Just two days more until show day, and it promises to be a show day, so far as the attraction is concerned, such as Norfolk has not seen for many years. The extent of the attraction is manifest by the fact that but two dates are made in Nebraska—Omaha and Norfolk. Omaha gets it by reason of being a city with a good territory to draw from, Norfolk by reason of its location and railroad facilities alone.

THE LAWYERS' OUTING

THE ADVANCE GUARD LEFT FOR NIOBRARA TODAY.

WILL PICNIC FOR TEN DAYS

Tyler, Mapes, Koenigstein and Others Start for the Woods This Afternoon and the Others Will Follow Tomorrow.

(From Friday's Daily.)
Attorneys Tyler, Mapes and Jack Koenigstein of Norfolk, C. H. Kelsey of Neligh and Andy Olsen of Wisner left today for Niobrara, where they go as an advance guard to the picnic of the bar of northeast Nebraska, which starts at that place tomorrow. As the time for the outing approaches these restive limbs of the law could not withstand the temptation to hie themselves to the sequestered wilderness of Government island and thus gain a day over the regular picnickers. Besides, there are a few things to do and they thought they could do them better than the others, so they have hiked on a day in advance.

They went equipped with a big outfit of tents, gasoline stoves, various kinds of provisions but no meat, and a supply of remedy for snake bites. The snakes are said to be powerful thick on Government island, and an abundance of "remedy" is required. No meat was provided for by the commissary department, as it is one of the requirements that enough fish be caught to supply the table—fish or starve will be the rule with the lawyers next week, and who ever heard of a lawyer starving?

The advance guard will also arrange for busses to hurry the lawyers who arrive tomorrow directly from the train to the tall timber of the picnic grounds, so that they may go into seclusion as speedily as possible.

Tomorrow the rest of the bar of north Nebraska will put in an appearance at Niobrara. Among those who go from here will Attorneys Powers and Weatherly and Judge Barnes; Senator Allen, Lawyers Reed and Foster from Madison; Judge Jackson, Judge Boyd of Neligh; Geo. Boyd of Oakdale. A number are expected from towns northeast of here, and every station between here and Niobrara will furnish its complement of legal picnickers. Then the towns east of Niobrara will send a bunch, and the picnic will be complete. They expect to remain ten days.

Getting Ready for Niobrara.

Niobrara, Neb., June 9.—From a staff correspondent: There will be legal phrases in the air around Niobrara for the next ten days. Beginning with today the lawyers of northern Nebraska are assembling here and until the end of next week there is going to be something doing. There are already letters in the postoffice for Burt Mapes of Norfolk, who is one of the leaders in the organization for the picnic scheme—and that is taken as a sign that the lawyers are coming to town.

The spot that was selected for the ten days' outing of lawyers, judges and clerks, is the most beautiful one on the river here, and it has been prepared in the finest sort of shape for the arrival of the barristers. There is a place for baseball, fishing, bathing and all forms of recreation. There in the cool retreats, away from the hurry and rush and worry of a strenuous world, the legal lights will enjoy every minute of their recreation.

Niobrara people have made all plans for entertaining the visitors and are looking for a great time with them. It is presumed that Burt Mapes and Jack Koenigstein will get into the water the minute they arrive and never leave until they go home. Burt will catch the fish for the crowd and he will cook them, too. His friends have a photograph of Burt catching bull heads and sticking them into his pocket instead of using a string.

The lawyers will have the time of their lives, for Niobrara never does things by halves. Attorney Houston of Niobrara is working hard to get the park ready.

Peaches and Apricots.

Treading on the heels of the last of the southern strawberry crop, peaches and apricots have arrived in the Norfolk markets, and will contest with the home grown berry, now coming on, for favor with lovers of fruit. As is usual with the first fruit of the year, the first shipment is not of the highest grade and quality, but it will answer the purpose of a change very well.

HAIL IN COLFAX COUNTY

A Severe Storm Visits the Central Part of the County.

Schuyler, Neb., June 12.—Special to The News: A heavy hail storm passed through the central portion of Colfax county, extending to within six miles of Schuyler. Last Rites for Mrs. Estabrook.

In the presence of relatives, neighbors and friends, the last rites for Mrs. D. S. Estabrook were given Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the family on South Ninth street. Rev. J. F. Poucher paid fitting tribute to the life and character of the deceased in her devoted work as wife, mother, grandmother and to her deep religious zeal, speaking lessons for the living and paying tribute to the dead. Beautiful music was rendered by a mixed quartet and the floral offerings banked about the casket attested to the remembrance of friends. Brief commitment services were spoken at the grave in Prospect Hill cemetery and the thoughtfulness of friends was again in evidence there, where the grave had been lined and beautified with sprays of flowers and foliage.

Butte News Notes.

Butte, Neb., June 12.—Special to The News: The teachers of Boyd county who spent the last week very pleasantly attending the teachers' institute in this city, left Saturday evening for their homes.

Ira Hull, recently of this city, left Saturday evening to accept a position as drug clerk at Lyons, Neb.

Carl Warner and Floyd Hull started to drive to Anoka Sunday morning to get a buggy which was in a smash up the night before. The horse they were driving became frightened at the buggy on the side of the road and started down one of those steep hills at a rate that was terrifying. The drivers landed at the bottom of the hill quick enough, with a few close calls and another badly smashed buggy.

The Bank of Boyd county has been making very extensive improvements, and are now having it finished and decorated by C. R. Williams.

