U. P. ISSUES ATTRACTIVE BOOK Wonders of Lewis and Clark Expedition and the Oregon Country.

Of the many interesting booklets and folders which have been issued on account of the Lewis and Clark expedition, perhaps the most attractive and comprehensive is that recently published for free distribution by the Union Pacific railroad company.

The booklet tells of the explorers, Meriwether Lewis and William Clark, for whom the western world's fair was named, and the cover presents a picture of them in conference with President Thomas Jefferson who fathered the expedition which added the Oregon country to Uncle Sam's domain. The story of the Oregon country is told in an interesting manner, and the exposition itself is handled most creditably, being described in detail, omitting no feature of the many attractive ones which go to make the fair a success. There is also in the booklet information regarding many interesting side trips which may be taken for small additional expense.

The book contains 86 pages, and folds into convenient pocket size. It is illustrated profusely with half-tone cuts of the exposition and the country, and has as its central illustration, a colored birdseye view of the exposition.

WILL MAINTAIN WARNERVILLE

New Town Will be Established Soon Without Any Doubt.

"I can't tell just how soon the new town between Madison and Norfolk will be established," said Commercial Agent Clover of the Union Pacific railroad yesterday afternoon, "but it is an assured fact that the town will be established all right. The reason for it is that Madison and Warnerville are too far apart and the country will stand another station all right."

"No, Warnerville will not be abandoned. The Union Pacific will never abandon any point that has an elevator and Warnerville has a good one. Warnerville is a good point, and the new town will be, also. I don't know the name of the new town will be. That has not yet been decided."

Speaking of the establishing of new towns, Mr. Clover said that he would be in favor of establishing a station between Humphrey and Madison, where, he says, there is a good location for a flag siding at least.

The public works committee reported having let the contract for papering and the oiling of the wood work of the rooms in the city hall to H. C. Truman for $46.00.

NEW TOWN IN THIS COUNTY

TO BE ESTABLISHED BETWEEN MADISON AND NORFOLK.

LOCATED AT THE MALONE FARM

It is Reported on Good Authority Today That Twelve Acres of Ground and $1,500 Have Been Donated to the Union Pacific for This Town.

[From Monday's Daily.]

It is reported in Norfolk today on well founded authority that plans are being completed for the establishing of a new town on the Union Pacific line of railroad out of Norfolk, between Madison and this city. The new town is, it is said, to be located six miles north of Madison at the Malone farm and it will, in all probability, be called Malone.

A donation of twelve acres of land and a cash sum of $1,500 is said to have been made to the railroad company by Mr. Malone for the location of a depot on his farm. People who have tried to buy land in the vicinity since the report started have been disappointed so that they are firmly convinced of the truth of the matter.

Railroad officials for the Union Pacific in Norfolk today admitted that they had heard talk of starting a new town between Norfolk and Madison. "I have heard that either Warnerville is to be opened up or a new depot established," said one railroad man.

The spot selected for the new depot is in the fertile belt of country, south of the strip of sand which borders the river.

The new town, according to the reports that have reached the ears of railroad men, will be started very soon.

HOW TO CLEAN A PANAMA HAT

The Best Method in the World, According to Traveler.

"How do you clean a Panama hat?" was asked last night by a commercial traveler coming into Norfolk.

Another of the boys on the road, whose hat showed that it had been cleaned and cleaned well, spoke up and delivered the following formula, which he declared is the best in the world for the purpose:

Strip the hat of its band and ribbon. Dip a tooth brush into lemon juice, then into sulphur. Rub the hat well with the brush, all over. This will clean it and whiten it. When it is dry, brush off the sulphur dust and the hat is new.

"I have cleaned many of them at $1.50 apiece," said the man who gave the information. "This is the best method on earth for cleaning them and preserving them."

HAS SOME BUMPER CORN.

A. H. Gardels Thinks He Can Beat Anything in This Section.

A. H. Gardels, who lives on Rural Route No. 2, thinks that he can lay claim to the champion patch of corn in this section of the state, and if he does not will have to be shown. He has a patch of an acre that stands six feet in its socks, or something like that, and is all tasseled out and showing evidences of the ears that are to develop. He also has a twenty-acre patch that will average about five feet in height and is showing every indication of a bumper yield.

THE EAGLES WILL PICNIC

GREAT EVENTS PLANNED FOR SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

SPORTS AND AMUSEMENTS

Dancing Will be a Feature, With Music by the Hospital and Town Orchestras—Refreshments of all Kinds Will be on the Grounds.

[From Friday's Daily.]

Norfolk aerie No. 357, Fraternal Order of Eagles, is making big preparations for the picnic to be given in Edgewater park Sunday afternoon, and everything possible for the enjoyment of the members, their families and their friends is being undertaken. The place chosen for the picnic is being given attention that will place it in shape for the events planned and a thoroughly good time is in prospect.

Sports for the occasion have been planned, among which are children's races, fat men's race, a swimming contest and boat races, while other events are planned by the committees having the matter in charge and there will be something doing constantly that will entertain and interest the people attending. Not only the members of the order and their families are expected to attend, but the public generally is invited and will be welcome to participate in the entertainment.

Dancing will be a feature of the picnic in a bowery. Fine music will be provided with a combination orchestra to furnish the inspiration. The hospital orchestra will be combined with that of the city and it is expected that the dancers will have the time of the season. Lunch and refreshments will be provided for those who wish and nothing will be left undone that will contribute to the success of the entertainment.

Another Fraternal Picnic.

