Judge J. B. Barnes and W. N. Huse went to Lincoln today on business.

Miller Mather, who is working for the Lytle Construction company at Sioux City, visited at home over Sunday.

G. D. Butterfield, president of the Nebraska National, returned Saturday evening from a business trip to Omaha.

R. H. Reynolds returned to Winside this morning after a visit over Sunday with his family. He has some contracts there.

Henry White, a former Norfolk boy, has enlisted in the cavalry of Uncle Sam and will fight for his country in case of need.

Halbert Johnson, son of Charles H. Johnson, left this morning for Omaha where he joins his brother, Otho, and where he will remain.

Harry Lofor has gone to Omaha to attend the state liquor dealers' convention. Mrs. Lofor will join him tomorrow and visit for a few days.

Mrs. Perry Walker arrived last night from Plattsmouth to be at the sickbed of her sister-in-law, Mrs. D. S. Estabrook, who is very low and not expected to live through the day.

Troy Hale, who had a reputation in Norfolk in the early days, but is now a resident of Loup City, was in the city transacting business and meeting some of the early settlers whom he numbers among his friends.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Christoph left today for York, Neb., to attend the state pharmaceutical association.

Mr. Christoph will meet with the board of examiners and hold an examination on the first day.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Huse arrived in the city last night from a short honeymoon trip at Excelsior Springs, Mo. During their stay Mrs. Huse, while bathing in a plunge bath, lost her engagement ring and efforts to recover it were futile.

J. C. Ransdell of Battle Creek, who has been in this county for a quarter century, will leave tomorrow for Indianapolis where he will make his home in the future. He was in Norfolk today making arrangements preliminary to his departure.

Ross Hammond, editor of the Fremont Tribune, passed through the city yesterday on his way home from Rushville, where he had been attending the meeting of the Elkhorn Valley editors. He says there was a good attendance and a profitable as well as enjoyable time. The association will meet next year at Stuart.

J. Earl Harper left on the noon train for York where he will attend the meeting of the Nebraska State Pharmaceutical association, which is in session Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Mr. Harper is third vice president of the association. J. W. Porter will assist in the Klamm drug store during his absence. J. R. Hunter of Hunter, this state and L. B. Hunter of Buffalo, Illinois, met in the city today although they were not hunting each other. They were unable to trace relationship, but found that the grand father of one and the great grandmother of the other were from Ireland, and therefore think that at least each must have sprung from Adam.

Mrs. E. C. Harris and son Arthur of Chadron passed through the city yesterday on their way to Chicago, where they will meet Miss Lucy on her way home from St. Agnes, Albany, N. Y. Mrs. Harris will remain in Chicago a week, during which time Arthur will go to South Bend, Ind., to visit some of the young people of the Studebaker family with whom he is acquainted.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Mote of Plainview were in the city today. Mr. Mote has words of compliment for the Gerard concert band of forty pieces which is maintained in his town. The boys have recently purchased uniforms and are up on music. The band has an engagement at Sioux City for the Inter-State fair, and would like to come to Norfolk for the celebration and race meeting.

Bixby in State Journal: For a good many years we have believed that William Robertson ought to be governor of Nebraska. He is a first-class man in every sense of the word.

Russell, the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Livingstone, of North Eighth street, while at play yesterday stepped on a rusty nail that ran into his foot and the possibility is that he will experience some difficulty with the wound.

There was no baseball game between the Oxnard and the Pacific teams yesterday afternoon in Norfolk. While there were really enough star players in town to make a game, the movement to start something didn't begin quite quick enough and the play was not carried out. "If Snyder had been in soon enough," said one of the boys today, "we would have a game."

The permanent walk movement has struck the north side of Norfolk avenue between Fourth and Fifth streets in a bunch and the work of tearing out the old plank walks and putting in the necessary filling is proceeding. With this in mind a little more work on the south side of the street in the same block, the walk in the business part of the city will be of permanent character, almost entirely.

The funeral of Miss Mary Reilly, who died Friday was held yesterday afternoon and was largely attended by relatives and friends. Many beautiful flowers bunched about the casket spoke of the sympathy of friends for the bereaved family and of esteem for the deceased. Rev. Mr. Mueller paid a touching tribute to the life and character of the deceased and a large procession followed the remains to their last resting place in Prospect Hill cemetery.

The Madison County Teachers' Institute begins today at Madison, with Superintendent Crum in charge and a full corps of able instructors in attendance. The studies and examinations will cover a full week. Many Norfolk teachers and pupils have gone to the county seat to attend the institute, including the newly graduated members of the high school, some of whom expect to take up teaching as an occupation.

The weather during the past few days has been all that could be asked for in a corn developing way, and yesterday it almost overshot the mark, showing a temperature of ninety-six degrees in the shade. The barometer, however, has gone down a matter of about ten points and there is some prospect that the beauty of the thing for the farmers and those who enjoy a good sweat may be broken. The warm and energetic winds from the south have served to dry the mud and surface water rapidly and the flooded cellar condition is being rapidly relieved by the lowering of the drainage streams to a level where they can work effectively in drawing off the surface water. Some of the ponds, however, act as though they had come to stay, and with some more rainfall and a consequent new supply they may afford convenient breeding places for mosquitos and frogs for several weeks yet.