PREPARE FOR CELEBRATION

COMMITTEE EMPLOYS THE DIXIE CARNIVAL COMPANY.

AMUSEMENTS OF HIGH CLASS

A Number of Free Street Attractions and a Band—Finances Coming All Right—Valentine Band of Twenty-five Pieces.

(From Saturday's Daily.)

Preparations for the Fourth of July celebration and horse meet are progressing rapidly and it is an assured fact now that the event will be a hummer. The soliciting company was out yesterday and met with a ready response to the financial call, indicating that the business men are anxious to give their customers a good time.

A contract was closed by the amusement committee this morning with J. J. Davis, advance agent for the Dixie Carnival company, Dave Thompson manager, to bring their aggregation of attractions to this city on July 3 and 4. The committee has been investigating the merits of the company for several days and is fully satisfied that it will meet the approval of the people. Yesterday Secretary Mathewson of the Commercial club telephoned A. C. Felt, cashier of the First National bank of Superior, where the carnival is showing this week, and the reply was that the shows are clean and respectable and are giving satisfaction. The advance agent has a number of recommendations with him from towns where the company has been and in every case it is stated that there is nothing immoral about the exhibitions, and that the company is composed of high class, refined people. The local committee saw the advantage of the attractions offered provided they were all right, but did not propose to stand sponsor for any more shows of the character that have been here in the past. Hence they took plenty of time to investigate and believe they have not bought a gold brick this time. They have reserved the right in the contract to close any show at any time that the exhibitions are not considered all right.

The carnival comes for a week beginning July 3, but the committee deals with them for two days only, the third and fourth. They give a certain number of free attractions on the streets and besides have tent shows at which an admission fee will be charged. The company consists of about 100 people and carries a circus band of ten pieces. It has its own light plant, and uses thousands of electric lights to illuminate its grounds and tents. The free exhibitions will be given on Main street and the tents will be erected along that thoroughfare.

The leading feature of the free exhibitions will be the high dive, an athlete diving from the height of ninety feet into a tank containing four feet of water. Two exhibitions of this character are to be given on the Fourth, afternoon and evening, and one each day during the remainder of their engagement. Then there will be aerial artists who perform on bars in the air, acrobats and contortionists.

The tent shows, to which an admission will be charged, are five in number. Roselle, electrical serpentine and radium dances; Port Arthur, kinetoscopic representation of the war in the far east; the train robbers, realistic representation of holding up a train, Edison's latest masterpiece; the Old Plantation, songs and characteristics of the south before the war; Loretta the snake charmer. Besides the company carries a Ferris wheel 40 feet high and a merry-go-round. All these attractions are designed to coax nickels from the pockets of the people, but there will be enough free shows to keep up the interest, and the time will be so well filled that no one will need to take in these shows unless he wants to.

Music.
When it was decided to hold a celebration and horse meet the plan contemplated hiring two bands for the occasion. The carnival band will fill one place, and the committee on music has accepted the proposition of the Valentine band for the other. This band consists of twenty-five pieces and its first class musical organization.

Race Meet.
The committee on racing events several days ago outlined their program for the two days. On July 3 the track events will consist of two trotting races, for purses of $100 and $150 and a running race of half mile dash. On the Fourth there will be two trotting races, purses of $150 and $250, running race for $75, half mile and repeat, roadster race for $30, and an automobile race for $50.

Hartman-Shoff.
At a quiet home wedding last evening at 6:30 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Shoff, Miss Ethel A. Shoff was united in marriage to Mr. Henry A. Hartman, a druggist of Rapid City, S. D. Rev. J. F. Poucher of the M. E. church officiating, and the newly united pair left on the train an hour later for their new home in Rapid City.

Miss Shoff has for some time been teaching elocution in Norfolk and is herself a reader of finished training and natural ability, through her talents coming in contact with a large number of the people of Norfolk who will wish her a happy and prosperous future in her new relation. Though she has lived in Norfolk but a short time, since her father bought the Oxnard hotel, she has won many warm friends and acquaintances.

The groom is a highly recommended business man of the Black Hills and has the respect and esteem of a large circle of acquaintances.

Pierce 15; Norfolk 14.

At Pierce Saturday afternoon the Pierce Junior baseball team defeated the Norfolk juniors in a long, hard game, the final score standing 15 to 14. Norfolk boys had the better of the game until the seventh inning, when they went to pieces and allowed Pierce to score freely. After that it was a slugging match in which Pierce won by a neck. A game between Plainview and Pierce is being played at Pierce this afternoon.

A Swift Game.

Ainsworth, Neb., June 9.—Special to The News: A great game of ball was played on the diamond here yesterday afternoon, between Ainsworth and Valentine. The score stood at the end of the ninth inning 1 to 1, and in the last half of the tenth Ainsworth made one more.

A Game for Blood.

Creighton, Neb., June 10.—From a staff correspondent: Plainview won a baseball victory here over Lynch in one of the most hotly contested games of the season, by a score of 10 to 8. Both teams played for blood. Lynch did its scoring in the latter part of the game. A large crowd saw the game.

Repairing the Oxnard.

O. P. Shoff, owner of the Oxnard hotel, has under way extensive repairs to that hostelry. Steel ceilings are replacing the out-of-date lime and sand arrangement, a new roof is taking the place of the old and the rooms are being re-papered and the building thoroughly renovated throughout.