Members of the Tribe of Ben Hur and the Highland Nobles with their families are anticipating with pleasure the picnic that they are to enjoy at Tat's grove on Wednesday of next week. Basket dinners will be taken and the day will be devoted to a social good time with the enjoyments usual to such events. Carryalls will be provided that will make trips between the hall and the grounds, affording means of conveyance to all members and their families.

A DRIVE FROM BUTTE TO ANOKA

Brigham Says He Never Tipped Anybody Over in His Life.

"No, I never tipped anybody over in my life. The man that said I did—well, that's just like a lot of other stories they circulated about my driving. They had it reported as far down as Bristol and Monow that I was charging fifty cents for the drive, when I never got more than a quarter."

This was the indignant speech of Brigham, when asked if it were really true that the roads tipped his wagon over. Brigham drives one of the buses between Butte and Anoka, which is enough for one man to do. The road between Butte and Anoka is up-hill and down, and it takes an expert to drive it at the speed with which Brigham covers the ground. He has seen some pretty rough rides in his day.

"The only time I ever missed a train in my life," said Brigham—"and then the train missed me, was once when the passenger pulled out four minutes ahead of time. If they had waited, I could have caught it. I had four traveling men in the wagon and was just at the top of the hill, there, when the train came in."

Brigham says he can, if he has to, make the drive of three miles from Butte to Anoka in thirteen minutes. He has to buy a new wagon, he says, about once a year. His horses gallop merrily around the sharp curves and the steep inclines, but Brigham talks on and on and has never a fear for the outcome.

The road between Butte and Anoka is now being repaired at a considerable cost to the two towns and the county. It will be much improved.

DENTAL EXAMINERS ORGANIZE

Board Provided for by New Law is Now Regulating Practice.

The new board of dental secretaries met in Lincoln last week and perfected an organization, with these officers: Dr. D. A. Meese, Auburn, president; Dr. C. F. Ladd, Lincoln, secretary; Dr. J. Herman Wallace, Omaha, vice president and treasurer. The other members are Dr. W. T. Smith of Geneva and Dr. C. S. Parker of Norfolk.

The law regulating the practice of dentistry in this state, passed by the last legislature, went into effect July 1, and by a ruling of the board all dentists now practicing in the state who have not registered with the board can have the privilege of doing so until September 1 without taking an examination. After September 1 all dentists desiring to practice will be required to take an examination before the board.

The board will meet in regular session at the capitol building during the months of May and November of each year, at such times as they may designate and will meet at such other places and places in special session as they may deem advisable. Applicants for permanent license to practice dentistry will be examined only during regular meetings. After September 1 all applicants must pass an examination before a license will be issued to them to practice. This license must be recorded with the county clerk in the county in which the applicant desires to practice within six months from date of issue or it is forfeited.

A great many dentists in the state do not understand that they must record their license with the county clerk in the county in which they practice, but this is necessary in order to be a legal practitioner. Any who have not complied with this provision of the dental law must do so at once.

Under the new law the applicant for license must be a graduate of a reputable dental college or have served an apprenticeship of five years in the office of a legal practitioner, having previously graduated from a high school or similar institution of learning. No temporary permits will be granted, except to those who are eligible to permanent license. When the dental secretaries are not in regular semi-annual session any one of the secretaries may examine an applicant and on his recommendation the board may furnish him a temporary license to practice until the next regular meeting of the dental secretaries, at which time the temporary license will expire and the holder thereof must appear and take an examination for permanent license.

No dentist who was a legal practitioner in this state before July 1 will be affected by the new law, but there are some who have not complied with the provisions of the old law and are therefore not legal practitioners and these must comply with the new law.

ANOTHER INCENDIARY FIRE

HOUSE OF ED. KALANEY AT JUNCTION IN A BLAZE.

COAL OIL USED AS QUICK FUEL

House and Furniture Damaged to a Considerable Extent—Blaze Promptly Extinguished and Blood Hounds Placed on the Trail of the Bug.

[From Friday's Daily.]

Another case of evident incendiarism was developed this morning at 5:30 when the house of Ed. Kalaney at the corner of Fourth street and Omaha avenue was found to be on fire. Mr. and Mrs. Kalaney were in Foster and the house had been closed. The blaze was discovered by neighbors, who saw the smoke issuing from the place and the people of the neighborhood hurried to the scene of the trouble. Entrance was gained by breaking into the house. It was very evident to the fire fighters that a fire bug had been at work as the place reeked of coal oil and tracks were afterward found in the mud and about the house.

The fire bug had gained entrance to the house by entering the outside cellar way and pushing up through the trap door into the upper rooms where the fire was deliberately set. After the fire evidences of the coal oil used were clearly manifest.

After a brief fight the blaze was extinguished, but not until after much damage had been done to the house and the furniture. An alarm was turned in up town, but the firemen were not successful in locating the blaze after the signal had been given locating it in the second fire district. Their services were not required, however, as the Junction firemen and the neighbors promptly extinguished the flames.

As soon as possible after the alarm Policeman W. H. Livingstone of the Junction began an investigation which led him to suspect incendiarism and he placed the bloodhounds on the trail. It is possible that there was a confusing of scents as many people had been tramping around the house, but the dogs took up the trail with a reasonable show of certainty and followed it as far as the tracks of the M. & O. on North Fourth street. They were afterward taken back and a fresh start made, with the possibility of getting a new lead or greater certainty regarding the old one.

The house was the property of T. E. Odiorne who estimates the damage to the building at $60, which is fully covered by insurance. It is not known whether insurance was carried on the furniture or not.

After supper Judge T. A. Tikalsky performed an impressive ceremony, that brought tears to many an eye, to which Mr. Sedivy responded, thanking all for their kindness and courtesy.
