

MEN OF MEDICINE MEET

SESSION OF THE ELKHORN VALLEY ASSOCIATION.

HELD IN THE CITY YESTERDAY

A Good Attendance and an Interesting Meeting—Papers Timely and Profitable—Closes With a Banquet at the Oxnard.

From Wednesday's Daily. The summer meeting of the Elkhorn Medical Society, held in this city yesterday afternoon and last night, was unusually well attended for a summer meeting. It is the universal experience that where an organization has 100 members it is rarely possible to secure the attendance of more than a quorum at a meeting, but at the meeting yesterday fully 25 per cent of the members were present. And the medical men seemed to enjoy their meeting, returning to their homes this morning inspired with new ideas and physically refreshed by their day off.

The meetings were held in the Elks hall, while the club rooms were used according to the purposes for which they are intended. The first meeting was held at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and the business not being completed a short evening session was held, the affair closing with a banquet at the Oxnard hotel at 9 o'clock.

Dr. Conwell of Neligh, president of the association, called the meeting to order at 2 o'clock, when the program was carried out practically as announced. The papers read were all interesting from a medical standpoint, most of the subjects being new and treated from the standpoint of personal experience. The program as given follows:

Arizona as a Resort for the Tuberculous, F. L. Frink, Newman Grove, Cystitis, Ewing Brown, Omaha. Responsibility in Ear Diseases of Children, G. H. Bicknell, Omaha. Epilepsy—Its Medical and Neurological Aspects, J. M. Alkin, Omaha. Epilepsy—Its Surgical Treatment, A. C. Stokes, Omaha. Adolescent Insanity, Halle L. Ewing, Omaha.

The Relation That Hypnotism Bears to Medicine, J. J. Williams, Wayne. Potency of the Type, J. H. Mackay, Norfolk.

The General Practitioner as a Specialist, Julius Lingenfelder, West Point.

Dr. Halle L. Ewing is the only woman member of the association and her paper on Adolescent Insanity attracted unusual interest. While it was being delivered, about twenty members of the Norfolk Woman's club were present and gave close attention of the subject.

At 8 o'clock the association convened again and listened to a paper from Dr. Walters of Norfolk on "Brain Tumor—an Interesting Case."

Then the doctors marched to the Oxnard hotel, where a banquet had been prepared. The dining room was nicely arranged for the occasion, and the feast that was placed before the gentlemen of pills and knife was just the right thing.

Dr. Long, secretary of the association, acted as toastmaster, and he performed his duties in a most happy manner.

Rev. J. F. Poucher, pastor of the M. E. church, was first called upon, and he spoke of the similarity of ministers and doctors, one ministering to the human soul and endeavoring to save it, the other ministering to the human life and attempting to save it. He commended the cheerfulness of doctors in spite of long hours and irregular manner of living, and the great charity of the medical profession. He wondered what finally becomes of doctors, since in his ten years of work he has never preached a funeral sermon for one.

Dr. Halle L. Ewing of Omaha next responded to a toast, asking for her subject "Woman in Medicine," which she treated briefly but well.

Dr. Stokes of Omaha was called on next, and responded to the toast, "Omaha Doctors and the Elkhorn Valley Medical Society." The doctor made an earnest plea for a larger attendance and spoke at some length of the great benefit obtained from the meetings.

Dr. Bear, in his usual happy vein, responded to the toast "Local Talent." Dr. J. E. Summers, jr., of Omaha was called upon to say something further about the Omaha physicians. He compared early times of the doctors in Omaha with the present, showing under what disadvantages they worked in early days. In a comparison of eastern physicians with western he maintained that the western are more up to date and more competent than their eastern brothers.

The doctors present at the meeting are: Conwell and Beattie of Neligh; J. E. Summers, jr., Bicknell, Stokes, Alkin, Brown, Ewing, Omaha; Williams, Wayne; Summers, Lingenfelder, West Point; Gadhobis, Humphrey; Peters, Stanton; Wair, Chadron; Taxy, Carroll; Hartwell, Crawford, Long, Madison; Tanner, Battle Creek; Bear, Mackay, Bryant, Phossant, Hagey, Pilger, Walters, Tashjean, Norfolk.

New members were admitted to the association at this session as follows: Lincoln Riley, Wisner; Andrew Tuxley, Carroll; W. W. Frank, Monroe; A. E. Gadhobis, Humphrey; J. E. Hartwell, Crawford; Walter Pilger,

Norfolk, Ewing Brown, Omaha. This being the summer meeting of the association, new officers were not elected, those being chosen at the winter meeting which is held in January. The present officers are as follows: President, W. F. Conwell, Neligh; secretary, F. A. Long, Madison; treasurer, W. H. Hagey, Norfolk. The society was organized ten years ago and is now composed of about 100 members.

A South Dakota Man Selected From Madison County.

Madison Star-Mail: Below will be found a letter from Orion Porter of Fairfax, S. D., which is self explanatory and it will undoubtedly make the lovers of pure bred cattle feel as though Madison county is still on the map.

Fairfax, S. D., June 23, 1905.—John Donovan, Madison, Neb.—Dear Friend John: After visiting several bunches of cattle in your section and others in Nebraska, I found that I had made as good a selection as could have been done elsewhere, and will say that J. O. Trine's herd is a credit to any section.

Was in a select herd at Fort Calhoun, Neb., and did not find any young stock that compared with those I mentioned. Don't forget to send me one of J. J. Adams' catalogues of his full blood Jersey sale. Find enclosed $1.50 for which put me down as one of your subscribers.

Was sorry I did not get to see you before leaving there, thanking you for your kindness in showing me the country around Madison.

I may be able to use some more of the same kind of bulls and will go direct to your town for them. Would be glad to have you come and spend the Fourth with us.

I remain as ever,

Yours very truly,

Orion Porter.

G. A. R. REUNION AT MEADOW GROVE STARTS WELL.

CAMP BEAUTIFULLY LOCATED

Good Weather and a Big Crowd Promise a Success for the Whole Reunion—Ball Games Every Day—Big Purse Friday.

Meadow Grove, Neb., July 12.—Special to The News: The second day of the Northeast Nebraska district reunion brings promise that the encampment is to be a success in every particular. Crowds of people have been coming into town all the morning, and the indications now are that there will be the largest attendance of any reunion ever held by the association. M. L. Ogden, who has secured the contract for erecting the fifty-foot addition to the Citizens National bank, has men and a team engaged in excavating for the structure and will begin on the work of building at the earliest possible moment, as the contract demands that the building shall be completed by the first of September, which will give but a little better than a month and a half to finish the work. Material for the building will soon be placed on the ground and the brick masons will hurry their part of the work along as rapidly as may be after the excavating for the foundation and basement has been completed.

With the opening of the harvest season it is the beginning of the busy portion of the year for the Norfolk threshing machine men and the machinery is being placed in condition and put on display in all parts of the city. The Norfolk Foundry and Manufacturing company is especially busy in getting its machines and traction engines in shape to help handle the big crop that is developing on the farms in the vicinity of Norfolk. The prospects are most encouraging for a prosperous season for the man owning and operating separators and it is possible that more money will be made at the business this summer and fall than has been made for many years past.

According to the Headlight the Hoskins people are again having trouble with their dam. This dam is built for no other purpose than for the fire protection of the village. When there is a fire alarm the hustling fire company hitches to its gasoline fire engine, connects with the dammed stream and reaches with its hose line any threatened portion of the town, and it is said that it has the best fire protection of any town of its size in the state. The dam, however, gives occasional trouble. There is some sand in the creek bed and banks, and when a stream of water begins cutting through it soon eats a hole in the dirt that permits the dam water to escape. Some of the citizens are favorable to a movement to make it permanent with rock and cement and an apron, but such a movement has not yet been inaugurated. It has been especially difficult to hold the dam pond through the excessively wet weather of this spring with the high water consequent.

Street Commissioner Riche and his force of helpers finished up the grading of Fourth street yesterday. It is remarked by old residents of that part of town that the street is now in better condition than it has ever been before. The street commissioner wants the new grade used and used right. It is a notorious fact that good grades can be ruined in a short time by improper use. The thing to do is for teamsters to use the middle of the road. It may be a little rough at the start but will soon wear smooth, and in driving along the sides of the grade ruts are cut that will completely ruin the grade in bad weather. It now depends largely upon the teamsters whether the grade is to continue good during the balance of the summer. Some of the streets that have been graded are entirely ruined by this habit of the drivers in dodging the roughness that the grader has thrown in the center of the street and it would mean an advantage to the city as well as the people who drive if the middle of the road policy was followed hereafter.

DEATH OF MRS. KENDALL.

Stricken Sunday Morning and Died Last Night.

At 9 o'clock last night at her home

Calumet is the only High Grade Powder offered to the consumer at a Moderate Price. It should not be confused with the cheap, low grade powders on the one hand, nor the high priced trust powders on the other.

In South Norfolk, Mrs. George Kendall who was stricken suddenly Sunday morning, passed away, the sorrowing family being at the bedside. The remains will be taken to Clarence, Iowa, the former home of the family for interment, leaving at noon tomorrow. Besides the bereaved husband, who is a clerk in the office of Superintendent Reynolds of the Northwest, a little girl four years of age and a little boy of two years will be compelled to get through the early periods of their life without the care, advice and assistance of a mother. A father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William Thearer and a sister of Clarence, Iowa, are likewise bereaved. They were present when the final summons came, as well as some friends from Missouri Valley, Iowa, all of whom will accompany the bereaved father and children to Clarence.

Mrs. Kendall's death was very sudden. She was stricken with a severe pain in her head soon after breakfast Sunday morning and was immediately rendered unconscious from which condition she failed to rally up to the time of her death. All that a loving husband and friends could do were done in her behalf. As many as five doctors were in consultation over the case and a special train was sent to Battle Creek for Dr. Mackay on Sunday and he was hurried to the bedside of the stricken woman, but all efforts were unavailing and the end came last night. The doctors diagnosed the cause of her death as a blood clot on that organ. It was the same complaint as that which took off Secretary Hay.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendall have lived in Norfolk but about a year, coming here from Missouri Valley, but during that time they have acquired many friends in Norfolk, particularly among the railroad employes and their families and all will sincerely sympathize with Mr. Kendall and his motherless little ones in their sad bereavement.
